First, Mr. Rodriguez’s statements have equivalent circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness. The “determination of equivalent trustworthiness is completely fact driven.” Brookover v. Mary Hitchcock Mem’l Hosp., 893 F.2d 411, 420 (1st Cir. 1990). Here, the facts make clear that Mr. Rodriguez’s statements were trustworthy. As someone who was inside the Palm Beach mansion, he would have had every reason to minimize any illegal activities going on there. Indeed, to the extent that he was acknowledging sexual abuse of children, Mr. Rodriguez was making a statement against penal interest because of the duty to report such abuse. It is also relevant that he gave his statements under oath and was cross-examined by Epstein’s attorney, who had a quite similar motive to Defendant’s (as explained supra). All of these facts give Mr. Rodriguez’s statements equivalent guarantees of trustworthiness.

Second, Mr. Rodriguez’s statements are being offered as evidence of material facts. For example, one of the important issues in this case concerns whether Defendant was involved with child pornography or photographs of girls. Mr. Rodriguez’s testimony will explain that he saw such pictures on Defendant's computer. See McCawley Dec. at Exhibit 3, Rodriguez Dep. Tr. at 321-22, 371-73. Another important issue is Defendant's involvement in the arranging for the girls to come to Epstein's mansion for provide sexual massages. Here again, Mr. Rodriguez's deposition provides direct testimony regarding Defendant's involvement. See id. at 302-03, 366-69.

Third, Mr. Rodriguez's testimony is more probative on the points for which it is offered than any other evidence that Ms. Giuffre can obtain through reasonable efforts. As the Court is aware, Ms. Giuffre has alleged that she was a victim of a sex trafficking organization run by Epstein, with the assistance of Defendant. Ms. Giuffre has attempted to secure testimony from persons in the organization, starting with Epstein. He took the Fifth on all substantive questions. Then Defendant suffered from convenient memory lapses about critical events and times. Moving down one more echelon in the organization, Ms. Giuffre took the depositions of Sarah Kellan and Nadia Marcinkova. Again, they both took the Fifth on all substantive questions. In stark contrast, Mr. Rodriguez was more than willing to testify. He had a regular job inside Epstein's Palm Beach mansion and is thus able to provide testimony about what was occurring there during the critical 2005 time period, when girls who were later interviewed by the Palm Beach Police Department were brought there by Defendant to provide sexual massages for Epstein. Ms. Giuffre has diligently sought out other witnesses, but no other witnesses she can call can provide the testimony that Mr. Rodriguez will provide.

Finally, admitting Mr. Rodriguez's testimony will best serve the purposes of these rules and the interests of justice. The purposes of the Rules of Evidence prominently include "ascertaining the truth and securing a just result." Fed. R. Evid. 102. This Court is well aware of the bitter roadblocks that Defendant has been throwing out to impede testimony about what was going on inside the Epstein mansion while she lived there. If Mr. Rodriguez had not passed away a few years ago, he would have been deposed in this case and presented as a witness to the jury. The happenstance of his death should not deprive Ms. Giuffre of the opportunity to allow the jury hear what he has to say.

The residual hearsay rule also concerns procedural requirements of prior notice. Ms. Giuffre has already alerted Defendant of her intent to use this testimony and has provided formal notice that complies with the rule. See Ms. Giuffre's Notice of Intent to Offer Statements Under, if Necessary, the Residual Hearsay Clause (DE 601) filed Feb. 9, 2017.

Accordingly, both the substantive and procedural requirements for admitting excerpts of Mr. Rodriguez's deposition have been satisfied, and the excerpts should be presented to the jury.

CONCLUSION

For all of the foregoing reasons, Ms. Giuffre respectfully requests that the Court deny Defendant's motion in limine to exclude in toto deposition testimony from certain witnesses, except that Ms. Giuffre intends to present Jeffrey Epstein and Rinaldo Rizzo via live testimony. Similarly, if Defendant calls Dr. Esplin, Ms. Giuffre will present his testimony via cross-examination.

Did he have his own6 business?7 A. No, he worked for Mr. Epstein. He will8 maintain all the computers.9 Q. Was he there everyday?10 A. No, ma'am.11 Q. Do you know whether at that time Mr.12 Epstein had an office in Palm Beach?13 A. Not outside the house, no.14 Q. Do you have any knowledge of whether or15 not the video equipment was -- and I don't know16 the technical term, forgive me, but was it the17 kind of equipment that would record for a certain18 amount of time and then record over that film?19 A. I don't know.20 MR. CRITTON: Form.21 BY MS. EZELL:22 Q. You don't know?23 A. No, ma'am.24 MR. Would he also repair the televisions if3 they needed work?4 A. No.5 Q. No. Did you have any kind of intercom6 system in the house?7 A. Yes, ma'am.8 Q. And what kind of system was that?9 A. It was standard office equipment, Lucid10 Technologies maybe, but it was an intercom like we11 using right now.12 MS. EZELL: Just let the record reflect13 that the witness pointed to the telephone on14 the table that has a speaker phone.15 THE WITNESS: Yes, ma'am.16 BY MS. EZELL:17 Q. And did you use that in your work?18 A. Yes, ma'am.19 Q. And what did you use it for?20 A. Mr. Epstein used to page me when he21 needed me.22 Q. Did you have one of those phones in the23 kitchen?24 A. Yes, ma'am.25 Q. And was there one out in the staff house |

And what can you tell me about that, what 4 lead you to draw that conclusion? 5 A. They were probably taken in parties in 6 big reception or banquet. 7 MR. CRITTON: Let me offer as a 8 suggestion, not that you have to accept or 9 that you would, you're using the term young 10 girls generically, he has probably seen 11 many, many young girls, there was no -- 12 you've used it interchangeably with just 13 young girls versus young girls who may have 14 come to -- purported to give a massage and, 15 therefore, that may be a different answer, 16 so that's part of my form objection. 17 MS. EZELL: Okay, thank you.                                                                                                                 | Page 306 1 Q. Ms. Maxwell I'm talking about. 2 A. Yes, ma'am. 3 Q. And were those pictures the more casual 4 ones that you described when I asked whether or 5 not the subject looked as though she knew she was 6 being photographed? 7 MR. CRITTON: Form. 8 THE WITNESS: I'm sorry, can you repeat? 9 BY MS. EZELL: 10 Q. Yeah. The pictures of the young girls 11 who came to the house to give massages that were 12 on Ms. Maxwell's computer, did they appear to have 13 been taken when the girls knew they were being 14 photographed? 15 MR. When I asked you about Ms. Kellen whether 20 she had a list of the girls and telephone numbers, 21 I think I asked about those girls that came to 22 give massages, but let me go back and just ask it 23 that way. 24 Did you notice that Ms. Kellen had a list 25 of the girls that came to give massages on her                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | 18 BY MS. | Page 335 1 Q. Do you remember whether she came to the 2 house on more than one occasion? 3 A. I heard her name several times from 4 Sarah, sir, but beyond that I cannot say anything 5 else. 6 Q. Okay. Who have you talked to about your 7 knowledge of Mr. Epstein in the last year? 8 A. My wife. 9 Q. Anyone else? 10 A. No, sir. 11 Q. Well, you talked to Mr. Critton. 12 A. We have a conversation in West Palm 13 Beach. 14 Q. Yes. So you talked to your wife, you 15 talked to Mr. Critton? 16 A. Yes. 17 Q. Had you talked to anyone else in the last 18 year about Epstein? 19 A. No. 20 Q. Did you talk to Mr. Goldberger? 21 A. Yeah, I called Mr. Goldberger first 22 before I talked to Mr. Critton. 23 Q. Okay. So we have your wife, we have Mr. 24 Critton, and we have Mr. Goldberger. 25 Do we have anyone else that you talked to | Page 337 1 A. I give him a list of notes that I used to 2 take from frequent people -- I mean, people who 3 used to frequent the house and -- I'm sorry, it's 4 been a few years, I don't remember, but it was 5 those years, like it was a file with my personal 6 notes because he told me it was very important and 7 he kind of said can I borrow this from you, and he 8 still has those documents, sir. 9 Q. So even though they pertain to Mr. 10 Epstein you kept those notes at your residence? 11 A. Yes, sir. 12 Q. Okay. Where in your residence did you 13 keep those notes before you gave them to the 14 Detective? 15 A. In my bedroom. 16 Q. Did you have a file cabinet or -- 17 A. No. 18 Q. -- chester drawers or something? 19 A. No, they were laying next to some other 20 papers that I have. 21 Q. Did the other papers pertain to Mr. 22 Epstein? 23 A. No, no, nothing else related to Mr. 24 Epstein. 25 Q. I'm just confused as to why you told us |
| Page 340 1 A. I'm sorry? 2 Q. He didn't show you a document that said, 3 question, you know, what is your name; answer, my 4 name is Alfredo Rodriguez -- 5 MR. WILLITS: Object to the form of the 6 question. 7 MR. CRITTON: You need to let me finish 8 it first. 9 MR. WILLITS: I'm sorry, I thought you 10 were. 11 BY MR. CRITTON: 12 Q. He never showed you a statement of what 13 the question was and the answer that you gave. 14 True? 15 MR. WILLITS: Object to the form of the 16 question. 17 THE WITNESS: I don't exactly understand 18 your question. 19 BY MR. CRITTON: 20 Q. Do you know what a deposition is? 21 A. Yes, I am. 22 Q. That's what you're doing here. 23 MR. CRITTON: Could I borrow your 24 deposition for just a minute? 25 MR. HOROWITZ: The transcript? It's                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Page 342 1 A. No. 2 Q. Did you talk with them separate and apart 3 from that? 4 A. Yes, I did. 5 Q. Okay. Did they tape that statement? 6 A. No. 7 Q. You told us you also spoke with 8 representatives of the FBI? 9 A. Yes. 10 Q. Okay. And you distinguished between the 11 FBI and between Officer Recarey? 12 A. Yes. 13 Q. So how many times did Officer Recarey, or 14 Detective Recarey, I think he's from the Palm 15 Beach Police Department speak with you? 16 A. Like three or four times. 17 Q. But he only took one statement? 18 A. One taped. 19 Q. I'm sorry, one taped statement? 20 A. Yes. 21 Q. All right. So as to whether or not if 22 you said something to Officer Recarey or not that 23 you would be able to confirm, that would only have 24 been in a taped statement, one taped statement out 25 of the three, approximately three times he spoke                                                                                    |

Did they take a statement from you, that 17 is, did they have a tape recorder or did they just 18 make notes? 19 A. They took notes. 20 Q. All right. Did you sign anything? 21 A. No, sir. 22 Q. That is like did they take notes of what 23 you said and then you signed it to say yep, that 24 accurately reflects what I said? 25 A. No, I didn't sign anything. | Page 346 1 what you said and it was not accurate, that is, he 2 put his interpretation of what you said, would you 3 have told him that's not accurate, Officer 4 Recarey? 5 MR. On how many occasions did you ever see5 her at the Epstein home?6 A. More than three times.7 Q. More than three?8 A. Yes, sir.9 Q. That's as accurate as you can be?10 A. Yes.11 Q. More than three?12 A. More than three.13 Q. Whether it was four or five you don't14 know, but more than three?15 A. More than three, sir.16 Q. In terms of F.E.'s age, did you ever ask17 her what her age was?18 A. No, sir.19 Q. Did she appear to you to be someone at20 least from seeing her and recalling her that she21 appeared at least to you to be while a young woman22 appeared to be someone who was 18 or older?23 A. No, sir.24 Q. Okay. Well, did you ever say anything to25 the police or did you ever -- were you ever | Page 349 1 Q. I'm sorry?2 A. Yes, I did, I told the police.3 Q. And at the time that you spoke with the4 police and gave them a statement, isn't it true,5 Mr. Rodriguez, that you were no longer employed by6 Mr. Epstein?7 A. Yes.8 Q. And you understood that you were required9 to tell the police officers the truth at that10 time?11 A. Yes.12 Q. And if I understood your testimony I13 believe from July 29th through today, you at no14 time asked any of these girls how old they were.15 True?16 A. No.17 Q. And as to whether the girls were under 1818 or 18 or over 18, you really didn't know one way19 or the other at the time. Would that be a fair20 statement?21 A. Yes.22 MR. Haven't you told the police, sir -- let4 me strike that, let me ask it this way.5 In your taped statement that you gave to6 the police did you not tell them that all of the7 girls appeared to you to be 18 or above?8 A. Sir, as far as when all these actions9 that were taking place I was under an environment10 that I thought I was going to be -- in other11 words, I was afraid of any reprisal Mr. Epstein12 and Mrs. Maxwell if I say something that is any13 idea of me because I have this confidentiality14 agreement. There is a young lady on the4 left-hand side with a black hat on.5 Do you recognize her at all?6 A. No, I don't recognize her.7 Q. Okay. Thank you. With regard to the8 photograph four that you saw that you think9 possibly might be [REDACTED] I think you told us that10 you recall seeing that woman in the sauna at Mr.11 Epstein's house on one occasion and she was naked.12 A. Yes.13 Q. Was that near the end of your employment14 or the middle or the front end?15 A. I saw her on January 2005, sir, and I was16 terminated in March, so that was two months prior.                                                                                                                                                      |

Other than telling Louella did you say 14 anything to anyone else when you saw [REDACTED], the 15 lady you believe was [REDACTED] naked in the sauna? 16 A. I believe I mentioned that to my wife. 17 Q. All right. Anyone else? 18 A. No. 19 Q. And did [REDACTED] continue -- assuming it was 20 [REDACTED], did she continue to sleep in the sauna, that 21 is, she didn't know you were there? 22 A. She never knew that I was there. 23 Q. She didn't at least acknowledge that she 24 knew. Correct? 25 A. Yes, correct. | Page 353 1 correct? 2 A. I think so, sir. 3 Q. All right. I assume that in over the 4 course of your life separate and apart from your 5 wife you've seen a naked woman before. 6 A. Yes. 7 Q. And I assume that in your 50 some odd 8 years -- how old are you, sir? 9 A. 55. 10 Q. In your 55 years you've seen pictures of 11 naked women both photographs, paintings, statues. 12 Would that be a fair statement? 13 A. Yes. 14 Q. And in terms of at least in this 15 particular case there is all sorts of -- as you 16 know there is testimony, and you've been asked a 17 number of questions about sex related issues, that 18 is whether you saw in photographs or whether you 19 saw anyone engaged in any type of sexual activity. 20 Correct? 21 A. Correct. 22 Q. And I assume that you understand that men 23 and women -- we'll start there first, that men and 24 women actually do have sex in this world? 25 A. Yes. |
| Page 356 1 up the back stairway, or what would be the kitchen 2 stairway to the upper floor, there was I think you 3 said, but correct me if I'm wrong, please, that 4 you don't recall seeing there being any pictures 5 or photographs of any nude women. Is that 6 correct? 7 A. They were not nude women in the 8 staircase. 9 Q. That's all I'm talking about right now. 10 In that area you never saw any pictures, or 11 photographs, paintings, any type of depiction of a 12 nude woman on that staircase going upstairs. 13 Correct? 14 A. Correct. 15 Q. All right. And I think you said 16 downstairs you saw a picture of -- the only                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Page 358 1 were there any pictures of women in any stage of 2 undress? 3 A. No. 4 Q. And then I think you said as you walk 5 upstairs, or as you walked up the stairway from 6 the kitchen at the top of the landing, I think you 7 described -- did you describe it as the foyer? 8 A. Yes. 9 Q. Okay. But it's really the landing, the 10 upstairs landing? 11 A. Yes. 12 Q. I think you said there were -- there was 13 -- were or was a three by five picture or 14 pictures? 15 A. Yes. 16 Q. Of women in some stage of undress?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
| 17 picture that you saw of I'd say of a younger child 18 that displayed some form of -- I don't want to say 19 nudity because it's probably not that, but of some 20 portion of their body that was exposed, and I 21 think you described it as her cheek. 22 A. Yes, that's upstairs. 23 Q. That's upstairs? 24 A. Upstairs. 25 Q. And that was -- was it Eva; is that how                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         | 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. Okay. And when you say three by five, I 19 assume you meant three feet? 20 A. Three feet. 21 Q. By five feet? 22 A. Yes. 23 Q. Were they photographs? 24 A. Yes, they were photographs. 25 Q. And I think you also told us that you                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                        |

EDWARDS: Object to the form.4 THE WITNESS: I knew this particular girl5 because it was the daughter of Mrs. Eva.6 BY MR. CRITTON:7 Q. Okay. And is that the picture you're8 talking about?9 A. This is the picture I'm talking about.10 Q. Okay. And that was a three by five?11 A. Yes.12 Q. All right. And the only thing that you13 could see was a portion, that is of her other than14 say her waist or her shoulders or her arms or15 something, that's one where you could see kind of16 like the Coppertone commercial, a picture of her17 cheek?18 A. Yes. Part of her buttocks.19 MR. LANGINO: Object to the form.20 BY MR. CRITTON:21 Q. Okay. And was there another picture at22 the top of the foyer, large one, or is that the23 only one that you can recall?24 A. There were two of the same girl in25 different poses.  | Page 361 1 A. Inside his closet, the walk-in closet.2 Q. And those pictures, I think you called it3 a mosaic?4 A. Yes.5 Q. And of the mosaic, approximately how many6 pictures were in the mosaic?7 A. 16 or 20.8 Q. Okay. And of those pictures how many did9 you recognize?10 A. About three or four.11 Q. All right. Were they -- as to who those12 people were, you don't know, you just recognized13 three or four of them?14 A. Mr. Epstein when he was younger, and then15 different girlfriends, but I didn't recognize16 except the ones --17 Q. Okay. You said three or four of those18 were pictures of the girls who came over to give a19 massage?20 A. Yes.21 Q. Okay. But as to who those girls were you22 don't know as you sit here today?23 A. No, sir.24 Q. And as to what their ages were you don't25 know?                                                                                   |
| Page 360 1 Q. But showed the same thing?2 A. Yes.3 Q. Okay. As you walked through into -- then4 if I understood it correctly, you go to the pretty5 much to the end of the hallway, then you go6 through another small vestibule, double doors, two7 sets of double doors, and as you go straight ahead8 then you make a left around the bed and then you9 end up in the bathroom.10 A. Yes.11 Q. In the bathroom -- in the bathroom or in12 that location were there any pictures of any women13 in any stage of undress?14 A. Yes.15 Q. All right. And were any of those16 pictures, did they involve -- or were they of any17 of the girls that have been described as women who18 came over to give Mr. -- purportedly to give Mr.19 Epstein a massage?20 A. Yes.21 Q. And do you remember who any of the names22 of any of those people were?23 A. No.24 Q. And the pictures you saw, where were they25 located? | Page 362 1 A. No, sir.2 Q. That's correct?3 A. That's correct.4 Q. And as to what they depicted in the5 photographs of the girls were they in different6 stages of undress?7 A. Yes.8 Q. Was everyone undressed to some degree,9 that is, they were described as nude, or at least10 the questions asked were these people nude? Were11 they actually nude or someone may have had their12 top off?13 A. There were two girls completely naked in14 a shower in a sexual act.15 Q. Is that the one when Ms. Ezell asked you16 questions, that's one of the photographs that you17 were talking about?18 A. No, sir.19 Q. That was a different --20 A. Different one.21 Q. Okay. And the mosaic that you saw where22 you saw two girls involved in a sexual act, do you23 know where that photograph was taken?24 A. I think it was taken in one of the rooms25 in the house because there is an oval bathtub, but |

| Page 363 1 I don't know which room, sir. 2 Q. Okay. Did you recognize both the girls 3 or just one of the girls? 4 A. The two girls. 5 Q. Then there were -- there was one or two 6 other photographs of girls that you recognized? 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. Okay. And were they fully unclothed or 9 did they have some degree of clothes on and/or 10 off? 11 A. They were naked. 12 Q. All right. And all of the remaining 13 pictures at least within that mosaic were of 14 individuals that you did not know? 15 A. No, sir. 16 Q. And that you did not recognize as having 17 been at the house. Is that correct? 18 A. Yes, that's correct. 19 Q. You were also asked about some -- let me 20 switch for just a minute. 21 You were asked about a vibrator that you 22 saw, and I think you described it as a back 23 massager that was approximately 18 inches long 24 that had a couple of rotating heads on it. 25 A. Yes. | Page 365 1 pilots, masseuses, chefs, so she have a copy of 2 the black book with herself and as well as the 3 computer. 4 Q. Did you ever go on Ms. Maxwell's computer 5 to see what she had in it? 6 A. Yes. 7 Q. And was that something you were allowed 8 to do? 9 A. No. 10 Q. Okay. You actually went in her office? 11 A. Yes. 12 Q. And was her computer on so that you 13 didn't need to access the password? 14 A. It was off. 15 Q. Okay. So you just turned it on? 16 A. Yes, sir. 17 Q. And then you were able to access her 18 computer? 19 A. Exactly. 20 Q. And what possessed you to go in and to 21 access her personal computer? 22 A. I needed to send some documents to the 23 New York office and it was the only computer 24 working in the house. 25 Q. Okay. And how many occasions did you use |
| Page 364 1 Q. And I think you ultimately came up with 2 the idea as it was something you had seen at like 3 a Sharper Image store. 4 A. Yes, sir. 5 Q. Have you ever seen one of those types of 6 devices, that is a back massager with the rotating 7 heads also sold -- well, let me ask you this. 8 Strike that last question. 9 Have you ever been to Brookstone? 10 A. Yes. 11 Q. Okay. Have you ever seen a massager like 12 that at Brookstone? 13 A. Yes. 14 Q. Okay. You were asked whether Ms. Maxwell 15 kept the names of any of the girls who came to 16 give massages on -- let me ask it this way.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Page 366 1 her computer? 2 A. Several times. 3 Q. Was she ever aware that you used her 4 computer? 5 MR. LANGINO: Form. 6 THE WITNESS: I don't think so. 7 BY MR. CRITTON: 8 Q. Did you ever ask Ms. Maxwell for 9 permission to use her computer? 10 A. I was the house manager, I believe I was 11 supposed to use everything in the house to 12 accomplish my duties, in that case sending 13 financial reports or e-mails. 14 Q. So would you have been -- did you ever 15 use Mr. Epstein's computer? 16 A. No.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 17 I think you were asked whether 18 Ms. Maxwell ever kept the names of any of the 19 girls who came to give massages and I think your 20 response was yes. 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. Okay. Did she keep them on a pad of 23 paper, did she keep them in a notebook, did she 24 keep them in a computer? 25 A. We used to have internal books for                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 17 Q. Okay. But you used Ms. Maxwell's 18 computer? 19 A. Yes. 20 Q. Did you ever use Ms. Kellen's computer? 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. In looking at Ms. Maxwell still, you went 23 into Ms. Maxwell's computer with at least the idea 24 of sending some documents? 25 A. Yes.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                    |

| Page 368 1 to go back to some calls that they were 2 requesting, especially when the hurricane 3 season happened. 4 BY MR. CRITTON: 5 Q. Okay. So if I understand, even the 6 computer you used would have had that same 7 feature? 8 A. No, no, it was totally different. Mine 9 was slower and all the time was breaking down 10 that's why we have the guy from Ohio came and 11 fixed the computers. 12 Q. Okay. Were there other computers that 13 you used that had that feature, that is that -- 14 A. Only Sarah, Mrs. Maxwell, and the staff 15 house. 16 Q. Staff house being yours?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          | Page 370 1 the house, we can get it from the computer. 2 Q. Okay. And I'm distinguishing, 3 transcript, it would tell you the name and phone 4 number, it wouldn't tell you what was said? 5 A. It was the message also. 6 Q. Okay. Now I understand. And so 7 Ms. Maxwell when you said she had the names of 8 some of these girls who may have given massages, 9 or at least were what you called earlier girls 10 that gave massages, or females that gave massages, 11 she would have had it because that was information 12 that was downloaded from the Citrix system into 13 her computer? 14 A. Yes. 15 MS. EZELL: Objection, form. 16 BY MR. | 17 A. The guest house, yes, my office. 18 Q. So you could go out to your guest house 19 then and look for the same information? 20 A. No. 21 Q. All right. I don't understand but why 22 don't we take a break because we're almost out of 23 tape. 24 (Thereupon, a recess was had.) 25 THE VIDEOGRAPHER: We're back on the                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               | 17 Q. Okay, I understand. Now, you said she 18 also had some pictures. Is that that one time you 19 also saw pictures? 20 A. Yes. 21 Q. And were you going through her computer 22 at that time? 23 A. No. 24 Q. The question is, if all you were going to 25 do was try to pdf some financial information to                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |

| Page 371 1 New York what were you doing getting to names and2 phone numbers and then pictures of girls?3 A. I was trying to get some information. I4 was working the computer and I just happen -- they5 have the icon of the file and I open and it was6 right there, so I was not looking but, you know,7 it was already accessible to me.8 Q. And how many photographs did you then9 scroll through to look at?10 A. Probably 30.11 Q. Okay. And why?12 A. Just curiosity, sir.13 Q. So again, you never told anyone other14 than your wife?15 A. No.16 Q. Correct?17 A. Yes, correct.18 Q. Of the pictures that you saw, if I19 understood it correctly, some of those were20 pictures of -- well, I think you said some of them21 reflected parties or banquets?22 A. Yes.23 Q. I think you described some of the24 pictures gatherings that appeared to be either in25 Russia or Eastern Europe? | Page 373 1 Q. Okay. Were any of the photographs that2 were in -- again, I'm talking about Ms. Maxwell's3 computer now, were those photographs of4 individuals who were any of the girls or ladies5 that came over to give massages?6 A. No. They stay at the house.7 Q. Okay. So the photographs that you saw on8 Ms. Maxwell's computer of females in any state of9 undress or at parties or at banquets, those were10 all of individuals who would fly in with Mr.11 Epstein at various periods of time that had12 traveled with him?13 A. That's correct.14 Q. Okay. Those are the girls that you told15 us I think at your last deposition and reaffirmed16 here today, those girls all appeared to be in17 their 20's?18 A. Yes, sir.19 Q. All right. Now, you were also asked some20 questions, a lot of questions about surveillance.21 And if I understood your testimony, and this is22 where it goes back to what do you know, what don't23 you know, what were you speculating on, what did24 you know at the time, what do you know now, at25 least I need you to distinguish that for me so |
| Page 372 1 A. Yes.2 Q. All right. And then you talked about a3 picture of two girls in the shower that you didn't4 know the girls. Correct?5 A. Yes.6 Q. That's correct?7 A. That's correct.8 Q. All right. And that in all of the9 photographs that you saw the individuals seemed to10 be having a good time?11 A. Yes.12 Q. All right. Would it be a correct13 statement that in none of the photographs did14 anyone seem to be distressed or disturbed or show15 any type of negative emotion, at least from what16 you observed?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              | Page 374 1 that I know what you knew at the time, and as2 distinct from what you may have read in the3 newspaper or been told by some lawyer or someone4 else that may not be accurate. Okay?5 A. Yes, sir.6 Q. With regard to the -- with regard to7 surveillance equipment, if I understood your8 testimony today is you were completely unaware of9 the existence of any surveillance equipment in the10 house during the 2004/2005 time period that you11 worked there. Is that correct?12 A. Yes.13 Q. And therefore, where it was, what may14 have existed, whether it in fact actually did15 exist, whether anyone maintained it, you have no16 personal knowledge whatsoever. Is that true?                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 17 A. That's correct.18 MS. EZELL: Objection, form.19 BY MR. CRITTON:20 Q. And in terms of the photographs that you21 did see, were any of the photographs that you saw,22 did they appear -- did they appear to have been of23 women that you had seen fly in with Mr. Epstein on24 his plane?25 A. Yes.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                | 17 A. | Page 375 1 A. Yes. 2 Q. All right. And then you saw another 3 picture of a Brazilian woman who had traveled or 4 flown on the plane before? 5 A. Yes. 6 Q. All right. And she also appeared to be a 7 woman to you not only in the photograph but from 8 your having seen her who appeared to be in her 9 20's? 10 A. Yes. 11 Q. Excuse me. Thank you. You talked about 12 Sarah Kellen's computer. Was she hooked into your 13 main system? 14 A. Not to my office in the staff house but 15 she was hooked into the main house. 16 Q. Okay. The same Citrix system? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. And you said that Sarah had pictures of 19 women on her computer that you saw. Is that 20 correct? 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. Okay. And were those the same types of 23 pictures that Ms. Maxwell had, that is, females, 24 pictures of females who had traveled in with Mr. 25 Epstein from his plane? | Page 377 1 names and addresses of -- let me start over. 2 Strike that. 3 If I understood your testimony, you said 4 that Sarah had pictures -- start again. 5 You said that Sarah had the names and 6 phone numbers of some of the massage girls. 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. Or at least of the people that you 9 thought may have been called to give massages. 10 A. Yes. 11 MS. EZELL: Form. 12 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 13 BY MR. CRITTON: 14 Q. And was that in the same format that you 15 saw on Ms. Maxwell's computer? 16 A. No. 17 Q. Okay. What occasion would you have been 18 -- have had to use Sarah Kellen's computer? 19 A. She will instruct me to get some 20 information from her desk or telephone numbers, so 21 I will. 22 Q. And that's where you would have seen it? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. I think you testified at your last 25 deposition, or the start of your deposition that |
| 17 of the women that you saw, that is the pictures of 18 the women that you saw on Sarah's computer were 19 any of the girls, women, whoever came to give 20 massages? Is that correct? 21 MR. EDWARDS: Object to the form. 22 MS. EZELL: Form. 23 THE WITNESS: That's correct. 24 BY MR. CRITTON: 25 Q. You said that Sarah you thought also had                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | 17 computer along with a phone number? 18 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 19 THE WITNESS: Yes. 20 BY MR. CRITTON: 21 Q. Do you remember how many you would have 22 seen? 23 A. Fifteen. 24 Q. Okay. You also told us earlier today 25 that you saw Sarah Kellen from time to time taking                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |

| Page 379 1 pictures in the dining room and the library. 2 A. Yes. 3 Q. Photographs. 4 A. Yes. 5 Q. Okay. Was she taking -- the pictures she 6 took were people who were clothed? 7 A. Yes. 8 Q. And were any of the pictures that she 9 took of any of the girls that you ever -- let me 10 strike that. 11 If I understood your original testimony 12 -- I don't want to say original. If I understood 13 your testimony from July 29th to what you told us 14 today as to the women who did come to give 15 massages they'd knock or somehow you would be 16 aware that they were at the back door, you would 17 punch the security code and lead them into the 18 kitchen. 19 A. Yes. 20 Q. Okay. When you brought them into the 21 kitchen you would say, hi, they would say hi back 22 to you, or something to that, short greeting, 23 you'd offer them water, there was never any 24 alcohol in the whole house other than I think you 25 said for one person at one time. Is that a fair | Page 381 1 Q. Regular conversation? 2 A. Yes. 3 Q. And, therefore, you might interject 4 yourself back in because you've been asked to pay 5 someone or to let them out? 6 MR. LANGINO: Form. 7 THE WITNESS: Yes, I was called to pay 8 them. 9 BY MR. CRITTON: 10 Q. All right. And when you hear that 11 conversation that would be another way that you 12 would know that the women were leaving? 13 A. Yes. 14 Q. And sometimes they'd leave without you 15 even being involved, if I understood it correctly? 16 A. That's correct. 17 Q. So, the only places that you ever saw the 18 women who came to give massages would be -- of the 19 some fifteen women during the time you were there 20 would be either when you let them into the house 21 and escorted them into the kitchen or as they were 22 leaving? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. And I think you described one instance 25 earlier today is that you may have had [REDACTED] in the                                                                                                               |
| Page 380 1 statement? 2 A. Yes. 3 Q. All right. You left the kitchen, you 4 understood Sarah Kellen came down, and what 5 happened thereafter you don't have any personal 6 knowledge whatsoever? 7 A. That's correct. 8 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 9 BY MR. CRITTON: 10 Q. At some point in time Ms. Kellen might 11 contact you and say pay such and such X amount of 12 dollars, she is now getting ready to leave. 13 A. Yes. 14 Q. That maybe one. Another set of 15 circumstances might be you use the word commotion, 16 you might hear a commotion, I assume you don't 17 mean -- well, let me ask you, when you say 18 commotion, do you mean a disturbance, something 19 that was seriously like raised voices or merely 20 you just heard some people talking? 21 A. Conversation of people leaving. 22 Q. Okay. Not a commotion in the form of a 23 disturbance but a commotion in the sense that you 24 heard people talking? 25 A. Yes.                                                    | Page 382 1 car, in the Suburban? 2 A. Yes. 3 Q. And that's the only person that you can 4 remember having driven any place, that is, of the 5 women who were described as having given massages? 6 MR. EDWARDS: Objection. 7 MS. EZELL: Objection, form. 8 THE WITNESS: Sir, I have to clarify 9 that I drove a lot of girls, but I don't 10 remember the names associated with the 11 faces. But this particular girl A., or 12 others, C., whatever, I remember driving in 13 the Suburban, but I cannot say this was -- 14 BY MR. CRITTON: 15 Q. Let me clarify because what I want to be 16 clear is, is I do remember you testifying that 17 when some of the 20 plus year old models or 18 females would fly in with Mr. Epstein they might 19 want to go shopping, they might want to go to the 20 store, they may want to go to the drug store, they 21 may want to go to the beach, wherever they wanted 22 to go and you would drive them. 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. All right. And then I remember in 25 response to Ms. Ezell's questions today she asked |

| Page 383 1 you about having driven [REDACTED] and you recalled 2 having had her in the Suburban specifically. 3 A. Yes. 4 Q. Do you remember any of the other girls, 5 women who came to give massages ever having driven 6 them, or is [REDACTED] the only one that you remember? 7 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 8 THE WITNESS: I only remember [REDACTED] right 9 now for the fact that I was driving by the 10 airport and I showed her Mr. Epstein's 11 plane. 12 BY MR. CRITTON: 13 Q. All right. Which really takes me back to 14 really where I started with this series of 15 questions. 16 You saw the girls, the women who came in 17 to give the massages, when they came in if you 18 were advised or if you heard conversation and you 19 saw them you would see them when they left? 20 A. Yes. 21 Q. And you saw [REDACTED] because she was in the 22 Suburban on at least one occasion? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. And, therefore, you never saw these 25 girls, these women who gave the massages in the | Page 385 1 Q. All right. Ms. Ezell asked you about Mr. 2 Dershowitz being present in Mr. Epstein's home, 3 and I think she asked -- and I think that you said 4 Mr. Epstein was a -- and he and Mr. Dershowitz 5 were friends? 6 A. Yes. 7 Q. She also I think asked was Mr. Dershowitz 8 ever there when one of the women who gave a 9 massage was present in the home? 10 A. I don't remember that. 11 Q. That's what I want to clear up. Is it 12 your testimony that Mr. Dershowitz was there when 13 any of the women came to Mr. Epstein's home to 14 give a massage? 15 A. Yes. 16 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 17 BY MR. CRITTON: 18 Q. As to whether any of those women were 19 ever associated with Mr. Dershowitz would it be a 20 correct statement that you have absolutely no 21 knowledge? 22 A. I don't know, sir. 23 Q. You don't know? 24 A. I don't know, sir. 25 MS. EZELL: Form. |

CRITTON: 6 Q. All right. So, therefore, the pictures 7 that you saw Sarah Kellen taking of girls, women, 8 either in the dining room or library, those were 9 other individuals other than those who may have 10 given or who came for massages. Is that correct? 11 MS. EZELL: Form. 12 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 13 THE WITNESS: It's confusing, sir, 14 because there were a bunch of girls. I 15 don't know which one they were but I saw her 16 taking pictures of the groups, 17 BY MR. CRITTON: 18 Q. As to whether they were people who came 19 in on the planes or there may have been a massage 20 girl or more than one woman who gave a massage, 21 you just don't know as you sit here, you'd just be 22 speculating. Is that correct? 23 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 24 THE WITNESS: I don't know. 25 BY MR. Were you in any way attempting in 3 your response to Ms. Ezell to imply that Mr. 4 Dershowitz had a massage by one of these young 5 ladies? 6 A. I don't know, sir. 7 Q. You have no knowledge? 8 A. No, sir. 9 Q. And you certainly weren't implying that 10 that occurred, you just have no knowledge. 11 Correct? 12 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 13 THE WITNESS: I don't know. 14 BY MR. CRITTON: 15 Q. Sorry? 16 A. I don't know. 17 Q. I think in response to one of Ms. Ezell's 18 questions you responded that -- let me ask it this 19 way. 20 You never saw Mr. Epstein ever take 21 photographs of anyone. Would that be a correct 22 statement? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. Would it be a correct statement you never 25 saw Mr. Epstein initiate a phone call to anyone?                                                                                      |

| Page 387 1 A. To place a phone call? 2 Q. Yeah. Did you ever see him place a phone 3 call? 4 A. Yes. 5 Q. If in fact, maybe it was this way, is 6 that you never saw him call someone to schedule a 7 massage appointment. Correct? 8 A. That's correct. 9 Q. I think you said that Ms. Kellen told you 10 that Mr. Epstein would take photographs. Did I 11 understand you correctly? 12 A. I'm sorry, can you repeat that? 13 Q. Did Ms. Kellen ever tell you that Mr. 14 Epstein took a photograph of anyone? 15 A. No, she said to me Mr. Epstein is like 16 he's an amateur photographer. 17 Q. Okay. I may have misunderstood you then. 18 Let me clarify that testimony. 19 It's your testimony that Ms. Kellen told 20 you that Mr. Epstein is an amateur photographer? 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. She never told you that -- or let me 23 strike that. 24 Is it correct that she never told you 25 that Mr. Epstein took photographs of any of the | Page 389 1 Q. Of the time that you've done that 2 approximately how many years does that include in 3 your working life? 4 A. Eight years, ten years. 5 Q. All right. And have you worked for -- 6 have you been in other circumstances where you 7 have worked around -- well, let me step back. 8 With all of the individuals that you 9 mentioned, estate manager, house manager, has this 10 been for individuals who have or at least appear 11 to have substantial wealth? 12 A. Yes. 13 Q. And as part of your duties, or not duties 14 but as part of being a house manager or general 15 manager for an estate do you interact with other 16 estate managers? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. And do you assist each other from time to 19 time if someone needs help? 20 A. That's correct. 21 Q. And I assume that you've been in other 22 estates in Palm Beach and probably in Fort 23 Lauderdale and other locations? 24 A. Yes. 25 Q. As part of during your working career did                                                                                             |

| Page 391 1 Q. All right. In terms of these wealthy2 people that you've worked for, these individuals,3 do they all have, that is at least in terms of Mr.4 Epstein, the way that his household was managed,5 was it similar to other set of circumstances that6 you've been involved with?7 MR. HOROWITZ: Object to form.8 THE WITNESS: They have a common ground,9 yes.10 BY MR. CRITTON:11 Q. All right. And in terms of you talked12 about Mr. Epstein that there was some sort of a13 manual or a procedure book with regard to his14 house.15 A. House manual, yes.16 Q. A house manual. Did other houses have17 house manuals as well? Is that reasonably -- I18 mean not common but it's something that you've19 seen before?20 MR. EDWARDS: Form.21 THE WITNESS: I know a lot of houses do22 but that was the only estate that we have a23 house manual.24 BY MR. CRITTON:25 Q. And other individuals like where you've | Page 393 1 about what they do?2 MR. HOROWITZ: Object to the form.3 THE WITNESS: Yes.4 BY MR. CRITTON:5 Q. And have you worked at other locations,6 that is, in the other houses that you've worked7 where they have massage tables?8 A. Yes.9 Q. And in those other locations where they10 had a massage table, were they similar to the11 massage table that was in Mr. Epstein's home?12 A. Yes, sir.13 Q. All right. Almost same make and model?14 A. Same type, yes.15 Q. And did other individuals in houses that16 you worked at and other places where you helped17 out other estate managers, would those individuals18 have massages from time to time?19 A. Yes.20 Q. So having a massage or a massage table in21 someone's house that you might -- that lives in22 Palm Beach or Montauk or New York or something,23 would you consider that unusual?24 MR. HOROWITZ: Form.25 THE WITNESS: No. |
| Page 392 1 worked similar to Mr. Epstein -- now, Mr. Epstein2 was single?3 A. Yes.4 Q. All right. And him having a lot of -- or5 bringing a lot of attractive women and other6 people to his house, I assume that didn't offend7 you in any way?8 MR. EDWARDS: Object to the form.9 THE WITNESS: No, sir.10 BY MR. CRITTON:11 Q. At least based upon your experience in12 dealing with other individuals either of some13 notoriety like Ms. Helmsley or when you said the14 club that you worked up is in Montauk --15 A. Montauk Lake Club and Marina.16 Q. Right. You ran into separate and apart17 from Richard Nixon were there a lot of people,18 corporate people, business people?19 A. Yes.20 Q. People of substantial resources and21 wealth?22 A. Yes.23 Q. Have you found at least in your24 experience that most of those people are pretty25 discreet about -- when I say discreet, private                       | Page 394 1 BY MR. CRITTON:2 Q. I think you told me at least in Mr.3 Epstein's home other than for one guest he didn't4 have any type of alcohol in the house. Is that5 correct?6 A. That's correct.7 Q. Was that basically you understood that8 that was one of the policies and procedure, no9 alcohol in the house?10 A. Yes.11 Q. And did you ever see any type of illegal12 or inappropriate drugs?13 A. No, sir.14 Q. And was that another policy or procedure,15 absolutely no drugs of any kind?16 A. No smoking in the house.17 Q. All right. So no drugs, no smoking, no18 alcohol?19 A. Yes.20 Q. Was that pretty typical for other Palm21 Beach places that you were familiar with?22 A. No.23 Q. All right. And other places you'd always24 find alcohol?25 A. Yes.                                                                                                                           |

Mr. Rodriguez, I want to turn to the -- 5 stay with the women who came to give or at least 6 were called to give the massages. 7 You were shown a number of message pads, 8 I think Mr. Mermelstein who represents a number of 9 -- or at least certainly Jane Doe 2 and some 10 others, you were identified or shown a bunch of 11 message pads that had I think in most instances 12 your initials, A.R. Do you recall that? 13 A. Yes, I do. 14 Q. I think one of the individuals that you 15 identified that called often was C.W.? 16 A. Yes. 17 Q. Which is one of Mr. Edwards' clients. 18 This lady called on a regular basis, or 19 at least from looking at your pad she would call 20 on a pretty regular basis. Is that true? 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. And she and others who are reflected on 23 those message pads, they were calling to come to 24 give massages. Correct? 25 A. Yes. | Page 398 1 A. That's correct. 2 Q. Both C.W. and T.M.? 3 A. Yes. 4 Q. Of the females that -- the women that 5 came to the house, did you ever see anyone force 6 any of these women onto the property? 7 A. No, sir. 8 Q. Did you ever see anyone force them into 9 the house? 10 A. No. 11 Q. Did you ever see anyone force them into 12 the kitchen? 13 A. No, sir. 14 Q. Did you ever use any force, any type of 15 intimidation or coercion to bring them into the 16 house and get them into the kitchen? 17 A. No, sir. 18 Q. Did you ever observe Ms. Kellen using any 19 force or intimidation or coercion -- 20 A. No, I did not. 21 Q. -- with any of these individuals? 22 A. I did not. 23 MR. EDWARDS: Object to the form. 24 BY MR. EDWARDS: 25 Q. | Page 403 1 A. No. 2 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 3 BY MR. CRITTON: 4 Q. For those women -- I think I need -- let 5 me strike that. 6 On some occasions you'd see the women 7 come down from upstairs because you would either 8 let them out of the house or you might give them 9 an envelope that had money in it. Is that 10 correct? 11 A. Yes. 12 Q. Did any of those -- Mr. Edwards asked you 13 some questions -- I think it was Mr. Edwards, 14 whether they had sat down and had anything to eat, 15 whether they had cereal or anything like that. 16 A. Yes. 17 Q. Did you ever observe any of those women 18 before they went upstairs eating anything at the 19 house? 20 A. Sometimes. 21 Q. And I think he used -- he meaning Mr. 22 Edwards, used cereal and ice cream. 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. And he said, if I recall from the last 25 deposition, kids like ice cream. | Page 405 1 them stop and have anything to eat or did you 2 always see them at the end, that is they're ready 3 to go? 4 A. I didn't know, they came from downstairs, 5 they went to the kitchen, but I didn't know they 6 were there because I was in the guest house. 7 Q. Okay, that's my question. You only 8 observed them either if you heard conversation or 9 Sarah had called you and said would you pay such 10 and such? 11 A. Yes. 12 Q. At which time you would give them the 13 envelope with money? 14 A. Yes. 15 Q. In that set of circumstances they were on 16 their way basically to leave? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. When you saw them leave did any of them 19 at any time, any of the ones that you saw during 20 August of '04 through March of '05 appear to you 21 to be scared? 22 A. No, sir. 23 Q. Did any girls, women ever appear to have 24 been injured in any way? 25 MR. EDWARDS: Form. |

Did they ever tell you that they had been5 forced to do something against their will? 6 A. No. 7 Q. Did they ever tell you that they had been8 forced to do something inappropriate? 9 A. No. 10 Q. Did they ever tell you that they had been11 assaulted in any way? 12 A. No. 13 Q. Did they ever tell you that they had been14 inappropriately touched? 15 A. No. 16 MR. HOROWITZ: Form. This is a17 cumulative. He's already told you the18 limited contact he had. This is totally19 inappropriate line of questions. 20 MR. CRITTON: Is that a form objection? 21 MR. HOROWITZ: You're exceeding the scope22 of the direct because nobody asked him -- 23 MR. CRITTON: Form, you get form in24 federal court, that's what you get. Give me25 your form. | Page 409 1 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 2 THE WITNESS: No. 3 BY MR. CRITTON: 4 Q. Did you ever hear anyone yell out in10 anger? 11 A. No. 12 Q. You've gone online, Mr. Rodriguez, and13 looked at various articles or postings that have14 been made regarding these cases. Is that a fair15 statement? 16 A. I'm sorry? 17 Q. If I understood your testimony from July18 29th and a little bit today, is that you've gone19 online and read some articles and/or what the20 police report may have said, that is, you've read21 information that you've -- about these lawsuits22 after the time that you left Mr. Epstein's23 employment. 24 A. Yes. 25 Q. Correct? |
| Page 408 1 MR. HOROWITZ: Form, cumulative. 2 MR. CRITTON: Great. Why don't you let3 me finish the question and then you can4 object to it. 5 Could you give me back what my last6 question was, please? 7 (Thereupon, a portion of the record was8 read by the reporter.) 9 THE WITNESS: No. 10 BY MR. At any time did you hear anyone -- strike20 that. 21 As to the women who came to give a22 massage, did you ever hear anyone scream? 23 A. No, sir. 24 Q. Did you ever hear anyone cry out what25 sounded like to you help?                                                                                                                    | Page 410 1 A. Yes. 2 Q. And, therefore, you have at least seen3 certain allegations and what people say occurred,4 or at least their recitation of what may have5 occurred at Mr. Epstein's home. 6 A. Yes. 7 Q. You have no personal knowledge one way or8 the other. 9 MR. HOROWITZ: Object to the form. 10 MR. EDWARDS: Form. 11 BY MR. CRITTON: 12 Q. Correct? 13 A. That's correct. 14 Q. Are you also aware that the individuals15 who have filed lawsuits want in some instance16 millions of dollars? 17 A. Yes. 18 Q. Okay. Are you aware that some of them19 are now claiming that they were sexually20 assaulted? 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. And battered? 23 A. Yes. 24 Q. And you have no information, no personal25 knowledge in that regard. Is that true?                     |

Were you aware of the 6 backgrounds of any of these women who came over to 7 give massages? 8 MR. HOROWITZ: Form. 9 THE WITNESS: No, sir. 10 BY MR. CRITTON: 11 Q. Well, have you -- did any one of the 12 females who ever came to give massages, did they 13 ever tell you that they were prostitutes? 14 A. No, sir. 15 Q. Did they ever tell you that they had been 16 lead into a life of prostitution? 17 MR. HOROWITZ: Form. 18 THE WITNESS: No. 19 BY MR. CRITTON: 20 Q. Did they ever tell you about their family 21 life, whether it involved prostitution, abuse, 22 prior posttraumatic stress syndrome, drugs, 23 alcohol, abuse by individuals, physical abuse as 24 well as verbal abuse? 25 A. No, they didn't tell me.                                            | Page 413 1 the property in your car? 2 A. Exactly. 7 Q. And they sent -- they, the police, sent a 8 police car with you to come there? 9 A. Yes. 10 Q. Did you and the police officer walk up to 11 the car? 12 A. The police went first. 13 Q. All right. And if I understand that, 14 that was in January of '05? 15 A. Yes. 16 Q. And when you did that then did you follow 17 behind the police officer to see who was in the 18 car? 19 A. Yes. 20 Q. And then you recognized that as [REDACTED]? 21 A. Yes. 22 Q. And [REDACTED] said she had come back or was 23 there to get some money? 24 A. Yes. 25 Q. 1 I think you told us, you were asked
 2 questions about sex toys, I think you certainly
 3 described the back massagers. Correct?
 4 A. Yes.
 5 Q. I think you said the only sex toys that
 6 you ever saw were in the armoire at the end of Mr.
 7 Epstein's bed.
 8 A. Yes.
 9 Q. Okay. And whatever other sex toys that 10 to which there was a reference, that's something
 11 that Louella told you. Is that correct?
 12 A. That's correct.
 13 Q. You were asked at the last deposition, I
 14 don't remember who asked the question, but whether 15 you had ever seen pornography on any computer. I 16 think one of your responses was you saw some 17 photos of a naked woman who appeared to you to be 18 a model.
 19 A. Yes.
 20 Q. Okay. Do you consider every photograph, 21 picture, painting of a naked nude woman to be 22 pornography?

 24 MS. EZELL: Objection, form.

 4 Q. In your view?
 5 A. Yes.
 6 Q. So if you looked at -- I don't remember
 7 whether Playboy still has -- say a Playboy that 8 has a frontal nudity shot of a woman, you would in 9 essence say that Playboy is selling pornography?
 10 A. Yes.
 11 Q. Therefore, every person who buys a 12 Playboy that has over the last umpteen tens of 13 years that has a frontal picture of a woman in the 14 nude would be purchasing pornography whether it's 15 from CVS, or Walgreens, or Eckerd as they existed,
 16 or any grocery store that sells them?
 17 A. Yes.

 24 were able to draw those up or bring those up from 25 your own computer.

1 A. To bring the pictures from my computer?
 2 Q. Let me rephrase the question. I thought
 3 what you said last time was that as to the 4 pictures that you did see of naked women -- of a
 5 naked woman or naked women on the computer, that 6 you've looked at those photographs through your 7 computer.
 8 A. No.
 9 Q. Okay. Then I may have misunderstood you.
 10 Was your reference to Ms. Maxwell's computer that 11 you made at the last deposition?
 12 A. Yes.
 13 Q. Okay. Your computer that you had either
 14 in the staff house or that you --
 15 A. Didn't access.
 16 Q. You couldn't access those files?
 17 A. That's correct.
 18 Q. All right, now I'm with you. So the 19 photographs you've talked of the nude individuals,
 20 or the naked women, were the photographs that 21 we've already talked about with both, i.e., in 22 Ms. Maxwell's computer?
 23 A. Yes.
 24 Q. Thank you for clearing that up.
 25 I'm going to ask you to assume that C.W.

1 who you've described as having come to Mr.
 2 Epstein's house on three or four times a week for 3 a period of time, one of her claims in this case
 4 is that she has been emotionally traumatized by 5 her contact with Mr. Epstein. Just assume that to 6 be true for purposes of this question.
 7 Did you ever observe any what you would 8 have seen as emotional trauma or any type of 9 disturbance with C.W. on the many times she came 10 to your house?
 11 MR. EDWARDS: Form.
 12 THE WITNESS: I didn't see any.
 13 BY MR. CRITTON:
 14 Q. Does it make sense to you that a person
 15 who claims emotional trauma would continue to come
 16 back to the house, does that make sense to you,
 17 sir?
 18 MR. EDWARDS: Form.
 19 MR. HOROWITZ: Form.
 20 MR. WILLITS: Object to the form of the 21 question.

DEFENDANT’S REPLY IN SUPPORT OF MOTION IN LIMINE TO EXCLUDE IN TOTO CERTAIN DEPOSITIONS DESIGNATED BY PLAINTIFF FOR USE AT TRIAL

Laura A. Menninger
Jeffrey S. Pagliuca
Ty Gee
HADDON, MORGAN AND FOREMAN, P.C.
150 East 10th Avenue
Denver, CO 80203
303.831.7364

Defendant Ghislaine Maxwell (“Ms. Maxwell”) files her Reply in Support of the Motion in Limine to Exclude In Toto certain depositions designated by Plaintiff for use at trial and states as follows:

I. PLAINTIFF CANNOT SATISFY THE LEGAL REQUIREMENTS FOR USE OF CERTAIN DEPOSITIONS AT TRIAL

A. Jeffrey Epstein and Ronald Rizzo Are Not Unavailable

Plaintiff cannot claim that Jeffery Epstein and Ronald Rizzo are “unavailable witnesses” whose testimony can be presented by deposition at trial under Rule 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. She admits she simply had not, prior to designating testimony, even attempted to serve these witnesses or obtain their attendance at trial. She has now obtained an agreement to accept service by Mr. Epstein’s counsel, mooted any claim that he is unavailable.<sup>1</sup> With respect to Mr. Rizzo, she concedes he resides within 100 miles of the courthouse, and provides no basis to claim that he cannot be served. Based on these confessions, the Motion in Limine to exclude the use of the designated portions of these depositions in toto must be granted.

B. As a Retained Expert, Phillip Esplin Cannot Be Deemed Unavailable

Plaintiff’s argument concerning Phillip Esplin fails to acknowledge or even address the cases cited that require that prior to being permitted to use prior sworn testimony of an expert witness she must carry the affirmative burden on proving: 1) Plaintiff “attempt[ed] to secure the voluntary [trial] attendance of a witness who lives beyond the subpoena power of the court” and 2) that no similar expert is available. Carter-Wallace, Inc. v. Otte, 474 F.2d 529, 536 (2d Cir. 1972). Plaintiff cannot carry this burden, requiring that the Motion in Limine be granted.

<sup>1</sup> Issues concerning if Mr. Epstein should be required to appear to invoke this fifth amendment rights will be addressed in Response to Plaintiff’s Motion to Present Testimony from Jeffrey Epstein for Purposes of Obtaining an Adverse Inference.

Plaintiff's misplaced argument that Ms. Maxwell is somehow required to make Dr. Esplin available at trial violates the fundamental rules of trial and the requirements for rebuttal witnesses. Of course, at this point, Ms. Maxwell does not know information Plaintiff may present in her case-in-chief. Ms. Maxwell has filed well-founded motions in limine to exclude the testimony of both Dr. Kliman and Professor Coonan prohibiting from providing their credibility and vouching opinions. This is the subject matter of Dr. Esplin's rebuttal report which explains that there is no reliable or scientific methodology by which an expert could reliably come to such opinions. Of course, if the improper testimony by Dr. Kliman and Professor Coonan is excluded, as it should be, there will be nothing for Dr. Esplin to "rebut" and he will not be called as a witness in the defense case-in-chief. In light of the well settled rules that a rebuttal expert is "intended solely to contradict or rebut evidence on the same subject matter identified" in the expert report of another party, there would be no basis to for Dr. Esplin to testify if Kliman and Coonan are excluded. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(2)(C)(ii). Moreover, because Dr. Esplin is a designated rebuttal expert, it is entirely improper to have any portion of his opinions or testimony presented in the Plaintiff's case in chief. See Lindner v. Meadow Gold Dairies, Inc., 249 F.R.D. 625, 636 (D. Hawaii 2008) (holding that individuals designated only as rebuttal experts could present limited testimony, could not testify as part of a party's case-in-chief, and would not be allowed to testify "unless and until" the experts they were designated to rebut testified at trial); Johnson v. Grays Harbor Cmty. Hosp., No. C06-5502BHS, 2007 WL 4510313, at *2 (W.D.Wash. Dec. 18, 2007) (finding that experts designated as rebuttal witnesses would "be permitted only to offer rebuttal testimony at trial"). Plaintiff also fails to explain how the designated testimony could be deemed permissible given that the questions posed were all outside of the scope of Dr. Esplin's opinion. While Plaintiff may wish to waive this requirement of the rules of procedure and evidence, Ms. Maxwell does not.

Regardless, any decisions Ms. Maxwell and the undersigned counsel decide to make concerning their presentation of the defense and which witness to call is ours alone to make. There is no requirement that a party call a designated expert to testify if they choose not to do so at the time of trial. Such strategic decisions are solely in the province of the parties and their counsel. If Dr. Esplin is presented as a rebuttal witness by the defense, he will appear live. If he is not, then there is no rebuttal witness, and none to cross examine.

II. [REDACTED] WAS NOT PROPERLY "REFRESHED" AND THE READING OF THE HEARSAY POLICE REPORT IS INADMISSABLE

The use of the deposition testimony of [REDACTED], and the reading or summary of hearsay statement in the Police Report sought to be admitted through counsel's questions is simply improper. As a small sampling of the designated testimony makes clear, there was no proper "refreshing" of recollection:

Q. Do you remember how old you were when you met Jeffrey Epstein?

A. Sixteen or 17.

Q. Okay. And have you reviewed –

A. I may have been 15. I don't recall. I apologize.

Q. If you told the police officer 16, you were telling the truth?

A. At the time, they were fresh.

Q. Okay. After speaking to the police or while speaking to the police, do you remember telling them that you're not safe because you're talking about this?

MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and foundation.

THE WITNESS: Yes.

BY MR. EDWARDS:

Q. And that you had heard Jeffrey Epstein making threats to people on the telephone?

MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and foundation.

THE WITNESS: Yes. He wasn't always friendly
See Menninger Decl., Ex. F, 10:6-14; 43:15-44:4

As explained in in Wright & Miller, Federal Practice and Procedures, the use of a document during testimony to refresh recollections is limited:

The law also places limits on how counsel and the witness may use a writing to refresh memory. In the usual case counsel will hand the witness the writing, show counsel for the adverse parties a copy, and ask the witness to silently read the writing. Counsel then will ask the witness if the writing has refreshed the witness' memory. If the witness responds in the affirmative, counsel will retrieve the writing and ask the witness to testify as to the matters on which the witness' memory was refreshed. Even where the witness claims a refreshed recollection, the court again has discretion to preclude further testimony if the circumstances suggest that the writing engendered a false memory. If the witness states that his recollection has not been refreshed, he cannot then testify as to the contents of the writing unless it is shown that the writing itself is admissible.

§ 6184 Refreshing Memory—Requirements and Procedures, 28 Fed. Prac. & Proc. Evid. § 6184 (2d ed.)(internal citations omitted); see also Goings v. U.S., 377 F.2d 753, 759–762 (8th Cir. 1967) (trial court improperly permitted prosecutor to ask leading questions concerning contents of witness' written statement under the pretext of refreshing recollection but without laying the proper foundation; “[I]f a party can offer a previously given statement to substitute for a witness’s testimony under the guise of ‘refreshing recollection,’ the whole adversary system of trial must be revised. The evil of this practice hardly merits discussion. The evil is no less when an attorney can read the statement in the presence of the jury and thereby substitute his spoken word for the written document.”) (italics in original). Gaines v. United States, 349 F.2d 190, 192 (D.C. Cir. 1965)(error to allow prior written statement to be read to the witness in front of the jury for the purpose of refreshing recollection because “it was not necessary for counsel to read the statements aloud in the jury's presence. This is liable to cause the jury to consider their contents as evidence notwithstanding instructions to the contrary.”)

All testimony from [REDACTED] deposition based on leading questions summarizing her hearsay statements in the police report must be excluded.

With respect to the police report itself, this will obviously be a subject of a Motion in Limine. At this time, two points will suffice. Plaintiff's claim that she is not attempting to offer the police report for the truth of the matters asserted therein is farcical, which is evident in every briefing touching on the subject matter. Second, while the full 803(8) issue will be briefed, for present purposes we will simply point out that [REDACTED] (or any other witnesses statement contained in the report) will never be admissible unless there is a separate and independent hearsay exemptions for such statement. As the Second Circuit has clearly held:

“It is well established that entries in a police report which result from the officer's own observations and knowledge may be admitted but that statements made by third persons under no business duty to report may not.” United States v. Pazsint, 703 F.2d 420, 424 (9 Cir.1983) (emphasis in original).

Parsons v. Honeywell, Inc., 929 F.2d 901, 907 (2d Cir. 1991)(quoting United States v. Pazsint, 703 F.2d 420, 424 (9[th] Cir.1983)).

Plaintiff does not address the objections to [REDACTED] deposition under Fed. R. Evid. 401, 402 and 602 based on lack of personal knowledge, or the issues concerning the improper leading of this witness. They should thus be deemed confessed and are not re-argued here.

III. TESTIMONY AND STATEMENTS MADE IN OTHER MATTERS TO WHICH MS. MAXWELL WAS NOT A PARTY, WAS NOT PRESENT, HAD NO NOTICE, AND DID NOT PARTICIPATE CANNOT BE DESIGNATED IN THIS CASE

Plaintiff does not seriously contest that the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 32 and Fed. R. Evid. 804 cannot be met with respect to Mr. Rodriguez's deposition testimony. Indeed, the Plaintiff's Motions to Exclude Designation of Depositions Excerpts of Alan Dershowitz and Plaintiff argued this precise point. Ms. Maxwell was not a party to any of the litigations in which Mr. Rodriguez was deposed; Ms. Maxwell was neither present or given notice of the deposition.

Likewise, under Rule 32(a)(8), the subject matters of those litigations were completely different. The cases were personal claims against Mr. Epstein by various individuals. There could be no identity of issues between those matters and this case. Those cases were about personal claims against Mr. Epstein and had nothing to do with Ms. Maxwell. This case is about a statement by Ms. Maxwell's press agent made over 6 years later. There could be no motivations to develop similar testimony because the claims in this action by definition did not exist when the depositions was taken.

Mr. Epstein's counsel had no motive to discuss anything concerning Ms. Maxwell. He certainly had no motive to cross-examine Mr. Rodriguez regarding any interactions between Ms. Maxwell and Plaintiff given that Mr. Rodriguez had never met Plaintiff. The sheer lack of discussion of Ms. Maxwell, or follow up on any of the statements made concerning Ms. Maxwell makes clear there was simply no similar motive for Mr. Epstein's counsel to cross examine Mr. Rodriguez as Ms. Maxwell would have in this case.

Knowing that any argument for admission under Fed. R. Civ. P. 32 and Fed. R. Evid. 804 must fail, Plaintiff throws a Hail Mary and seeks admission of the testimony under the "Residual Hearsay" clause, 807. It is apparent that this is the new go-to for Plaintiff because of the serious evidentiary issues with the evidence she seeks to admit. Congress was very clear that it "intended that the residual hearsay exceptions will be used very rarely, and only in exceptional circumstances." Committee on the Judiciary, S.Rep.No.93-1277, Note to Paragraph (24), 28 U.S.C.A. Fed. R. Evid. p. 583 (1975). For this reason, it set very specific parameters that, none of which are satisfactorily met in the circumstances here.

- (1) the statement has equivalent circumstantial guarantees of trustworthiness;
- (2) it is offered as evidence of a material fact;

- (3) it is more probative on the point for which it is offered than any other evidence that the proponent can obtain through reasonable efforts; and
- (4) admitting it will best serve the purposes of these rules and the interests of justice.

There is nothing trustworthy about Mr. Rodriguez or his statements. Mr. Rodriguez is a convicted criminal, and was convicted for obstruction of justice based on the very testimony Plaintiff seeks to admit. He either created evidence to use in those proceedings, or he hid evidence in them. Either way, his entire testimony is inherently untrustworthy.

Mr. Rodriguez has no knowledge of any fact material to this case. He flatly testifies that he had never heard or, met or seen the Plaintiff. He worked for Mr. Epstein over 2 years after Plaintiff left the country. Nothing Mr. Rodriguez could have possibly testified to, even if he was alive, has any bearing on any material fact.

Plaintiff's attempt to claim that Mr. Rodriguez's testimony "is more probative on the point for which it is offered than any other evidence that the proponent can obtain through reasonable efforts" is at best disingenuous. Plaintiff has designated the testimony of Juan Alessi, Mr. Rodriguez's predecessor who held that position during the timeframe in which Plaintiff claims to have been held as a "sex slave" by Mr. Epstein. It simply defies logic to claim that Mr. Rodriguez' testimony would somehow be more probative than that of the person in his same position at the time Plaintiff alleges she was being held captive as a sex slave.

Finally, nothing about the testimony will best serve the purposes of the rules or evidence or justice. Mr. Rodriguez's testimony is nothing more than hearsay and speculation, as pointed out in the specific objections. The purpose of the rules is thwarted, not served, by the admission of any portion of this wholly irrelevant and improper testimony.

CONCLUSION

For the forgoing reasons, and those set forth in the Defendant's Motion In Limine To Exclude In Toto Certain Depositions Designated By Plaintiff For Use At Trial, Ms. Maxwell requests that the relief requested therein be granted.

Virginia L. Giuffre,

Plaintiff,

Case No.: 15-cv-07433-RWS

v.

Ghislaine Maxwell,

Defendant.

PLAINTIFF'S MOTION TO COMPEL ALL WORK PRODUCT AND ATTORNEY CLIENT COMMUNICATIONS WITH PHILIP BARDEN

Meredith Schultz
BOIES, SCHILLER & FLEXNER LLP
401 E. Las Olas Blvd., Suite 1200
Ft. Lauderdale, FL 33301
(954) 356-0011

Plaintiff Virginia Giuffre, argued in her Opposition to Summary Judgment that Defendant had waived her attorney-client and work-product privilege by submitting a lengthy self-serving affidavit by her attorney Philip Barden in support of her motion for Summary Judgment that discussed Mr. Barden's "intent" in allegedly being the main drafter of Defendant's January 2, 2015 press release. (DE 586 at p. 34) In Reply, Defendant conceded that in submitting Barden's declaration, she had waived the work-product privilege, but denied a waiver of the attorney-client privilege. (DE 620 at p. 11) Despite admitting that Mr. Barden waived the work-product privilege, Defendant failed to produce all other work product documents. This Motion seeks production of those documents along with production of all documents previously withheld on the ground of attorney-client privilege because those, too, were waived by Defendant's approval to submit Mr. Barden's self-serving declaration in support of Summary Judgment. Specifically, Ms. Giuffre, hereby moves this Court to Order Defendant to produce all work product documents (including any internal e-mail communications) and all attorney-client communications she has had with her attorney, Philip Barden, relating to his representation of her, as well as all documents drafted, edited, or considered by Philip Barden in relation to his representation of Ghislaine Maxwell, which would include, but not be limited to, those privileged documents Defendant listed on her privilege log and order Mr. Barden to sit for his deposition in New York relating to the subject matter of his waiver. See Schultz Dec. at Composite Exhibit 1.

I. BACKGROUND

In her Motion for Summary Judgment, Defendant relies on a post hoc, self-serving Declaration ("Barden Declaration") from her English attorney Philip Barden. See Schultz Dec at Exhibit 2, Barden Declaration. Both the Declaration and the briefing for which it was drafted reference Barden's "intent" (and other synonymous phrases) regarding his legal advice to Defendant at least 62 times. The Declaration also reveals attorney client legal advice given to Defendant, such as:

"I did not ask Ms. Maxwell to respond point by point...what we needed to do was..."

Moreover, throughout (1) the Barden Declaration; (2) Defendant's summary judgment briefing; and (3) Defendant's attorney's statements at oral argument heard on February 16, 2017, Defendant represented to this Court that Barden issued the defamatory statement to the press. Defendant repeatedly made that false statement despite the fact that the documents show that Defendant authorized the statement and gave express approval to her press agent to publish the press release – not Barden – with Barden nowhere to be found on any of these communications. Defendant persists with this false representation not only despite the documents that prove otherwise, but also despite the fact that Defendant's press agent's sworn testimony states otherwise. Ross Gow testified that Defendant authorized the statement, "command[ed]" him to release it, and that Barden was wholly out of the loop during the lead up to Defendant's decision to publish her defamatory statement. Gow's testimony is backed up by the email communications among Defendant and Gow. Yet, despite both documentary and testimonial evidence that Barden did not issue the defamatory statement to the press, Defendant persists in making these representations to the Court. By submitting Barden's declaration, Defendant has clearly waived the privilege.

As the Court will recall, Defendant has claimed a privilege in this litigation as to all email communications between herself and Barden, claiming attorney-client privilege, a privilege that this Court explicitly upheld. See DE 135 March 2, 2016 Opinion Granting in Part and Denying in Part Plaintiff's Motion to Compel for Improper Claim of Privilege.

Significantly, Defendant attempts to blame the defamatory press release entirely on Barden. Giving false testimony at her deposition, in an evasive manner, Defendant said Barden was the one who actually released the defamatory statement, pretending that she had nothing to do with it at all:

Q. Did you issue a statement to your press agent, Ross Gow in 2015, stating that Virginia Roberts' claims were, quote, obvious lies?

A. You need to reask me the question.

Q. Sure. Did you issue a press statement through your press agent, Ross Gow, in January of 2015, stating that Virginia Roberts' claims were, quote, obvious lies?

A. Can you ask it a different way, please?

Q. Did you issue a press statement through your press agent, Ross Gow, in January of 2015, where you stated that Virginia Roberts' claims were, quote, obvious lies?

A. So my lawyer, Philip Barden instructed Ross Gow to issue a statement.

See Schultz Dec., Exhibit 3, Maxwell Depo. Tr. at 201:8-202:11.

Because of this denial in her sworn testimony (which was plainly untrue), Ms. Giuffre sought to depose her press agent to establish that Defendant (not her attorney or anyone else) authorized the release of the defamatory statement.

Months later, on the eve of his deposition, Ross Gow produced the “smoking gun” email in which Defendant explicitly “command[ed]” him to publish the defamatory statement. See Schultz Dec. at Exhibit 4, Defendant’s Email to Gow Authorizing Press Release. (As the Court is aware, Defendant defied this Court’s Order in her refusal to produce this email she sent Gow, despite it being responsive to multiple requests for production, and containing six court-ordered search terms.)

The next day, Gow testified that Defendant authorized the release of the defamatory material, and that Barden was not part of their discussions in the lead-up to its release. The documentary evidence – the emails exchanged between Defendant and Gow – supports this testimony:

Q. The subject line does have “FW” which to me indicates it’s a forward. Do you know where the rest of this email chain is?

A. My understanding of this is: It was a holiday in the UK, but Mr. Barden was not necessarily accessible at some point in time, so this had been sent to him originally by Ms. Maxwell, and because he was unavailable, she forwarded it to me for immediate action. I therefore respond, “Okay, Ghislaine, I’ll go with this.”

See Schultz Dec. at Exhibit 5, Gow Depo Tr. at 44:24-45:8

II. LEGAL ARGUMENT

A. Defendant Must Produce All Documents And Communications Relating to the Waived Work Product And Sit For A Deposition.

“The work-product doctrine is waived when documents are voluntarily shared with an adversary or when a party possessing the documents seeks to selectively present the materials to prove a point, but then attempts to invoke the privilege to prevent an opponent from challenging the assertion.” Niagara Mohawk Power Corp. v. Stone & Webster Eng. Corp., 125 F.R.D. 578, 587 (S.D.N.Y.1989). “Generally, the work product privilege is waived when protected materials are disclosed in a manner which is either inconsistent with maintaining secrecy against opponents or substantially increases the opportunity for a potential adversary to obtain the protected information.” Id. at 590. Additionally, “[t]he work product privilege is waived when a party to a lawsuit uses it in an unfair way that is inconsistent with the principles underlying the doctrine of privilege. It is well settled that waiver may be imposed when the privilege-holder has attempted to use the privilege as both ‘sword’ and ‘shield.’” Granite Partners, L.P. v. Bear Stearns & Co. Inc., 184 F.R.D. 49, 54 (S.D.N.Y.1999) (Sweet, D.J.); see also Coleco Indus., Inc.

v. Universal City Studios, Inc., 110 F.R.D. 688, 691 (S.D.N.Y.1986) (Sweet, D.J.)

(“[Defendant’s] affidavit and attached work product were proffered as a ‘testimonial use’ of materials otherwise privileged. Fairness requires that discovery not be limited only to those documents which have selectively been disclosed.”).

When a party voluntarily waives its work product privilege in an attempt to use her attorney’s work product to her advantage, the party must also produce all related documents including drafts, e-mail communications relating to the work product, documents considered relating to the work product and any other materials created, received, used or considered relating in any way to Ms. Giuffre or this litigation, which is the very subject-matter of the disclosed work-product. See, e.g., Hickman v. Taylor, 329 U.S. 495, 511, 67 S. Ct. 385, 393, 91 L. Ed. 451 (1947) (work product includes “interviews, statements, memoranda, correspondence, briefs, mental impressions, personal beliefs, and countless other tangible and intangible ways”); Comprehensive Habilitation Servs., Inc. v. Commerce Funding Corp., 240 F.R.D. 78, 87 (S.D.N.Y. 2006) (partial waiver of work product demanded waiver of all work-product related to the subject matter of the initial disclosure); Coleco Indus., Inc. v. Universal City Studios, Inc., 110 F.R.D. 688 (S.D.N.Y. 1986) (finding defendant waived work-product privilege in disclosing documents that contained legal opinion of defendant's attorney in order to show reliance on attorney's advice, which also waived privilege for other documents containing work product on same issue); cf. In re Sealed Case, 676 F.2d 793, 817–18 (D.C. Cir. 1982) (disclosure required “when a party seeks greater advantage from its control over work product than the law must provide to maintain a healthy adversary system”).

As explained above, Defendant admitted in her reply brief to waiving the work product privilege with respect to Mr. Barden’s work for the Defendant relating to the issues in this case, yet has failed to produce any of the related documents. Accordingly, Ms. Giuffre respectfully requests that this Court direct the Defendant to produce all work product documents, including but not limited to all drafts, e-mail communications relating to the work product, documents considered relating to the work product and any other materials created, received, used or considered that relate in any way to this litigation or Ms. Giuffre and direct Mr. Barden to sit for his deposition in New York.

B. Defendant Waived Her Attorney Client Privilege By Submitting the Barden Declaration In Support of Her Motion for Summary Judgement.

Just as with the work-product privilege, the attorney-client privilege cannot be used as a sword and a shield. See, e.g., United States v. Bilzerian, 926 F.2d 1285, 1292 (2d Cir. 1991) (“attorney-client privilege cannot at once be used as a shield and a sword”); McGrath v. Nassau County Health Care Corp., 204 F.R.D. 240, 245 (E.D.N.Y.2001) (attorney-client privilege and work-product privilege are governed by the “same fairness concerns”); Granite Partners, 184 F.R.D. at 54 (Sweet J.) (“waiver may be invoked where ‘a litigant makes selective use of privileged materials, for example, by releasing only those portions of the material that are favorable to his position, while withholding unfavorable portions.’” (internal citations omitted)).

The Second Circuit has held that “the [attorney-client] privilege may be implicitly waived when [a party] asserts a claim that in fairness requires examination of protected communications.” Bilzerian, 926 F.2d at 1292. Thus, “even if the privilege holder does not attempt to make use of the privileged communication[,] he may waive the privilege if he makes factual assertions the truth of which can only be assessed by examination of the privileged communication.” In re Kidder Peabody Secs. Litig., 168 F.R.D. 459, 470 (S.D.N.Y. 1996).

Moreover, countless district courts have found that the filing of privileged communications also waives the attorney-client privilege. See Curto v. Med. World Commc'ns,

Inc., 783 F. Supp. 2d 373, 380 (E.D.N.Y. 2011) (waiver where party filed attorney-client communications on “publically-accessible electronic docket” and voluntarily sent copy to opposing counsel); accord First Am. CoreLogic, Inc. v. Fiserv, Inc., 2010 WL 4975566, at *2 (E.D.Tex. Dec. 2, 2010) (finding waiver of attorney-client privilege when party attached privileged communications to motion for protective order and served the documents on all parties); Tardiff v. Knox Cnty., 2007 WL 2413033, at **1–2 (D.Me. Aug. 21, 2007) (noting party's concession of waiver of attorney-client privilege when party submitted privileged email communications as an exhibit to court filing); Malkovich v. Best Buy Enter. Servs., Inc., 2006 WL 1428228, at *1 (D. Minn. May 22, 2006) (“By submitting the affidavit and accompanying exhibits, Plaintiff has waived the attorney-client privilege....”).

Defendant has withheld communications between herself and her attorney Mr. Barden on the basis of “attorney-client privilege.” That privilege was waived by her affirmative submission of Mr. Barden’s declaration which included references to attorney-client communications between Maxwell and Mr. Barden. Accordingly, all communications, whether they are logged or not, between Defendant and Mr. Barden and any related communications Defendant has withheld from production based on a claim of attorney- client privilege must be produced and the Court direct Mr. Barden to sit for a deposition in New York regarding this subject matter.

As articulated in Ms. Giuffre’s Response in Opposition to Defendant’s Motion for Summary Judgment, if the Court were to consider the Barden Declaration (which it should not), it would be ruling on a less than complete record because, based on this Declaration, it is necessary that Defendant disclose all communications with him and possibly others. Ms. Giuffre doesn’t have those communications, the Court doesn’t have those communications. It is highly prejudicial to allow Defendant to attempt to take advantage of a work product waiver through the submission of Mr. Barden's declaration without producing all related work product documents and communications. As of yet, she has produced none.

III. CONCLUSION

Ms. Giuffre respectfully requests the following relief: (1) As a result of the admitted waiver of the work-product privilege, the Court direct the Defendant and all parties she controls including Mr. Barden, to produce within ten (10) days all work product documents, including but not limited to all drafts, e-mail communications relating to the work product, documents considered relating to the work product and any other materials created, received, used or considered that relate in any way to this litigation or Ms. Giuffre and direct Mr. Barden to sit for a deposition in New York on this subject matter; and (2) As a result of submitting the Barden Declaration containing legal advice affirmatively in support of Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment, the Court direct the Defendant, and all parties she controls including Mr. Barden, to produce within ten (10) days, all communications, whether they are logged or not, between Defendant and Mr. Barden and any related communications for which Defendant has withheld from production based on a claim of attorney client privilege and direct Mr. Barden to sit for a deposition in New York on this subject matter.

1 talking on the phone about Frederic Fekkai?

2 A. Yes.

3 MS. MENNINGER: Objection, leading.

4 BY MS. McCAWLEY:

5 Q. What did you hear?

6 A. I heard him call someone, and say, Fekkai
7 is in Hawaii. Can we find some girls for him?

8 Q. And what was your reaction to that?

9 A. Well, I was massaging and I didn't have a
10 reaction. I tried to remain reactionless the whole
11 five years.

12 Q. Did Jeffrey ever take you shopping?

13 A. Yes.

14 Q. Can you describe for me what happened?

15 A. Sure. He took me to Victoria's Secret. I 16 believe he picked out everything and went into the 17 room with me, the fitting room, which was very odd.

18 Q. Did he make any comments about being in 19 the fitting room with you?

20 A. He joked that one time he was in there
21 with another girl, and she said something like 22 "Dad." But that's all I recall.

23 Q. Did Jeffrey ever talk to you -- let me
24 back up a moment.

25 Have you ever been propositioned by anyone

1 to have a baby for someone?

2 A. Yes.

3 Q. And who propositioned you?

4 A. Jeffrey asked me.

5 Q. Did he ask you more than once?

6 A. Yes.

7 Q. And what did he say?

8 A. Basically just said, I want you to be the 9 mother of my baby.

10 Q. And do you recall your response to that?

11 A. Um, I don't believe that I said flat-out
12 no. I didn't agree to it. I would just say, Oh,
13 yeah, really? Okay.

14 Q. Did you ever bring other girls over as 15 Maxwell had requested?

16 MS. MENNINGER: Objection, leading,
17 hearsay, form.

18 THE WITNESS: One time.

Declaration of Philip Barden

I, Philip Barden, declare as follows:

1. I am a Solicitor of the Senior Courts of England & Wales based in London, England.
2. I am submitting this Declaration in support of Ghislaine Maxwell's motion for summary judgment in this action.
3. I am not authorised to and do not waive Ms. Maxwell's attorney-client privilege.
4. I have represented Ms. Maxwell since 2011 regarding the allegations made by Plaintiff Virginia Giuffre and as published in the United Kingdom. I continue to be retained in this regard. I am familiar generally with the subject matter of this action.
5. I first represented Ms. Maxwell in this matter over the weekend of 5th and 6th March 2011, about the time when various UK national newspapers, in hard copy and on line, published numerous and provocative allegations made by the Plaintiff Virginia Giuffre against Ms. Maxwell. The articles by Sharon Churcher were among those published in this time frame.
6. I instructed British press agent Ross Gow to assist me in representing Ms. Maxwell.

7. I caused to be prepared a statement to respond to the articles that appeared in the British Press over the weekend—March 5 and 6, 2011, and thereafter. I directed Mr. Gow to distribute the statements to various media outlets that had published articles.

8. On December 30, 2014, Ms. Giuffre made numerous salacious and improper allegations against Ms. Maxwell in a joinder motion publicly filed in a civil case involving Jeffrey Epstein. Shortly afterward, the British media gained access to the motion and began inquiring about Ms. Maxwell's response.

9. I continued to represent Ms. Maxwell at that time and I coordinated the response to the media. I again instructed Mr. Gow to assist me.

10. In liaison with Mr. Gow and my client, on January 2, 2015, I prepared a further statement denying the allegations, and I instructed Mr. Gow to transmit it via email to members of the British media who had made inquiry about plaintiff's allegations about Ms. Maxwell. Attached as Exhibit A1 is an email containing a true and correct copy of this statement. The statement was issued on my authority. Although it is possible others suggested or contributed content, I prepared the vast majority of the statement and ultimately approved and adopted all of the statement as my work.

11. As is evident from the timing and the typographical errors in the statement, I prepared the statement in haste. I was not in the office on 2nd January 2015 as it was the Friday immediately after New Years day which is a public holiday. Most people took 2nd January off and many business closed that day. I don't now recall where I was that day but I was hard to reach and that indicates I was out with my family. I therefore would have prepared the statement in a hurry. I recall that I wanted to get a statement out as a matter of urgency.

12. I recall that immediately after Ms. Giuffre's motion was filed, media representatives began contacting Mr. Gow and requesting Ms. Maxwell's response to Ms. Giuffre's allegations of criminal and other misconduct by Ms. Maxwell. I believed an immediate response was imperative, even though this was happening in the midst of the holidays in the United Kingdom. My communications with Mr. Gow and with Ms. Maxwell were sporadic, delayed and hurried because of my and their own holiday schedules. I worked while on vacation and on Friday, January 2, 2015, to ensure that the statement was issued as soon as possible after receiving the media inquiries.

13. I did not ask Ms. Maxwell to respond point by point to Ms. Giuffre's factual allegations in the CVRA joinder motion. What we needed to do was issue an immediate denial and that necessarily had to be short and to the point. It should have been obvious to the media that Ms. Giuffre's new and significantly more salacious allegations had no credibility because they differed so substantially from her previous allegations, when she had the opportunity and incentive to disclose all relevant facts about being a victim of alleged sexual abuse and sex trafficking at the hands of the rich and powerful. I prepared the January 2015 statement based on my knowledge of Ms. Giuffre's past statements and her most recent statements in the joinder motion, and made the point to the media-recipients that she and her new statements, which differed so substantially from her former ones, were not credible—specifically, that the new allegations were patently false—i.e., “obvious lies.”

14. By way of example I recall that prior to the December 2014 filing of the joinder motion and the subsequent press reports that Ms. Guiffre clearly stated she had not had sex with Prince Andrew. Yet in her joinder motion she claimed she did have sex with Prince Andrew and that the sex occurred in what can only be described as a very small bathtub, too small for a man of Prince Andrew's size to enjoy a bath in let alone sex. So as of December 2014 it was clear Ms. Guiffre had made polar opposite statements. She was either lying when she said they did not have sex or when she said they did. I made the inescapable inference that she is a liar, as clearly she is, since both statements cannot as a matter of fact be true. When someone says she did not have sex and then says she did, in other words, there is an obvious lie.

15. I did not intend the January 2015 statement as a traditional press release solely to disseminate information to the media. This is why I intentionally did not request that Mr. Gow or any other public relations specialist prepare or participate in preparing the statement. Instead, Mr. Gow served as my conduit to the media representatives who had requested a response to the joinder motion allegations and who I believed might republish those allegations.

16. My purpose in preparing and causing the statement to be disseminated to those media representatives was twofold. First, I wanted to mitigate the harm to Ms. Maxwell's reputation from the press's republication of plaintiff's false allegations. I believed these ends could be accomplished by suggesting to the media that, among other things, they should subject plaintiff's allegations to inquiry and scrutiny. For example, I noted that plaintiff's allegations changed dramatically over time, suggesting that they are "obvious lies" and therefore should not be "publicised as news."

17. Second, I intended the January 2015 statement to be "a shot across the bow" of the media, which I believed had been unduly eager to publish plaintiff's allegations without conducting any inquiry of their own. This was the purpose of repeatedly stating that plaintiff's allegations were "defamatory." In this sense, the statement was very much intended as a cease and desist letter to the media-recipients, letting the media-recipients understand the seriousness with which Ms. Maxwell considered the publication of plaintiff's obviously false allegations and the legal indefensibility of their own conduct.

18. It is important to understand that any story involving a member of the Royal Family, especially a senior member such as Prince Andrew, gains huge media attention in the UK and a story alleging he had a sex with the Plaintiff caused a feeding frenzy for the press. I wanted the press to stop and think before publishing, to cease and desist, and that if they continued then they faced higher damages for ignoring my clear warning.

19. Consistent with those two purposes, Mr. Gow’s emails prefaced the statement with the following language: “Please find attached a quotable statement on behalf of Ms Maxwell” (italics supplied). The statement was intended to be a single, one-time-only, comprehensive response—quoted in full, if it was to be used—to plaintiff’s December 30, 2014, allegations that would give the media Ms. Maxwell’s response. The purpose of the prefatory statement was to inform the media-recipients of this intent.

20. Selective and partial quotation and use of the statement would disserve my purposes. It was intended to address Plaintiff’s behavior and allegations against Ms. Maxwell on a broad scale, that is to say, Plaintiff’s history of making false allegations and innuendo to the media against Ms. Maxwell. This is why the statement references Plaintiff’s “original allegations” and points out that her story “changes”—i.e. is embellished—over time including the allegations “now” that Professor Dershowitz allegedly had sexual relations with her. This is why I distinguished in the statement between Plaintiff’s “original” allegations and her “new,” joinder-motion allegations, which differed substantially from the original allegations. And this is why I wrote, “Each time the story is re told [sic] it changes with new salacious details about public figures and world leaders and now it is alleged by [Plaintiff] that Alan Derschowitz [sic] is involved in having sexual relations with her, which he denies.” (Emphasis supplied.) Having established the dramatic difference between Plaintiff’s two sets of allegations, which suggested she was fabricating more and more-salacious allegations as she had more time to manufacture them, I added the third paragraph: “[Ms. Giuffre’s] claims are obvious lies and should be treated as such and not publicised as news, as they are defamatory.” (Emphasis supplied.) I believed then, and believe now, that it was and remains a fair inference and conclusion that her claims were and are “obvious lies.” As noted, her claims not to have slept with Prince Andrew and to have slept with Prince Andrew are a classic example of an obvious lie. One or other account is on the face of it a lie.

21. As an example of her lack of credibility, the Plaintiff made allegations against Professor Dershowitz, which I understand she has now withdrawn. Professor Dershowitz has credibility because his story, insofar as I am familiar with it, has been consistent; Ms. Giuffre has no credibility because her story has shifted and changed.

22. Further the Plaintiff’s account has become more salacious, for example, regarding Prince Andrew. The Plaintiff clearly has been seeking publicity for her story and it is clear to me that she understands retelling the same story doesn’t feed the media and generate publicity and so each time she appears to create new allegations to generate media interest.

23. I understand the Plaintiff alleged in her Complaint in this action that the following statements are defamatory. She alleges it was defamatory in the first paragraph of the January 2015 statement to state that “the allegations made by [the Plaintiff] against [Ms.] Maxwell are untrue.” For the reasons stated above, it was and is my considered and firm opinion that, in fact, her allegations are untrue. She alleges it was defamatory to state in the same paragraph that the “original allegations” have been “shown to be untrue.” For the reasons stated above, it was and is my considered and firm opinion that, in fact, her allegations are untrue. Finally, she alleges that it was defamatory in the third paragraph to state that her claims are “obvious lies.” For the reasons stated above, it was and is my considered and firm opinion that, in fact, her claims are obvious lies.

24. Both Mr. Gow and I understood that once the January 2015 statement was sent to the media-representatives, we had no ability to control whether or how they would use the statement and we made no effort to control whether or how they would use the statement.

25. It is my understanding that some of the media-recipients of the January 2015 statement did not publish any part of the statement. I am unaware of any media-recipient publishing the statement in full.

26. The issuance of the statement fully complied with my ethical obligations as a lawyer. Indeed it was duty in representing my client's interests to ensure that a denial was immediately issued. I would have been remiss if I had sat back and not issued a denial, and the press had published that Ms. Maxwell had not responded to enquiries and had not denied the new allegations; the public might have taken the silence as an admission there was some truth in the allegations.

27. The content of the statement was entirely based on information I acquired in connection with my role as counsel for Ms. Maxwell.

28. At the time I directed the issuance of the statement, I was contemplating litigation against the press-recipients as an additional means to mitigate and prevent harm to Ms. Maxwell. Whilst the limitation period for a pure defamation claim has now expired, claims are still being considered for example for publishing a deliberate falsehood, conspiracy to inure and other tortious acts.

29. In any such UK defamation, or other related, action Ms. Giuffre would be a defendant or a witness.

30. I directed that the statement indicate Ms. Maxwell "strongly denie[d] the allegations of an unsavoury nature," declare the allegations to be false, give the press-recipients notice that the publications of the allegations "are defamatory," and inform them that Ms. Maxwell was "reserv[ing] her right to seek redress."

I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Jane Doe 3 is Virginia Roberts so not a new individual.

The allegations made by Victoria Roberts against Ghislaine Maxwell are untrue.

The original allegations are not new and have been fully responded to and shown to be untrue

Each time the story is re told it changes with new salacious details about public figures and world leaders and now it is alleged by Ms Roberts that Alan Derschwitz is involved in having sexual relations with her, which he denies

Ms Roberts claims are obvious lies and should be treated as such and not publicised as news, as they are defamatory.

2 30 girls --

3 A. I did not count the number of girls
4 and I did read the police report. I can only
5 testify to what I read.

6 Q. So you are aware that the police
7 report contains reports from 30 underage
8 girls?

9 A. I can't testify to what the girls
10 said. I can only testify to the fact that I 11 read a police report that stated that.

12 Q. Were you working for Jeffrey -- you
13 said you worked for him off and on until 2009,
14 is that correct?

15 A. I helped out from time to time.

16 Q. So you were working with him during 17 the time period when these underage girls
18 were visiting Jeffrey's home?

19 MR. PAGLIUCA: Objection to the 20 form and foundation.

21 A. I was not -- what year, I need
22 years.

23 Q. How about let's say 2005?

24 A. I'm not sure I was at the house at 25 all in 2005, maybe one day, maybe.

1 G Maxwell - Confidential

2 Q. How about 2004?

3 A. I was present for his mother's --
4 his mother died in 2004 so I was there for 5 his mother's death and the funeral and I was 6 at the house maybe a handful of days, again.

7 Q. I would like to direct you to, you
8 have it pulled together now, it's page 39,
9 Bates stamped Giuffre 00040?

10 A. Can you repeat that, please.

11 Q. Sure. 00040.

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. At the top of that document, about
14 three lines down, you see the redacted
15 portions where there is black so it blacks
16 out the name.

17 A. I see black redacted portions.

18 Q. That's a black redaction of the 19 name of the minor and there is -- I will 20 represent for the record that's what it is.
21 You can contest that but I'm not asking about 22 the name of the minor.

23 Five lines down, it says, She was 24 just 16 years of age.

25 Do you see that?

1 G Maxwell - Confidential

2 A. How would I possibly, these were
3 messages taken when I was not at the house
4 and I have no idea who they are nor how old
5 they are nor anything.

6 Q. How do you know you weren't at the 7 house on this day?

8 A. I was hardly at the house in 2005.

9 Q. So you could have been there, you
10 just don't know?

11 A. In the five days I might have been 12 there in 2005, I suppose it's possible but 13 it's unlikely.

14 MR. PAGLIUCA: Do you know why this 15 isn't redacted if you are representing 16 all the names of people who are underage
17 have been redacted from these records.

18 MS. McCAWLEY: I think it was -- my 19 assumption is it was a miss by the Defendant Ghislaine Maxwell, through counsel, submits this Response to plaintiff's "Motion to Compel All Work Product and Attorney Client [sic] Communications with Philip Barden" (Doc.637).

PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

On February 24, 2016, we served on plaintiff's counsel Ms. Maxwell's Initial Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(1)(A) Disclosures. The third-listed individual we identified who "likely [has] discoverable information" was Philip Barden, who, we disclosed, had information "concerning press statements . . . at issue in this matter":

3. Philip Barden
Devonshires Solicitors LLP
30 Finsbury Circus
London, United Kingdom
EC2M 7DT
DX: 33856 Finsbury Square
(020) 7628-7576
Philip.Barden@devonshires.co.uk

Mr. Barden has knowledge concerning press statements by Plaintiff and Defendant in 2011-2015 at issue in this matter.

Menninger Decl., Ex.A. Plaintiff never sought to depose Mr. Barden.

On June 23, 2016, this Court ordered that the parties complete all fact discovery by July 29, 2016. See Doc.317 at 2.

Plaintiff propounded discovery requests as follows:

|            |                                                   |
|------------|---------------------------------------------------|
| 10/27/2015 | Plaintiff's First Set of Requests for Production  |
| 4/14/2016  | Plaintiff's Second Set of Requests for Production |
| 5/27/2016  | Plaintiff's First Set of Interrogatories          |
| 5/27/2016  | Plaintiff's Request for Admissions                |

The First Set propounded thirty-nine (39) requests for production. The Second Set propounded an additional forty-three (43) requests for production. None requested Mr. Barden's attorney work product. Nor did plaintiff's interrogatories and requests for admissions propounded on May 27, 2016.

On January 6, 2017, Mr. Barden submitted a declaration in support of Ms. Maxwell's motion for summary judgment. In the declaration, he stated, "I am not authorised to and do not waive Ms. Maxwell's attorney-client privilege." Doc.542-7, Ex.K ¶ 3. Mr. Barden did not reference any communications with his client Ms. Maxwell, let alone disclose any attorney-client communications. See generally id., Ex.K. He did disclose his intent and strategy underlying his preparation of the statement he caused to be transmitted January 2, 2015, via press agent Ross Gow to various journalists. See id., Ex.K ¶¶ 12-24, 26-30.

PLAINTIFF'S FACTUAL ERRORS

Plaintiff makes numerous factual errors in her motion's factual "Background."

1. Plaintiff says Mr. Barden's submission is "a post hoc, self-serving declaration." Mot. 2. Of course every declaration submitted in this litigation by witnesses to events that took place in 2012-2015 by definition is post hoc. Since Mr. Barden is a third-party witness and not one of the parties, by definition his declaration is not "self-serving." In any event, calling a declaration "self-serving" is a legal canard. There is nothing improper even for litigants suing for money, such as plaintiff, to submit "self-serving" declarations so long as they are truthful, and there is nothing improper about a court's considering—and giving due weight—to "self-serving" testimony. See Lupyán v. Corinthian Colls., 761 F.3d 314, 321 n.2 (3d Cir. 2014) ("As with any other kind of evidence, the declarant's interest in the outcome is merely one factor . . . to weigh in determining the reliability of the evidence. It is not a reason to automatically reject the evidence. Indeed, the testimony of a litigant will almost always be self serving since few litigants will knowingly volunteer statements that are prejudicial to their case. However that has never meant that a litigant's evidence must be categorically rejected by the fact finder.").

2. Plaintiff says Mr. Barden’s declaration “and the briefing” to which it was attached reference his “‘intent’ (and other synonymous phrases) . . . at least 62 times.” Mot. 3 (emphasis omitted). She suggests it is improper for a declaration and the briefs to which it is attached to reference or discuss intent. The suggestion is misguided. If intent is a relevant question of fact, of course there is nothing wrong with discussing it.

3. Plaintiff says Mr. Barden’s declaration “reveals attorney client [sic] legal advice given to Defendant, such as”<sup>1</sup> these two sentences in the declaration: “I did not ask Ms. Maxwell to respond point by point to Ms. Giuffre’s factual allegations in the CVRA joinder motion. What we needed to do was issue an immediate denial and that necessarily had to be short and to the point.” Doc.542-7, Ex.K ¶ 13. Neither of the two sentences “reveals” attorney-client communications. To the contrary, the first sentence references a non-communication with Ms. Maxwell, i.e., what Mr. Barden did not talk to Ms. Maxwell about. The second sentence simply discloses attorney Barden’s thought process, which by definition is not an attorney-client communication. We italicize plaintiff’s use of “such as,” connoting—disingenuously, we submit—the introduction of an example. Besides these two frivolous examples of attorney-client communications, plaintiff identifies no others.

4. Supplementing her lengthy summary-judgment brief and oral argument, plaintiff re-urges her point that really it was Ms. Maxwell personally, and not Mr. Barden, who directed Mr. Gow to issue the January 2015 statement. Mot. 3. We suggest plaintiff’s persistent repetition of her arguments—as with any repetition, they have become familiar, but not more persuasive—suggests her recognition that we have advanced meritorious and weighty arguments for summary judgment. On her third try, plaintiff makes no further headway. We address here each piece of “documentary and testimonial evidence” plaintiff alleges supports her argument.

a. As plaintiff acknowledges, Ms. Maxwell’s testimony is completely consistent with Mr. Barden’s testimony; “So my lawyer, Philip Barden[,] instructed Ross Gow to issue a statement.” Mot. 4 (emphasis omitted).

b. Plaintiff argues Mr. Gow produced a “smoking gun” email chain in which Ms. Maxwell personally directed him to distribute the January 2015 statement. Mot. 4. The “smoking gun” is a dud. It too is consistent with—corroborates—Mr. Barden’s testimony. The earlier email is from Ms. Maxwell to Mr. Gow with Mr. Barden copied on the email. See Doc.638-4. There is no instruction in the email. It merely contains the January 2015 statement. In the subject line is this text: “FW: URGENT – this is the statement.” The “FW” is important—it is the abbreviation for “Forward,” indicating an email has been forwarded by the sender, in this case Ms. Maxwell. The email does not disclose who originally sent the email to Ms. Maxwell that she then forwarded to Mr. Gow. The later, reply email—from Mr. Gow to Ms. Maxwell, copying Mr. Barden, is notable. Its text reads: “OK G going with this, thanks Philip.” (Emphasis supplied.) This suggests Mr. Barden was intimately involved with Mr. Gow’s action of sending the January 2015 statement to journalists.<sup>2</sup> It also suggests (“going with this, thanks Philip”) that, notwithstanding the absence of any direction in the earlier email from Ms. Maxwell, Mr. Gow knew what to do, which itself suggests prior direction from someone.

<sup>2</sup>Plaintiff asserts that Mr. Barden is “nowhere to be found on any of these communications” between Ms. Maxwell and Mr. Gow. Mot. 3. That is incorrect. Mr. Barden was copied on both the email from Ms. Maxwell to Mr. Gow and on the email from Mr. Gow to Ms. Maxwell. See Doc.638-4.

c. Plaintiff next asserts Mr. Gow's testimony supports her argument Mr. Barden did not direct Mr. Gow to send the January 2015 statement. She points to Mr. Gow's testimony that "[m]y understanding . . . is"<sup>3</sup> Ms. Maxwell sent the earlier email to Mr. Barden originally and because he was unavailable, she forwarded it to Mr. Gow. Plaintiff's reliance on this testimony is misplaced. Even if Mr. Gow's speculation about how he came to receive the email were admissible, it hardly makes plaintiff's point. One, there is no direction—no instruction—given in the email. The words in the subject line "this is the statement" is hardly a "command," as plaintiff argues, let alone direction to take action. Two, since the email contains no direction, it begs the question, how did Mr. Gow know to issue the January 2015 statement upon receiving the email? The answer is found in Mr. Barden's declaration. Before Mr. Gow received the email he already knew he was to issue the statement. In Mr. Barden's words: "In liaison with Mr. Gow and my client, on January 2, 2015, I prepared a further statement . . . , and I instructed Mr. Gow to transmit it via email to" the journalists. Doc.542-7, Ex.K ¶ 10 (emphasis supplied). The answer also is found in Ms. Maxwell's April 22, 2016, testimony: "[M]y lawyer, Philip Barden[,] instructed Ross Gow to issue a statement." Mot. 4 (boldface omitted).

5. Plaintiff also argues Ms. Maxwell "attempts to blame the defamatory press release entirely on [Mr. Barden]." Mot. 4. There is no "blaming." The facts are not in dispute. Ms. Maxwell engaged Mr. Barden as her lawyer; Mr. Barden engaged Mr. Gow as his agent. See Doc.542-7, Ex.K ¶¶ 9-10. Ms. Maxwell has not disclaimed legal responsibility for the January

2015 statement prepared on her behalf by Mr. Barden and issued on her behalf by Mr. Gow at Mr. Barden's direction.

ARGUMENT

Plaintiff is entitled to no discovery of Mr. Barden's work product or Ms. Maxwell's attorney-client communications.

A. Plaintiff has violated every rule governing motions to compel, including the one requiring the existence of an unsatisfied request for production.

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 37(a)(1) provides that any motion to compel must be accompanied by a certification that the movant has in good faith conferred with the "party failing to make . . . discovery" (emphasis supplied).

Rule 37(a)(3) provides that "[a] party seeking discovery may move for an order compelling . . . production . . . if . . . a party fails to produce documents . . . as requested under Rule 34" (emphasis supplied).

Local Civil Rule 37.1 provides that in any motion brought under Rule 37, including a motion to compel, "the moving party shall specify and quote or set forth verbatim in the motion papers each discovery request and response to which the motion . . . is addressed" (emphasis supplied).

Plaintiff failed to comply with any of these rules.

On the last page of the motion plaintiff counsel certifies she "raised" "the failure to produce issue [sic]" when she "oppos[ed]" Ms. Maxwell's summary judgment and when she presented "oral argument" on summary judgment. Mot. 12 (emphasis supplied). That is not a Rule 37(a)(1) certification. Plaintiff's counsel fails to certify she (a) "in good faith" (b) "conferred" with the defense. Instead, she certifies she (a) "raised" (b) an "issue." The failure to comply with Rule 37(a)(1) warrants denial of the motion. Dorchester Fin. Holdings Corp. v. Banco BRJ, S.A., 11-CV-1529 KMW KNF, 2014 WL 3747160, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. July 3, 2014).

Rule 37(a)(3) requires that a motion to compel the production of a document be grounded on the existence of an unsatisfied request for production. So too does Local Civil Rule 37.1. Plaintiff has identified no unsatisfied request for production. That violates both rules. Her motion must be denied on this basis alone, as a legion of cases confirms. See, e.g., Hassan v. Town of Brookhaven, No. 13-CV-4544 JMA SIL, 2015 WL 3455108, at *4 (E.D.N.Y. May 29, 2015) (rejecting motion to compel: “Even more troubling, it appears that Hassan did not prepare or serve any requests for discovery in this action, and simply made a motion to compel as his first and only method of obtaining discovery.”); Brown v. Chappius, No. 13-CV-00105A F, 2015 WL 5316356, at *3 (W.D.N.Y. Sept. 10, 2015) (denying motion to compel production of documents: “Plaintiff has failed to serve formal discovery demands requesting such materials.”).

The meritlessness of a motion to compel combined with failure to confer warrants denial and a sanction. Window Headquarters, Inc. v. Mat Basic Four, Inc., No. 91 CIV. 1816 (MBM), 1996 WL 63046, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 9, 1996) (“Because the motion was without basis and was filed by Fagan without consulting his adversary, Fagan will pay to counsel for Ventech a sanction in the amount of $200, that being the minimum reasonable cost of responding to this meritless motion.”).

B. Even if plaintiff had a pending discovery request and had complied with the rules, she would be barred from access to Ms. Maxwell’s attorney-client communications.

The attorney-client privilege “belongs solely to the client and may only be waived by him. An attorney may not waive the privilege without his client’s consent.” In re von Bulow, 828 F.2d 94, 100 (2d Cir. 1987); accord, e.g., In re Bank of New York Mellon Corp. Forex Transactions Litig., 66 F. Supp. 3d 406, 410 (S.D.N.Y. 2014).

Plaintiff cites a bevy of cases from New York to Minnesota to Texas for the proposition that the attorney-client can be waived. That is not in question. What is in question is whether

Ms. Maxwell’s attorney-client privilege has been waived. Plaintiff makes a one-sentence argument: The privilege “was waived by her affirmative submission of Mr. Barden’s declaration which included references to attorney-client communications between [Ms. Maxwell] and Mr. Barden.” Mot. 8 (emphasis supplied). We italicize the plural “references” to accentuate the disingenuousness of the argument, which identifies no “reference,” let alone “references,” to attorney-client communications in Mr. Barden’s declaration. See id.

Five pages earlier, in the “Background” section of the motion, plaintiff does identify two sentences in Mr. Barden’s declaration that she says effected a waiver of the attorney-client privilege: “I did not ask Ms. Maxwell to respond point by point to Ms. Giuffre’s factual allegations in the CVRA joinder motion. What we needed to do was issue an immediate denial and that necessarily had to be short and to the point.” Doc.542-7, Ex.K ¶ 13.

As we suggested above, see This Resp. 3, the contention that these two sentences effected an attorney-client privilege waiver is nonsense. It is well established that “absent a client’s consent or waiver, the publication of confidential communications by an attorney does not constitute a relinquishment of the privilege by the client.” von Bulow, 828 F.2d at 100. Mr. Barden stated explicitly in his declaration, “I am not authorised to and do not waive Ms. Maxwell’s attorney-client privilege.” Doc.542-7, Ex.K ¶ 3. Regardless, a lawyer cannot waive his client’s attorney-client privilege by stating what he did not say to his client; it is frivolous to suggest otherwise.

CONCLUSION

The Court should deny the motion to compel, and award sanctions.

v.

Ghislaine Maxwell,

Defendant.

PLAINTIFF'S SECOND AMENDED SUPPLEMENTAL RESPONSE AND OBJECTIONS TO DEFENDANT'S FIRST SET OF DISCOVERY REQUESTS TO PLAINTIFF

Plaintiff hereby serves her second amended supplemental responses and objections to Defendant's First Set of Discovery Requests.

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Defendant's First Set of Discovery Requests violates Local Civil Rule 33.3. Defendant has served interrogatories that are in direct violation of that Rule because the interrogatories are not "restricted to those seeking names of witnesses with knowledge of information relevant to the subject matter of the action, the computation of each category of damage alleged, and the existence, custodian, location and general description of relevant documents, including pertinent insurance agreements, and other physical evidence, or information of a similar nature." Local Civil Rule 33.3(a). Instead, they seek information under subsections (b) and (c) of Local Civil Rule 33.3, and therefore, they should not be served because they are not "a more practical method of obtaining the information sought than a request for production or a deposition," and because they were served in advance of the period "30 days prior to the discovery cut-off date."

Local Civil Rule 33.3(b), (c). The interrogatories you served violate Local Rule 33.3 and we ask that you immediately withdraw those interrogatories. See Rule 33.3, Local Rules for the Southern District of New York; see also Shannon v. New York City Transit Auth., No. 00 CIV. 5079 (Sweet, J.), 2001 WL 286727, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 22, 2001); accord Gary Friedrich Enterprises, LLC v. Marvel Enterprises, Inc., No. 08 CIV. 1533 BSJ JCF, 2011 WL 1642381, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 26, 2011). Specifically, Rule 33.3 provides:

- (a) Unless otherwise ordered by the Court, at the commencement of discovery, interrogatories will be restricted to those seeking names of witnesses with knowledge of information relevant to the subject matter of the action, the computation of each category of damage alleged, and the existence, custodian, location and general description of relevant documents, including pertinent insurance agreements, and other physical evidence, or information of a similar nature.
- (b) During discovery, interrogatories other than those seeking information described in paragraph (a) above may only be served (1) if they are a more practical method of obtaining the information sought than a request for production or a deposition, or (2) if ordered by the Court.
- (c) At the conclusion of other discovery, and at least 30 days prior to the discovery cut-off date, interrogatories seeking the claims and contentions of the opposing party may be served unless the Court has ordered otherwise.

Similarly, Requests for Production numbers 1, 2, 4, 6(i), 9, 12, 30, 35 and 37 also violate Local Rule 33.3 in that they rely on the offending interrogatory requests. The Rule provides that a party must first try to obtain discovery through document production and testimony. Discovery does not close in this case until July 1, 2016, and Defendant has not yet noticed a deposition. As such, these interrogatories violate Local Rule 33.3 and are premature.

Defendant's First Set of Discovery Requests also violates Rule 33, Fed. R. Civ. P., which provides "a party may serve on any other party no more than 25 interrogatories, including all discrete subparts" – in that Defendant has served a total of 59 interrogatories, including subparts, in violation of Rule 33. We ask that you immediately withdraw those interrogatories that exceed the 25 interrogatory limit set by Rule 33.

Ms. Giuffre objects to Defendant's First Set of Discovery Requests to the extent they seek information that is protected by any applicable privilege, including but not limited to, attorney client privilege, work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege.

Ms. Giuffre objects to the requests to the extent Defendant's First Set of Discovery Requests call for the production of documents or information that is already in the possession, custody, or control of the Defendant. Ms. Giuffre further objects to the requests to the extent that Defendant's First Set of Discovery Requests is duplicative of documents and information that can equally or more readily be obtained by the Defendant.

Ms. Giuffre objects to the requests to the extent that they seek documents that are not relevant, material, or necessary to this action and, thus, are not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Many of the requests in the Defendant's First Set of Discovery seek documents that are in no way limited to their relation to this case. Indeed, they seek documents that are not important to resolving the issues; documents that are not relevant to any party's claim or defense; and documents that are not proportional to the needs of the case. Such requests create a heavy burden on Ms. Giuffre that outweighs any benefit. Such discovery is prohibited by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, particularly under the 2015 amendments to Rule 26(b)(1), Fed. R. Civ. P., and is wholly inappropriate.

Ms. Giuffre objects to the requests to the extent that they are overly broad and unduly burdensome, as individually logging all privileged responsive documents would be overly burdensome. Plaintiff contends that requests targeting such privileged information are overly broad under Rule 26(b)(1), Fed. R. Civ. P. Specifically, Ms. Giuffre objects to the requests as overly burdensome to the extent that they would require logging voluminous and ever-increasing privileged communications between Ms. Giuffre and her counsel after the date litigation commenced on September 21, 2015. Ms. Giuffre objects to the requests as overly burdensome to the extent that they would require logging voluminous privileged documents between Ms. Giuffre and her counsel related to Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2 v. United States, Case no. 08-80736-CIV-Marra, pending in the Southern District of Florida; Bradley Edwards and Paul Cassell v. Alan Dershowitz, Case no. CACE 15-000072, pending in the Seventeenth Judicial Circuit, Broward County, Florida; and Jane Doe No. 102 v. Jeffrey Epstein, Case No. 09-80656-CIV-Marra/Johnson (Southern District of Florida). Accordingly, due the undue burden of individually logging responsive privileged documents related to Defendant's overly broad requests, Plaintiff has employed categorical logging of such privileged responsive documents pursuant to Local Civil Rule 26.2(c).

Ms. Giuffre objects to the requests in that they seek to invade her privacy for the sole purpose of harassing and intimidating Ms. Giuffre who was a victim of sexual trafficking. Ms. Giuffre objects to the requests to the extent they are overly broad and unduly burdensome.

Ms. Giuffre objects to Defendant's definition of "your attorneys" because it includes names of attorneys that do not represent her, including Spencer Kuvin and Jack Scarola.

Ms. Giuffre's responses to Defendant's First Set of Discovery Requests are being made after reasonable inquiry into the relevant facts, and are based only upon the information and documentation that is presently known to her. Ms. Giuffre reserves the right to modify and/or supplement her responses. Ms. Giuffre is producing documents and information herewith, and she will continue to review and produce relevant documents until completion.

Ms. Giuffre incorporates her above-listed general objections in the responses herein.

INTERROGATORIES

1. State:
  - a. Your present residential address;
  - b. Each residential address You have had since 1998, including any residential treatment facilities;
  - c. the dates You lived at each address;
  - d. the other Persons who lived with You at each address and for what period of time they lived at such address.

Response to Interrogatory One:

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in part because it violates Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it seeks information that is sought by Defendant only to harass and intimidate Ms. Giuffre who was a victim of sexual trafficking. Per the Plaintiff's First Responses and Objections, and per our representations during the March 21, 2016 meet and confer phone call, we are working diligently to find information to supplement the below information with regard to address and dates, and once that information is obtained, Plaintiff will serve supplemental responses. Additionally, per the March 21, 2016 meet and confer phone call, we are addressing with the Plaintiff whether she will reveal her address to Defendant's counsel confidentially and we will update you with her response.

- a. Due to safety concerns with respect to Ms. Giuffre and her minor children, she is not at liberty to reveal her present residential location. To ensure that Defendant is not prejudiced by the failure to provide information about Ms.

Giuffre's specific residential location, Ms. Giuffre agrees to have her attorney's accept service on her behalf of any necessary communication or filings in this matter to be addressed to: Sigrid McCawley, Esq. Boies Schiller & Flexner LLP, 401 East Las Olas Blvd., Suite 1200, Fort Lauderdale, FL 33316.

- b. Ms. Giuffre can recall living at the following addresses during the period of 1998 to the present. Ms. Giuffre may have lived at other locations for which she does not presently have the address. Ms. Giuffre is providing the information she has presently to the best of her recollection and review of documents and will supplement to the extent she obtains additional information responsive to this interrogatory.
- c. Ms. Giuffre believes she has lived at the following residences:
  - In January 1998, Ms. Giuffre was 14 years old. Ms. Giuffre recalls one facility named "Growing Together" that was located in or around Palm Beach, but she does not recall the dates when she resided at the facility.
  - From 2000-2002, Ms. Giuffre lived and travelled with Jeffrey Epstein and stayed at his various mansions in New York (9 E. 71st Street, New York, NY 10021-4102), Palm Beach (358 El Brillo Way, Palm Beach, Florida 33480, New Mexico (Zorro Ranch, 49 Zorro Ranch Rd., Stanley, New Mexico 87056), U.S.V.I. (Little St. James, 6100 Red Hook Quarters, Suite B3, St. Thomas, Virgin Islands 00802), and Paris (22 Avenue Foch Apt 2DD, Paris, France 75116).

- Jeffrey Epstein also rented a residence for Ms. Giuffre in Royal Palm Beach, the exact address and dates of rental are in the possession, custody and control of Jeffrey Epstein. Tony Figueroa, James Michael Austrich and a few other individuals for whom Ms. Giuffre cannot recall the names of, stayed with her from time to time at the residence that Jeffrey Epstein rented.
- Ms. Giuffre's parents' address was 12959 Rackley Road, Loxahatchee, Florida 33470, and she lived there from time to time with her mother, her father, and her brothers.
- 2C Quentin St. Basshill NSW in approximately 2003, but she is not certain of that date. At this location, Ms. Giuffre lived with Robert Giuffre.
- N. Paramentata, NSW from approximately 2003 - 2005, but she is not certain of those dates. At this location, Ms. Giuffre lived with Robert Giuffre.
- Blue Bay, NSW from approximately 2005 - 2008 but is not certain of those dates. At this location, Ms. Giuffre lived with Robert Giuffre.
- 3 Elk St., NSW from approximately 2008 - 2009 but is not certain of those dates. At this location, Ms. Giuffre lived with Robert Giuffre.
- 50 Robertson Road, Basshill, NSW, from 2009 through January of 2010. At this location, Ms. Giuffre lived with Robert Giuffre.

- 50 Bundeena Rd., Glenning Valley, NSW from approximately January of 2010 through October 13, 2013. At this location, Ms. Giuffre lived with Robert Giuffre.
- 5035 Winchester Drive, Titusville, FL from approximately November 6, 2013 to October of 2014. At this location, Ms. Giuffre lived with Robert Giuffre.
- 1270 J. Street, Penrose, CO 81240, from approximately October of 2014 through October of 2015. At this location Ms. Giuffre lived with Robert Giuffre.

2. Identify any email address, email account, cellphone number and cellphone provider, social media account and login or screen name, text or instant messaging account name and number, that You have used, applied for or been supplied between 1998 and the present.

Response to Interrogatory No. 2

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it violates Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is overly broad and seeks information solely to harass and intimidate Ms. Giuffre.

For the period of 1998 to the present Ms. Giuffre provides the following information. During the time period that she was sexually trafficked by Jeffrey Epstein and the defendant, the defendant provided Ms. Giuffre with a cellphone so that she could be reached by the Defendant and Jeffrey Epstein at any time. Defendant is in possession of the information relating to this cellphone that she provided to Ms. Giuffre. Ms. Giuffre is responding with the information she can presently recall, but to the extent she obtains additional information she will supplement this response. Ms. Giuffre's e-mail address is [REDACTED] She can recall having the following cell numbers [REDACTED] Ms. Giuffre had a Facebook account for a short time but it is no longer active. Per our representations during the March 21, 2015 meet and confer phone call, we are working diligently to find information to supplement the above information, and once that information is obtained, Plaintiff will serve supplemental responses.

3. Identify each attorney who has represented you from 1998 to the present, the dates of any such representation, and the nature of the representation.

Response to Interrogatory No. 3

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory as it seeks privileged information relating to her representation by attorneys.

- Ms. Giuffre responds as follows: Bob Josefsberg, Katherine W. Ezell, Amy Ederi (among other possible Podhurst Orseck, P.A. attorneys) represented Ms. Giuffre as a party in the litigation styled as Jane Doe No. 102 v. Jeffrey Epstein, Case No. 09-80656-CIV-Marra/Johnson, starting on January 27, 2009.
- Stan Pottinger, David Boies, and Sigrid McCawley (along with other Boies Schiller & Flexner LLP (“Boies Schiller”) attorneys) represented Ms. Giuffre as a non-party in the litigation styled as Bradley Edwards and Paul Cassell v. Alan Dershowitz, Case no. 15-000072, Seventeenth Judicial Circuit, Broward County, Florida, starting in February, 2015.
- Brad Edwards (along with other Farmer, Jaffe, Weissing, Edwards, Fistos & Lehrman, P.L. (“Farmer Jaffe”) attorneys), Paul Cassell, Stan Pottinger, David Boies and Sigrid McCawley (along with other Boies Schiller attorneys) represent Ms. Giuffre as a party in the litigation styled Giuffre v. Maxwell, 15-cv-07433-RWS in the Southern District of New York, the complaint of which was filed in September, 2015.
- Paul Cassell represents Ms. Giuffre as a non-party in the litigation styled as Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2 v. United States, Case No. 08-80736-CIV-Marra, Southern District of Florida, starting in May of 2014.
- Brad Edwards (along with other Farmer, Jaffe attorneys) represents Ms. Giuffre as a non-party in the litigation styled as Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2 v. United States, Case No. 08-80736-CIV-Marra, Southern District of Florida, starting in 2011.

- Brad Edwards provided Ms. Giuffre with legal advice concerning media inquiries Ms. Giuffre had received starting in 2011.
- Paul Cassell, Brad Edwards (along with other Farmer, Jaffe, attorneys), Stan Pottinger, David Boies (along with other Boies Schiller attorneys) represented Ms. Giuffre regarding investigations into potential legal action starting in the second half of 2014.

4. Identify each Communication, including the transmission of any Document, that You or Your Attorneys have had with any local, state or federal law enforcement agent or agency, whether in the United States or any other country, whether in Your capacity as a purported victim, witness, or perpetrator of any criminal activity, and whether as a juvenile or as an adult, including without limitation:

- a. the date of any such Communication;

- b. the form of any such Communication, whether oral or written and if written, the format of any such Communication;
- c. the identities of all persons involved in the Communication, including the identity of the law enforcement agency with whom the agent is or was affiliated;
- d. the case number associated with any such Communication;
- e. the subject matter of any such Communication;
- f. the disposition of any case associated with any such Communication, irrespective of whether the matter was sealed, expunged or later dismissed.

Response to Interrogatory No. 4

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it seeks protected information regarding confidential investigations. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to the extent this seeks information regarding sexual assaults that occurred prior to her involvement with the Defendant and Jeffrey Epstein. Ms. Giuffre responds as follows: Ms. Giuffre, in accordance with the Court's direction at the hearing on April 21, 2016, has submitted documents to the Court for In Camera review. Ms. Giuffre met with the FBI on or about March 17, 2011. Ms. Giuffre also corresponded with Maria Villafano from the U.S. Attorney's office and that correspondence has been produced.

5. Identify each Communication that You or Your Attorneys have had with any author, reporter, correspondent, columnist, writer, commentator, investigative journalist, photojournalist, newspaper person, freelance reporter, stringer, or any other employee of any media organization or independent consultant to the same, including:

- a. the date of any such Communication;
- b. the form of any such Communication, whether oral or written and if written, the format of any such Communication;
- c. the identities of all persons involved in such Communication, including the identity of the media organization with whom the agent is or was affiliated;
- d. the article title, date of publication, and means of publication of any article, report, or re-printing of any such Communication made by You or Your Attorneys;
- e. the amount of Income that You and/or Your Attorneys received in exchange for any such Communication;
- f. the dates on which You and/or Your Attorneys received any such Income for any such Communication.

Response to Interrogatory No. 5

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects in that this request is overly broad and unduly burdensome.

6. Identify any “false statements” attributed to Ghislaine Maxwell which were “published globally, including within the Southern District of New York” as You contend in paragraph 9 of Count 1 of Your Complaint, including:

- a. the exact false statement;
- b. the date of its publication;
- c. the publishing entity and title of any publication containing the purportedly false statement;
- d. the URL or internet address for any internet version of such publication; and
- e. the nature of the publication, whether in print, internet, broadcast or some other form of media.

Response to Interrogatory No. 6

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre further objects because the information requested above is in the possession of Defendant who has failed to comply with her production obligations in this matter.

7. State whether You believe that You have ever been defamed by anyone other than Ghislaine Maxwell. If so, as to each alleged act of Defamation, state

- a. the exact false statement;
- b. the date of its publication;
- c. the publishing entity and title of any publication containing the purportedly false statement;

- d. the URL or internet address for any internet version of such publication; and
- e. the nature of the publication, whether in print, internet, broadcast or some other form of media.

Response to Interrogatory No. 7

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks information protected by the attorney client and work product privileges. Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it is not limited in time or to the subject nature of this litigation.

8. Identify the individuals referenced in Your pleadings filed in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida, Jane Doe 1 and Jane Doe 2 v. United States of America, 08-cv-80736-KAM, as the “high-profile non-party individuals” to whom Mr. Jeffrey Epstein sexually trafficked You, “including numerous prominent American politicians, powerful business executives, foreign presidents, a well-known Prime Minister, and other world leaders,” including as to each episode of alleged sexual trafficking:

- a. the date of any such sexual trafficking;
- b. the location of any such sexual trafficking;
- c. any witnesses to any such sexual trafficking;
- d. any Income You received in exchange for such sexual trafficking; and
- e. any Documents You have to support or corroborate Your claim of such sexual trafficking.

Response to Interrogatory No. 8

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Additionally, Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory because naming some such individuals would jeopardize her physical safety based on credible threats to the same. Ms. Giuffre refers to the list of witnesses identified in her Revised Rule 26 Disclosures.

9. Identify any Employment You have had from 1996 until the present, including without limitation, the name of Your employer or the name of any Person who engaged You for such Employment, the address and telephone number for any such Employment, the beginning and ending dates of any such Employment, Your job title in such Employment, and Your Income from such Employment.

Response to Interrogatory No. 9

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome, and seeks information that is not relevant to this case.

Ms. Giuffre responds as follows:

- Ms. Giuffre worked at Mar a Lago as a locker room attendant for the spa area. Records produced in this case identify the date of employment as 2000, and she recalls being there in the summer. Ms. Giuffre previously attempted to gather employment records from Mar-A-Lago. See Giuffre002726. She earned approximately $9 per hour. The address is 1100 South Ocean Boulevard, Palm Beach, Florida 33480, with the telephone number of 561-832-2600
- Ms. Giuffre worked at Roadhouse Grill as a waitress in approximately 2002, but Ms. Giuffre is unsure of the exact dates of employment. Her wages primarily consisted of tips. Ms. Giuffre does not recall the location of Roadhouse Grill. A Google search for the same yields an address at 8865 Southern Blv., West Palm Beach, FL 33411 and a telephone number of 561-651-0400.

- Ms. Giuffre worked at Employment Training and Recruitment Australia from approximately 2005 through January of 2006, but Ms. Giuffre is unsure of the exact dates of employment. Ms. Giuffre was a receptionist earning approximately $15 per hour to the best of her recollection. Upon information and belief, this corporation is currently located in a different location from the location at which Ms. Giuffre was employed. Upon information and belief, based on an internet search, the new location of this entity is 123 Donniform Street, Gofford NSW 2250, with a telephone number of 02-4323-1233
- Ms. Giuffre worked at Gemma Catering/Wedding Receptions in approximately 2004. She received approximately $10/hr. She does not recall the name of the proprietor nor its location.
- Ms. Giuffre worked at Manway Logistics in approximately 2003. Ms. Giuffre recalls it located in or around Sydney, Australia. An internet search yielded an address of 246 Miller Road, Villawood NSW 2163, and a phone number of 02-8707-2300. Ms. Giuffre worked as a receptionist and earned approximately $20/hr.

10. Identify any Income from any source other than Your Employment that You have received from January 1, 1996 until the present, including the Person or entity providing such Income, the amount of the Income, the dates on which any such Income was received, and the nature of the Income, whether a loan, investment proceeds, legal settlement, asset sale, gift, or other source.

Response to Interrogatory No. 10

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is overly broad and seeks confidential financial information. Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it seeks information covered by confidentiality provisions. Ms. Giuffre objects to this information in that any payment information for the sexual trafficking she endured at the hands of Jeffrey Epstein and Ghislaine Maxwell is in the possession, custody and control of the Defendant and Jeffrey Epstein.

Ms. Giuffre is in possession of a responsive document that contains a confidentiality provision. If Defendant obtains, and produces to Ms. Giuffre, a written waiver from her co-conspirator, Mr. Epstein, of the confidentiality provision, freeing Ms. Giuffre from any liability whatsoever under the confidentiality provision, she will produce the document.

11. Identify any facts upon which You base Your contention that You have suffered as a result of the Alleged Defamation by Ghislaine Maxwell “past and future lost wages and past and future loss of earning capacity and actual earnings – precise amounts yet to be computed, but not less than $5,000,000.”

Response to Interrogatory No. 11

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it prematurely seeks expert witness disclosures. Ms. Giuffre incorporates by reference herein her Revised Rule 26 disclosures, which includes her computation of damages.

12. Identify any Health Care Provider from whom You received any treatment for any physical, mental or emotional condition, that You suffered from subsequent to any Alleged Defamation by Ghislaine Maxwell, including:

- a. the Health Care Provider's name, address, and telephone number;
- b. the type of consultation, examination, or treatment provided;
- c. the dates You received consultation, examination, or treatment;
- d. whether such treatment was on an in-patient or out-patient basis;
- e. the medical expenses to date;
- f. whether health insurance or some other person or organization or entity has paid for the medical expenses; and
- g. for each such Health Care Provider, please execute the medical and mental health records release attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Response to Interrogatory No. 12

Pursuant to this Court's Order, Ms. Giuffre will provide information for health care providers from 1999 through the present. Ms. Giuffre continues to search for medical providers that appear in documents.

- As Defendant requested, Medical releases have been provided for:
  - Dr. Karen Kutikoff
  - Wellington Imaging Associates, PA
  - Growing Together

13. Identify any Health Care Provider from whom You received any treatment for any physical, mental or emotional condition, including addiction to alcohol, prescription or illegal drugs, that You suffered from prior to the Alleged Defamation by Ghislaine Maxwell, including:

- a. the Health Care Provider's name, address, and telephone number;
- b. the type of consultation, examination, or treatment provided;
- c. the dates You received consultation, examination, or treatment;
- d. whether such treatment was on an in-patient or out-patient basis;
- e. the medical expenses to date;
- f. whether health insurance or some other person or organization or entity has paid for the medical expenses; and
- g. For each such Health Care Provider, please execute the medical and mental health records release attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Response to Interrogatory No. 13

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is overbroad and seeks confidential medical information of a sex abuse victim and is not limited in scope to the issues in this case. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is not limited in scope to the medical information relating to the abuse she suffered from Defendant and Jeffrey Epstein.

14. Identify any Person who You believe subjected You to, or with whom You engaged in, any illegal or inappropriate sexual contact, conduct or assault prior to June 1999, including the names of the individuals involved, the dates of any such illegal or inappropriate sexual contact, conduct or assault, whether Income was received by You or anyone else concerning such event, whether a police report was ever filed concerning such event and the outcome of any such case, as well as the address and location of any such event.

Response to Interrogatory No. 14

Ms. Giuffre objects to this interrogatory in that it violates Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is overbroad and seeks confidential medical information of a sex abuse victim. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks sexual assault information for a period prior to the sexual abuse at issue in this matter for a period when she was a minor child from the time Ms. Giuffre was born until she was 15. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is sought solely to harass, and intimidate Ms. Giuffre who is a victim of sexual abuse by the defendant.

REQUESTS FOR PRODUCTION

1. All Communications and Documents identified in Interrogatories 1-14, above.

Response to Request No. 1

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that Defendant's interrogatories violate Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome, incorporating the interrogatories that total 59 subparts, and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks to invade the privacy rights of a sex abuse victims, and is meant for the improper purpose of harassing and intimidating this victim.

Subject to and without waving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre is withholding production of documents that are privileged pursuant to the attorney-client privilege, the work product privilege, and the public interest privilege. Ms. Giuffre is also withholding electronic renditions of photographs that depict the faces of her minor children, including school portraits and other photographs taken that reveal the faces of her minor children.

Subjection to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request limited to documents that do not depict images of her minor children as described supra and will continue to supplement her production.

2. All Documents reviewed or relied upon in answering Interrogatory Nos. 1-14 above.

Response to Request No. 2

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that defendant's interrogatories violate Local Rule 33.3. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks information that is protected by the attorney client, work product, and public interest, and other applicable privileges. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is overly broad incorporating the interrogatories that total 59 subparts. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks to invade the privacy rights of a sex abuse victims and is meant for the improper purpose of harassing and intimidating this victim.

Subject to and without waving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre is withholding production of documents that are privileged pursuant to the attorney-client privilege, the work product privilege, and the public interest privilege. Ms. Giuffre is also withholding electronic renditions of photographs that depict the faces of her minor children, including school portraits and other photographs taken that reveal the faces of her minor children.

Subjection to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request limited to documents that do not depict images of her minor children as described supra and will continue to supplement her production.

3. All Documents from any law enforcement agency, whether local, state or federal, whether in the United States or elsewhere, which concern or relate to You in any way. These Documents should include, without limitation, any witness statements, including statements made by You.

Response to Request No. 3

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks information that is protected by the attorney client, work product, public interest privilege and other applicable privileges. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is not limited in time period.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request and will continue to supplement her production. Ms. Giuffre is withholding documents that concern or relate to any currently ongoing investigation by any law enforcement agency under the public interest privilege and other applicable privileges.

4. All Documents reflecting any letter of engagement, any fee agreement, or any other type of writing reflecting an engagement of any attorney identified in response to Interrogatory No. 3.

Response to Request No. 4

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks information that is protected by the attorney client, work product, joint defense and other applicable privileges. Ms. Giuffre is withholding documents based on this objection. Specifically, Ms. Giuffre is withholding documents reflecting the engagements between herself and her attorneys she has engaged in relation to the above-captioned action and other actions as those documents involve privileged communications.

5. All Documents relating to any Communications occurring from 1998 to the present with any of the following individuals or with their attorneys, agents or representatives:

- a. Jeffrey Epstein;
- b. Ghislaine Maxwell
- c. Any witness disclosed in Plaintiff's Rule 26(a) disclosures;
- d. Any witness identified by You in response to Interrogatory No. 8 and No. 14;
- e. Sky Roberts;
- f. Lynn Roberts;
- g. Kimberley Roberts;
- h. Daniel LNU, half-brother of Plaintiff;
- i. Carol Roberts Kess;
- j. Philip Guderyon;
- k. Anthony Valladares;
- l. Anthony Figueroa;
- m. Ron Eppinger

Response to Request No. 5

Ms. Giuffre objection to this request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome, particularly as it seeks documents relating to over 60 individuals, and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects because compliance with this request is unduly burdensome. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein with whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents to Ms. Giuffre's request seeking communications between the Defendant and Ms.

Giuffre and between Jeffrey Epstein and Ms. Giuffre. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney-client, work product, joint defense, public interest or any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is sought solely to harass and intimidate Ms. Giuffre, and invade her privacy, by seeking her private communications with her various family members, including aunts, uncles and parents and siblings.

Subject to and without waving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre is withholding production of documents that are privileged pursuant to the attorney-client privilege, the work product privilege, and the public interest privilege. Ms. Giuffre is also withholding electronic renditions of photographs that depict the faces of her minor children, including school portraits and other photographs taken that reveal the faces of her minor children.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request limited to documents that do not depict images of her minor children as described supra and will continue to supplement this production.

6. All photographs or video containing any image of You and the following individuals. To the extent You have such photographs and video in their original, native format, please produce them in that format (not a paper copy).

- a. Ghislaine Maxwell
- b. Alan Dershowitz
- c. Jeffrey Epstein
- d. Andrew Albert Christian Edward, the Duke of York (aka Prince Andrew)

- e. Ron Eppinger
- f. Bill Clinton
- g. Stephen Hawking
- h. Al Gore
- i. Any of the individuals identified by You in response to Interrogatory No. 8 and No. 14.

Response to Request No. 6

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein with whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents to Ms. Giuffre's request seeking communications between the Defendant and Ms. Giuffre and between Jeffrey Epstein and Ms. Giuffre.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request and will continue to supplement her production. Ms. Giuffre does not have "original, native format," as requested so she is producing the paper copies she has in her possession, custody and control.

7. All photographs and video of You in any of Jeffrey Epstein's properties, including, but not limited to: his home in Palm Beach, Florida; his home in New York City, New York; his ranch in Santa Fe, New Mexico; and Little Saint James Island in the U.S. Virgin Islands. To the extent You have such photographs and video in their original, native format, please produce them in that format (not a paper copy).

Response to Request No. 7

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein with whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents to Ms. Giuffre's request seeking communications between the Defendant and Ms. Giuffre and between Jeffrey Epstein and Ms. Giuffre.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce documents responsive to this Request and will continue to supplement her production. Ms. Giuffre does not have "original, native format," as requested so she is producing the paper copies she has in her possession, custody and control. The Defendant has documents responsive to this request that she should produce.

8. All photographs or video of You in any of Ms. Maxwell's properties, including her home in London, England and her home in New York City, New York. To the extent You have such photographs or video in their original, native format, please produce them in that format (not a paper copy).

Response to Request No. 8

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein with whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents to Ms. Giuffre's request seeking communications between the Defendant and Ms. Giuffre and between Jeffrey Epstein and Ms. Giuffre.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request and will continue to supplement her production. Ms. Giuffre does not have “original, native format,” as requested so she is producing the paper copies she has in her possession, custody and control. The Defendant has documents responsive to this request that she should produce.

9. Any Documents reflecting rental agreements or purchase agreements for the residential addresses identified by You in response to Interrogatory No. 1.

Response to Request No. 9

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks confidential financial information that is irrelevant to this action. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney client, work product, joint defense, public interest or any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that the information regarding rental agreements for the apartments that Defendant and Jeffrey Epstein rented for her are in the Defendant’s possession, control and custody.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement this production.

10. All Documents relating to Your Employment and/or association with the Mar-a-Lago Club located in Palm Beach, Florida, including any application for Employment.

Response to Request No. 10

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney client, work product, joint defense, public interest or any other applicable privilege.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement this production.

11. Any Document reflecting any confidentiality agreement by and between, or concerning, You and the Mar-a-Lago Club.

Response to Request No. 10

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney client, work product, joint defense, public interest or any other applicable privilege.

Ms. Giuffre has been unable to locate any such documents.

12. All Documents concerning any Employment by You from 1998 to the present or identified by You in response to Interrogatory No. 9, including any records of Your Employment at the Roadhouse Grill in Palm Beach, Florida.

Response to Request No. 12

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney-client, work product, joint defense, public interest or any other applicable privilege.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement this production.

13. All Documents concerning any allegations of theft by You from the Roadhouse Grill in Palm Beach, Florida from 1999 – 2002.

Response to Request No. 13

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks information solely to harass, embarrass, and intimidate Ms. Giuffre. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it wrongfully characterizes a “theft by You”. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request as it seeks documents of sealed juvenile records, and the only means of obtaining such records are either through court order or illegal means.

Ms. Giuffre has been unable to locate any such documents.

14. A copy of Your federal, state or local tax returns for the years 1998 to the present, whether from the United States or any other country.

Response to Request No. 14

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks confidential financial information that is irrelevant to this action. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks financial information from her when she was a minor child starting at age 14. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the accountant client privilege, and any other applicable privilege.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement this production.

15. All Documents concerning Your attendance at or enrollment in any school or educational program of whatever type, from 1998 to the present.

Response to Request No. 15

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that her school records from when she was a minor child are an invasion of privacy, and sought only to harass and embarrass her.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement this production.

16. Any diary, journal or calendar concerning Your activities between 1996 – 2002.

Response to Request No. 16

Ms. Giuffre objections to this Request on the grounds that the time period is overly broad and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary and copyright protected materials. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks highly personal and sensitive material from a time when she was being sexually trafficked.

Ms. Giuffre has been unable to locate any such documents.

17. All Documents relating to Your travel from the period of 1998 to the present, including, but not limited to a copy of Your passport that was valid for any part of that time period, any visa issued to You for travel, any visa application that You prepared or which was prepared on Your behalf, and travel itinerary, receipt, log, or Document (including any photograph) substantiating Your travel during that time period.

Response to Request No. 17

Ms. Giuffre objections to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is overly broad and not limited to travel records relevant to the abuse she suffered. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks information that is wholly irrelevant to this lawsuit.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement this production. Per the agreements made in the March 21, 2016 meet and confer, we will attempt to locate and make copies of Plaintiff's current passport book.

18. All Documents showing any payments or remuneration of any kind made by Jeffrey Epstein or any of his agents or associates to You from 1999 until the present.

Response to Request No. 18

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein with whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege.

At this point in time, Ms. Giuffre has been unable to locate any such documents, but continues to search for responsive documents.

19. Any Document reflecting a confidentiality agreement, settlement agreement, or any contractual agreement of any kind, between You and Jeffrey Epstein, or any attorneys for You and/or Mr. Epstein.

Response to Request No. 19

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that the documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein with whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre is in possession of a responsive document that contains a confidentiality provision. As discussed during the March 21, 2016 meet and confer, If Defendant obtains, and produces to Ms. Giuffre, a written waiver from her co-conspirator, Mr. Epstein, of the confidentiality provision, releasing Ms. Giuffre from any liability whatsoever under the confidentiality provision, she will produce the document.

20. Any Document reflecting Your intent, plan or consideration of, asserting or threatening a claim or filing a lawsuit against another Person, any Document reflecting such a claim or lawsuit, including any complaint or draft complaint, or any demand for consideration with respect to any such claim or lawsuit against any Person.

Response to Request No. 20

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms.

Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney client, work product, joint defense or any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects because this request is overly broad and unduly burdensome in that it seeks wholly privileged communications from other cases the logging of which on a privilege log would be unduly burdensome. As such, Ms. Giuffre is providing categorical privilege entries relating to those matters.

At this point in time, Ms. Giuffre has not found any non-privileged documents responsive to this request, but continues to search for responsive documents.

21. All Documents relating to Your driver's license from 1998 – 2002.

Response to Request No. 21

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein for whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents.

At this point in time, Ms. Giuffre has not found any documents responsive to this request, but continues to search for responsive documents.

22. A copy of Your marriage license(s) from 1999 to the present.

Response to Request No. 22

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this request, and will continue to supplement this production.

23. All documents concerning Your naturalization application to Australia from 1999 to the present.

Response to Request No. 23

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege.

Ms. Giuffre has been unable to locate any such documents.

24. All Documents concerning Your Employment in Australia, including, but not limited to employment applications, pay stubs, Documents reflecting Your Income including any tax Documents.

Response to Request No. 24

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks confidential financial information Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney client, work product, joint defense, or any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks overly broad financial information not tailored to the sexual abuse and defamation issues in this case.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this request, and will continue to supplement this production.

25. All Documents concerning any massage therapist license obtained by You, including any massage therapy license issued in the United States, Thailand and/or Australia.

Response to Request No. 25

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein for whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege.

At this point in time, Ms. Giuffre has not found any non-privileged documents responsive to this request, but continues to search for responsive documents.

26. All Documents concerning any prescription drugs taken by You, including the prescribing doctor, the dates of said prescription, and the dates of any fulfillment of any such prescription.

Response to Request No. 26

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms.

Giuffre objects to this request in that it is not limited in date range in any way; therefore if she was on a prescription drug when she was 2 years old, she would have to produce that document. Ms. Giuffre also objects to this request in that it is not limited to prescription drugs she has taken as a result of the abuse she endured. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks confidential medical records that are not relevant to this action. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents protected by the attorney-client, work product, or any other applicable privilege.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and is producing non-privileged documents responsive to the Request limited to documents relating to prescription drugs relating to her treatment for sexual abuse she suffered at the hands of the Defendant and Jeffrey Epstein, and relating to conditions or symptoms arising after Defendant's defamatory statement, and will continue to supplement this production.

27. All Documents, written or recorded, which reference by name, or other description, Ghislaine Maxwell.

Response to Request No. 27

Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary or copyright protected materials.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production.

28. All Documents reflecting notes of, or notes prepared for, any statements or interviews in which You referenced by name or other description, Ghislaine Maxwell.

Response to Request No. 28

Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary or copyright protected materials.

At this point in time, Ms. Giuffre has not found any non-privileged documents responsive to this request, but continues to search for responsive documents.

29. All Documents concerning any Communications by You or on Your behalf with any media outlet, including but not limited to the Daily Mail, Daily Express, the Mirror, National Enquirer, New York Daily News, Radar Online, and the New York Post, whether or not such communications were “on the record” or “off the record.”

Response to Request No. 29

Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary or copyright protected materials.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production.

30. All Documents concerning any Income received by You from any media outlet in exchange for Your statements (whether “on the record” or “off the record”) regarding Jeffery Epstein, Alan M. Dershowitz, Prince Andrew, Bill Clinton or Ghislaine Maxwell or any of the individuals identified by You in response to Interrogatory Nos. 8 and 14.

Response to Request No. 30

Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary or copyright protected materials. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks confidential financial information.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production.

31. All Documents concerning any actual or potential book, television or movie deals concerning Your allegations about being a sex slave, including but not limited to a potential book by former New York Police Department detective John Connolly and writer James Patterson.

Response to Request No. 31

Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary or copyright protected materials. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks confidential financial information.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production.

32. All manuscripts and/or other writings, whether published or unpublished, created in whole or in part by or in consultation with You, concerning, relating or referring to Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell or any of their agents or associates.

Response to Request No. 32

Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary or copyright protected materials. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks confidential financial information.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production.

33. All Documents concerning or relating to Victims Refuse Silence, the organization referred to in the Complaint, including articles of incorporation, any financial records for the organization, any Income You have received from the organization, and any Documents reflecting Your role within the organization or any acts taken on behalf of the Organization.

Response to Request No. 33

Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary or copyright protected materials. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks confidential financial information.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production.

34. To the extent not produced in response to the above list of requested Documents, all notes, writings, photographs, and/or audio or video recordings made or recorded by You or of You at any time that refer or relate in any way to Ghislaine Maxwell.

Response to Request No. 34

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein for whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary and copyright protected material.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production.

35. All phone records, including text messages, emails, social media Communications, letters or any other form of Communication, from or to You or associated with You in any way from 1998 to the present, which concern, relate to, identify, mention or reflect Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Alan Dershowitz, Prince Andrew, Bill Clinton, or any of the individuals identified in response to Interrogatory Nos. 8 and 14.

Response to Request No. 35

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks documents from “anyone associated with you” as that is vague and ambiguous. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein for whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege.

Ms. Giuffre objects to this request to the extent it seeks proprietary and copyright protected material.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production. While Ms. Giuffre has produced her documents, Ms. Giuffre's response does not include documents "from anyone associated with you" based on the above referenced objection.

36. All Documents relating to massages, including but not limited to any Documents reflecting the recruiting or hiring of masseuses, advertising for masseuses, flyers created for distribution at high schools or colleges, and records reflecting e-mails or calls to Persons relating to massages.

Response to Request No. 36

Ms. Giuffre objects to this Request on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is not time limited in any way. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that documents responsive to this request are within the possession, custody and control of the defendant and Jeffrey Epstein for whom she claims a joint defense privilege and defendant has refused to produce responsive documents. Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege.

Ms. Giuffre has been unable to locate any such documents.

37. Statements or records from any bank into which You deposited money received from Jeffrey Epstein, any Person identified in Interrogatory No. 8 or 14, any witness disclosed in Your Rule 26(a) disclosures, any media organization or any employee or affiliate of any media organization.

Response to Request No. 37

Ms. Giuffre objects in that it seeks information protected by the attorney-client privilege, the attorney work product privilege, joint defense/common interest privilege, the public interest privilege, and any other applicable privilege. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it seeks personal financial information. Ms. Giuffre objects to this request in that it is overly broad as it has no time limitation.

Subject to and without waiving the above objections, Ms. Giuffre has already produced documents Bates labelled GIUFFRE000001 to GIUFFRE005353, and will produce non-privileged documents responsive to this Request, and will continue to supplement her production.

Defendant Ghislaine Maxwell (“Ms. Maxwell”) files this Combined Motion to Compel Non-Party Witness to Produce Documents and Respond to Deposition Questions, and Response to Motion for Protective Order for Non-Party Witness (ECF 640)<sup>1</sup> and further states as follows:

STATEMENT OF CONFERRAL

The undersigned has conferred with Mr. Stanley Pottinger, who represents both Plaintiff and non-party witness Ms. Ransome, via email and telephone on the issues raised in this motion and has been unable to resolve these issues without court intervention.

INTRODUCTION

Counsel for Plaintiff, also counsel for non-party witness Sarah Ransome, in mid-January belatedly disclosed a “new witness” counsel apparently had known about for months.<sup>2</sup> Plaintiff then asked this Court to re-open discovery for the deposition of Ms. Ransome, promised to make her available “immediately” for deposition and agreed to accept a subpoena for her to produce documents, in an attempt to “cure” her own late disclosure. Now, after having created a last-minute scramble to conduct discovery on facts far removed in time and circumstance from Plaintiff’s defamation claim, Plaintiff now complains that too much is being asked of her “witness.” Plaintiff protests that the requested documents and testimony sought -- all of which relate to Ms. Ransome’s allegations and credibility -- are irrelevant to this single count defamation action. Of course, the defense has said since learning of her that Ms. Ransome’s story is irrelevant to this case. But, if Plaintiff insists that Ms. Ransome should testify at trial, she must comply with properly served and propounded subpoena for testimony and records.

<sup>2</sup> In their letter motion to the Court of January 19 as well as during the hearing of February 2 on this topic, Plaintiff claimed she had “recently” learned of this “new” witness. As it turns out, Plaintiff’s counsel Bradley Edwards, Paul Cassell and Stanley Pottinger had already signed a fee agreement to represent this witness more than two months earlier, on November 7, 2016. Plaintiff’s counsel still has not explained why they waited more than two months to disclose the witness, nor why they represented to the Court that she was a “recent” discovery.

BACKGROUND

Plaintiff first identified Sarah Ransome as a witness on January 13, 2016, a mere two months before trial was scheduled to begin. In evaluating the relevance of the documents sought in the third-party subpoena to Ms. Ransome, and the questions posed to her in the February 17 deposition, it is important to understand how Ms. Ransome first came forward as a witness. Based on her deposition testimony, sometime in October of 2016, Ms. Ransome read an article in the New York Post written by Maureen Callahan regarding a recently published book by James Patterson concerning Jeffrey Epstein. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A (Ransome Dep.) at 36:25-43:24. The article details multiple things, including that Mr. Epstein has routinely settled out of court many civil cases brought against him by various women. See Menninger Decl., Ex. B. After reading the article, Ms. Ransome contacted Ms. Callahan via email resulting in several communications with Ms. Callahan, none of which have been produced. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A at 36:25-43:24. Ms. Callahan apparently did nothing with this information, in part, quite possibly, because of the lack of trustworthiness of Ms. Ransome's story.

Then, at some unknown time in early November, Ms. Ransome contacted the Boies Schiller firm and spoke with Sigrid McCawley. Id. at 24:25-28:5. The exact date of the first communication between the Boies Schiller firm and Ms. Ransome is unclear because she has refused to produce her telephone records, emails, or a log of any conversations and communications she deems privileged as required by the Rules. In an unusual twist, on November 7, 2016, Ms. Ransome signed an engagement letter with Farmer, Jaffe, Weissing, Edwards, Fistos & Lehrman, P.L., Stanley Pottinger and Paul Cassell (all of whom also represent Plaintiff) to represent her as a non-party witness in this matter on a pro-bono basis.<sup>3</sup> Based on the documents produced, however, she is not represented by Boies Schiller or its attorneys. See Menninger Decl. Ex. C. Quite notably, despite taking on the representation of Ms. Ransome as of November 7, 2016, Ms. Ransome was not identified as a person with knowledge under Rule 26 until over two months later on January 13, 2017.

On January 26, 2017, Ms. Ransome filed a civil complaint against Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Sarah Kellen, Lesley Groff, and Natalya Malyshev, under 18 USC § 1595, alleging the following damages:

“injury and pain; emotional distress; psychological and psychiatric trauma; mental anguish; humiliation; confusion; embarrassment; loss of self esteem; loss of dignity; loss of enjoyment of life; invasion of privacy; and other damages associated with Defendants' actions. Plaintiff will incur medical and psychological expenses. These injuries are permanent in nature and Plaintiff will continue to suffer from them in the future.”

See Menninger Decl. Ex. D (“Jane Doe 43 Complaint”), ¶ 64. As well, the Complaint alleges the right to civil forfeiture of Mr. Epstein’s planes, his New York mansion and his private island. Id. ¶¶ 62 & 63. The Complaint was filed by the Boies Schiller firm presumably on a contingency fee basis. The engagement letter for that matter has not been produced, despite the fact that it is not privileged and its obvious relevance to testing any claim of privilege. In that case, Ms. Ransome seeks millions, if not hundreds of millions, of dollars from the Defendants, including Ms. Maxwell, through her now free legal counsel, all in exchange for providing favorable testimony in this case. The motivation for fabrication of testimony could not be more acute. The majority of the discovery sought goes to this issue. It is highly relevant, probative, and must be produced.

<sup>3</sup> It does not appear that any of the communications concerning this representation discuss the limited nature of the representation, the obvious conflicts of interest, or a knowing and intentional waiver of those conflicts by both Ms. Ransome and Plaintiff.

I. MS. RANSOME HAS FAILED TO PROVIDE AN APPROPRIATE PRIVILEGE LOG, THEREBY EFFECTING A WAIVER OF PRIVILEGE

Ms. Ransome has refused to produce all but a handful of documents. See Menninger Decl. Ex. E, Responses and Objections to Subpoena (“Responses”). With respect to many categories, and in her general objections, she claims the documents sought are “fundamentally privileged communications between a non-party and her counsel.” Id. Responses 1-3. While she may assert that privilege under Fed.R.Civ.P. 45(E)(2)(A), she also is required to produce a log of all documents withheld based on any alleged privilege or protection:

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

An “unjustified failure to list privileged documents on the required log of withheld documents in a timely and proper manner operates as a waiver of any applicable privilege,” OneBeacon Ins. Co. v. Forman Int’l Ltd., 04 CIV. 2271(RWS), 2006 WL 3771010, at *7–8 (S.D.N.Y. Dec. 15, 2006). As this Court noted in OneBeacon Ins. Co., the waiver of privilege is equally applicable where there is a failure to produce a privilege log under Rules 45 and 26. Id. (citing In re Application for Subpoena to Kroll, 224 F.R.D. 326, 328 (E.D.N.Y. 2004) (“Rule 45 requires that the party claiming a privilege prepare a privilege log.... Failure to submit a privilege log may be deemed a waiver of the underlying privilege claim.”)); Labatt Ltd. v. Molson Breweries, Nos. 93 CV 75004, 94 CV 71540(RPP), 1995 WL 23603 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 20, 1995), aff’d, Dorf & Stanton Commc’ns, Inc., 100 F.3d 919, 923 (Fed.Cir.1997) (upholding determination that privilege had been waived due to failure to satisfy Rules 45(d)(2) and 26(b)(5)); see also In re Grand Jury Subpoena, 274 F.3d 563, 575-76 (1st Cir.2001) (stating that a “party that fails to submit a privilege log” pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(d)(2) “is deemed to waive the underlying privilege claim”).

Of course, the need for a log to assess any alleged claims of privilege is particularly necessary in this case. It is entirely unclear when Ms. Ransome became represented, and by whom, and related to what matter(s). What is clear is that there is at least one, if not more, of her communications with the Boies Schiller firm when Plaintiff was an unrepresented non-party potential witness. Indeed, the Boies Schiller firm claims they do not represent her as a witness in this litigation. Thus, any communication between Boies Schiller and Ms. Ransome relating to her testimony in this case is not protected by any privilege and must be produced. Of course, without the required log it is impossible to determine how many improperly categorized “privileged” communications exist. Based on Ms. Ransome’s failure to provide a privilege log, any claim of privilege has been waived.

II. DOCUMENTS RELATED TO JANE DOE 43 V. JEFFREY EPSTEIN, ET AL., 17-CV-00616-JGK (S.D.N.Y.) ARE HIGHLY RELEVANT TO MS. RANSOME’S TESTIMONY IN THIS ACTION

In her Responses, Ms. Ransome argues primarily that the documents sought are not related to her witness testimony in this case. The objection reads:

Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled Jane Doe 43 v. Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Sarah Kellen, Lesley Groff, and Natalya Malyshev Case Number 1:17-cv-00616-JGK (S.D.N.Y.). Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action.

See Menninger Decl. Ex. E, Responses 9-30.

This argument is perplexing. In Plaintiff’s Motion to Reopen Discovery, Plaintiff (through Ms. McCawley, who does not represent witness Ransome, but does represent Jane Doe 43 (i.e., Plaintiff Ransome)) claimed that Ms. Ransome's experience (i.e. the basis for her claims in Jane Doe 43) are "highly relevant" to this action. Presumably, Ms. Ransome's testimony in this case will be precisely what she alleged in the Jane Doe 43 Complaint. Logic follows that either 1) the information relevant to that action is relevant to her testimony in this case, or 2) her testimony is entirely irrelevant to this single count defamation action. We would suggest that the latter is true, as is the case with all other alleged victim witnesses, none of whom know the Plaintiff in this case at all. The proper course of action, then, should be to exclude Ms. Ransome's testimony altogether because, in Ms. Ransome's counsel's own words, the information is not relevant to this single count defamation action.

If the Court determines that Ms. Ransome's testimony is at all relevant, then all of the information sought is relevant to her participation as a witness in this action. First and most fundamentally, the Jane Doe 43 action seeks millions if not hundreds of millions worth of assets as "civil forfeiture." It appears (although Ms. Ransome refused to answer) that she is unemployed, with no source of income other than from her partner, and lives in a house or apartment rented by him in Spain. See Menninger Decl., Ex. A at 9:17-12:21. She came out of the woodwork to provide testimony after reading an article that extensively describes this lawsuit and Mr. Epstein's settlement of other lawsuits. She seeks to testify, by contrast to every other witness ever identified, that 1) Ms. Maxwell was actively involved as an assistant to Mr. Epstein in late 2006 to early 2007, and 2) that she was "lent out" to other people, including Alan "Dershavitz" (as she pronounces it). See Menninger Decl., Ex. F (Ransome Affidavit). These are two pieces of testimony that Plaintiff has desperately sought to corroborate with witnesses, and there is more than a mere possibility that these pieces of Ms. Ransome's testimony were suggested to her by Plaintiff's counsel/her counsel. In Jane Doe 43, Ms. Ransome, through Plaintiff's counsel, seeks, among other things, civil forfeiture of two private jets, a mansion in New York, and a private island in the U.S. Virgin Islands. One can hardly imagine a better motive to fabricate testimony than that type of lottery win. To make it even better, there is no purchase price for the ticket, because the people who want the testimony are willing to front the cost of the litigation either on a contingency or pro-bono basis.

The discovery sought concerning Ms. Ransome's financial information, employment, the nature of her engagement with counsel (including the financial structure of those relationships) all goes to Ms. Ransome's motivation to provide the fabricated testimony she plans to give and bias in this matter. This includes the following document production requests:

1. All Documents containing Communications with Virginia Roberts Giuffre, or any of her attorneys, agents, investigators, from the period 1999-present.
2. All fee agreements for Your engagements with any attorneys for the purpose of pursuing any civil or criminal claims regarding Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova.
29. A copy of Your most recent paycheck, paycheck stub, earnings statement and any bank statement, credit card statement and any Document reflecting any money owed by You to anyone.

The remaining document requests are specifically targeted to obtain impeachment evidence concerning Ms. Ransome's story, as told in the Jane Doe 43 Complaint and her affidavit submitted in support of Plaintiff's Letter Motion to Re-open Discovery in this case. There is nothing harassing about these requests for production. They seek relevant information concerning Plaintiff's claims and allegations against Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova, and documents that would show that the claims are not true, particularly as they relate to Ms. Maxwell:

3. All Documents that reference, relate to, or mention, whether by name or otherwise, the following individuals: Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova. (Complaint ¶¶33-58)
4. All Communications You have had in whatever form with any other female who you ever witnessed at or in a property, home, business, plane or automobile other vehicle owned or controlled by Jeffrey Epstein.
5. All Communications You have had with Natalya Malyshev, Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Sarah Kellen, or Nadia Marcincova.
6. Any photographs containing any image of Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, or Nadia Marcincova.
7. Any photographs taken by You, or containing any image of You, at, in or near any home, business, private vehicle (including airplane), or any other property owned or controlled by Jeffrey Epstein.
8. Any photographs that depict any home, business, private vehicle (including airplane), or any other property owned or controlled by Jeffrey Epstein.
9. All of Your passports, travel visas, or permissions to live, work or study in a foreign country, related to the years 2005-present.
10. All Communications regarding any of Your passports, visas, visa applications, or other permission to live, work or study in a foreign country, for the years 2005-present.
11. All Documents referencing any commercial plane tickets, boarding passes, or any other mode of travel during the time period 2006-2007.

12. Any credit card receipt, canceled check, or any other Document reflecting travel by You during the time period 2006-2007.
13. All phone records for any cellphone owned, used or possessed by You during the years 2006-2007.
14. All Documents reflecting or relating to any Communications between Jeffrey Epstein or Ghislaine Maxwell and either of Your parents, step-parents or other family members. (Complaint ¶ 53)
15. All Documents reflecting any money, payment, valuable consideration or other remuneration received by You from Jeffrey Epstein or any person known by You to be affiliated with Jeffrey Epstein.
16. All bank statements, credit card statements, money transfer records, or other statements from any financial institution in Your name, in whole or in part, for the years 2006-2007.
17. Any Documents concerning Your residency during the years 2006-2007, including leases, rental agreements, rent payments, deeds, or trusts.
19. Any Document reflecting any of Your post-secondary training or educational degree or course of study, to include transcripts, payments for tuition, courses taken, dates of attendance and grades received. (Complaint ¶ 37, 53-55; financial motivation based on lack of education or training to facilitate employment)
20. Any application for college, university, or any other post-secondary institution, or technical college, fashion college, modeling training or any similar institution, submitted by You or on Your behalf during the years 2005 – present. (Complaint ¶ 37, 53-55; financial motivation based on lack of education or training to facilitate employment))
21. All Documents reflecting any moneys received by You in exchange for any “modeling” by You. (Complaint ¶ 38)
22. All modeling contracts signed or entered into by You. (Complaint ¶ 38)
23. Any calendar, receipt, Communication or Document reflecting your whereabouts during the calendar years 2006-2007.
24. Any Documents reflecting Your medical, mental health or emergency care or other treatment for any eating disorder, malnourishment, kidney malfunction, emotional problems, psychological or psychiatric disorders, sexually transmitted diseases, and therapy records, and any prescriptions for any of the above categories. (Complaint ¶ 52, 64; motivation to fabricate)
25. Any Documents containing any Communications You have had with any law enforcement agency.

26. Any Documents that reflect any criminal charges, tickets, summonses, arrests, investigations concerning You or witnessed by You.
27. Any Documents containing any statement regarding Your experience or contact with Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova, including without limitation any Communication with anyone, any diary, journal, email, letter, witness statement, and summary.
28. Any civil complaint or civil demand filed by You or on Your behalf by which You have ever sought damages or compensation of any form or nature.
30. A copy of your Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and any other social media application or program for the years 2006-2007 and from 2015 – present.

While Ms. Ransome has provided some documents responsive to Questions 2, 3, 5, 6, 7, and 8, as discussed below, the productions are incomplete and an unknown volume of documents have been withheld. Having purposefully interjected herself into this litigation, and initiating another litigation based on the same allegations about which she now plans on testifying in this case, Ms. Ransome must be compelled to produce each of these clearly relevant categories of documents.

III. MS. RANSOME UNJUSTIFIABLY REFUSED TO ANSWER RELEVANT DEPOSITION QUESTIONS, AND SHE MUST BE COMPELLED TO RE-APPEAR AND RESPOND

The Motion for Protective Order relates primarily to certain deposition questions posed to Ms. Ransome which her counsel (and at times, Plaintiff's counsel) improperly instructed her not to answer. Each question relates to Ms. Ransome's claims, credibility, bias and motivation for fabrication of her testimony, requiring responses.

Category 1 - Personal current financial information.

Ms. Ransome refused to answer whether she has any source of income. She stated that her partner rents the home she lives in, implying he financially supports her, but would not state what he does. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A at 9:17-12:21. As such, her partner's income (or relative lack thereof) and Ms. Ransome's financial position or ability to earn a living relate directly to her motivation to fabricate testimony to seek (a substantial amount of) money in in the Jane Doe 43 litigation. Any concerns about disclosure of this information can be alleviated by production under the protective order.

Category 2 - The cell phone number of her partner.

Ms. Ransome testified that she first called the Boies Schiller firm on her partner's phone, and that the majority of her other conversations with counsel were on that same phone. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A at 24:25-28:5. Given the belated disclosure of this witness, and that the first contact happened sometime before November 7, 2016, the date of initial contact and number of contacts in between are highly relevant to the issue of late disclosure. Thus, subpoenas for these records may be required. Any concerns about providing this information can be alleviated by production under the protective order.

Category 3 – Allegedly privileged communications with Alan Dershowitz

Ms. Ransome refused to answer questions concerning her alleged conversations with Mr. Dershowitz sometime in late 2006 or early 2007, claiming they were related to a legal matter and that she believed Mr. Dershowitz was her attorney. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A at 172:18-173:12; 180:20-185:23; 199:3-23. Ms. Ransome confirmed in her deposition that Mr. Epstein was present during all conversations she claims to have had with Mr. Dershowitz. She further confirms that Mr. Epstein was there to “support” her and “look after” her regarding some unspecified legal matter, but he was not a party or interested in the dispute. See Menninger Decl., Ex. A at 199:3-23. It is axiomatic that any conversations between Ms. Ransome and Mr. Dershowitz in the presence of Jeffrey Epstein, a third party, are not protected by privilege. Safeco Ins. Co. of Am. v. M.E.S., Inc., 289 F.R.D. 41, 46 (E.D.N.Y. 2011) (“Generally, communications made between a defendant and counsel in the known presence of a third party are not privileged.”). Ms. Ransome must be compelled to respond to these questions.

Category 4 – Ms. Ransome’s current medical provider

Ms. Maxwell will withdraw this question.

The Witness’s Abandoned Objections

Notably absent from the Motion for Protective Order are several other questions posed to Ms. Ransome that she was instructed not to answer without any claim of privilege or protection. Ms. Ransome should also be required to answer these questions, in particular since she has not sought a protective order on these lines of questioning, nor could she.

1. Her partner’s occupation (motivation for fabrication)
2. Her parents’ addresses (she claims that they spoke with Ms. Maxwell and Mr. Epstein and have knowledge of her “coming forward”)
3. Where she was staying while in NY (paid for by Plaintiff’s Counsel, motive for fabrication and bias)
4. Whether Alan Dershowitz contacted anyone on her behalf (communications with others by counsel not privileged)
5. Her stepmother’s phone number and email address and physical address (she claims that they spoke with Ms. Maxwell and Mr. Epstein)
6. When she provided her photos to her lawyer (date of communication and production to attorney not privileged)

There simply was no basis for instructing the witness not to answer these questions, all of which are relevant and none of which are privileged. Ms. Ransome should be compelled to re-appear to answer all questions previously posed to her where she was instructed to answer, excepting the name of her current doctor who prescribed her SSRI medication.

IV. MS. RANSOME MUST BE REQUIRED TO PRODUCE REponsive DOCUMENTS THAT HAVE BEEN WITHELD WITHOUT BASIS, AND IDENTIFY ANY OTHER DOCUMENTS WITHELD

In addition to being required to re-appear and respond to non-privileged questions, it became clear at Ms. Ransome’s deposition that her counsel has withheld from production a number of relevant and responsive documents.

The first and most obvious category of withheld documents are email communications between Ms. Ransome and her acquaintances while associated with Mr. Epstein (including the people she has sued). Counsel for Ms. Ransome only produced selective portions of email chains. By way of example, Menninger Decl. Exhibit G shows an email chain containing six communications she had with Natalia Malyshev, an alleged co-conspirator, yet only two of those emails were produced. The emails produced are in “screenshot” format rather than providing a complete production of the emails with metadata. Menninger Decl. Exhibit H shows 14 separate communications with Leslie Goff, an alleged co-conspirator, yet only four (4) emails were produced. Again, they were produced in “screenshot” format rather than providing a complete production of the emails with metadata. The same incomplete productions occur with respect to Sarah Kellen (an alleged co-conspirator) and Pumla Griszell (a woman Ms. Ransome allegedly met though Mr. Epstein and to whom she claims to have reported problems with Epstein). Ms. Ransome must be compelled to produce these documents which likely contain impeachment information, as well as any other documents that are being withheld regarding communications between her and any person whom she claims to have met through Mr. Epstein, or relating to or referencing any of the Defendants in the Jane Doe 43 Complaint.

Ms. Ransome also admitted to possessing multiple email communications with the reporter Maureen Callahan, her first contact in attempting to “come forward” with her story. These emails, including a picture she claims to have sent Ms. Callahan, are obviously responsive to RFP 3 for “All Documents that reference, relate to, or mention, whether by name or otherwise, the following individuals: Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova.” There is no basis for withholding these documents, and they must be produced.

Ms. Ransome also failed to provide a complete copy of her application to the Fashion Institute of Technology (“F.I.T.”), despite the fact that her claims center around an alleged promise by Mr. Epstein to help her get into F.I.T. – i.e. the alleged benefit she was promised. The few documents produced suggest that the denial of admission to F.I.T. (if that is what occurred) is more likely a result of lack of required credentials or her failure to timely complete the application process. Either way, the complete application must be produced.

Ms. Ransome also testified that some of the photographs she produced were not taken by her, but were given to her on a disk by Jean Luc Brunel. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A at 336:6-18. She could not however, identify which picture she claims to have taken, and which were included on this disk. Id. 340:19-341:5. The subpoena to Ms. Ransome requested the native format copies of all pictures (many of which are digital) so that the metadata, including the dates the photographs were taken, can be discerned. See Menninger Decl. Ex. I, Instruction 7 (“Responsive electronically stored information (ESI) shall be produced in its native form; that is, in the form in which the information was customarily created, used and stored by the native application employed by the producing party in the ordinary course of business.”). Fed. R. Civ. P. 45(e)(1) requires production of documents in their native form, as specified, including all metadata. This includes a copy of the physical disk containing the photograph allegedly given to Ms. Ransome by Mr. Brunel, and the fronts and backs of any physical pictures.

CONCLUSION

As the adage goes, be careful what you ask for. Plaintiff, Ms. Ransome and their shared counsel asked to reopen discovery relating to Ms. Ransome. They promised to make her and any information that she may have immediately available. They must now do what they promised.

WHEREFORE, Defendant requests the entry of an Order:

1. Compelling production of all documents responsive to the subpoena, including communications with counsel because privilege has been waived. These include specifically, but are not limited to:

- a. Her current passport, and all missing pages excluded from the passport produced
  - b. Her emails with Maureen Callahan, including ones wherein she sent photograph of her and her boyfriend referenced in her deposition
  - c. Her FIT application
  - d. The disc of photos provided to her by Jean Luc Brunel – containing the metadata
  - e. All photographs either previously produced or withheld, with metadata or, if in hard copy, including the front and back of the photo
  - f. All emails from [REDACTED] by, between, or referencing any Defendant in Jane Doe 43, or communicating with any person Ms. Ransome knew through Jeffrey Epstein, or that related to her claims in this case and the Jane Doe 43 complaint.
2. Requiring Ms. Ransome to re-appear for deposition and respond to all questions as to which she was instructed not to answer in her first deposition, excluding the name of her current prescribing doctor; and
3. Denying the Motion for Protective Order

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

Virginia L. Giuffre,

Plaintiff,

v.

Case No.: 15-cv-07433-RWS

Ghislaine Maxwell,

Defendant.

NON-PARTY SARAH RANSOME’S RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS TO DEFENDANT’S SUBPOENA REQUESTS

Sarah Ransome, a non-party to this action, hereby responds to the Subpoena Duces Tecum noticed by Defendant Maxwell, and submits these responses and objections (“Responses”) to the document requests contained therein.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT AND GENERAL OBJECTIONS

Defendant, Maxwell has served non-party Sarah Ransome with a subpoena duces tecum seeking an array of documents that are both irrelevant to this matter and entirely privileged. Defendant’s subpoena is solely meant to harass and place an undue burden on Ms. Ransome.

To be discoverable, information sought must be relevant to the underlying action. Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(b)(1). Where discovery is sought from third parties, the Court must weigh the probative value of the information against the burden of production on said non-party. In re Biovail Corp. Sec. Litig., 247 F.R.D. 72, 74 (S.D.N.Y. 2007) (citing Concord Boat Corp. v. Brunswick Corp., 169 F.R.D. 44, 48-49 (S.D.N.Y.1996)); Fed.R.Civ.P. 45(c)(2)(B). In order to determine whether a subpoena imposes an undue burden, the Court should consider: 1) relevance, 2) the need of the party for the documents, 3) the breadth of the document request, 4) the time period covered by it, 5) the particularity with which the documents are described, and 6) the burden imposed. Id.

Specifically, the subpoena served on Ms. Ransome seeks documents that are wholly irrelevant to the underlying action including protected financial information and documents or communications between Sarah Ransome and her attorneys, which are protected by the attorney-client privilege and the work product doctrine. Notably, the face of the subpoena demonstrates that Defendant is not even seeking documents relevant to the matter before this Court, and is instead attempting to obtain backdoor discovery for other actions.

Ms. Ransome's responses are subject to the following qualifications, explanations, and objections, which apply to each and every request, and are incorporated in full by this reference into each and every response below as if fully set forth therein:

1. Ransome objects to Defendant's vastly overbroad non-party subpoena as it places an undue burden on her to have to search for the broad scope of materials requested, most of which seeks information that is irrelevant to the Defamation Action and clearly intended solely to harass, embarrass, intimidate, and oppress this non-party by seeking highly personal and sensitive information.

2. Ransome objects to Defendant's clear abuse of the subpoena power of this Court as she issued subpoena requests that are intended to obtain discovery for the development of another action relating to this non-party, and are clearly unrelated to this case.

3. Ransome responds to the requests as she reasonably interprets and understands the requests. Should Defendant subsequently assert an interpretation of any individual request that differs from her understanding, she reserves the right to supplement the responses.

4. To the extent a request seeks documents protected from discovery by the attorney-client privilege, or any other privilege or protection, no such documents shall be produced even if no specific objection is asserted in response to each individual request. Inadvertent identification or production of privileged documents or information is not a waiver of any applicable privilege.

5. Ransome objects to the Definitions and Instructions and to each Request to the extent they seek to alter or expand upon the obligations imposed by the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

6. Ransome objects to the Definitions and Instructions and to each Request to the extent that it calls for the production of documents that are not in her custody, possession, or control.

7. A statement in response to a specific request that Ransome will produce documents is not a statement that any such documents exist but, rather, means only that such documents that do exist and are responsive to a specific Request will be produced.

8. To the extent that Ransome produces documents in response to specific requests to which she has objected, Ransome reserves the right to maintain such objections with respect to any additional information, and such objections are not waived by the production of responsive documents.

9. Ransome objects to the requests to the extent they seek private and confidential financial information or other confidential information of any kind.

10. Ransome objects to the requests to the extent they seek personal and confidential financial information related to third-parties.

11. Ransome objects to the requests to the extent that they seek documents already in Defendant's possession or to the extent they are publicly available.

12. Ransome objects to the requests as overbroad where a time limit has not been specified. To the extent the Court directs discovery from this non-party, it should be limited to the date of the filing of this action to the present.

13. Ransome objects to the Requests as they seek to place an undue burden on Ransome, who is a non-party to the pending litigation.

RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS

1. All Documents containing Communications with Virginia Roberts Giuffre, or any of her attorneys, agents, investigators, from the period 1999-present.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this requests seeks fundamentally privileged communications between a non-party and her counsel. Specifically, Ransome objects to this request on the grounds of privilege, the work product doctrine, the common interest privilege, or any other privilege or protection.

Ransome further objects to this Request in that it is vague and ambiguous with respect to its reference to “all documents” containing communications. Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request to the extent it seeks confidential financial information from a non-party. Ransome objects to this Request in that it places an undue burden on this non-party including, for example, requiring the non-party to search for "documents," which has been very broadly defined, for a period of time lasting more than seventeen years.

Without waiving such objections, Ransome is not in possession of any non-privileged documents responsive to this request.

2. All fee agreements for Your engagements with any attorneys for the purpose of pursuing any civil or criminal claims regarding Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks fundamentally privileged communications between a non-party and her counsel. Specifically, Ransome objects to this request on the grounds of privilege, the work product doctrine, the common interest privilege, or any other privilege or protection. Ransome further objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request to the extent it seeks confidential financial information from a non-party.

Without waiving such objections, a copy of non-party Sarah Ransome's retainer agreement is attached hereto as RANSOME_000016, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties' Protective Order. Ms. Ransome reserves the right to supplement this response should additional responsive documentation become available.

3. All Documents that reference, relate to, or mention, whether by name or otherwise, the following individuals: Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks fundamentally privileged communications between a non-party and her counsel. Specifically, Ransome objects to this request on the grounds of privilege, the work product doctrine, the common interest privilege, or any other privilege or protection. Ransome further objects to this Request in that it is vague and ambiguous with respect to its reference to "all documents."

Ransome further objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request to the extent it seeks confidential financial information from a non-party. Ransome objects to this Request in that it places an undue burden on this non-party including, for example, requiring the non-party to search for all "documents," which has been broadly defined.

Without waiving such objections, all responsive documents in non-party Sarah Ransome's possession are attached hereto as RANSOME_000001-000016, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties' Protective Order.

4. All Communications You have had in whatever form with any other female who you ever witnessed at or in a property, home, business, plane or automobile other vehicle owned or controlled by Jeffrey Epstein.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks an unlimited number of communications between a non-party and an unlimited number of unidentified individuals. Defendant has made no effort to specifically identify a single individual, and instead casts an incredibly unreasonable net to include "any other female." Ransome objects to this Request in that it places an undue burden on this non-party including, for example, requiring the non-party to search for "documents," which has been broadly defined, for an unspecified period of time. This request is entirely unreasonable, and the very definition of overly broad. Ransome further objects to this Request in that it is vague and ambiguous, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action.

5. All Communications You have had with Natalya Malyshov, Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Sarah Kellen, or Nadia Marcincova.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks an unlimited number of unspecified communications. Specifically, Ransome objects to this request on the grounds of privilege, the work product doctrine, the common interest privilege, or any other privilege or protection. Ransome further objects to this request in that it is vague and ambiguous with respect to its reference to “all communications.” Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it places an undue burden on this non-party including, for example, requiring the non-party to search for "communications," which has been broadly defined for an unlimited period of time.

Without waiving such objections, all responsive documents in non-party Sarah Ransome’s possession are attached hereto as RANSOME_000001-000016, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties’ Protective Order.

6. Any photographs containing any image of Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, or Nadia Marcincova.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks an unlimited number of unspecified photographs. Ransome further objects to this request in that it is vague and ambiguous with respect to its reference to all photographs. Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it places an undue burden on this non-party including, for example, requiring the non-party to search for photographs for an unlimited period of time.

Without waiving such objections, all responsive photographs in non-party Sarah Ransome's possession are attached hereto as RANSOME_000024-000028, 000069, 000121-000123, 000126-000135, 000138-000143, 000145-000155, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties' Protective Order.

7. Any photographs taken by You, or containing any image of You, at, in or near any home, business, private vehicle (including airplane), or any other property owned or controlled by Jeffrey Epstein.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks an unlimited number of unspecified photographs. Ransome further objects to this request in that it is vague and ambiguous with respect to its reference to "any photographs." Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it places an undue burden on this non-party including, for example, requiring the non-party to search for photographs for an unlimited period of time.

Without waiving such objections, all responsive photographs in non-party Sarah Ransome's possession are attached hereto as RANSOME_000022, 42-47, 52, 56-59, 71, 127-131, 152, 153, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties' Protective Order.

8. Any photographs that depict any home, business, private vehicle (including airplane), or any other property owned or controlled by Jeffrey Epstein.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks an unlimited number of unspecified photographs. Ransome further objects to this request in that it is vague and ambiguous with respect to its reference to "any photographs." Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it places an undue burden on this non-party including, for example, requiring the non-party to search for photographs for an unlimited period of time.

Without waiving such objections, all responsive photographs in non-party Sarah Ransome's possession are attached hereto as RANSOME_00017-000156, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties' Protective Order.

9. All of Your passports, travel visas, or permissions to live, work or study in a foreign country, related to the years 2005-present.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled JANE DOE 43 v. Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Sarah Kellen, Lesley Groff, and Natalya Malyshev Case Number 1:17-cv-00616-JGK (S.D.N.Y.). Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it represents a complete invasion of privacy. A non-party should not be subjected to undue harassment serving no admissible purpose.

Without waiving such objections, a copy of non-party Sarah Ransome's current passport is attached hereto as RANSOME_000157-000168, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties' Protective Order.

10. All Communications regarding any of Your passports, visas, visa applications, or other permission to live, work or study in a foreign country, for the years 2005-present.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this requests seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled JANE DOE 43 v. Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Sarah Kellen, Lesley Groff, and Natalya Malyshev Case Number 1:17-cv-00616-JGK (S.D.N.Y.). Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it represents a complete invasion of privacy. A non-party should not be subjected to undue harassment serving no admissible purpose.

11. All Documents referencing any commercial plane tickets, boarding passes, or any other mode of travel during the time period 2006-2007.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this requests seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled *JANE DOE 43 v. Without waiving such objections, all responsive electronic communications in non-party Sarah Ransome's possession are attached hereto as RANSOME_000001-000015, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties' Protective Order.

24. Any Documents reflecting Your medical, mental health or emergency care or other treatment for any eating disorder, malnourishment, kidney malfunction, emotional problems, psychological or psychiatric disorders, sexually transmitted diseases, and therapy records, and any prescriptions for any of the above categories.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled JANE DOE 43 v. Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Sarah Kellen, Lesley Groff, and Natalya Malyshev Case Number 1:17-cv-00616-JGK (S.D.N.Y.). Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it represents a complete invasion of privacy. A non-party should not be subjected to undue harassment serving no admissible purpose.

25. Any Documents containing any Communications You have had with any law enforcement agency.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled *JANE DOE 43 v. Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it represents a complete invasion of privacy. A non-party should not be subjected to undue harassment serving no admissible purpose.

26. Any Documents that reflect any criminal charges, tickets, summonses, arrests, investigations concerning You or witnessed by You.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled JANE DOE 43 v. Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine

Maxwell, Sarah Kellen, Lesley Groff, and Natalya Malyshev Case Number 1:17-cv-00616-JGK (S.D.N.Y.). Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it represents a complete invasion of privacy. A non-party should not be subjected to undue harassment serving no admissible purpose.

27. Any Documents containing any statement regarding Your experience or contact with Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova, including without limitation any Communication with anyone, any diary, journal, email, letter, witness statement, and summary.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this requests seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled *JANE DOE 43 v. Ransome objects to this Request in that it represents a complete invasion of privacy. A non-party should not be subjected to undue harassment serving no admissible purpose.

Without waiving such objections, all responsive electronic communications in non-party Sarah Ransome's possession are attached hereto as RANSOME_000001-000015, which should be treated as Confidential pursuant to the parties' Protective Order.

28. Any civil complaint or civil demand filed by You or on Your behalf by which You have ever sought damages or compensation of any form or nature.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled JANE DOE 43 v. Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Sarah Kellen, Lesley Groff, and Natalya Malyshev Case Number 1:17-cv-00616-JGK (S.D.N.Y.).

Defendant is currently in possession of the aforementioned pleading. Therefore, Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it represents a complete invasion of privacy. A non-party should not be subjected to undue harassment serving no admissible purpose.

29. A copy of Your most recent paycheck, paycheck stub, earnings statement and any bank statement, credit card statement and any Document reflecting any money owed by You to anyone.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome objects to this Request as overbroad, harassing, and not calculated to lead to discoverable evidence relevant to the Defamation Action. Ransome objects to this Request in that it represents a complete invasion of privacy. A non-party should not be subjected to undue harassment serving no admissible purpose.

Ransome objects to Defendant's attempt to abuse subpoena power to seek private and confidential financial information or other confidential information of any kind from this non-party. Ransome further objects on the basis that the confidential and private financial records sought by Defendant relating to this non-party have no relevance to proving the allegations in the complaint, and are not discoverable. DeLeonardis v. Hara, 25 N.Y.S.3d 185, 185 (N.Y. App. Div. 2016).

30. A copy of your Facebook, Instagram, Twitter, and any other social media application or program for the years 2006-2007 and from 2015 – present.

RESPONSE:

In addition to the Preliminary Statement and General Objections, Ransome objects to this request in that she is a non-party and this request seeks information that is clearly not relevant to the underlying action. Ransome objects to Defendant being permitted to utilize the underlying action to obtain backdoor discovery into a separate action entirely unrelated to whether or not Maxwell defamed Virginia Roberts Giuffre. Ransome further objects to this request in that the face of the request demonstrates that the Defendant is abusing the subpoena power by serving a subpoena on a non-party that seeks discovery unrelated to the underlying matter, but instead allegedly relevant to another Federal Action styled *JANE DOE 43 v. United States District Court

Virginia L. Giuffre,

Plaintiff,

v.

Ghislaine Maxwell,

Defendant.

AFFIDAVIT

I, Sarah Ransome, swear and affirm as follows:

1. I am currently over the age of 18 and presently reside in the country of Spain.
2. In the summer of 2006, when I was twenty-two years old and living in New York, I was introduced to Jeffrey Epstein by a girl I had met named Natalya Malyshev. Shortly after meeting Jeffrey he invited me to fly to his private island in the US Virgin Islands, which I did. After that first trip I traveled to the island several more times, usually on one of Jeffrey's private airplanes, and always at his direction. I am told that my name appears on the flight logs of one or more of those trips. On a few occasions, Jeffrey also arranged to have me flown to the island on commercial flights. As it turned out, the primary purpose of those visits was to have me have sexual relations with Jeffrey, Nadia Macinkova, and various other girls and guests he brought to the island.
3. During one of my visits to the island I met Ghislaine Maxwell. Watching her interact with the other girls on the island, it became clear to me that she recruited all or many of them to the island. Once they were there, she appeared to be in charge of their activities, including what they did, who they did it with, and how they were supposed to stay in line. She assumed the same supervisory role with me as soon as I arrived. Some of the girls appeared to be 18 or older, but many appeared to be young teenagers. I recall seeing a particularly young, thin girl who looked well under 18 and recall asking her her age. I later learned she was a ballerina. She refused to tell me or let me see her passport.
4. In addition to spending time with Jeffrey on his island, I spent time with him in New York City. At his town house I was also lent out by him to his friends and associates to have sex. Among the people he lent me to was his friend, Alan Dershowitz. On one occasion I was in a bedroom at Jeffrey's New York townhouse with Jeffrey and Nadia Marcinkova. After a short time, Alan Dershowitz entered the room, after which Jeffrey left the room and Nadia and I had sex with Dershowitz. I recall specific, key details of his person and the sex acts and can describe them in the event it becomes necessary to do so.

CONFIDENTIAL

I affirm under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct.

Hey Natalie

It was Great to here from you.I replied yesterday but the whole email got deleted somehow when I pressed send. I was super irritated. Everything is going well here. In south Africa and I have to say it is wonderful being with my family. I will take lots and lots of photos to show you where I come from.

Still determined about going to Miami and then studying in NY. I will be leaving here on the 27th and then meeting up with Jeffrey where ever he may be... Well that is the plan as far as I know. I do however need to phone him this week. I am getting a bit nervous about evetthing now.diet is still going well. I am 57 kg now, I however dont want to loose anymore. Hav you started gym yet. You will definitely have a partner when I get back. Speaking of which have you found a super nice man yet? My beautiful friend you deserve the best. So what else is happening? Are you still doing your intemship and how is that going? Anyway I better go.

Babes I really miss you and I am so happy that you emailed me. Hope to hear from you soon.

Lots of hugs and kisses

Re: FIT website (14)

Sarah Ransome <[REDACTED]> 06/02/07 at 9:34 PM

To Lesley Groff

Hi Lesley

The good news is that I got your email. I am not sure what happened the first time but I think I must have deleted it by mistake as it went to bulk for some reason. I am however having a little bit of hassle. Due to me applying so late I am unable to send my application on line due to technicalities which is very frustrating considering the whole thing has been pulled out and is waiting to be submitted. Please can you ask Jeffery what the plan of action is as I cant apply on line and need to apply asap otherwise I definitely wont be able to study. Please could you also let him know that I am now 57kg and that everything is going well in Cape Town. My South African number is [REDACTED] so if you could get back to me tomorrow that would be great. Also please send my regards to everyone and give Jeffery my SA number. I hope you are well and will send you some warmth from my side of the world.

Hi Lesley

I will fax my application to you later on today as I am not able to email it. Could you also please tell Jeffery to phone me on the number I gave asap as I am not prepared to go under 56kg in order to study at FIT. I also need a flight booked back to New York so could you please check with Jeffery. The date that I would like to fly back is the 27th Feb.

Thanks very much

Hi Lesley

Sorry for the delay. Here is my essay and thank you for letting me know that you recieved my application otherwise I would start to worry. Also I really do need a flight booked back to New York preferably the 27th as it is high season here and there might not be any available flights at the end of the month. Can you please check with Jeffery and let me know.

Thanks ever so much

Sarah

P.S Could you also let him know that I am going to three different modelling agencies on Monday in search of a PA.

Morning lesley

Hope you had a good weekend. Did Jeffrey receive the essay and have you seen any flights yet? Could you please let Jeffrey know that I went into modelling agencies today and I might have a couple potentials.
Thanks.

Hey my gorgeous friend.

South Africa is still going well. Spent some quality time with my family and it has also given me the opportunity to think about a few things. I am very interested in the internship in new york. Adam and I are getting quite serious now and he unfortunately has just broken his ankle. Plonker! I am coming back next week Sunday so we should arrange to meet. How are things with you. Did you have a good v day. Yuck I hate sloppy couples! Has j said anything about me lately? Missing you lots honey and I am really looking forward to seeing you.

Lots of hugs and kisses

Additional information regarding attempted service, etc.:

Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45 (c), (d), (e), and (g) (Effective 12/1/13)*(c) Place of Compliance.

(1) For a Trial, Hearing, or Deposition. A subpoena may command a person to attend a trial, hearing, or deposition only as follows:

- (A) within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; or
- (B) within the state where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person, if the person
  - (i) is a party or a party's officer; or
  - (ii) is commanded to attend a trial and would not incur substantial expense.

(2) For Other Discovery. A subpoena may command:

- (A) production of documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things at a place within 100 miles of where the person resides, is employed, or regularly transacts business in person; and
- (B) inspection of premises at the premises to be inspected.

(d) Protecting a Person Subject to a Subpoena; Enforcement.

(1) Avoiding Undue Burden or Expense; Sanctions. A party or attorney responsible for issuing and serving a subpoena must take reasonable steps to avoid imposing undue burden or expense on a person subject to the subpoena. The court for the district where compliance is required must enforce this duty and impose an appropriate sanction—which may include lost earnings and reasonable attorney's fees—on a party or attorney who fails to comply.

(2) Command to Produce Materials or Permit Inspection.

(A) Appearance Not Required. A person commanded to produce documents, electronically stored information, or tangible things, or to permit the inspection of premises, need not appear in person at the place of production or inspection unless also commanded to appear for a deposition, hearing, or trial.

(B) Objections. A person commanded to produce documents or tangible things or to permit inspection may serve on the party or attorney designated in the subpoena a written objection to inspecting, copying, testing, or sampling any or all of the materials or to inspecting the premises—or to producing electronically stored information in the form or forms requested. The objection must be served before the earlier of the time specified for compliance or 14 days after the subpoena is served. If an objection is made, the following rules apply:

- (i) At any time, on notice to the commanded person, the serving party may move the court for the district where compliance is required for an order compelling production or inspection.
- (ii) These acts may be required only as directed in the order, and the order must protect a person who is neither a party nor a party's officer from significant expense resulting from compliance.

(3) Quashing or Modifying a Subpoena.

(A) When Required. On timely motion, the court for the district where compliance is required must quash or modify a subpoena that:

- (i) fails to allow a reasonable time to comply;
- (ii) requires a person to comply beyond the geographical limits specified in Rule 45(c);
- (iii) requires disclosure of privileged or other protected matter, if no exception or waiver applies; or
- (iv) subjects a person to undue burden.

(B) When Permitted. To protect a person subject to or affected by a subpoena, the court for the district where compliance is required may, on motion, quash or modify the subpoena if it requires:

(i) disclosing a trade secret or other confidential research, development, or commercial information; or

(ii) disclosing an unretained expert's opinion or information that does not describe specific occurrences in dispute and results from the expert's study that was not requested by a party.

(C) Specifying Conditions as an Alternative. In the circumstances described in Rule 45(d)(3)(B), the court may, instead of quashing or modifying a subpoena, order appearance or production under specified conditions if the serving party:

- (i) shows a substantial need for the testimony or material that cannot be otherwise met without undue hardship; and
- (ii) ensures that the subpoenaed person will be reasonably compensated.

(e) Duties in Responding to a Subpoena.

(1) Producing Documents or Electronically Stored Information. These procedures apply to producing documents or electronically stored information:

(A) Documents. A person responding to a subpoena to produce documents must produce them as they are kept in the ordinary course of business or must organize and label them to correspond to the categories in the demand.

(B) Form for Producing Electronically Stored Information Not Specified. If a subpoena does not specify a form for producing electronically stored information, the person responding must produce it in a form or forms in which it is ordinarily maintained or in a reasonably usable form or forms.

(C) Electronically Stored Information Produced in Only One Form. The person responding need not produce the same electronically stored information in more than one form.

(D) Inaccessible Electronically Stored Information. The person responding need not provide discovery of electronically stored information from sources that the person identifies as not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. On motion to compel discovery or for a protective order, the person responding must show that the information is not reasonably accessible because of undue burden or cost. If that showing is made, the court may nonetheless order discovery from such sources if the requesting party shows good cause, considering the limitations of Rule 26(b)(2)(C). The court may specify conditions for the discovery.

(2) Claiming Privilege or Protection.

(A) Information Withheld. A person withholding subpoenaed information under a claim that it is privileged or subject to protection as trial-preparation material must:

- (i) expressly make the claim; and
- (ii) describe the nature of the withheld documents, communications, or tangible things in a manner that, without revealing information itself privileged or protected, will enable the parties to assess the claim.

(B) Information Produced. If information produced in response to a subpoena is subject to a claim of privilege or of protection as trial-preparation material, the person making the claim may notify any party that received the information of the claim and the basis for it. After being notified, a party must promptly return, sequester, or destroy the specified information and any copies it has; must not use or disclose the information until the claim is resolved; must take reasonable steps to retrieve the information if the party disclosed it before being notified; and may promptly present the information under seal to the court for the district where compliance is required for a determination of the claim. The person who produced the information must preserve the information until the claim is resolved.

(g) Contempt.

The court for the district where compliance is required—and also, after a motion is transferred, the issuing court—may hold in contempt a person who, having been served, fails without adequate excuse to obey the subpoena or an order related to it.

ATTACHMENT A

DEFINITIONS

1. "Any" means any and all.
2. "You" or "Your" means Sarah Ransome, and anyone acting on Your behalf, and any employee, agent, attorney, consultant, assignee, related entities or other representative of You.
3. "Agent" shall mean any agent, employee, officer, director, attorney, independent contractor or any other person acting, or purporting to act, at the discretion of or on behalf of another.
4. "Document" is intended to be defined as broadly as permitted by Rule 34 and includes every writing or record of every type and description that is or has been in Your possession, custody or control, or of which You have knowledge, including but not limited to, emails, text messages, instant messages, videotapes, photographs, notes, letters, memoranda, forms, books, magazines, resumes, notebooks, ledgers, journals, diaries, calendars, appointment books, papers, agreements, contracts, invoices, analyses, transcripts, plaques, correspondence, telegrams, drafts, data processing or computer diskettes and CD disks, tapes of any nature and computer interpretations thereof, instructions, announcements, and sound recordings of any nature. "Document" also means all copies which are not identical to the original document as originally written, typed or otherwise prepared. The term "Document" shall also include all documents of any nature that have been archived or placed in permanent or temporary storage including electronic storage.
5. "Communication" means any transmission or exchange of information between two or more persons, orally or in writing or otherwise, and includes, but is not limited to, any correspondence, conversation or discussion, whether face-to-face, or by means of telephone, email, text message, electronic message via apps such as Facebook, What's App, Snapchat, LinkedIn or similar, or other media or Documents.
6. "Virginia Roberts Giuffre" means Virginia Giuffre, formerly known as Virginia Roberts, date of birth [REDACTED] the Plaintiff in the above captioned matter.
7. "Identify" means to specify as to a "Person," the name, address, telephone number and any other identifying information possessed by You.
8. "Person" means any natural person, individual, firm, partnership, association, joint venture, estate, trust, receiver, syndicate, enterprise or combination, corporation or other legal, business or government entity.
9. Regardless of the tense employed, all verbs should be read as applying to the past, present and future, as is necessary to make any paragraph more, rather than less, inclusive.

10. With respect to any Documents withheld on the basis of a privilege, provide a log consistent with Local Rule 26.2 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure for the Southern District of New York.

INSTRUCTIONS

1. Production of documents and items requested herein shall be made to Laura Menninger, Haddon, Morgan & Foreman, PC, 150 E. 10th Ave., Denver, CO 80220, no later than February 13, 2017, at 9:00 a.m. Alternatively, you may provide the records electronically by that date and time to Laura Menninger at LMenninger@HMFLLaw.com or by such other method as agreed upon with counsel for the subpoenaing party.
2. This Request calls for the production of all responsive Documents in your possession, custody or control without regard to the physical location of such documents.
3. If any Document was in your possession or control, but is no longer, state what disposition was made of said Document, the reason for the disposition, and the date of such disposition.
4. In producing Documents, if the original of any Document cannot be located, a copy shall be produced in lieu thereof, and shall be legible and bound or stapled in the same manner as the original.
5. Any copy of a Document that is not identical shall be considered a separate document.
6. All Documents shall be produced in the same order as they are kept or maintained by you in the ordinary course of business.
7. Responsive electronically stored information (ESI) shall be produced in its native form; that is, in the form in which the information was customarily created, used and stored by the native application employed by the producing party in the ordinary course of business.
8. Defendant does not seek and does not require the production of multiple copies of identical Documents.
9. Unless otherwise specified, the time frame of this request is from 1999 to present.
10. This Request is deemed to be continuing. If, after producing these Documents, you obtain or become aware of any further information, Documents, things, or information responsive to this Request, you are required to so state by supplementing your responses and producing such additional Documents to Defendant.

DOCUMENTS TO BE PRODUCED

1. All Documents containing Communications with Virginia Roberts Giuffre, or any of her attorneys, agents, investigators, from the period 1999-present.
2. All fee agreements for Your engagements with any attorneys for the purpose of pursuing any civil or criminal claims regarding Jeffrey Epstein, Ghislaine Maxwell, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova.
3. All Documents that reference, relate to, or mention, whether by name or otherwise, the following individuals: Virginia Roberts, Ghislaine Maxwell, Jeffrey Epstein, Natalya Malyshev, Sarah Kellen, and Nadia Marcincova.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

Virginia L Giuffre,
Plaintiff

v.

Ghislaine Maxwell,
Defendant

_____/

JEFFREY EPSTEIN'S MOTION TO QUASH TRIAL SUBPOENA

Jeffrey Epstein, a non-party to the above captioned action, has been subpoenaed to testify at the trial of this case, being commanded to appear on May 15, 2017.<sup>1</sup> He now moves to quash that subpoena for the reasons set forth herein.

Mr. Epstein was deposed by the parties on November 10, 2016. At that deposition, he asserted his Fifth Amendment privilege and declined to answer all substantive questions posed to him during the deposition. The validity of his assertion of the privilege has already been the subject of extensive litigation in this case, with this Court ruling that, as to questions which the parties sought to compel him to answer, Mr. Epstein's assertion of the privilege was valid and proper. Order, February 2, 2017 (under seal).<sup>2</sup> Mr. Epstein's good faith basis for his assertion of his Fifth Amendment privilege remains unabated. As plaintiff is well aware, it is Mr. Epstein's intention, if he is called as a witness at the trial of this case, to once again assert his Fifth Amendment privilege in response to questioning, and his assertion of the privilege at trial will be no less valid than it was at his deposition. Under the circumstances of this case, this Court should not require Mr. Epstein to physically appear to assert his Fifth Amendment privilege in front of the jury.

<sup>1</sup> Mr. Epstein agreed to have his attorney accept service of the subpoena but, in so doing, reserved his rights to move to quash the subpoena on any and all grounds.

<sup>2</sup> As to other questions that the parties sought to compel Mr. Epstein to answer, the Court concluded that the information sought was irrelevant. Id. at 13. The upshot of the Court's ruling was that Mr. Epstein was not required to answer any of the questions to which the parties sought to compel his answers.

While it may be true that there is no blanket prohibition in all civil cases against calling a witness who will assert his Fifth Amendment privilege, see, e.g., Brinks, Inc. v. City of New York, 717 F.2d 700, 708-10 (2d Cir. 1983); see also LiButti v. United States, 107 F.3d 110 (2d Cir. 1997), neither is it the rule that it should be permitted in all such cases. Instead, the propriety of requiring a witness to appear at trial to invoke his Fifth Amendment rights in front of a jury must be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. “The trial judge maintains discretion under Fed. R. Evid. 403 to control the way in which non-party claims of privilege reach the jury.” RAD Servs., Inc. v. Aetna Cas. & Sur. Co., 808 F.2d 271, 272 (3d Cir. 1986), quoted in LiButti, 107 F.3d at 122. See Evans v. City of Chicago, 513 F.3d 735, 740-41 (7th Cir. 2008)(finding no abuse of discretion in district court’s refusal to permit plaintiff to “maximize and dramatize the moment” by calling witness to assert Fifth Amendment privilege in front of jury); see also Brinks, 717 F.2d at 715 (Winter, J., dissenting)(decrying the “invitation to sharp practice” inherent in “permitting the systematic interrogation of witnesses on direct examination by counsel who knows they will assert the privilege against self-incrimination”).

Here, Mr. Epstein submitted to deposition under oath and recorded on video. At that deposition, the parties had an unlimited opportunity to examine him at length, asking approximately 600 separate questions, to all of which Mr. Epstein asserted his Fifth Amendment privilege. No different result would obtain were Mr. Epstein forced to take the stand and assert his Fifth Amendment privilege in front of the jury. Plaintiff seeks to call Mr. Epstein as a witness in the hope not of eliciting substantive testimony but of obtaining adverse inferences against defendant Maxwell based on Mr. Epstein's assertion of the Fifth Amendment privilege with respect to various questions. Whether or not such adverse inferences are appropriate under the circumstances of this case is currently being litigated between the parties and will be decided by this Court. As explained below, requiring Mr. Epstein to appear before a jury to answer the very same questions as to which he has already asserted his Fifth Amendment privilege during sworn video-recorded testimony will add nothing to the ultimate issue of whether any adverse inference should be permitted, nor would it make any potential adverse inference any more or less valid.

The Second Circuit has identified four factors which are relevant to the determination as to whether courts should permit juries to draw adverse inferences against a party based on a witness' invocation of his Fifth Amendment privilege:

1. The Nature of the Relevant Relationships: While no particular relationship governs, the nature of the relationship will invariably be the most significant circumstance. It should be examined, however, from the perspective of a non-party witness' loyalty to the plaintiff or defendant, as the case may be. The closer the bond, whether by reason of blood, friendship or business, the less likely the non-party witness would be to render testimony in order to damage the relationship.
2. The Degree of Control of the Party Over the Non-Party Witness: The degree of control which the party has vested in the non-party witness in regard to the key facts and general subject matter of the litigation will likely inform the trial court whether the assertion of the privilege should be viewed as akin to testimony approaching admissibility under Fed. R. Evid. 801(d)(2), and may accordingly be viewed, as in Brink's, as a vicarious admission.
3. The Compatibility of the Interests of the Party and Non-Party Witness in the Outcome of the Litigation: The trial court should evaluate whether the non-party witness is pragmatically a noncaptioned party in interest and whether the assertion of the privilege advances the interests of both the non-party witness and the affected party in the outcome of the litigation.
4. The Role of the Non-Party Witness in the Litigation: Whether the non-party witness was a key figure in the litigation and played a controlling role in respect to any of its underlying aspects also logically merits consideration by the trial court.

LiButti, 107 F.3d at 123-24 (italics in original). In her motion seeking to present Mr. Epstein's assertions of his Fifth Amendment privilege in response to various questions, plaintiff has argued why these factors should result in adverse inferences against defendant Maxwell, see Plaintiff Giuffre's Motion to Present Testimony from Jeffrey Epstein for Purposes of Obtaining an Adverse Inference ("Motion to Present Epstein Testimony") at 10-13, and defendant Maxwell has argued why they should not, see Defendant's Response in Opposition to Plaintiff Giuffre's Motion to Present Testimony from Jeffrey Epstein for Purposes of Obtaining an Adverse Inference ("Opposition to Motion to Present Epstein Testimony") at 2-11. Requiring Mr. Epstein to appear personally to assert his Fifth Amendment privilege in front of the jury has no potential whatsoever to add to or detract from either plaintiff's arguments in favor of an adverse inference or arguments in opposition presented by defendant Maxwell. These factors all present questions which can be determined entirely independently of Mr. Epstein's appearance as a witness at trial. Plaintiff appears to recognize as much, as she makes no distinction in her motion between live testimony and deposition testimony; indeed, plaintiff indicates in her motion that, if Mr. Epstein were to appear as a witness, she would put the very same questions to him as she did at his deposition. See id. at 4 ("Ms. Giuffre now intends to call Epstein to ask him these same questions, either live an in-person if he honors a trial subpoena served on his legal counsel, or, if he fails to appear, via deposition testimony such as the designations just discussed" (emphasis added)). Indeed, in LiButti itself, the issue was the admissibility of the witness' deposition testimony and the extent to which, if any, adverse inference inferences should be drawn from the witness' invocation of the Fifth Amendment at his deposition. Nothing will be added to the adverse inference inquiry by requiring Mr. Epstein to appear personally and reassert his Fifth Amendment privilege in front of the jury, nor would the jury be aided in determining whether to draw any adverse inferences it is permitted to consider by seeing Mr. Epstein assert the privilege in live testimony in front of it, rather than by seeing him do the same thing in his video deposition.

Adverse inference issues are often submitted to the jury based on deposition testimony rather than on live invocation of the privilege in front of the jury, see, e.g., SEC v. Jasper, 678 F.3d 1116, 1125 (9th Cir. 2012); RAD, 808 F.2d at 272; Data Gen. Corp. v. Grumman Sys. Support Corp., 825 F. Supp. 340, 352 (D. Mass. 1993); East Coast Novelty Co. v. City of New York, 842 F. Supp. 117, 121 (S.D.N.Y. 1994); Penfield v. Venuti, 589 F. Supp. 250, 255-56 (D.Conn. 1984), and, should this Court determine that the jury may consider whether an adverse inference is appropriate with respect to any particular questions asked of Mr. Epstein, then the use of Mr. Epstein's video deposition testimony is the procedure which should be followed in this case.

While requiring Mr. Epstein to invoke his Fifth Amendment privilege in front of the jury will yield not even a marginal benefit to either party, there are substantial countervailing concerns that weigh heavily against requiring Mr. Epstein to appear at trial. First, Mr. Epstein's personal appearance would likely generate substantial media attention which would threaten to undermine the parties' rights to a fair trial, a result which neither plaintiff or defendant could legitimately welcome. Second, requiring Mr. Epstein's personal appearance would impose an undue and unnecessary burden on him. Mr. Epstein is not a resident of New York; on the contrary, as both parties know, he resides in the Virgin Islands.<sup>3</sup> Because Mr. Epstein's assertion of his Fifth Amendment privilege at his video deposition is the functional equivalent of an in-person assertion, the distance of travel required and the expenses which would be incurred—here, not just the cost of travel to New York but also additional legal fees for representation during his testimony—would impose a substantial and unwarranted burden on Mr. Epstein.

Fed. R. Civ P. 45(d)(3)(A)(iv) provides that the court for the district where compliance is required must quash a subpoena that “subjects a person to undue burden.” “An evaluation of undue burden requires the court to weigh the burden to the subpoenaed party against the value of the information to the serving party.” Travelers Indem. Co. v. Metro. Life Ins. Co., 228 F.R.D. 111, 113 (D. Conn. 2005). “Whether a subpoena subjects a witness to undue burden within the meaning of [Rule 45(d)(3)(A)(iv)] ‘depends upon such factors as relevance . . . and the burden imposed.’” Garneau v. Paquin, 2015 WL 3466833, at *3 (D. Conn. June 1, 2015), quoting In re Application of Operacion y Supervision de Hoteles, S.A., 2015 WL 82007, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 6, 2015). See Cusumano v. Microsoft Corp., 162 F.3d 708, 717 (1st Cir. 1998)(“concern for the unwanted burden thrust upon non-parties is a factor entitled to special weight in evaluating the balance of competing needs”). Here, forcing Mr. Epstein, a nonparty, to travel to New York to assert his Fifth Amendment privilege in front of the jury would add no “value” to either plaintiff’s or defendant’s case beyond whatever may be afforded by Mr. Epstein’s assertion of his Fifth Amendment privilege at his video deposition, nor would Mr. Epstein’s personal appearance at trial add anything of relevance to the parties’ cases beyond that which the jury could observe in Mr. Epstein’s video deposition testimony. Given the wholesale lack of value or relevance of Mr. Epstein’s personal appearance before the jury, the burdens to which such an appearance would subject him should be controlling. This is particularly true when the spectre of this trial's becoming even more of a media event is factored into the analysis.<sup>4</sup>

Plaintiff also argues in her motion that she should be permitted to call Mr. Epstein as a witness to forestall the possibility that the jury would find it odd that she had not called Mr. Epstein to testify. Motion to Present Epstein Testimony at 13-15. As defendant argues in the Opposition to Motion to Present Epstein Testimony:

To the extent a jury wonders why Mr. Epstein is not called by Plaintiff, they will also wonder why Ms. Maxwell is not calling him if he has exonerating information. There are a myriad of reasons why a witness may or may not testify or why evidence may or may not be presented at trial. Fortunately, this is a problem that is easily remedied through jury instructions.

<sup>4</sup> Mr. Epstein has been, and continues to be, the subject of extensive publicity, much of it salacious. A Google search for "Jeffrey Epstein" returns 508,000 entries, the most recent of which center on the new nominee for Secretary of Labor, Alexander Acosta, who, when he was United States Attorney for the Southern District of Florida, approved Mr. Epstein's nonprosecution agreement. See, e.g., New York Daily News, "Labor Secretary nominee Alexander Acosta gave 'sweetheart deal' to sex offender Jeffrey Epstein," February 16, 2017, available at <http://www.nydailynews.com/news/national/labor-pick-acosta-gave-sweetheart-deal-sex-offender-epstein-article-1.2975065> (last visited February 17, 2017); Politico, "Trump's Labor nominee oversaw 'sweetheart plea deal' in billionaire's underage sex case," February 16, 2017, available at <http://www.politico.com/story/2017/02/alexander-acosta-trump-jeffrey-epstein-plea-235096> (last visited February 17, 2017). Mr. Epstein's name has been widely linked in the press with prominent individuals such as Donald Trump, Bill Clinton, Prince Andrew. See, e.g., New York Post, "The 'sex slave' scandal that exposed pedophile billionaire Jeffrey Epstein," October 9, 2016, available at <http://nypost.com/2016/10/09/the-sex-slave-scandal-that-exposed-pedophile-billionaire-jeffrey-epstein/> (last visited February 17, 2017); Newsweek, "Jeffrey Epstein: the Sex Offender Who Mixes with Princes and Premiers," January 29, 2015, available at <http://www.newsweek.com/2015/02/06/sex-offender-who-mixes-princes-and-premiers-302877.html> (last visited February 17, 2017). He is the subject of a recently released book by best-selling author James Patterson titled Filthy Rich: A Powerful Billionaire, the Sex Scandal that Undid Him, and All the Justice that Money Can Buy - The Shocking True Story of Jeffrey Epstein (Little, Brown & Co. October 10, 2016). His personal appearance at the trial of this case would predictably be the focus of massive media attention, of both the mainstream and gutter variety.

Opposition to Motion to Present Epstein Testimony at 15. Moreover, presenting Mr. Epstein's deposition testimony in which he asserted his Fifth Amendment privilege in response to questioning regarding plaintiff's allegations would completely alleviate this concern, as the jury would know from that testimony exactly "what Epstein . . . has to say about all this." Motion to Present Epstein Testimony at 14. There is no indication in Cerro Gordo Charity v. Fireman's Fund Am. Life Ins. Co., 819 F.2d 1471 (8th Cir. 1987), on which plaintiff relies, id. at 14-15, that deposition testimony of the witness was available in lieu of personal appearance before the jury to assert the Fifth Amendment privilege. The Court, stressing that the determination must be made on a case-by-case basis, id. at 1481, concluded that there was no error in permitting the witness to be called even though he had indicated that he would assert the privilege because [h]earing Richards invoke the privilege informed the jury why the parties with the burden of proof, i.e., the insurance companies, resorted to less direct and more circumstantial evidence than Richards' own account of what had occurred. . . . Otherwise, the jury might have inferred that the companies did not call Richards to testify because his testimony would have damaged their case.

Id. at 1482. Even a limited use of Mr. Epstein's deposition testimony would serve these purposes equally well, as the jury would be left in no doubt as to why the plaintiff had not called Mr. Epstein as a witness.

Finally, defendant Maxwell has argued in her Opposition to Motion to Present Epstein Testimony that to the extent any questions posed to Mr. Epstein in his deposition might have been relevant to the issues in this case, presenting those questions and Mr. Epstein's responsive Fifth Amendment invocation to the jury would be substantially more prejudicial than probative:

As to any questions regarding Ms. Maxwell or Plaintiff, the questions are severely more prejudicial than probative, designed only to confuse and mislead the jury into making a determination on an improper basis. The LiButti court and subsequent decisions have been quite clear that the types of questions posed to Mr. Epstein, leading pejorative questions, designed to suggest that the answer would be yes, are precisely the types of questions that should be excluded from evidence under 403.

Opposition to Motion to Present Epstein Testimony at 12. Requiring Mr. Epstein's live Fifth Amendment invocation in front of the jury in response to the very same questions would be no less prejudicial and no more probative and would provide no independent basis to justify the burdens it imposes on Mr. Epstein or the damage to the integrity of the trial which will likely result from the media circus generated by Mr. Epstein's personal appearance.

CONCLUSION

For all the foregoing reasons, Mr. Epstein's Motion to Quash should be granted.

By and through her undersigned counsel, Ms. Giuffre hereby submits her Response in Opposition to Defendant's Motion for Sanctions. Defendant's frivolous motion should be denied. As part of a therapeutic exercise, Ms. Giuffre burned a personal journal with memories of her sexual abuse in 2013 – two years before the defamation in this case occurred and three years before this litigation began. Sanctions are, accordingly, obviously not appropriate.

I. INTRODUCTION

On November 2, 2016, this Court entered an Order granting Ms. Giuffre an adverse inference instruction due to Defendant's willful refusal to turn over electronic discovery. Just one month later, the Defendant filed this frivolous motion, asking for an adverse inference against Ms. Giuffre because Ms. Giuffre burned an emotionally painful journal as part of a healing process – healing from Defendant's sex abuse – two years before this defamation cause of action accrued and three years before the start of this litigation,<sup>1</sup> and because Ms. Giuffre could not find a notebook in which she recorded her dreams, an item for which there is no evidence of having evidentiary value whatsoever. Significantly, there is no evidence that the dream journal became missing after she had a duty to preserve it, and Defendant has made no showing that Ms. Giuffre had this dream journal in her possession while she had a duty to preserve. Ms. Giuffre testified that she thought it was located in her child's closet, but upon searching for it, she was not able to find it. It is unknown even to Ms. Giuffre when it was lost.

The basic facts appear to be uncontested. As Ms. Giuffre testified in her depositions, she was sexually abused by Epstein and the Defendant in and around 2000. Then, a decade after her sexual abuse, in around 2011 and 2012, she wrote some memories of that sexual abuse in a journal. Then in 2013, she burned that journal as a "spiritual" exercise to help her heal from the sexual abuse. Of course, the facts at issue in this case began in January 2015, when Defendant defamed Ms. Giuffre, leading to this lawsuit, filed in September 2015. Ms. Giuffre also testified that, at one point, she had a dream journal, but never testified that she had her dream journal during the pendency of this litigation or that her dream journal had anything related to this litigation within it.

Ms. Giuffre performed a diligent search for all documents even potentially connected to this case. She produced a 141 page manuscript from her electronic files, which was also written in 2011; she produced a huge number of photographs and travel documents from the time Defendant and Epstein abused her; and she produced a copious amount of ESI from various sources. To leave no stone unturned, Ms. Giuffre paid $600 to retrieve storage boxes from a remote location and produced additional photographs found within those boxes. After a diligent search with the assistance of her attorneys, Ms. Giuffre was unable to locate the spiral bound notebook into which she used to record some of her dreams. However, the great number of documents produced by Ms. Giuffre, and those produced by third-parties, unambiguously point to the conclusion that this dream book would not have been useful to Defendant, because if it included anything related to this matter, it would likely have simply contained additional notes about Defendant's involvement with Epstein in abusing her.

From these simple facts, Defendant now seeks to spin a claim of "intentional destruction of evidence." That the Defendant is asking the Court to somehow penalize Ms. Giuffre for taking a step to heal from Defendant's sexual abuse is perverse. In any event, it is wholly unsupported in law, as no duty exists to preserve documents before a cause of action accrues. Of course, Ms. Giuffre could not predict in 2013 that Defendant would later defame her in 2015. Therefore, Ms. Giuffre had no duty to preserve anything at that point in time. And, in any event, she has performed a diligent search to locate all potentially relevant documents. Ms. Giuffre was unable to find anything connected with the dream journal, which is obviously why she could not produce it.

Defendant is unable to cite even a single case in which any court has imposed a “sanction” for document destruction entirely unrelated to the case before the court. Seeming to recognize this problem, Defendant claims that Ms. Giuffre somehow was obligated to preserve her journal in 2013 because she was contemplating joining a case involving the Crime Victims Rights Act (CVRA) against the federal government then pending in the Southern District of Florida. If we understand the chain of reasoning correctly, Defendant apparently argues that (1) Ms. Giuffre’s mere interest in the CVRA case in 2013, which later matured into a motion to join in 2014, somehow triggered some duty to preserve the notes about sex abuse (which she had made earlier in her journal in 2011 and 2012) when she was considering burning the notes in 2013; (2) that duty to preserve those notes in 2013 potentially related to the motion she filed in the CVRA case in 2014; and (3) that such a duty, somehow, attaches to a defamation claim due to statements made by the Defendant in 2015. This contrived argument is wholly without merit for several reasons. First, Ms. Giuffre had no duty to preserve her journal in 2013. Second, even if any duty arose (which it did not), the duty would have been to the U.S. Attorney’s Office – which has not made any argument that its interests have been impaired. Third, any duty to preserve the journal would have been in connection with that litigation, not this defamation case which arose several years later. Fourth, in any event, Ms. Giuffre has produced a lengthy, 141-page draft manuscript that was written in 2011, the same year she was writing in her journal, as well as the notes from her treating psychologist from the same year.

Tellingly, Defendant cites no case law – in any jurisdiction – to support the proposition that any duty to preserve materials for a federal crime victim’s right case in the past (let alone one that involved wholly different parties and wholly different causes of action) somehow transfers to a New York state law defamation claim involving a different party that arose years later. To the contrary, even rulings in the Southern District of New York hold the opposite, but Defendant failed to cite those rulings. Instead, Defendant’s brief quotes extensively from cases in which parties destroyed evidence after the cause of action accrued and after the parties had notice of a duty to preserve. Those are inapposite.

Because this is a losing argument for the Defendant, unsupported by law or logic, Defendant’s brief turns to fiction and fancy, making inflammatory claims against Ms. Giuffre and her attorneys that have absolutely no basis in fact. For example, Defendant’s brief states that “there is reason to suspect that Plaintiff acted in concert with or was encouraged by her attorneys to embellish her story.” Motion at 12. Tellingly absent from Defendant’s brief are any “reasons” or supporting facts for that allegation.

This Court has previously instructed Defendant to discontinue filing “frivolous or vexatious motions” based upon nothing but “a supposing of bad faith,” “lacking sufficient factual support to support a colorable argument.”

Having provided no grounds to doubt the sworn representations of Plaintiff’s counsel, Defendant’s motion to compel these communications is denied. Defendant is granted leave to refile the motions with respect to media and business advice on the basis of relevant and non-specious factual support. Court intervention should not be invoked to resolve routine discovery matters on the basis of a supposition of bad faith. Further filing of frivolous or vexatious motions lacking sufficient factual support to support a colorable argument (or on the basis of misrepresented or false facts or law) will be met with sanctions.

June 20, 2016, Sealed Order at 13-14. The Defendant ignored this Order, and her motion should be denied.

II. LEGAL ARGUMENT

A. Defendant's Motion Should Be Denied Because it is Untimely and Defendant is Merely Trying to Deflect from Her Own Discovery Misconduct

The first reason the Court should deny this motion is that it is simply and obviously untimely. Defendant complained to this Court at least as early as May 2016, that Ms. Giuffre had a bonfire two years prior to Defendant's defamation. As counsel for Ms. Giuffre said at the time:

There is absolutely no reason why my client should reasonably anticipate that her sex abuser would defame her in the global stage at that point [when she held the bonfire]. She is a child victim of sex abuse at the hands of the defendant [and] co-conspirators, and she decided to burn certain memories as a step toward the healing process. That is outside the control of counsel and certainly unrelated to anything going on in an action filed in 2015.

May 12, 2016 Hr. Tr. at 10:1-8.

Yet while these issues were before the Court by (at least) May, Defendant waited an additional seven months to file this motion that she claims should result in the complete dismissal of this action. Such delay is unreasonable. The Second Circuit has held that “a motion for Rule 37 sanctions should be promptly made thereby allowing the judge to rule on the matter when it is still fresh in his mind.” Mercy v. County of Suffolk, 748 F.2d 52, 56 (2d Cir.1984). Defendant gives no reason why she did not present this issue to the Court last May, and she cites no new information in her brief that developed during that time. Instead, the only intervening development with some connection to the motion may be this Court's November 2, 2016, Order, which concluded that the Defendant had withheld discovery materials. A few weeks later, the Defendant filed this motion accusing Ms. Giuffre of withholding discovery materials.<sup>2</sup>

<sup>2</sup> Defendant appears to have a pattern of filing seemingly tit-for-tat motions. In many such motions, Defendant copies the language of Plaintiff's briefs word-for-word, despite there being few, if any, factual similarities. See, e.g., Plaintiff's Motion to Compel for Improper Claim of

The key fact is that Defendant fails to offer any explanation whatsoever for her delay in bringing this motion. Therefore, this Court should reject Defendant's motion as untimely. See Gutman v. Klein, 2010 WL 4916722, at *8 (E.D.N.Y. Nov. 24, 2010) (denying sanctions motion, in part, as untimely).

B. There Was No Duty to Preserve The Journal Because There Was No Pending or Reasonably Foreseeable Litigation to Which Ms. Giuffre Was a Party

Turning to the merits of Defendant's motion, Ms. Giuffre could not have violated any duty to preserve her journal because no such duty existed. "Spoliation is the destruction or significant alteration of evidence, or the failure to preserve property for another's use as evidence in pending or reasonably foreseeable litigation." Kraus v. General Motors Corp., 2007 WL 3146911, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 24, 2007) (denying sanctions). Defendant fails to meet her burden because when Ms. Giuffre burned her journal in 2013, this litigation (filed in 2015) was not "pending." Nor was this litigation "reasonably foreseeable." In 2013, Ms. Giuffre had no way of foreseeing that, two years later in 2015, the Defendant would maliciously defame her. Defendant's motion should be denied on this ground alone.

Attempting to manufacture such a duty, Defendant points to the fact that in 2013, Ms. Giuffre was considering joining the CVRA case in Florida. It is also important to understand the context of that case. As the Court will recall from earlier briefing, in 2008, two child sexual abuse victims of Jeffrey Epstein brought suit against the United States Attorney for the Southern District of Florida under the Crime Victims' Rights Act (CVRA), 18 U.S.C. § 3771. The cause of action was premised upon the U.S. Attorney Office's failure to timely notify Epstein's victims of Epstein's non-prosecution agreement, as required under 18 U.S.C. § 3771(a). Six years after the lawsuit's inception, on December 30, 2014, Ms. Giuffre filed a motion to join the CVRA case. Several months later, Judge Marra denied Ms. Giuffre's motion. See April 7, 2015, Order Denying Petitioners' Motion to Join under Rule 21 and Motion to Amend under Rule 15, Jane Doe No. #1 and #2 v. United States, No. 9:08-cv-80736-KAM, S.D. Fla. at DE 280 and DE 324.

This ruling alone eliminates any duty that even arguably could have attached to Ms. Giuffre in 2013 – any contemplated litigation simply never later materialized. But, in any event, any duty that Ms. Giuffre may have had related to the CVRA case would have run to the sole defendant in that case – the U.S. Attorney's Office. The Office had years earlier (in 2008) identified Ms. Giuffre as a protected "victim" of Jeffrey Epstein's sex abuse, even mailing to Ms. Giuffre a notice of her rights as a crime victim under the CVRA. See Schultz Dec. at Exhibit 1, Victim Notification Letter. Accordingly, Ms. Giuffre's status as a "victim" could never have been an issue in the CVRA case. The limited issue in the CVRA case is whether the Government properly discharged its duties to the victims to confer with them and notifying them of the non-prosecution agreement it signed with Jeffrey Epstein. The journal could only have related to issues about Ms. Giuffre's victimization, and thus even in the unrelated CVRA case, which Ms. Giuffre was not allowed to join, the journal was not relevant.

Beyond these problems for Defendant's argument here, in 2014 the only duty that Ms. Giuffre could have had would have been to the U.S. Attorney's Office. That Office presumably would have encouraged Ms. Giuffre to undertake whatever steps were needed to facilitate her healing from the terrible crimes Epstein and his co-conspirators inflicted on her. See 18 U.S.C. § 3771(a)(8) (requiring federal government to treat crime victims "with fairness and with respect for the victim's dignity and privacy"). Defendant's claim here necessarily requires that Defendant step into the Government's shoes to establish a breach of duty. Ms. Giuffre has violated no duty she directly owed to the Government, and thus violated no duty she (arguably) indirectly owed to the Defendant.

C. There Was No Willful Destruction of Evidence

An additional reason for denying the motion is that Ms. Giuffre lacked any “culpable” state of mind. “A party must have acted in bad faith – intentionally or willfully – in order to have a sufficiently culpable state of mind warranting an adverse inference . . . [which] may be met through ordinary negligence.” See In re Methyl Tertiary Butyl Ether Prods. Liab. Litig., 643 F. Supp. 2d 482, 495-96 (S.D.N.Y. 2009) (denying sanctions) (internal quotations omitted). In burning her journal, in which she had written painful memories of repeated sexual abuse, Ms. Giuffre did not have a culpable state of mind, nor was she negligent. To the contrary, as Defendant conceded in her moving brief, Ms. Giuffre testified – at two depositions - that she burned her journal as a “spiritual” act of healing from her sexual abuse in an effort to move forward with life. Specifically, as Defendant notes, Ms. Giuffre testified, “I was burning like memories, thoughts, dreams that I had, just everything that was kind of affiliated with the abuse I endured”. See Schultz Decl. at Exhibit 2, January 16, 2016, Giuffre Dep. Tr. at 64:24-65:3. Ms. Giuffre also testified, “. . . it was not under the instruction of my lawyers to do this. My husband and I were pretty spiritual people and we believed that these memories were worth burning.” See Schultz Decl. at Exhibit 3, May 3, 2016, Giuffre Dep. Tr. at. 205:25-206:3.

Accordingly, Ms. Giuffre’s state of mind was that of a child sex abuse victim who later, in pain, attempted to achieve spiritual recovery by burning memories she had recently recorded of the sex abuse – abuse, it is worth recalling, she endured at the hands of Defendant and Epstein. Importantly, as Defendant concedes, this journal was not created at the time Defendant and Epstein subjected her to sexual abuse. (Q. “So you did not write this journal at the time it happened?” A. “No.” Q. “You started writing this journal approximately a decade after you claim you finished being sexually trafficked, correct?” A. “Yes.” Id. at 206:16-22). Even if Ms. Giuffre contemplated any litigation having anything to do whatsoever with what was in that journal, she had no notice of any duty to preserve notes she had written as a healing exercise. Accordingly, Defendant’s motion fails for this reason as well.

D. Defendant Cannot Show That the Journal Was Favorable to Her

Ms. Giuffre did not act willfully (or even negligently in 2013) when she burned some memories she wrote down as a healing exercise from her childhood sexual abuse, an exercise undertaken long before becoming at all involved in any litigation, and long before Defendant defamed her. However, even if we assume that Ms. Giuffre was negligent (which she wasn’t), Defendant is only entitled to pursue relief if the materials destroyed were favorable to her case. Defendant cannot come close to meeting that burden.

“If the spoliating party has acted only negligently, the moving party can satisfy the final requirement of the spoliation analysis if it can show that the lost materials were relevant.” In re Pfizer Inc. Securities Litigation, 288 F.R.D. 297, 315 (S.D.N.Y. 2013) (denying sanctions).<sup>3</sup> “[T]he Court of Appeals has held that for the destroyed evidence to be ‘relevant’ it must be ‘more than sufficiently probative to satisfy Rule 401 of the Federal Rules of Evidence.’” Id. A party may establish relevance by “‘adduc[ing] sufficient evidence from which a reasonable trier of fact could infer that ‘the destroyed [or unavailable] evidence would have been of the nature alleged by the party affected by its destruction.’” Id. Put more succinctly, a plaintiff must present extrinsic evidence that tends to show that the destroyed documents would have been favorable to her case. See Cedar Petrochemicals, Inc. v. Dongbu Chem. Co., 769 F. Supp. 2d 269, 292 (S.D.N.Y. 2011) (denying sanctions). Indeed, “relevance requires a showing beyond the straightforward assertion that the opposing party has failed to produce requested information.” Id. at 293 (quoting Orbit One Commc’ns. v. Numerex Corp., 271 F.R.D. 429, 440 (S.D.N.Y. 2010) (denying sanctions)).

Defendant fails to show that the materials are “relevant” – that is, that the writings in Ms. Giuffre’s journal would be favorable to Defendant. To the contrary, all evidence in the record indicates that this journal would be highly unfavorable to Defendant.

First, Ms. Giuffre has testified that it contains her recollections of her sex abuse, and Ms. Giuffre has testified that Defendant abused her:

Q. So you burned notes of the men with whom you had sex while you were represented by counsel in litigation, correct?

A. This wasn't anything that was a public document. This was my own private journal, and I didn't want it anymore. So we burned it.

See Giuffre May 3, 2016 Dep. Tr. at 206. Indeed, a contemporaneous document, the manuscript, stated the same thing:

Nobody ever stopped to ask if I was comfortable or if I wanted to stop, no, instead, Ghislane [sic] only directed me to conclude the massage session by climbing up on the table to be fixated on Jeffrey, straddling him so he could [EXPLICIT] me . . . Jeffrey moaned in pleasure and Ghislane [sic] started to undress me from behind. Within moments I was completely naked and Ghislane [sic] had her top off . . . she sure did act like she loved having the control over me telling me what to do throughout the entire threesome.

Manuscript at p. 25-26; 29 (GIUFFRE004158-4159). Accordingly, the evidence shows that the journal would implicate Defendant in sexual abuse.

The evidence does not end there. Documents created contemporaneously with Ms. Giuffre authoring the journal – documents produced to Ms. Giuffre by a third party – strongly indicate that the journal’s contents would be highly unfavorable to Defendant. Indeed, in the moving brief, Defendant recounts testimony that this journal was authored in 2011 and 2012. At the same time, in 2011, Ms. Giuffre received treatment for her past sex abuse from her psychologist, Judith Lightfoot. Ms. Lightfoot's own records, written in 2011, describe Defendant as Ms. Giuffre's abuser:

. . . was approached by Ghislaine Maxwell who said she could help her get a job as a massage therapist . . . seemed respectable . . . was shown how to massage, etc., Geoff [sic] Epstein. Told to undress and perform sexual acts on person. Miss Maxwell promised her $200 a job.

See Schultz Decl. at Exhibit 4, June 9, 2011 Lightfoot Records at GIUFFRE005437.

As the Court can see, the same year Ms. Giuffre wrote in her journal about the abuse she endured, she wrote a manuscript detailing that abuse, and confided in her treating psychologist that Maxwell recruited her for sex with Epstein. Therefore, the contemporaneous records evidence Defendant's guilt, and indicate that similar statements would be in Ms. Giuffre's journal. Accordingly, this journal would merely be cumulative with the volumes of other evidence showing Defendant's involvement in the sexual abuse of Ms. Giuffre.

Indeed, contemporaneous with Defendant's abuse in the 2000-2002 time period, Tony Figueroa testified that Virginia confided in him that Defendant required her to participate in threesomes with Defendant and Epstein during the time it happened:

Q. I guess my question is: Did she ever tell you that she had started as a regular masseuse for him and then transitioned to something other than a masseuse?

A. No. She never said that it transitioned. But she ended up explaining to me what had happened before, so...

Q. What has -- what is that?

A. That her and Ms. Maxwell and Jeffrey would obviously be doing stuff, all three of them together. Like I said, that they would all go out to clubs to pick up girls and try and find them to bring back for Jeffrey. And then she told me about how, like I said, her and Ms. Maxwell and Jeffrey were all intimate together on multiple occasions.

Q. When did she tell you this?

A. I'm not exactly sure on the dates.

Q. Was it while you were still together?

A. Yes.

Figueroa Dep. Tr. at 96:1-19.

When Defendant argues that the journal or the dream journal would be unfavorable to Ms. Giuffre, Defendant ignores these and other damning facts. Defendant, again, fails to cite any countervailing fact, fails to point to any other evidence, and quotes no other testimony to support her argument that the journals would somehow be favorable to her. Instead, Defendant engages in wild speculation upon a mere “supposition of bad faith.” See Motion at 12, second paragraph. Defendant does not attempt to cite any evidence to support these conspiracy theories, as Ms. Giuffre herself has described the contents of one her journal as memories of her sex abuse and the contents of the other “dream”<sup>4</sup> journal of her (literal) dreams (that they occurred while she was asleep). Defendant does not explain what the evidentiary value of a party’s dreams may have regarding a defamation claim, nor could she.

Accordingly, Defendant’s motion should fail for this reason as well – she cannot make any showing whatsoever (much less carry her burden of proof) that the journal would be favorable to her. And, she completely ignores the blindingly obvious fact that the journal would likely be, if anything, highly favorable to Ms. Giuffre, it would simply contain more documentation of Defendant’s involvement in sexual abuse.

A. Nothing, literally nothing. They’re in a notebook that if I need to write it down. I have a dream notebook as well where I’ll just write down my dreams and stuff.

January 16, 2016, Giuffre Tr. at 195:15-19.

E. No Alleged Spoliation in the Context of an Unrelated Claim Attaches to a Future Defamation Claim

Yet another fatal problem for Defendant's motion is that it rests on the premise that Ms. Giuffre violated a duty to preserve evidence that arose in a different case. The attenuated chain of reasoning is that Ms. Giuffre's duty to preserve this journal with respect to this case arose in 2013, when she heard about another case – the CVRA case (long before she and her attorneys made the decision to attempt to join that litigation). However, Southern District of New York courts have rejected this very argument that a duty to preserve can arise from unrelated litigation. See, e.g., In re Pfizer Inc. Securities Litigation, 288 F.R.D. at 316 (holding no breach in duty to preserve where documents allegedly relevant to a previous litigation were not retained). In Pfizer, this Court explained:

I conclude that Pfizer's duty to preserve in this case arose in 2004, not in 2001. The 2001 lawsuit was a patent action related to the identification of the enzyme that led to the development of Celebrex and Bextra. As such, it raised different factual issues from the instant action and would not have given Pfizer reasonable notice of the foreseeability of this securities fraud litigation.

Id. at 316. Similarly, in 2013, Ms. Giuffre had not even made her application to join the CVRA case, a case that raises different factual issues from the instant action, namely, whether the United States District Attorney for the Southern District of Florida failed to discharge its statutorily-mandated duty to Epstein's victims upon entering into a plea agreement with Epstein. Ms. Giuffre's supposed 2013 contemplation of the CVRA litigation against the government under an unfamiliar federal victims' rights statute would not have given Ms. Giuffre (a non-lawyer who was not a party to that action) reasonable notice of the foreseeability of Ms. Maxwell defaming her on a global stage two years later. Cf. Kraus v. Gen. Motors Corp., 03 Civ. 4467 (CM), 2007 WL 3146911, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 24, 2007) (McMahon, D.J.) (defendant was under no duty to preserve a car as evidence in products liability suit before complaint was filed because it had not been previously notified of any injury that might reasonably lead to litigation and no litigation had been threatened); Brigham Young Univ. v. Pfizer, Inc., 282 F.R.D. 566, 572 (D. Utah 2012) (rejecting argument that Pfizer’s duty to preserve extended back to earlier, unrelated litigations).

The Pfizer court further explained: “In addition, the duty to preserve only extends to documents relevant to the claim of which the party has notice.” In re Pfizer Inc. Securities Litigation, 288 F.R.D. at 317 (emphasis added). To the extent Ms. Giuffre’s 2011-2012 journal is somehow relevant to the claim at issue in this case, there was no duty to preserve because the defamation claim against Defendant did not arise until 2015 and the earlier case involved a different issue. Similarly, Defendant makes no showing that Ms. Giuffre had possession of the dream journal during 2015, nor that it is relevant such that any duty attaches to it.

F. Defendant Can Show No Prejudice and She Has the “Best Evidence”

Still another fatal problem for Defendant’s argument is that she has received substantial information parallel to the journal Ms. Giuffre kept. Defendant has thus suffered no prejudice. As the Court is aware from previous discovery motions, Ms. Giuffre has produced a vast amount of material in this matter, including materials from the time of her abuse and from the time she kept her journal. Of particular note are a 141-page draft manuscript she wrote in 2011, around the same time as the journal, as well as numerous e-mail communications, and even pictures and travel receipts from the years 2000-2002. Of course, the materials from 2000-02 (photos, travel records, flight logs, etc.) were all created contemporaneously with Ms. Giuffre’s abuse, and would thus serve as the “best evidence” of what was happening then. (The Court will no doubt recall Defendant’s failing memory concerning events that happened at that time, such as Defendant’s failure to be able to recollect even one of the 23 flights on which she is listed as having traveled with Epstein and Ms. Giuffre, during the time Ms. Giuffre was a minor child.)

Even turning to the later time period when Ms. Giuffre wrote her journal, Defendant has better records than the journal which she can review – .e.g., the psychological records specifically naming the Defendant as involved in Ms. Giuffre’s sexual abuse and Ms. Giuffre’s 141-page manuscript. Against this backdrop of many other available materials, the burned journal is obviously nothing more than cumulative corroborating evidence.

Second, with regard to Defendant’s second, fallback argument regarding the dream journal (which Ms. Giuffre has diligently searched for but been unable to locate), nothing suggests it contains any relevant content. Perhaps Defendant is going to argue that Ms. Giuffre’s dreams are somehow inconsistent with her sworn testimony, but this would be pseudo-science that has no place before the jury. Cf. SIGMUND FREUD, THE INTERPRETATION OF DREAMS (1889) (developing theory of the unconscious with respect to dream interpretation). Defendant’s brief gives no hint as to what purpose notes about dreams could have in this litigation. Cf. United States v. Aleshire, 2014 WL 11394905, at *6 (W.D. Wis. Oct. 20, 2014) (“dreams themselves, however, would not be admitted”). In any event, Ms. Giuffre diligently attempted to locate these notes but could not find them. Cf. Treppel v. Biovail Corp., 233 F.R.D. 363, 374 (S.D.N.Y. 2006) (“Even in a case involving exclusively hard copy documents, there is no obligation on the part of a responding party to examine every scrap of paper . . . Rather, it must conduct a diligent search, which involves developing a reasonably comprehensive search strategy.”). And there is no evidence that the dream journal was lost during (or even shortly before) the pendency of this litigation.

If anything, Defendant’s argument about the dream notes shows how far afield she had to go from the core issues in this case. Recall the basic outlines of this case: Ms. Giuffre filed a court document alleging that she had been sexually abused by Defendant and others. Defendant called Ms. Giuffre a liar. Ms. Giuffre then filed this defamation suit, alleging that her allegations of sexual abuse were true. Ms. Giuffre gave her sworn testimony that the allegations were true and deposed multiple witnesses who supported her position. On the other hand, Defendant gave her sworn testimony that she, quite conveniently, could not remember the important events of the time (such as flying on 23 flights with Ms. Giuffre as a minor child and Epstein). Having failed to remember the critical events – and having failed to produce important documents about these events<sup>5</sup> – Defendant propounded extensive discovery to Ms. Giuffre, to which Ms. Giuffre has diligently attempted to respond. Now, as the trial for this case is approaching, Defendant has filed a last ditch motion to dismiss, claiming that Ms. Giuffre’s missing notes of her dreams are somehow such critical information that the defamation case should be dismissed. To simply describe the argument is to show how far-fetched Defendant’s position has become. The Court should deny this frivolous motion and prepare to try this case on March 13, 2017.

III. CONCLUSION

The Defendant’s motion for sanctions due to Ms. Giuffre’s destruction of materials for entirely benign reasons, long before this litigation ever arose, should be denied in its entirety.

<sup>5</sup> A conveniently failing memory is not the only way in which Defendant has kept evidence of involvement in sexual abuse from being discovered. The day that the Palm Beach Police executed the warrant on Defendant and Epstein’s home, Defendant called the housekeeper and told her not to come in that morning. See Schultz Decl. at Exhibit 5, Louella Rabuyo’s October 20, 2009 Dep. Tr. at 9; 11; 81-82. Once the police arrived, they found that the computers had been ripped out of their places, leaving the monitors, mice, keyboards, and wires behind. See Schultz Dec. at Composite Exhibit 6, Police Report at p. 63, GIUFFRE000064; Recarey Dep. Tr. 72:25-73:18. This Court is also aware of multiple events triggering Defendant’s duty to preserve documents. For example, Defendant avoided her 2009 deposition in a case concerning Epstein by falsely claiming to be out of the country (she was, instead, photographed at Chelsey Clinton’s New York wedding). Additionally, in her Motion to Dismiss, Defendant claimed that in both 2011 and 2015, she anticipated bringing litigation against tabloids. Defendant has not produced documents that she should have preserved pursuant to the police investigation, the 2009 litigation, and her purported anticipated suits against the press as recently as 2015. And, on top of all this, the Court is aware of the Defendant’s failure to produce discovery, which lead to sanctions as ordered in November.

I'm going to wait until you finish your 6 answer, and you have to wait until I finish my question, 7 because if we talk over one another, then the court 8 reporter can't get it down. 9 A Okay. Yes, sir. 10 Q All right. So if you don't understand the 11 question, tell me you don't understand and I'll try to 12 ask a better question. 13 A Yes. 14 Q Okay. So you were hired in November of 2004 15 to be the housekeeper for Mr. Epstein? 16 A Yes. 17 Q And when you were hired, who exactly hired 18 you, who -- let me strike that. 19 When you were hired to be the housekeeper for 20 Mr. Epstein, who did you interview with? 21 A Ms. Maxwell. 22 Q Is that Ghislaine Maxwell or just 23 Laine Maxwell? 24 A Ghislaine Maxwell. 25 Q And where did the interview take place? | 11 1 that it's clean and appropriately, what's this... 2 Q And as I understand this property, there is a 3 main house and then there's also a staff house on the 4 property; is that right? 5 A Yes, sir. 6 Q And when the guests would come over, would you 7 stay in the main house, or would you go to the staff 8 house? 9 MR. REINHART: Can we get a time frame to the 10 question? 11 BY MR. EDWARDS: 12 Q Over the last five years while you worked 13 there. 14 A I usually stay in the staff house and do the 15 laundry, then I go to the kitchen and then tidy the 16 kitchen. 17 Q You were hired in November of 2004, and what 18 were your hours that you worked there back in November 19 of 2004 when you were hired? 20 A Eight to five. 21 Q How many days a week? 22 A Depends. 23 Q How would the schedule be relayed to you? 24 A When Mr. Epstein is there, then I'm supposed 25 to report, but usually it's five days a week. |
| 10 1 A At 358 El Brillo Way. 2 Q And what did Ms. Maxwell and you speak about 3 prior to your being hired as the housekeeper? 4 A My duties. 5 Q And what did she tell you your duties would 6 be? 7 A To tidy, to make beds, do laundry. 8 Q Did she tell you what would take place in the 9 house on a day-to-day basis? 10 A No. 11 Q So going into that position, you had no idea 12 who the guests would be or who the people coming in the 13 house would be, or what would generally go on? 14 A Can you simplify the question? 15 Q Sure. When you talked about with 16 Ghislaine Maxwell at this interview, your duties being 17 you would make the bed and tidy up, did she also tell 18 you that there would be a lot of guests, there would be 19 a few guests, did she talk to you about that at all? 20 A She mentioned that if there are guests, we 21 have to, like, you know, prepare the room, and, what's 22 this, attend to the guests. 23 Q And what did you understand that to mean that 24 you have to attend to the guests? 25 A You have to prepare the room and see to it | 12 1 Q So am I correct in understanding that there 2 was one schedule when Mr. Epstein was in town, and the 3 schedule may be a little bit different if Mr. Epstein 4 was out of town? 5 A Yes, sir. 6 Q All right. Tell me the differences when 7 Mr. Epstein is in town versus when Mr. Epstein was not 8 in town. 9 A If he stays like three or four days, then I'm 10 supposed to be there, and then the house is to be 11 cleaned. And then when they do not come, then I can 12 either go there, or I'm given free days off. 13 Q Three days off? 14 A No. A free day. 15 Q Oh, okay. But typically back in 2004 when you 16 were hired, you worked an average of about five days a 17 week; is that correct? 18 A Yes. 19 Q All right. And I guess by the way that you're 20 explaining it, if Mr. Epstein was in town for a longer 21 period of time, you may work more than five days, and if 22 Mr. Epstein was not in town, you may work less than five 23 days? 24 A Yes. 25 Q Okay. Did you ever talk to Mr. Epstein prior |

Prior to the police going to the 8 house and taking pictures, do you remember seeing 9 pictures around Mr. Epstein's house? 10 A Yes. 11 Q Do you remember seeing pictures of naked or 12 nude females around Mr. Epstein's house? 13 A Not around, in his closet. 14 Q In Mr. Epstein's closet you would see -- 15 describe what you would see related to females in 16 pictures. 17 A Some have topless. 18 Q Is this a big closet? 19 A No. Not really big, it's just this big, not 20 so big. 21 Q Okay. Were these pictures that could be seen 22 by -- strike that. 23 Do you know of any other pictures of females 24 that were confiscated by the police that did not come 25 from Mr. Epstein's closet? |

PALM BEACH POLICE DEPARTMENT
Incident Report

Program: CMS301L

Case No. : 1-05-000368

 N A R R A T I V E # 27 *****
IA Reported By: KRAUEL, CURTIS D. 12/21/05
Entered By: ALTOMARO, NICKIE A. 12/21/05

On Thursday, October 20, 2005 at approximately 0936 hours, I assisted in the execution of a search warrant located at 358 El Brillo Way, Palm Beach, Florida, residence of Jeffrey Epstein. I was instructed by Case Agent Det. Joseph Recarey, to secure all computer and media related material from the residence.

Upon my arrival I was directed by Det. Recarey to a room designated as the Kitchen Staff Office. I observed a, Silver in color, CPU with the left side cover removed, exposing the CPU's hardware sitting on floor next to a glass type desk. The CPU had no discernable identifiers or features indicating a make or model. This CPU was powered off with the power cord not plugged in. The keyboard and mouse were atop the CPU. It should be noted that the CPU was not connected to a monitor, printer, or other media device. On the back Panel of the CPU, I observed an A/V card with RCA jacks attached. This type of hardware would allow audio and video to be downloaded onto the CPU's hard disk. The ends of the RCA jacks were unattached at the time of the search and no external camera was located within this room.

The CPU was located on the right side of a desk that held a flat panel LCD screen. The desk also held another keyboard and mouse, indicative of a second computer; however, no other computer was found. It appeared as though a second computer had been recently removed as the cables ends from the monitor, keyboard and mouse were in the same area. A further search of the room revealed no media storage devices, i.e. CD s, Floppy Disks, Zip Disks, etc. This type of media is commonly stored in an area where computers are placed, yet no media was found.

After completing a search of this room, I secured the CPU and turned all items over to the Evidence Custodian for future forensic analysis via a property receipt.

I was then directed by Det. Recarey to a room designated as the Garden Room, where I observed a wooden desk facing west. The desk held a flat screen LCD monitor, keyboard, mouse, media card reader and printer; however, no CPU was located. All of the cables were removed from an area where a computer had once been. A search of the desk area revealed no signs of any media devices.

Det. Recarey directed me to a third location designated as the Cabana room, which is detached from the residence and located just south of the pool. In the South East corner of the room, I observed an office type setting, with an L-shaped desk holding a flat screen LCD monitor, keyboard, mouse and printer; however, no CPU was located. All of the cables were removed from an area where a computer had once been. A search of the desk area revealed no signs of any media devices.

Defendant Ghislaine Maxwell (“Ms. Maxwell”) hereby moves to in limine to exclude in toto certain depositions designated by Plaintiff for use at trial, specifically those of Alfredo Rodriguez, Jeffrey Epstein, [REDACTED] and Dr. Phillip Esplin. She simultaneously files her specific objections to portions of these and other depositions designated by Plaintiff. She further states as follows:

INTRODUCTION

Plaintiff has filed deposition designations for 14 witnesses for use in her case in chief at trial. With respect to four of the witness, the use of their deposition testimony must be precluded entirely pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 32 and Fed. R. Evid. 804(b)(1) because either (a) the witnesses are not unavailable and/or (b) the requirements for use of deposition in lieu of live testimony cannot be met. As separately filed in her specific objections, with respect to the remaining ten (10) witnesses, the Federal Rules of Evidence require portions or all of the designated testimony to be excluded.

I. PLAINTIFF CANNOT SATISFY THE LEGAL REQUIREMENTS FOR USE OF CERTAIN DEPOSITIONS AT TRIAL

The use of deposition at trial is governed by Fed. R. Civ. P. 32. Under that rule, Plaintiff must establish the following to use all or part of any deposition at trial:

(a) Using Depositions.

(1) In General. At a hearing or trial, all or part of a deposition may be used against a party on these conditions:

(A) the party was present or represented at the taking of the deposition or had reasonable notice of it;

(B) it is used to the extent it would be admissible under the Federal Rules of Evidence if the deponent were present and testifying; and

(C) the use is allowed by Rule 32(a)(2) through (8).

To affirmatively offer evidence in her case in chief through deposition testimony under Rule 32(a)(4), the plaintiff must establish that the witness is unavailable. Specifically, the rule provides:

(4) Unavailable Witness. A party may use for any purpose the deposition of a witness, whether or not a party, if the court finds:

- (A) that the witness is dead;
- (B) that the witness is more than 100 miles from the place of hearing or trial or is outside the United States, unless it appears that the witness's absence was procured by the party offering the deposition;
- (C) that the witness cannot attend or testify because of age, illness, infirmity, or imprisonment;
- (D) that the party offering the deposition could not procure the witness's attendance by subpoena; or
- (E) on motion and notice, that exceptional circumstances make it desirable—in the interest of justice and with due regard to the importance of live testimony in open court—to permit the deposition to be used.

Fed. R. Evid. 804(b)(1) echoes this requirement, providing an exception to the hearsay rule for use of deposition testimony only when a witness is unavailable.

A. Jeffrey Epstein and Rinaldo Rizzo Are Not Unavailable

Plaintiff has made deposition designation based on the alleged “understanding that [witnesses] are not able to appear live to provide trial testimony.” With respect to Jeffrey Epstein and Rinaldo Rizzo, she offered no basis for her claim that these two witnesses are not able to appear live to provide testimony. Both witnesses reside within 100 miles of the courthouse at which the trial is to be held, and she has neither articulated nor argued any other basis for a finding of “unavailability.” Indeed, no such argument could be maintained.¹ “[D]eposition testimony is only a substitute, not to be resorted to if the witness can appear in person.” Banks v. Yokemick, 144 F. Supp. 2d 272, 288 (S.D.N.Y. 2001). Plaintiff's own investigator has stated in his affidavit regarding attempted service of the deposition subpoena on Mr. Epstein that he has three known addresses in New York, including his permanent residence, all of which are within 100 miles of the courthouse. See ECF No. 161, Ex. 4. The fact that Mr.

¹ The remaining fact witnesses for whom Plaintiff has designated deposition testimony reside outside the 100-mile radius, and therefore may be unavailable under 32(a)(4). Defendant reserves all rights to object to use of any deposition testimony should the availability of such witness change.

Epstein will invoke the Fifth Amendment, if permitted by this Court, does not constitute exceptional circumstances that would permit use of his deposition at trial. Id.

Likewise, Mr. Rizzo, who lives in North Salem, New York, was served with a deposition subpoena in New York, and his deposition was conducted in New York, all within 100 miles of the courthouse. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A 2:2-4:18 (Rizzo Dep.) There is no basis to claim that either of these witnesses cannot be procured for trial through subpoena, nor is there any indication that Plaintiff has unsuccessfully attempted to issue such subpoenas.

Having failed to establish the essential element of unavailability, Mr. Epstein and Mr. Rizzo's depositions cannot be used affirmatively as evidence at trial and all such testimony is hearsay – an out of court statement offered for the truth of the matter – to which no exception or exclusion applies under Federal Rules of Evidence 804(a) and (b)(1).

B. As a Retained Expert, Phillip Esplin Cannot Be Deemed Unavailable

Phillip Esplin is a rebuttal expert, retained by the Defendant in rebuttal of the improper credibility opinions offered by Plaintiff's experts Dr. Gilbert Kliman and Professor Terry Coonan, both of which are subject to pending motions in limine. Plaintiff has attempted to designate portions of Dr. Esplin's deposition for use in her case in chief. All of the proposed testimony concerns matters which were outside of the scope of Dr. Esplin's opinion, as discussed in more detail below. As a preliminary matter, however, the attempt to introduce the deposition testimony of Dr. Esplin is improper under Second Circuit law because, as an expert, he is not deemed unavailable simply because he resides outside of the 100-mile radius of the courthouse. Rather, in the Second Circuit, to use the deposition or other sworn testimony of an expert based on alleged unavailability of that expert, the Plaintiff must prove that 1) she attempted to secure the voluntary attendance of the witness, and 2) that no similar expert is available.

The Second Circuit first addressed this issue in Carter-Wallace, Inc. v. Otte, 474 F.2d 529, 536 (2d Cir. 1972). In that case, Judge Friendly observed that “there is something unusual about the use of the prior testimony of an expert witness that calls for further scrutiny of his unavailability.” 474 F.2d at 536 (citations omitted). As a result, this Circuit imposed two additional requirements on parties seeking to offer prior expert testimony at trial. First, the proponent of the prior expert testimony must “attempt to secure the voluntary [trial] attendance of a witness who lives beyond the subpoena power of the court.” Id. at 536. The reason for this additional requirement is that “unlike the typical witness whose involvement with the case may depend on the fortuity of his observing a particular event and whose presence at trial is often involuntary, a party ordinarily has the opportunity to choose the expert witness whose testimony he desires and invariably arranges for his presence privately, by mutual agreement, and for a fee.” Id.

Second, “before former testimony of an expert witness can be used, there should be some showing, not only that the witness is unavailable, but that no other expert of similar qualifications is available or that the unavailable expert has unique testimony to contribute.” Id. at 536-37. The reason for this additional requirement is that, unlike an ordinary fact witness, “the expert witness generally has no knowledge of the facts of the case. . . . Thus, even if one particular expert is unavailable. . . there will usually be other experts available to give similar testimony orally.” Id. at 536. In sum, under Carter-Wallace, prior expert testimony is only admissible in the place of live expert testimony if the proponent of the testimony tries to secure the expert’s voluntary attendance and demonstrates that no similar expert is available. These judicially-created requirements have been applied in addition to the requirements of Fed. R. Evid. 804(b)(1) and Fed. R. Civ. P. 32. Plaintiff has failed to demonstrate that either of these requirements have been met, mandating that the designated portions of Dr. Esplin's testimony should be ruled inadmissible at trial. Id.; see also Aubrey Rogers Agency, Inc. v. AIG Life Ins. Co., 2000 WL 135129 (D. Del. 2000) (finding expert deposition testimony inadmissible where there was nothing in the record to indicate that the proponent had made any effort to secure the expert's attendance at trial or had even contacted the expert to "offer him his usual expert witness fee, and request his attendance at trial").

II. TESTIMONY IN WHICH WITNESS REFUSED TO RESPOND TO QUESTIONS POSED IS IRRELEVANT, MORE PREJUDICIAL THAN PROBATIVE, AND MUST BE EXCLUDED FROM TRIAL

Plaintiff designates the deposition testimony of three witnesses who refused to or could not respond to the questions posed to them. The first, Mr. Epstein, invoked his Fifth Amendment right against self-incrimination. The second, [REDACTED] was reluctant to be deposed and failed to answer questions based on lack of memory, repeatedly stating that she was unable to respond to the questions posed. The third, Dr. Phillip Esplin, explained repeatedly that he could not respond to the questions posed because they were outside the scope of his opinion and there was insufficient information in the record to permit response. All of this testimony is irrelevant, more prejudicial than probative and must be excluded.

A. Jeffrey Epstein

As the Court is aware, Jeffrey Epstein was compelled to sit for a deposition during which he invoked his Fifth Amendment rights as to each and every question posed to him by counsel for both Plaintiff and the Defendant. Both Plaintiff and Defendant have motions pending to require Mr. Epstein to respond fully to questions. If these motions are granted, the current deposition in which no questions were answered is irrelevant. Only actual questions that eventually are answered should be presented to the jury, subject to other rules of admissibility, including whether Plaintiff can establish that Mr. Epstein is unavailable to testify live at trial.

Because of his invocation of his Fifth Amendment right to remain silent, there actually is no deposition testimony to designate. Each designation reflects a leading question by Plaintiff's counsel (which is improper on direct examination, FRE 611(c)), followed by Mr. Epstein's one word response – "Fifth." Of course, Plaintiff's counsel's questions are not testimony. Mr. Epstein's responses have no "tendency to make a fact more or less probable than it would be without the evidence"; the answer to the questions is a non-answer, and the answer could be yes, no or something entirely different.

Moreover, with respect to many of the unanswered questions, they do not relate to any "fact [] of consequence in determining the action." Fed. R. Evid 401. By way of one limited example, Plaintiff designated the following leading question and non-answer: "Q. In June 2008, in open court, you pled guilty to two Florida State felonies, correct? A. Fifth." The investigation and ultimate plea deal reached by Mr. Epstein bears absolutely no relevance to this case. As the investigating detective, Joseph Recarey testified, Ms. Maxwell was not the subject of the investigation in 2005 and 2006, was not identified in the probable cause affidavit, and was not a subject of the grand jury proceedings against Mr. Epstein. Menninger Decl. Ex. B, 203:4-25; 210:24-212:6. Moreover, Plaintiff voluntarily departed this country three years prior to the investigation, was not identified as a witness in the investigation nor was she interviewed by the investigators. Id. 259:17-25. Simply put, the investigation of Mr. Epstein, which resulted in his indictment and plea deal, have nothing to do with either the Plaintiff or the Defendant in this action, and have no bearing on any fact that is of consequence in this case. This one limited example demonstrates the completely irrelevant inquiry put to Mr. Epstein. As such, the designated testimony fails the relevance standards of Fed. R. Evid. 401, is not admissible under Fed. R. Evid. 402, and certainly is more prejudicial than probative under Fed. R. Evid. 403.

Likewise, the designated invocation testimony of Mr. Epstein violates the requirements of Fed. R. Evid. 403, as any probative value of the testimony is outweighed by unfair prejudice, confusion of the issues, will tend to mislead the jury, cause undue delay, waste time, and present cumulative evidence. To permit this testimony, which in fact reflects only Plaintiff's attorney presenting prejudicial and unproven statements in the form of unanswered questions, serves only one purpose which is to confuse the jury by claiming that the failure to answer the questions must mean the answer is harmful to both Mr. Epstein and to Ms. Maxwell. In truth, and as Ms. Maxwell has stated in her pending motion to compel, Mr. Epstein's truthful answers to the questions posed by both parties would in fact vindicate Ms. Maxwell, proving that Ms. Maxwell's press statement were substantially true. Even allowing the reading of the designated testimony will, without question, confuse the jury by leading them to believe that there is some evidentiary value to the questions, causing significant and incurable prejudice to Ms. Maxwell.

It is apparent that Plaintiff intends to request that the Court instruct the jury that it may draw an adverse inference against Ms. Maxwell based on Jeffrey Epstein, a non-party witness's, invocation of the Fifth Amendment. Such an adverse inference is impermissible in this case.

Under Fed. R. Evid. 501 and this Court's prior rulings, New York State law governs the privilege law in this case. See ECF No. 135. Under New York law, the general rule is that a non-party's invocation of the Fifth Amendment privilege cannot be used as to create an adverse inference against a party. Access Capital, Inc. v. DeCicco, 302 A.D.2d 48, 52 (2002) ("the privilege being personal, the consequences are limited to the witness that invokes it. Thus, where the privilege is asserted by a nonparty witness, no adverse inference may be drawn") (citing State v. Markowitz, 273 A.D.2d 637, 646 (2000)).

In New York, there are two exceptions to this general rule: 1) where the non-party witness is an alter ego of a party; and 2) when a party controls the non-party material witness and could force them to testify. Andrew Carothers, M.D., P.C. v. Ins. Companies Represented by Bruno, Gerbino & Soriano, LLP, 26 Misc. 3d 448, 461-62, 888 N.Y.S.2d 372 (Civ. Ct. 2009):

While it is true that an adverse inference may not generally be drawn against a party when a nonparty asserts the privilege (see Access Capital v DeCicco, 302 AD2d 48, 52 [1st Dept 2002]; State of New York v Markowitz, 273 AD2d 637, 646 [3d Dept 2000], lv denied 95 NY2d 770 [2000]), the courts in this state have recognized several exceptions to this rule One of these exceptions deals with the situation where a corporate employee, who is the alter ego of his or her corporate employer, refuses to testify on Fifth Amendment grounds.

The second of these exceptions deals with the situation when the nonparty who asserts his or her Fifth Amendment privilege and refuses to testify is a material witness in a particular party's control. In Califano v City of New York (212 AD2d 146 [1st Dept 1995]), the Court held that “[t]he inference to be charged in a civil case by a [nonparty] witness's invocation of the privilege against self-incrimination is ‘akin to that arising when a party fails or refuses to produce a material witness who is within his control’”

Id. at 461-462.

Neither of these two exceptions is applicable in this instance. Ms. Maxwell is not a corporation and she has no corporate employees. Mr. Epstein is not, and has never been, an employee or even an agent of Ms. Maxwell. In fact, it was Mr. Epstein who employed Ms. Maxwell in the late 90’s and early 2000’s; it was he who had employment control over her, not the opposite. In this circumstance, the purpose of the exception is not served because the non-testifying employer does not have the ability to bind his subservient former employee, nor is there any basis to believe that an employer would act to protect his employee because he has nothing (such as his job) to lose.

The second exception is equally inapplicable. Ms. Maxwell has no control of Mr. Epstein and no ability to command his testimony.² This fact is made obvious by virtue of Mr. Epstein's refusal to respond to the questions posed at the deposition by Ms. Maxwell's counsel, requiring her to file a motion to compel his testimony. ECF No. 449. Thus, under controlling New York law, use of Mr. Epstein's testimony and the concomitant adverse inference based on that testimony is prohibited.

Federal law requires the same result. The Second Circuit first addressed the question of whether an adverse inference against a party to a civil action is permitted based on a non-party's invocation of the Fifth Amendment in LiButti v. United States, 107 F.3d 110, 124 (2d Cir. 1997). In that case, during a bench trial the question arose whether the trial court should have drawn an adverse inference against the Plaintiff based on her father's invocation of the Fifth Amendment Privilege. The Court held that the "issue of the admissibility of a non-party's invocation of the Fifth Amendment privilege against self-incrimination in the course of civil litigation and the concomitant drawing of adverse inferences appropriately center on the circumstances of the case." Id. at 123. The Court then set forth a list of four non-exclusive factors that should guide a court in determination of the relevance of any testimony: 1) the nature of the relevant relationships; 2) the degree of control of the party over the non-party witness; 3) the compatibility of the interests of the party and non-party witness in the outcome of the litigation; 4) the role of the non-party witness in the litigation. Id. at 123-124. The Court made clear that the key consideration is trustworthiness: "[w]hether these or other circumstances unique to a particular case are considered by the trial court, the overarching concern is fundamentally whether the adverse inference is trustworthy under all of the circumstances and will advance the search for the truth.” Id. at 124.

As under New York law, the nature of the relationship (Mr. Epstein employing Ms. Maxwell rather than vice versa) and the lack of her control over him weigh against the trustworthiness of an adverse inference. Likewise, Mr. Epstein has no stake in the outcome of this litigation, financial or otherwise. Nor has he participated in this litigation in anyway. Rather, he completely refused to participate, moving to quash his deposition, pleading the fifth and refusing to produce documents or provide testimony.

While the LiButti Court was considering an adverse inference during a bench trial, it was cognizant that, after conducting the relevance evaluation, courts would also need to assess the issue of undue prejudice under Fed. R. Evid. 403, an issue not presented there because of the nature of a bench trial. Id. at 124. As discussed above, there is insurmountable unfair prejudice caused by presenting Plaintiff’s counsel’s “testimony” (in the form of questions) and Mr. Epstein’s invocation, even if no adverse evidence instruction is given. Plaintiff’s entire point is to confuse and mislead the jury to believe that the answers to each of the self-serving questions would be yes, even though there is no proof on the question. This is in essence simply allowing Plaintiff’s counsel to testify to their own theories, not actual facts.

If anything, an adverse inference against Plaintiff and in favor of Ms. Maxwell based on Mr. Epstein’s invocation of the Fifth Amendment is the only proper adverse inference. Plaintiff previously sued Mr. Epstein for the conduct about which he refused to answer in his deposition. As a result of that lawsuit Plaintiff received a $500,000 settlement payment from Mr. Epstein, a matter about which Mr. Epstein refused to testify. See Menninger Decl. Ex. C 283:5-284:17

(Epstein Depo.). The amount of that payment, the reasons for the settlement, the nature of the claims, and the release of claims for emotional distress and other damages that mirror the alleged damages sought by Plaintiff in this matter are relevant to apportionment of any cause of Plaintiff's claimed injuries. See Bikowicz v. Sterling Drug, Inc., 161 A.D.2d 982, 985, 557 N.Y.S.2d 551 (1990) (an adverse inference in favor of the defendant should have been given based on a settling joint-tortfeasors invocation of the Fifth Amendment because it was relevant to apportionment of fault and damages). If any adverse inference instruction is proper it should be an instruction that the jury should assume that Mr. Epstein's refusal to answer questions concerning his conduct toward Plaintiff should be constituted as an admission that Mr. Epstein engaged in that conduct on his own, and without the participation or knowledge of Ms. Maxwell. Plaintiff previously sued Mr. Epstein for these actions. In that action, Plaintiff claimed damages for:

Past and future physical injury, pain and suffering, emotional distress, psychological and/or psychiatric trauma, mental anguish, humiliation, confusion, embarrassment, loss of educational opportunity, loss of self-esteem, loss of dignity, invasion of privacy, separation from her family; medical and psychological expenses; loss of income, loss of capacity to earn income, and loss of the capacity to enjoy life.

The jury should assume that Plaintiff valued her damages at $500,000 for these alleged injuries, and has received payment for her injuries from Mr. Epstein.

The designated testimony of Mr. Epstein is also fatally flawed in that it lacks any evidentiary foundation, which is impermissible when testimony of invocation is presented to a jury. Courts addressing the issue of permitting an adverse inference against a party based on the party's own invocation of their Fifth Amendment rights still permit that inference only if "independent evidence exists of the fact to which the party refuses to answer." Doe ex rel. Rudy-Glanzer v. Glanzer, 232 F.3d 1258, 1264 (9th Cir. 2000); see also LaSalle Bank Lake View v.

Seguban, 54 F.3d 387, 391 (7th Cir.1995); Peiffer v. Lebanon Sch. Dist., 848 F.2d 44, 46 (3d Cir.1988). Thus, silence can only result in any inference when it “is countered by independent evidence of the fact being questioned, but that same inference cannot be drawn when, for example, silence is the answer to an allegation contained in a complaint.” Doe ex rel. Rudy-Glanzer, 232 F.3d at 1264 (citing Nat’l Acceptance Co. v. Bathalter, 705 F.2d 924, 930 (7th Cir.1983)). “In such instances, when there is no corroborating evidence to support the fact under inquiry, the proponent of the fact must come forward with evidence to support the allegation, otherwise no negative inference will be permitted.” Id. (citing LaSalle Bank, 54 F.3d at 391); see also OS Recovery, Inc. v. One Groupe Int’l, Inc., No. 02 CIV. 8993LAK, 2005 WL 850830, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 13, 2005) (“inference from invocation of the privilege may be appropriate only where there is independent evidence corroborating the proposition sought to be inferred”). Here, the vast majority of questions posed to Mr. Epstein lack any foundation or corroboration other than being allegations and assertions of the Plaintiff in this matter. It is Plaintiff’s burden to come forward with independent corroborating evidence for each question posed to Mr. Epstein before the court can even consider allowing presentation of the questions and invocation to a jury. Plaintiff’s complete failure to provide such evidence for the designated testimony requires that it be excluded from trial.

B. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] was a witness in the investigation and indictment of Jeffrey Epstein in 2006. She very clearly testified in her deposition in this matter that she has little or no memory of most or all of the events surrounding the time she knew Mr. Epstein, and specifically testified that she is in therapy for the purpose of repressing any memories concerning Mr. Epstein. See Menninger Decl. Ex. D 8:8-9:7; 57:16-58:25. As such, the vast majority of her testimony is that she has no present recollection of events so that she cannot respond to the questions posed to her.

Plaintiff's counsel provided [REDACTED] with a copy of a statement she gave to the police in October 2005 concerning Mr. Epstein. [REDACTED] refused to look at the statement and did not authenticate it in any way. The statement itself is by definition hearsay – an out of court statement made by [REDACTED] that Plaintiff would like to offer for the truth of the matter. The only possible permissible use of the statement was for purposes of refreshing recollection under Fed. R. Evid. 612. However, [REDACTED] refused to look through the statement and had no independent recollection of events, as explained by her attorney. See Menninger Decl. Ex. D 16:5-18-21:23. Plaintiff's counsel made clear that he did not intend to attempt to use the police statement to refresh [REDACTED] recollection, and [REDACTED] counsel made clear that the statement would not refresh her recollection. Id. As such, the police report is simply an out of court statement, at best consistent with the few items of testimony that [REDACTED] could recall. Under Fed. R. Evid. 612 and 801(d)(1), no portion of the statement, including those portions read into the deposition record, are admissible into evidence.

With respect to [REDACTED] response of being unable to recall events or testify, none of the questions or answers is probative of any fact at issue in this matter, requiring exclusion under Fed. R. Evid. 401, 402 and 602 based on lack of personal knowledge. To permit the designation of leading questions with the answer that [REDACTED] could not recall violates the principles of Fed. R. Evid. 403 and 611 as well, in that the suggestive question with a non-answer confuses and misleads the jury into a belief that the attorney's question should be taken as testimonial evidence. All testimony of [REDACTED] designated testimony that 1) refers to or references the police report or contents of that report; 2) that poses a leading question; or 3) that results in a response that the witness does not recall must be excluded. Likewise, the police report itself, Exhibit 1 in the deposition, is inadmissible under Fed. R. Evid. 801 and 612.

C. Phillip Esplin

As previously explained, Dr. Esplin is a retained rebuttal expert, responding to the improper credibility opinions of Dr. Kliman and Professor Coonan. His opinions are quite limited in scope, and merely point to the deficiencies in information, studies and the evaluations of Plaintiff's two experts. Plaintiff has improperly designated testimony that relates to questions, matters and fact outside the scope of Mr. Esplin's opinion, or about which he had no factual predicate to provide testimony. For instance, he was asked questions regarding the definitions of pedophilia and if it could be cured, a matter nowhere addressed in his rebuttal opinion. If Mr. Esplin is proffered as a witness at all, Plaintiff may only cross-examine him on matters within the scope of his opinion and his direct examination. Fed. R. Evid. 611(b); Bristol-Myers Squibb Co. v. Rhone-Poulenc Rorer, Inc., 2000 WL 356412, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Apr.2, 2000) (holding that "direct testimony by any expert witness at trial shall be limited to the contents of the Expert Report"). The designated deposition testimony, all outside the scope of Dr. Esplin's expert opinion in this matter, must be precluded.

III. TESTIMONY AND STATEMENTS MADE IN OTHER MATTERS TO WHICH MS. MAXWELL WAS NOT A PARTY, WAS NOT PRESENT, HAD NO NOTICE, AND DID NOT PARTICIPATE CANNOT BE DESIGNATED IN THIS CASE

Plaintiff has attempted to designate the testimony of Alfredo Rodriguez from a deposition conducted of him on July 29, 2009 in connection with a series of cases brought by various "Jane Does" (none this Plaintiff) against Jeffrey Epstein. Mr. Rodriguez is now deceased, and thus not deposed in conjunction with the present litigation. These designations are prohibited by the Federal Rules of Evidence and Procedure. Again, Fed. R. Civ. P. 32 and Fed. R. Evid. 804 are controlling.

Under Fed. R. Civ. P. 32, a prerequisite to use of a deposition at trial is "(A) the party was present or represented at the taking of the deposition or had reasonable notice of it; (B) it is used to the extent it would be admissible under the Federal Rules of Evidence if the deponent were present and testifying; and (C) the use is allowed by Rule 32(a)(2) through (8)."

Neither condition A nor C exist in this case. Ms. Maxwell was not a party to any of the litigations in which Mr. Rodriguez was deposed; Ms. Maxwell was neither present or given notice of the deposition. Likewise, under Rule 32(a)(8), use of a deposition from a prior proceeding is only permitted if the prior proceeding was between the same parties (it was not) and dealing with the same subject matter (it was not).

Mr. Rodriguez's prior testimony also fails to meet the hearsay exception requirements of Fed. R. Evid. 804(b)(1). Under that rule, an unavailable witness's testimony may be used only if it is "testimony that (a) was given as a witness at a trial, hearing or lawful deposition, whether given during the current proceeding or a different one; and (b) is now offered against a party who had – or in a civil case, whose predecessor in interest had – an opportunity and similar motive to develop it by direct, cross-, or redirect examination." Id. Plaintiff here seeks to enter the deposition testimony of Mr. Rodriguez against Ms. Maxwell, a non-party to the prior civil cases. Ms. Maxwell has no predecessor in interest in those matters, let alone ones with an opportunity or motive to develop testimony relating to a defamation case that did not arise until over 6 years later. Mr. Rodriguez's testimony through a 2009 deposition is completely unrelated to this action, is pure hearsay and does not fall under any exceptions to the hearsay rules. Fed. R. Evid. 801, 802 & 804.

One key issue about which Mr. Rodriguez was not cross-examined was his own criminal conduct which occurred after the deposition testimony he gave in those matters. Subsequent to the deposition Plaintiff proffers, Mr. Rodriguez contacted the attorneys representing the Jane Does in those matters and attempted to sell them a 97-page document. One such attorney was

Mr. Bradley Edwards, counsel in this case. According to the Criminal Complaint filed against Mr. Rodriguez in 2009, Mr. Rodriguez approached one of the lawyers and offered to sell the lawyer evidence against Mr. Epstein. United States v. Rodriguez, United States District Court for the Southern District of Florida, Case No. 9:09-mj-08308-LRJ, EFC No. 3, ¶¶3-7. Mr. Rodriguez “explained that he had compiled lists of additional victims in the case and their contact information” Id. ¶6. A sting operation was set up by the FBI during which the 97 pages purportedly were provided to an undercover officer in exchange for $50,000. Id. at ¶¶ 8-11. Mr. Rodriguez subsequently was prosecuted and imprisoned for this bribery and obstruction scheme. These actions and conviction, which did not occur until after the deposition Plaintiff seeks to proffer, are quintessential character impeachment evidence that no one has ever examined Mr. Rodriguez about. Given Mr. Rodriguez’s death in 2015, it is now impossible cross examine him on these issues. Submission of Mr. Rodriguez’s testimony without the ability to confront the witness or cross-examine on him on his credibility is improper under Fed. R. Civ. P. 32(a)(8), Fed. R. Evid. 403, 405, 609, 801, 802 & 804.

The format and content of the copy of deposition produced also makes its admission improper. While nine deposition exhibits were marked for identification, only one of the exhibits has been produced. Thus, it is impossible to determine the probative value, if any, of the questioning concerning deposition exhibits (including the identification of pictures) because they are unavailable. Similarly, throughout the deposition, the persons being discussed are referred to only by a first initial or first and last initial. From the content, it is impossible to determine who is being discussed or the age of any particular individual. Under 401, 402 and 403, any admission of this incomplete deposition would be improper.

Like [REDACTED] Mr. Rodriguez was expansively questioned based on counsel's recitation of the alleged content of a recorded statement from Mr. Rodriguez to Detective Recarey and then he was asked questions regarding such statement. He was not shown the recorded statement, nor was he asked any question of his present memory prior to the reading of these statement which resulted in a need to have his recollection refreshed. Plaintiff is attempting to introduce as evidence the content of the prior consistent statement through counsel's questions, which is improper under Fed. R. Evid. Fed. R. Evid. 612 and 801(d)(1).

Further, the questions posed to Mr. Rodriguez that have been designated are almost exclusively leading questions of a non-party witness who Plaintiff intends to use as a direct witness in her case in chief. All of these questions violate Fed. R. Evid. 611(c), making these portions of the deposition inadmissible under 32(a)(1)(b).

The testimony of Mr. Rodriguez is also impermissible under 401, 401, 403 and 602 because Mr. Rodriguez has absolutely no personal knowledge of any matter at issue in this case. He testified that he worked for Mr. Epstein from September 2004 to March 2005, a full two years after Plaintiff in this matter had left the country. He stated that he had never heard of or met "V.R." (presumably Virginia Roberts) Id. Menninger Decl. Ex. E at 441:19-21. Based on his dates of employment, he has no personal knowledge of any events concerning Plaintiff, as pointed out to counsel in the deposition. Id. 277:15-278:5. Indeed, Mr. Rodriguez was very clear in testifying that he had absolutely no personal knowledge about anything that happened between Mr. Epstein and any of the women who came to give him massages and that his testimony is pure speculation. Id. 466:7-467:2. With no personal knowledge of the veracity of the allegations that were called untrue (or any other matter to which he testified) his testimony is completely irrelevant to this litigation.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, Ms. Maxwell respectfully requests an Order of this Court excluding the deposition testimony of witnesses Jeffrey Epstein, [REDACTED], Dr. Phillip Esplin, and Rinaldo Rizzo from being introduced by Plaintiff at trial.

Defendant Ghislaine Maxwell files this Response to Non-Party Sharon Churcher's Motion to Quash Subpoena, and states as follows:

INTRODUCTION

Ms. Maxwell seeks documents and testimony from Sharon Churcher ("Churcher") that are critical to the defense of this single count defamation case. Churcher is the only person with much of the information that will prove the truth defense.

The alleged defamatory press release at issue in this case states:

"Each time the story is re told it changes with new salacious details about public figures and world leaders and now it is alleged by Ms. Roberts that Alan Dershowitz is involved in having sexual relations with her, which he denies.

Ms. Roberts claims are obvious lies and should be treated as such and not publicized as news, as they are defamatory."

Churcher is the sole source of information regarding the original story told by Plaintiff, and was the author of the first articles publishing Plaintiff's claims. She was actively and personally involved in changing those stories over time and in the creation and addition of new salacious details about public figures, including the fabrication of Alan Dershowitz's alleged sexual relations with Plaintiff.

Sharon Churcher's attempt to avoid the subpoena for deposition and production of documents based on the journalist Shield Law must fail for three reasons. First, much of the discovery sought is unrelated to any news gathering activities. Rather, Churcher was acting as a friend and advisor to Plaintiff in Plaintiff's efforts to write and publish a book, sensationalizing her story in a manner that would best boost the publicity, publication and sales of that work of fiction. In that role, she helped manufacture some of the stories that have been denied and that are the central issues in this case.

Second, in certain instances, Churcher was also acting as a source for information to Plaintiff's counsel and law enforcement agencies, specifically stating that she was not acting in her capacity as a journalist. In these instances, she was not gathering news for publication, she was providing information she had already gathered. Providing this information to third parties waived any qualified privilege that ever arguably existed.

Finally, to the extent that any information sought is covered by the qualified protection of Civil Rights Law § 79-h(c)¹, Ms. Maxwell provides a clear and specific showing that the information is highly material or relevant, critical or necessary to the Ms. Maxwell's truth defense, and not obtainable from any alternative source. As such, the Shield Law requires compliance with the subpoena.

For these reason, the Motion to Quash should be denied, and Churcher should be compelled to comply with the Subpoena, as modified herein.

ARGUMENT

I. CHURCHER IS A MATERIAL FACT WITNESS AND WAS NOT ACTING AS A JOURNALIST

The New York Shield law relied on by Churcher is only applicable where a professional journalist is asked to disclose information they have received "in the course of gathering or obtaining news for publication." 79-h(b) &(c). Much of the information sought from Churcher has nothing to do with information she gathered or collected in the course of gathering news for publication. Rather, it relates to advice, information and communications that she had with Plaintiff in her capacity as a friend and advisor. "Section 79-h is not applicable where the journalist is called upon, as other citizens, to testify with respect to personal observations"

Solargen Elec. Motor Car Corp. v. Am. Motors Corp., 506 F. Supp. 546, 551 (N.D.N.Y. 1981); People v. Dupree, 88 Misc. 2d 791, 796, 388 N.Y.S.2d 1000, 1003 (Sup. Ct. 1976) (“the privilege does not exist if the newsman is called on to testify what he personally observed.”).

In this single count defamation action, Churcher is being called as a witness to testify regarding events that she personally observed and in which she participated. This case is about whether the information included in the December 2014 Joinder Motion that Ms. Maxwell called obvious lies were, in fact, lies. These included allegations about Plaintiff’s alleged sexual interactions with Alan Dershowitz and Prince Andrew, specifically referenced in Ms. Maxwell’s denial statement. Not only is Churcher aware that the allegations were false, she helped Plaintiff concoct the stories.

A. Churcher was acting as a friend and advisor to help Plaintiff publish her book, not as journalist

As set out in Churcher’s Declaration, she first met with Plaintiff in early 2011 and conducted a weeks-long series of extensive interviews in person with Plaintiff, leading to a string of publications in March of 2011. As Churcher stated, her focus in these articles was Prince Andrew. After the interviews and the publication of the March 2011 stories, Churcher continued regular contact with Plaintiff as her friend and business advisor. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A, p. 5-7, 10, 12, 19, 24-25, 30, 32, 35, 37-38, 48, 51, 61 & 68. Churcher encouraged Plaintiff to write a book and to begin pursuing publishing contracts as soon as her exclusivity with the Mail on Sunday was over in May 2011. Menninger Decl. Ex. A, p. 2, 5. Churcher recommended a variety of ghost writers and agents to Plaintiff for this purpose, all as Plaintiff’s friend, advisor and advocate. See Menninger Decl. Ex. A, p. 5, 9, 10, 12, 15, 25, 30, 32, 35, 37, 38, 42, 48, 50 & 60. Churcher also initiated contact with the US Attorney’s office and FBI on behalf of Plaintiff, setting up their initial meeting where Churcher planned to be present at that meeting “for support,” not in her capacity as a journalist. Menninger Decl. Ex. A, p. 3.

Plaintiff did begin writing her book and sent versions of her manuscript to Churcher for her review and comment – again, in her capacity as a friend, not as a journalist. Menninger Decl. Ex. A, p. 59. Churcher also had extensive discussion with Plaintiff on the best strategies for getting interest in her book, including determining when to “name names” Menninger Decl. Ex. A, p. 63. She strategized with Plaintiff and Plaintiff’s counsel, Brad Edwards, on how to use a potential Vanity Fair article as book publicity by dropping names of famous politicians, claiming she was sex trafficked, but refusing to provide additional information because she was writing a book. Menninger Decl. Ex. A, p. 51-58.

Through some of these communications between Plaintiff and Churcher, it is obvious that stories in the book – later to become allegation in the Joinder Motion – were created and supported based on the suggestions of Churcher. They were not reported by Plaintiff in her initial interview, or in Churcher’s initial publications, because they did not occur.

B. Churcher prompted Plaintiff to fabricate stories regarding Prince Andrew

In 2011, when Churcher first reported on Plaintiff’s story after having just spent weeks interviewing Plaintiff in Australia, and with a particular focus on reporting Plaintiff’s meeting Prince Andrew, Churcher specifically reported: “[t]here is no suggestion that there was any sexual contact between Virginia and Andrew, or that Andrew knew that Epstein paid her to have sex with his friends.” Churcher Decl., Ex. 2, p. 6/34. Shortly thereafter, on March 20, 2011, Churcher emailed Plaintiff explaining to her how she can corroborate a story to tell the FBI – that she was “given to” Prince Andrew. Menninger Decl., Ex. A, p. 8. Churcher provided an explanation for how Plaintiff can substantiate the claim – a claim not previously made by Plaintiff.

The December 2014 Joinder Motion is the first publication of alleged sexual interaction between Plaintiff and Prince Andrew. At some point between March 2011 and January 2015, Churcher requested that Plaintiff handwrite a diary describing her alleged sexual encounters with Prince Andrew. Attached to the Churcher Declaration at Exhibit 7 is an Article subtitled “Diary Entries Of ‘Teen Sex Slave’ Detail Sorted Hook-Up With Prince Andrew – In Her Own Handwriting.” The article claims to print excerpts of a contemporaneous journal kept by Plaintiff when she was 17, stating “In a bombshell world exclusive, RadarOnline.com has exclusively obtained the secret journal of the then 17-year-old employed to have sex with billionaire pedophile Jeffrey Epstein and his rich and powerful pals — and it’s packed with scandalous claims about her illicit trysts, including with Andrew, the fifth in line to the British throne.” Churcher Decl. Ex. 7. This alleged 24 page “diary” or “journal” was a completely fabricated document handwritten by Plaintiff at the request and direction of Churcher. See Menninger Decl. Ex. B, p. 207-208; 226-231² Plaintiff maintains she did not keep a copy of this handwritten “diary,” leaving the only source of the complete document and information about its creation with the person who asked for the document’s fabrication – Churcher.³

If there was no suggestion of sexual contact with Prince Andrew as of March 2, 2011, how and when was this story first created? From the email correspondence, it appears that Churcher was directly involved in inventing this story during the course of creating stories for a book – stories that would generate the interest of publishers. Churcher’s testimony on how the Prince Andrew allegation was first created is direct evidence in this case.

² In actuality, the only journal Plaintiff ever maintained that might contain relevant information was purposefully destroyed by Plaintiff in a bonfire in 2013, at a time when she was represented by counsel and actively trying to insert herself as a Plaintiff in the CVRA case. Menninger Decl., Ex. B, p. 205-209.

³ To the extent Churcher argues that the creation of this “diary” was somehow part of the news “gathering” process, it was clearly not confidential, and the test requiring production of the non-published portions, discussed below, is met – the information is highly relevant, critical to the defense, and available from no other source.

C. Churcher prompted Plaintiff to invent stories regarding Alan Dershowitz

Churcher's direct involvement in creating the allegations in the Joinder Motion regarding Plaintiff's alleged sexual interactions with Alan Dershowitz – or even the knowledge of Alan Dershowitz' name – is even more apparent. Prior to the December 2014 joinder Motion, there is not a single mention of Mr. Dershowitz in any pleading related to Plaintiff. In Churcher's March 2011 publications, directly after she interviewed Plaintiff, there was not a single mention of Mr. Dershowitz. It is quite apparent that Plaintiff had never met Mr. Dershowitz or reported that he was a person with whom she had had sexual relations.

In the May/June 2011 timeframe, Plaintiff and Churcher's communications relate primarily to Plaintiff's draft of her novel, hiring a ghostwriter, and requests for advice on how to manage agent and book publication deals. Menninger Decl. Ex. A. As a part of those communications, on May 10, 2011, Plaintiff writes Churcher:

"Hello gorgeous, I hope this message comes to you on a bright, sunny day!!! I took your advice about what to offer Sandra [a ghostwriter] and she accepted. We're drawing up a contract through her agent right now and getting busy to meet my deadline. Just wondering if you have any information on you from when you and I were doing interviews about the J.E. story. I wanted to put the names of these assholes, oops I meant to say, pedo's, that J.E. sent me to. With everything going on my brain feels like mush and it would be a great deal of help!..."⁴

In an e-mail dated May 11, 2011, Churcher replies to Plaintiff:

"Don't forget Alan Dershowitz... JE' s buddy and lawyer -good name for your pitch as he repped Claus von Bulow and a movie was made about that case ... title was Reversal of Fortune. We all suspect Alan is a pedo and tho no proof of that, you probably met him when he was hanging put w JE"

Menninger Decl. Ex. A, p. 26-28.

⁴ This email raises its own issues. If Plaintiff was providing her own personal information regarding what allegedly happened to her, why would she require information from Churcher from their interviews about whom she had been 'trafficked' to. What information did Churcher provide to Plaintiff that was the basis for Plaintiff's various allegations, as opposed to being factual information based on events that happened to Plaintiff?

Sometime thereafter, Plaintiff did insert Mr. Dershowitz's name in her book manuscript but she did not allege therein that she had any sexual relations with him, rather she simply referred to him as a business acquaintance of Mr. Epstein's. It was not until the Joinder Motion in December 2014 that she claimed she engaged in sexual relations with Mr. Dershowitz, something he adamantly and publicly denied.

At the heart of this case is the question of whether Ms. Maxwell defamed Plaintiff by calling her a liar. Of course, if Plaintiff is a liar, then there is no defamation. Churcher had direct and actual knowledge that Plaintiff is a liar and helped orchestrate specific and incredible public lies in concert with Plaintiff relating to Prince Andrew and Alan Dershowitz. In both of these instances, Churcher is not acting as a journalist – she is acting as a friend and advisor to Plaintiff on how to drop names – truth be damned – to try to sell Plaintiff's book. As Churcher puts it, the only incentives are “deadlines and/or cash”. Menninger Decl., Ex. A, p. 12. Churcher is not a journalist; she is a co-conspirator in Plaintiff's publication of false statements regarding numerous people including Prince Andrew, Alan Dershowitz and Ms. Maxwell. It is the denial of the defamatory claims Churcher helped create that is the basis of this defamation suit. There is no reporter shield over these factual matters that are not related to new gathering.

D. Churcher's communications with Plaintiff's Counsel and Law Enforcement are not news-gathering activities

Churcher also admits to communicating regularly with Bradley Edwards, now Plaintiff's counsel, and other agents for Plaintiff, which communications continue through the present day. See Churcher Decl., ¶¶ 9-10. Churcher is the person who initially put Plaintiff in contact with Edwards. See Menninger Decl., Ex A, p. 7. Churcher coached Plaintiff on how to use Edwards to provide information to reporters in a manner that would best help her book sales. See Menninger Decl., Ex A, p. 51-58. According to Plaintiff, she regularly shared information from Edwards with Churcher, although she could not specify the attorney-client privileged information she shared. Menninger Decl. Ex. B, p. 297-300. None of the communications or correspondence with Edwards, or any of Plaintiff's other attorneys, are in a news gathering capacity, and are not covered by the Shield Law.

Likewise, Churcher apparently corresponded with the FBI and US Attorney's office regarding Plaintiff, and specifically states she is not acting in her journalistic capacity. Menninger Decl. Ex A, 3. Communications that occurred that were not forwarded or copies to Plaintiff have not been produced. Churcher specifically states that she would like to be treated as a confidential source of information. Id., p. 8. She is not gathering news, she is attempting to assist law enforcement and providing them with information she has gathered. First, this is not news gathering activity, and clearly not related to confidential source. Even if there was some claim of qualified privilege, having shared information with the FBI or other law enforcement, there is a waiver of any protection of the Shield Law. See Guice-Mills v. Forbes, 12 Misc. 3d 852, 857, 819 N.Y.S.2d 432, 436 (Sup. Ct. 2006) (professional journalist waived the exemption of the Shield Law if they voluntarily disclose or consent to disclosure of otherwise covered information to third parties).

None of the documents or information described above is covered by the New York Shield Law because Churcher was not engaged in the news-gathering process. Regardless, there is no proof that any of the information sought by Ms. Maxwell in the subpoena is confidential information from a confidential source, nor was it intended kept confidential. The requested information must be produced and Churcher deposed as her testimony is critical to the truth defense in this case.

II. THE ABSOLUTE PRIVILEGE OF THE SHIELD LAW IS NOT APPLICABLE BECAUSE THERE WAS NO EXPECTATION OF CONFIDENTIALITY

As with all attempts to block the discovery of relevant information “[t]he burden rests upon the [party invoking privilege] to demonstrate that the material is privileged.” People v. Wolf, 39 A.D.2d 864, 864, 333 N.Y.S.2d 299, 301 (1972). “To successfully raise a claim of privilege under this statute, the information must be imparted to the reporter under a ‘cloak of confidentiality’. There had to be an understanding, express or implied, that the information will not be disclosed” People v. Bova, 118 Misc. 2d 14, 19, 460 N.Y.S.2d 230, 233 (Sup. Ct. 1983); Hennigan v. Buffalo Courier Express Co., Inc., 85 A.D.2d 924, 446 N.Y.S.2d 767 (“The confidential relationship with the source must first be established in order to determine the interest to be balanced against that of a civil litigant. Full disclosure is the general rule and the burden of showing immunity from disclosure is on the party asserting it”); People v. LeGrand, 67 A.D.2d 446, 415 N.Y.S.2d 252; Matter of WBAI-FM v. Proskin, 42 A.D.2d 5, 344 N.Y.S.2d 393; Matter of Wolf, 39 A.D.2d 864, 333 N.Y.S.2d 299; Davis v. Davis, 88 Misc.2d 1, 386 N.Y.S.2d 992).

Churcher admits that her conversations and communications with Plaintiff were not made with any expectation of confidentiality. Indeed, quite the opposite. The express reason for the communication was to obtain press coverage and to cause the publications of the series of articles written and published by Churcher. Plaintiff was paid over $140,000 to go “on record.”

With respect to any other “source” of information over which Churcher claims an “absolute” privilege, there is no issue. Ms. Maxwell is not seeking this information. Ms. Maxwell recognizes that there are occasions in which Churcher attributes information to a confidential source. Ms. Maxwell does not seek to compel documents relating to these limited individuals, to the extent the information and source was not later revealed, and will not question

Churcher on these sources except to determine if they have later been identified with their permission. The undersigned informed Ms. Churcher's counsel in their conferral that she would not seek information relating to confidential sources.

Respecting identified sources, Churcher fails to carry the burden of showing that there was an expectation of confidentiality, which is her burden to carry. Indeed, in her declaration she admits that she had conversations with Plaintiff's attorney, Bradly Edwards, and law enforcement agencies that were not intended to be kept confidential. See Churcher Decl. ¶¶ 9 & 11. In her articles, she specifically identifies the sources of her information, demonstrating the lack of confidentiality. Plaintiff simply cannot carry the burden of claiming any absolute privilege under 79-h(b).

III. THERE IS A COMPELLING NEED FOR CHURCHER'S DOCUMENTS AND TESTIMONY

Having failed to establish the essential element of confidentiality, Churcher attempts to claim a qualified protection. Matter of Sullivan, 167 Misc. 2d 534, 538, 635 N.Y.S.2d 437, 440 (Sup. Ct. 1995) (source "had no understanding or expectation of confidentiality with either Mr. Hurley or the police detectives regarding the viewing of the interrogation. Consequently, there is no absolute privilege which protects the movant's materials, see Civil Rights Law § 79-h(b), and therefore any protection that might be afforded to the journalistic material can only be of a qualified nature."). Churcher relies on qualified protection relating to non-published news gathering information, which requires Ms. Maxwell make a clear and specific showing that the information is: (1) highly material and relevant; and (2) critical or necessary to the litigant's claim or defense; and (3) not obtainable from any alternative source. Matter of Sullivan, 167 Misc. 2d 534, 537-38, 635 N.Y.S.2d 437, 440 (Sup. Ct. 1995); Civil Rights Law 79-h (c). As discussed above, this provision is only applicable where a journalist is acting in a news gathering capacity. Ms. Maxwell proffers the following clear and specific showing establishing each of these elements, requiring production of the information sought and deposition of Churcher.

A. The Information Sought from Churcher is Highly Material and Directly Relevant

This is a case about whether or not allegations in the Joinder Motion were lies, in particular the claims about Ms. Maxwell, Prince Andrew and Alan Dershowitz, which are the specific items that were denied in Ms. Maxwell's press release. The information sought from Churcher is highly material in proving that that each time the story is told, new salacious details are added – the alleged defamatory statement. Indeed, it could be the most probative evidence in this case.

“In determining whether the defendant has made a clear and specific showing that the information sought is critical or necessary to [her] defense, this court should not ‘substitute its judgment for a defendant's on the question whether such evidence is ‘necessary and critical’ to a defense.” Matter of Sullivan, 167 Misc. 2d 534, 540, 635 N.Y.S.2d 437, 441 (Sup. Ct. 1995) (quoting United States v. Sanusi, 813 F.Supp. 149, 160 (U.S.Dist.Ct.E.D.1992)).

Starting with Ms. Maxwell, Churcher's articles directly conflict with the allegations in the Joinder Motion and Plaintiff's testimony in this case. First, Churcher's original article reports the following regarding Plaintiff's first visit to Mr. Epstein's mansion:

“I'd get training and be paid well. Virginia's father gave his blessing, believing his daughter was being handed the opportunity to learn a skill and to work for a wealthy and respectable employer.
He drove her to Epstein's pink mansion on the Palm Beach waterfront . . .

Virginia says: ‘Ghislaine said I was to start immediately and that someone would drive me home.

My father left and I was told to go upstairs.’ She was led by another woman through Epstein's bedroom into a massage room where he lay face down naked on a table.

He started to interview Virginia. This was unconventional, but Virginia had no suspicions. Presumably, she thought, this was how the wealthy conducted their business.

Epstein elicited the information that Virginia had been a runaway, and was no longer a virgin. Virginia was then told to start massaging Epstein, under the instructions of the woman who had shown her in. The massage quickly developed into a sexual encounter.

Churcher Decl., Ex. 2, p. 4/34; See also Churcher Decl., Ex. 5, p. 3/13.

Churcher later reports that Ms. Maxwell hired girls for Epstein. In this story, she alleges Ms. Maxwell escorted Plaintiff to meet Mr. Epstein, but nowhere claims that Ms. Maxwell engaged in any sexual interaction with Plaintiff at any time. See Churcher Decl., Ex. 4, p.1-6.

The Joinder Motion alleges that it was Ms. Maxwell that took Plaintiff to Mr. Epstein's room on her first visit to the mansion, and allegedly participated in a sexual interaction – a claim never before made. Ex. C. Obviously, Churcher's notes, interviews and recordings are directly relevant to Plaintiff's original story about Ms. Maxwell, and how it has changed and morphed over time, as well as the motivation for those changes.

The next allegation that has mutated with time in Churcher's stories and in the Joinder Motion relates to Plaintiff's age when she first met Epstein and the amount of time she spent working for him. In Churcher's first story, she published that Plaintiff first met Epstein in 1998, soon after her 15th birthday, and worked for him for four years. Churcher Decl., Ex. 1, p. 3/34; Ex. 5, p. 2/31. The Joinder Motion alleges that Plaintiff met Epstein in 1999, when she was 15. Both the year and the time of year are material to this case.

Plaintiff now admits that she did not meet Epstein in 1999, but rather met him in 2000 which was the year she worked at the Mar-A-Lago. Plaintiff's claims about meeting Epstein in 1998 or 1999, and her claim of being 15, are lies. Plaintiff still claims, however, that she was 16 years old at the time she met Epstein. Menninger Decl., Ex. B, p. 104. Despite efforts to obtain records from the Mar-A-Lago, they have no records of Plaintiff's dates of employment to establish the timeframe. Churcher is a witness with information fixing the month when Plaintiff claims to have met Epstein, i.e. soon after her birthday in August. In light of the now admitting year – 2000 – Plaintiff would have been 17 at the time.

Other highly relevant information in Churcher's sole possession is the identification of what documents and information Plaintiff was shown by Churcher, including flight logs, pictures, or other witness statements. For instance, based on email correspondence, it appears that Churcher was in possession of Epstein's flight logs. There is no indication that Plaintiff had seen those flight logs prior to meeting Churcher. Plaintiff never mentions certain names that appear in the flight logs prior to Churcher's meeting with her in February 2011. By way of example, Bill Clinton is referenced in the flight logs. Before 2011, Plaintiff never mentioned or references President Clinton. Yet, suddenly and out of thin air, Plaintiff allegedly reports to Churcher in 2011 that she met Bill Clinton twice, and that Ms. Maxwell flew President Clinton on a helicopter to Mr. Epstein's Island – a story which has since been fully discredited as a lie. This is simply one example of names and stories that were mysteriously added to Plaintiff's story, likely through Churcher's suggestive questioning and presentation of documents to Plaintiff. The only person who can testify on this highly relevant matter, including what documents were shown to Plaintiff, is Churcher.

Churcher also reported that Plaintiff was sent by Epstein (and Epstein alone) to meet with men including “a well-known businessman (whose pregnant wife was asleep in the next room), a world-renowned scientist, a respected liberal politician and a foreign head of state.” Churcher Decl., Ex. 2, p. 5/34. By contrast, the Joinder Motion alleges “Epstein also trafficked Jane Doe #3 [Plaintiff] for sexual purposes to many other powerful men, including numerous prominent American politicians, powerful business executives, foreign presidents, a well-known Prime Minister, and other world leaders.” Menninger Decl., Ex. C. Notably, Plaintiff has not identified any foreign presidents, a prime minister, a foreign head of state, a world-renowned scientist or numerous “prominent American Politicians” in her Rule 26 disclosures in this case. So the question is, who did Plaintiff identify to Churcher in 2011, and how has that list changed and expanded over time. Only Churcher can provide this information.

Churcher’s publications in March of 2011 were the first publication containing the now widely publicized picture of Plaintiff with Prince Andrew. Plaintiff was well paid for this picture, and continued to get royalties on the reprints. Despite multiple requests, Plaintiff has not been able to produce or provide the actual native version of the picture, or identify the specific date it was taken. Given that Churcher was the first news source to print the picture, and later worked with the FBI to provide information, she is likely the person who has the photo, or knows the chain of custody of the picture. Either way, information including the date and location where the picture was taken are relevant. Churcher is the only person who may be able to provide the information to track down the picture, or may have it herself.

The interview notes, recordings, memos and other documentation in Churcher’s possession regarding Plaintiff are highly probative, material and directly relevant to Plaintiff’s fabrication and expansion of claims. For instance, if Plaintiff specifically told Churcher that she only met, but did not have sexual relations with, Prince Andrew in early 2001, the statement in the Joinder Motion is a lie. Given that Churcher reported that there is “no indication of sexual interaction with Prince Andrew,” in 2011 only Churcher can provide testimony or notes reflecting the basis for that published statement.

B. Churcher's documents and testimony are critical to Ms. Maxwell's truth defense and Plaintiff's claims

As stated in the Motion to Quash, the “highly relevant” and “critical or necessary to the litigant's claim or defense” prongs of the test for overcoming a qualified privilege largely overlap. In this single count defamation action, this is particularly true. As can be seen by the clear and specific showing above, all of the information sought from Churcher is critical to the defense of substantial truth.

It is well settled that truth is an absolute defense to a claim of defamation. “Under New York law, it is well-settled that truth is an absolute, unqualified defense to a civil defamation action. It is an equally fundamental concept that substantial truth suffices to defeat a charge of libel.” Jewell v. NYP Holdings, Inc., 23 F. Supp. 2d 348, 366 (S.D.N.Y. 1998) (internal quotations and citations omitted). In examining the role of Churcher's testimony and documents to this defense, it is important to look at the actual text of that press statement::

Each time the story is re told it changes with new salacious details about public figures and world leaders and now it is alleged by Ms. Roberts that Alan Dershowitz is involved in having sexual relations with her, which he denies.

Ms. Roberts claims are obvious lies and should be treated as such and not publicized as news, as they are defamatory.

Ex. D

As demonstrated above, Ms. Churcher's documents and testimony are critical to establishing the fact that each time Plaintiff has told her story it changes and new salacious details are added.

Likewise, Churcher admits that her testimony is relevant to Plaintiff's credibility. While a journalist testimony relating to impeachment or credibility of a party may not normally be critical, it is here. Plaintiff's credibility, or lack thereof, is the central issue in the case. This is not merely impeachment evidence, it is the crux of the case. If Plaintiff is a “liar” defense of truth is established. Likewise, it establishes that there can be no damages caused by the alleged defamatory statement. Again, Churcher's documents and testimony are central to this issue.

C. Churcher's information cannot be obtained from an alternative source.

Churcher claims that there are other sources for the information sought, citing almost exclusively the Plaintiff as the potential source of information. This argument is flawed for two reasons. First, Plaintiff claims that she does not have much of the information sought, or simply can't remember. In her deposition, she said she cannot remember where the photograph is, where the contract is, what she told Churcher, and she refused upon advice of counsel, to state what stories Churcher "got wrong." See Motion to Re-Open Deposition of Plaintiff. Second, as the direct adversary in this case, Plaintiff is not a reliable source for information, and thus cannot be deemed an alternative source. Matter of Sullivan, 167 Misc. 2d 534, 541, 635 N.Y.S.2d 437, 442 (Sup. Ct. 1995) (compelling journalist notes, records, and videotapes of interrogation where claimed alternative source of information – detectives conducting the interrogation – were adversaries and thus could not be deemed the reliable source for information)

For most information, Churcher is the only source of the information sought. She is the only person who can provide the following information and documents:

- The 24 page fabricated diary, and testimony on when and why it was created⁵
- Notes, transcriptions, tape recordings, and memorandum from her interviews with Plaintiff, including her week long interviews in Australia;⁶
- Churcher's communications with law enforcement or the FBI concerning Plaintiff;⁷

⁵ Plaintiff contends that she gave the original to Churcher, and did not maintain a copy. Ex B, p. 229.

⁶ Plaintiff has produced some email communications with Churcher, although in light of Plaintiff's statements concerning the regular deletion of emails, there are likely email communications that were not captured by Plaintiff in Ms. Churcher's possession or control. Nevertheless, to minimize the burden, Ms. Maxwell will voluntarily limit documents containing communication with Plaintiff by eliminating email communications between Plaintiff and Churcher using Plaintiff's [REDACTED] address. Because Plaintiff did not produce documents from her hotmail account and only recently produced documents from her iCloud account, Ms. Maxwell requests that Churcher search for documents to or from Plaintiff at these two email address.

⁷ Ms. Maxwell has filed a FOIA request and had not received a response.

- Plaintiff's contract with the Mail on Sunday, which Plaintiff claims she no longer has;⁸
- The original Prince Andrew picture, or information on its chain of custody;
- Communications with Brad Edwards and other attorneys for Plaintiff⁹

From a testimonial standpoint, only Churcher can testify about the deviations in the stories she has heard from Plaintiff because only Churcher was there. Plaintiff herself claims she cannot remember what she told Churcher at various points in time, and herself asked Churcher for the notes from her interview so Plaintiff could remember what she said. Menninger Decl., Ex. A, p. 26. Plaintiff further refused to testify about what information Churcher printed that was untrue or varied from what Plaintiff told Churcher. Menninger Decl., Ex. B, p. 215-226. Thus, the only person who can testify or provide documentary evidence about Plaintiff's stories to Churcher is Churcher.

In light of the critical nature of the documents and testimony in establishing the truth defense and the fact that the information simply is not available from other sources, Churcher is not entitled to claim qualified privilege over her news-gathering materials or non-published non-confidential information.

IV. MS. MAXWELL'S COUNSEL AGREED TO EXTEND THE RETURN DATE FOR COMPLIANCE WITH THE SUBPOENA

Churcher's final argument for a Protective Order – that there was not a reasonable time to respond – is defeated by the admission in her own pleading. It is true that the original response date was twelve days after service – two days less than is considered presumptively “reasonable.” Ms. Maxwell's counsel readily agreed that if Churcher intended to respond and comply with the subpoena rather than moving to quash, that the response date would be extended and the deposition would be scheduled at a mutually agreeable time. As such, there is no basis for quashing the subpoena based on the “unreasonable time” argument, as Churcher was on notice that she would be given the time needed to obtain the documents requested. In light of the discovery cut-off in this case, however, if a motion to quash was forthcoming, the matter needed to be resolved to permit completion of discovery.

⁸ Ex. 247-248

⁹ This information had been requested in discovery to Plaintiff, but no documents have been produced. Ms. Maxwell has also subpoenaed the information from Plaintiff's attorneys, each of whom has moved to quash. There can be no question that Ms. Maxwell has exhausted every possible source for obtaining this information.

WHEREFORE, for the forgoing reasons, Ms. Maxwell requests that the Court deny the Motion to Quash, and compel deposition and the Production of Documents by Sharron Churcher pursuant to the subpoena, as modified by footnote 6 herein.

Hi again,
 Thanks alot for understanding, I appreciate all that you are helping me with. It's going to be splendid weather tomorrow! :-) We should meet at the kids water gym next to where you went to watch the pelicans feed.
 See you then...
 Take care,
 Jenna

Hi shazza,
 That will be great if we can arrange the wire tomorrow, much appreciated buddy! If you don't mind my husband and I would like to be alone with the phone conversation taking place tomorrow, we just have some serious things to think about and our families well being comes first. I'll fill you in over lunch tomorrow. We were thinking of meeting you at The entrance instead. There's really nice alfresco dining and great for the kids to play. What do you think? See you then...
 Take care,
 Jenna

Dear Virginia:

Please treat this as a confidential communication.

Thank you for contacting me. Special Agent Wende Bardfeld and I would like to speak with you at 9:00 a.m. your time, Tuesday, Mar 8, 2011. According to my calculations, that is 5:00 p.m., Monday, March 7, 2011 here in West Palm Beach.

We would prefer to speak with you via Skype, if possible. We feel that a video-conference would put you a bit more at ease, and would be a better way for us to introduce ourselves to you. Wende has set up a Skype account with user name Wende.Bardfeld@ic.fbi.gov.

If you are unable to sign in to Skype, or if you cannot locate Special Agent Bardfeld's log-in, please send me an email. In the alternative, if we do not hear from you on Skype by 5:10, we will call you on the telephone number that you provided.

Thank you again.

Dear Ms. Villafana:

I am sending you this email on a strictly background, not for attribution basis. I will not disclose it nor any future communications between us without your explicit permission.

Virginia Roberts has asked me to give you her cell phone number.

She is in Australia, [REDACTED]

I am copying her in by email but she will be grateful any initial contact with her is by phone. She is 16 hours ahead of EST. A good time for her to speak is nine am her time tomorrow (Monday your time).

Virginia would prefer me to be present when you initiate communication with her. We both realize that any such communication must be in confidence. I will be there for support, not as a journalist.

I am sure you understand that it has been a big step for her coming forward. She has 3 young children and a husband and has concerns about whether she is compromising their well-being.

I am a former investigative reporter for New York Magazine where my colleagues included Nick Pileggi. I understand the sensitivity of this situation.

Frankly, if I still worked there, I would publish everything that I believe happened to Virginia and that now may be happening to a new generation of minors.

But I now run the NY bureau for a UK paper and I am restrained because of the UK's libel laws.

So Virginia and I are putting our trust in you.

Best regards,
Sharon Churcher

They are called Objective Entertainment. Top guy is Jarred. I think he will be intrigued because you could spin off a TV miniseries Jenna
Will be happy to introduce u.

I also am attaching info on a more traditional agent I know, Irene Goodman. She has had several successes with new authors. Maybe talk to both of them as well as Sandra's agency.

Hi buddy,
You must be looking forward to getting back home today, I'm just really happy I got to work with you on this! Many more great times to come. Sorry went to bed early last night, we should meet at the newsstand on martin pl and George st. Call me when you get there. Also I don't need Sandra to come this a.m, I've spoken to Jason who sounds nice and she's only a phone call away if I need some support. I'll call her a little later anyways. See ya soon

Hi shazza,
You'd still be in the air but hopefully near home by now! We had a wonderful time with you and know this is only a new beginning of a wonderful friendship. Next time bring your hubby and rob can show him a real Aussie BBQ. Yesterday went well, I set some guideline and helped in every way I could, needless to say it took a long time! I would like you to give Brad Edwards my phone number or email so that I may speak with him regarding the victims suit and start that off. You have been so amazingly informative, thank you for everything! Lets speak when your back and relaxed. Take care buddy!

Darling Jenna and Rob,

Thank you so much for breakfast...and for finally getting me into downtown Sydney. It makes NY look a bit shabby! I loved the old buildings. And did you see the little black dresses in the Chanel window display near Martin Place??

Seriously, I am so blessed to have you as friends. It is a wrench leaving you --despite everything Jenna has been through, there is a sphere of peace around you and your family and going back into the brash world of New York isn't going to be easy.

I do hope today is going well and that Jeffrey gets the vibes of what's coming to him and his evil empire.

I leave at 3.25pm and get in around 11pm NY time on Thursday.

Sandra is around if you need her. And I will look forward to catching up Friday.

With a very, very big hug,
Shazza

Hi shazza,

I just got off the phone with Jason and he confirmed that he does infact have your flight logs and journal. I told him you must remain a confidential source and the way he explained it was that all of the info you pass through me will not be used in court, only as a lead for investigation, but he cannot use you as a direct source. He would like your help with the contact information for the following people: Teala Davis, miles and Kathy, Emmy taylor, and Sarah kellan. If there is anyone else you can think of that may be viable, please let me know and I will be happy to pass it on.

Take care buddy,

Jenna

Hi there Detective Jenna...

Can you ask Jason to regard me as a confidential source. He may be afraid of media...I can't be seen to be helping him either.

Re his question: I am told the FBI have the flight logs. They also have the journal. It's the document they confiscated from a houseman called Alfredo Rodríguez. Maybe Jason means that he wants to know how they corroborate the flight to London when you were 'given' to Andrew. Here's how: you had photos from that trip -- taken in Granada and London -- and you recalled going to Paris as well and Morocco. I found that itinerary in the logs (you landed at Luton airport near London). Also Johanna had recalled being groped by Andrew one Easter at the NY mansion and that Ghislaine sat both of you on his knee. You had an identical memory and there was a flight to NY just before Easter in 01 that I found in the logs.

Love,
Sharon

Hi Shazza,,

Just got the house sprayed so were saying "bye-bye" to all the redbacks and other vermon..lol!!

I had a meeting with Sandra and it went really well, thanks for the connection!! The book is going really well, everytime I rewrite it, my memories only reflect more and more!!!

I will try and contact Jarred on the number you gave me, thanks for that, and let him know that I am interested in speaking with him but he's gonna have to wait... with the rest of them...he he... until my contract finishes.

I haven't heard anything back yet from the people regarding syndicates, maybe there's just too many :))!! well let me know when you have an idea when you hear something, thank-you buddy.

Take Cares,
Jenna

G'day Jarred,

You came highly recommended from my good pal Sharon Churcher, a journalist who works for Sunday Mail. She mentioned to me that you produce miniseries back in N.Y and thought it would be a great idea to contact you to talk about "The Billionaires Playboy Club" a book that I am currently writing, including names of the rich, famous and always in trouble. If you are interested in speaking further about this I would love to chat with you sometime. I am still under a contract until May 20th, so it could only be off the record for now.

Please keep this email strictly confidential.. Thanks Mate!!

Sincerely,

Virginia Roberts

Hi Buddy,

So much has been happening lately, I haven't even had the chance to catch up with you, my apologies!!! I have been working really hard on "The Story" and loving it! Only 17 days until the contract is finished with Mail On Sunday and I am so excited I will soon be selling my book to a publisher and who knows from there...YEAH!!!!

I was sent a message by Brad Edwards who suggested that maybe it could be a good idea to speak with the gentleman from Vanity Fair when my contract is finished as it is a great way to gain publicity for my book and the case, as long as I can ensure that the writer brings the story out in a classy way and does not spill the beans on the major parts of the story. I am considering it as long as my needs and conditions are met. Do you have any major concerns that could see this potentially hindering anything? If so please let me know as I do trust in you as my wonderful confidante.

Sandra is still in England covering the wedding, hopefully she'll be back soon to start some serious work with me. I have received her version of the raw synopsis and so far so good. I look forward to seeing the finale!!

Much Love xoxoxo
Jenna

Hi sweetheart

How is the book going?

I thought I should catch up with you because Vanity Fair are doing an Andrew piece and Brad says their writer, Ed Klein, wants to interview you.

My strong instinct is not to help him -- not to even take his calls -- as there is no upside in giving away one of THE selling points of the book. (This crazy wedding hoopla should be great timing in terms of getting publishers interested..).

See you in June!

Love,
Shaza

Excellently said, Jenna. Now let's just hope he does a GREAT pr job.

I am off to the UK tonight -- to see my mom and for a company "war zone" training course. Idea of the latter is that ex Special Forces guys teach us what to do if we are shot at or kidnapped....dumbest thing I ever heard of unless they plan to arm us with machine guns.

I will be on my usual email and cell phone. Get back to NY on May 17th.
 Hugs to you all,

Hi Brad,

I am so sorry to hear the news of Ruslana, and my condolences are with her family and friends. I can say that I have never had any meetings with her, sorry not to be of any help there.

With the Vanity Fair piece, I spoke to Sharon Churcher who had some great pointers about why I shouldn't give him an exclusive about the case. First of all "The Story" is full of names of people involved in my years spent with J.E and I wouldn't want to spoil the details in my book. Secondly If J.E finds out that I am doing a book he may try to stop me from publishing it,

Im sure he has his ways through his many various contacts, and thirdly I want to have this book on the shelves for the audience to go buy the second that my publicity starts. In saying that I still believe it is great publicity for our case and probably a good idea for you to speak with him about the case instead of me. If written the right way and brought out as you having a key witness now speaking with authorities or what not, they could even use a simple picture of me to spice it up. I just don't want my last name "Giuffre" mentioned or the fact that there is a book in the makings. What do you think about all of this? It will be very helpful to hear your opinion tomorrow when we speak.

I hope you have been doing well and staying busy fighting one scandal at a time!!

Hi Jenna

Good to hear from you - so nice to get an email that wasn't connected to work! I have been doing seven days a week on this wedding and I even wrote five pages yesterday!

However, that will probably be the last of the heavy workload I should think.

As far as the mid June deadline goes, nothing is impossible but you don't want to sell yourself short. All you need for any meetings with agents is a strong proposal (which ours is, though not complete) and a sample chapter or two.

But, as you mentioned before, we need to get things on a more formal footing between us before we progress much further.

I have been in touch with agents here to confirm what I thought and ghost writers' percentages vary from 50-50. Seeing as though you are doing a lot of the initial work yourself, I thought it would be fairer if we worked on a 7-30 split, in your favour.

Let me know what you think, then we can get an agreement written up between us and move on. bring it on!

Hope you are feeling well and that Robbie and the kids are well.

Yours
 Sandra

Hi Sandra,

I am glad for you the big wedding is now over, and we can start looking at getting this book up and running. I have had some big named mag's trying to contact me for some pieces on "the story" and some one else from an editing agency wanting to do a story themselves, so need to get busy. I have done a lot of work and when you are ready, I'd love for us to coincide our writing. Mid-June is when I am going to in the States, and would be my deadline to have this book nearly finished, if not completed. Do you see this as a possibility? I am looking forward to speaking with you soon, and only 17 more days until my contract is up with Mail On Sunday...Yeah!! Take Care Buddy.

 Jenna

Hi again buddy,

I thank you for looking into the percentages of Ghostwriters. I honestly don't know what to do regarding her offer. What do you think about her status compared to another Ghostwriter that charges the same rate? I just want to know she's worth in the end. She said she conferred with her agents in London and they supposedly said it's normally 50% cut between both writers but because I'm doing most of the work she will generously give me 70% and she'll take 30%. I guess the advantage of hiring her is that she is local and can help get INT'L coverage, but should I be waiting to sign with an agent before her and I agree to anything? I haven't responded back to her yet hoping you could advise me on the best route to take her. I know you have a wealth of experience in this field and I completely trust in your guidance.

How is it on the front line? I hope your having a good vacation/training and enjoying time with your Mother. Take care of yourself and I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Warmest Regards,
Jenna

Hi Jenna

Thirty percent is the going rate, at least for top ghost writers. I checked with my friend.
 Having said which, my advice would be to negotiate since you are doing so much of the work. I would offer 30 percent of your "net" advance

(the advance is an upfront fee from the publisher...

The net advance is the money you receive after the agent takes his or her percentage which is usually 10 to 15pc.)

How are things for you? Are you still out in the U.K or back in N.Y.C?

I was hoping I could confide in your advice again. Paulo sent me the below messages regarding the syndicates and from the last time him and I emailed and I have actually lost $300- If you look at the long list of big named companies that would mean my story/picture was only sold for $600 each. I am only looking out for my best interests and know you would do the same. I haven't told anyone that I am asking you this, not wanting to rock the boat, I just know your experience in the field far exceeds mine and would love your input! I hope all is well for you and your own and taking care, as always!!

Amount ready to be paid to you - £ 1,825
Amount still to be received - £ 2,350

Obviously we are still chasing the outstanding amount. I know you requested that the whole payment be made to you when ready, but if you wish I am happy to arrange for the initial amount to be paid, and the remaining amount to be paid once received from our clients? Let me know your thoughts.

I hope you are stopping to smell the daffodils once in a while and having a good day!! I am so excited today because I can go sign with an agent as my contract is finished with "Mail On Sunday"...YEAH!! Sandra and I have been working really hard to get me ready for my trip to the U.S in a few weeks and I was wondering if I could use your advice again. She has got an INT'L agent who is interested in speaking with me and I don't want to say "Yes" to the first bite because I'm not sure what to look for in an agent. What could you recommend that I do? I will send Jarred and Irene (your recommended agent) a copy of the synopsis and sample chapters but how do I choose the right one for "The Story"? Do you know anyone else that might be interested in this as well? If so, I am keen on speaking with anyone who might be. I am soooooo excited about this and will keep you updated with the progressing events. When I am in New York we have to meet up for some city shopping and take the kids to Central Park to see the Zoo, given there will be no masturbating kangaroo's for you to make friends with, but who knows? I am looking forward to showing Robbie around and he's got some family out there as well we have to catch up with. Such busy times, but I'm loving it!! Anyways I hope your taking care and catch me up on your fun times!!

Take care,

Hi Sharon,

Sandra and I are just about to start sending prologues out when she finally got back to me with a contract. After our last discussion to take 30% off the net advance for her being the ghostwriter, and no electronic rights, she has now sent me the advance, royalties, serialisation rights, book club rights, film rights and TV rights will be split between them 70 – 30, Virginia Giuffre's favour, after any agent's commission.

She has got all of the info to write a story by herself if she wanted too, can she legally?

Please give me a call or let me know a good time to reach you, I don't know how to respond back to this when we are so close to the end.

Much Thanks,
Jenna

I replied back to Sandra, in a very nice but business like way, and have not heard from her since, insinuating that she might be offended that I am not paying her what she wants. I need to start looking at alternative ghostwriters and was hoping you could point me in the right direction and what their financial interests are. I was delayed getting back to the US so apologize for not replying sooner. My advice is you :

- 1 stick to original deal and retain all electronic rights
- 2 sign nothing. Keep the agreement verbal until you have an agent to do a collaboration agreement
- 3 send Sandra a note confirming the copyright in all dealings with her is reserved by you pending a collaboration agreement

Hi Sharon,

Sandra and I are just about to start sending prologues out when she finally got back to me with a contract. After our last discussion to take 30% off the net advance for her being the ghostwriter, and no electronic rights, she has now sent me the advance, royalties, serialisation rights, book club rights, film rights and TV rights will be split between them 70 – 30 Virginia Giuffre's favour, after any agent's commission.

She has got all of the info to write a story by herself if she wanted too, can she legally?

Please give me a call or let me know a good time to reach you, I don't know how to respond back to this when we are so close to the end.

Much Thanks,
 Jenna

Hi Shazza,

I replied back to Sandra, in a very nice but business like way, and have not heard from her since, insinuating that she might be offended that am not paying her what she wants. I need to start looking at alternative ghostwriters and was hoping you could point me in the right direction and what their financial interests are. Once again you always come through, Thanks Matey!!

Hi Sandra

How's it all going?

Virginia just emailed me asking suggestions about agents. I assume you guys plan to share one as that will keep the commission and collaborations agreement costs down? She also wasn't sure about the norm with splits on electronic rights....I think the agent can advise you both on the latest industry norms as it all has changed so much with the Internet.

A pal of mine (David Heymann) has said to use his name with his agent, Mel Berger, who is the top guy at William Morris in NY.

Is that OK with you? I know you have your own rep so thought I should check.

Love,

Sharon

PS We are out of contract with Virginia but are hoping to buy first serial to the book of course...did she tell you Vanity Fair are trying to find her? We aren't helping them and have refused to tell them her married name...I am not going to give it to Mel as he tends to be a bit of a gossip and knows the VF crowd.

Hi Shazza,

This is her final reply, I am not very hopeful about using her anymore.

Do you know of any other reputable Ghostwriters in N.Y.C, I just don't think she is going to be in my best interests. See below email from her this a.m...

Thanks Buddy!!

Hi Jenna

I am not offended by your comments and I agree with you that this is business but I must say I don't know where you are getting your information from. All the research I have done here tells me that ghost writer's are usually working on a 50-50 basis. That is the figure quoted in the 2011 edition of the Writers and Artists Year Book. I have never worked on less than 40% but because you were doing a lot of the initial writing I thought it would be much fairer if my percentage reflected that, that's why I went down to 30%

I do not know of any ghost writer who relinquished screen rights and serialisation rights. The main reason for that is, obviously, it is the ghost writer's writing and input that has been sold on for screen or serialisation.

If you want to find someone else, that is entirely up to you, but those are my terms.

As for Grant, there is no need to get him to sign a confidentiality agreement because there is no need for him to see the manuscript. He only needs to know who you are and that has been in the paper!

As for sending out to agents, I was going to advise you nearer the time, but I'll do it now. In my opinion your first step should be to make appointments to see the people in New York when you go there, taking with you the proposal and first chapter. They know what the story is and they have expressed an interest. You have got your foot in the door to sell yourself and your book. If you send it to them beforehand you are giving them the opportunity to say no without having met you. And you have a lot going for you personally and intelligence wise so we want them to see that!

If those meetings don't produce anything, then we send it to other agents.

I'll get Grant to call you but I have left your phone number at home, so email it to me and I'll pass it on.

Hope all is well.

Sandra

Hi Shazza,

She did send back a message after I asked if we were still on, but very blunt and to the point. She said she has been very busy and that it. I don't know what that means but I am meeting with an entertainment lawyer on Friday who is going to write me up an official collaboration agreement in hopes to get the ball rolling. I do think I should have a backup plan and appreciate all of your assistance!! I am compiling a list of reputable agents, is there anyone else you can think of besides Jared and Irene? Hope you are all well and your Mother is improving. Take care my friend..

I would phone Sandra and suggest meeting to talk about agents (including Grant, about whom you have every reason to ask questions). At this stage you have enough to sell the book...and she needs you so I think will be reasonable.

I would phone Sandra and suggest meeting to talk about agents (including Grant, about whom you have every reason to ask questions). At this stage you have enough to sell the book...and she needs you so I think will be reasonable.

Just was reading about David Boies taking your case. How fantastic, Jenna! Have you asked him how he'd feel about you reviving your book? It would be an incredible shame if the other project lifts your story, which it could at least somewhat. Jarred still is very keen to represent you. am afraid I screwed up by steering you to Mimi.

I just had a great week in LA on a celebrity story. Got to go to Rodeo Drive!!!!

Hi there

A NY writer is doing a book on Jeffrey. The writer claims you are on side and if that is so, that is fantastic. But if for any reason you are not on that contract, this would be the time to sell your own book. I believe it will be a bestseller. You write very well.

Hi again buddy,

Just wondering if Sandra got back to you with a reply to your message. I don't think she's gonna budge on the final cuts, but I'll give it a few days to see what comes of this. I will keep writing, but should I still see the lawyer on Friday to draft a collaboration agreement if no reply from her. How are you settling back in N.Y.C? I hope you are doing well and I look forward to chatting again soon!!

Hi,

Okay, so my next step is to look for an agent, don't I need to send them a synopsis and sample chapters, or how do I approach one and ask them to represent me? I'm sorry to bombard you with these questions but I take your word upon oth and know that you actually know what your talking about!!

As far as Sandra goes I am not willing to pay her what she wants, could you please give me the names and contact info t any other ghostwriters who might be interested. Are you sure you don't want a piece of this story??? ha, ha.

As always xoxoxo Jenna

I think u should call her and say you cannot agree to give her more than 30pc of the book advance at this v early stage of things. If she balks I would say to her that you are going to look for an agent and will have him/her talk to Sandra or her agent about hammering out an agreement with her. I don't think paying a lawyer is worth it unless she goes for the 30pc. If she does he can do up an agreement.

Hi Shazza,

Sounds like a good plan but I haven't heard back from Sandra yet re the money I will pay her for synopsis and sample chapters. If I don't hear back from her soon, I will send you what I've got and maybe you can judge whether or not it is ready to go to an agent. I hope you're enjoying Boston and try to not work so hard all the time!!

My ghostwriter pal says 30pc of all rights is norm. But also says Sandra doesn't sound right for u...u need someone more reliable. I suggest u first look for an agent and then they hook u up with a tested writer.

Hi Shazza,

No news from Sandra yet, not even a reply back. So now my next plan of action is to get an agent and get my book sold by a publisher. Sandra's professional approach towards this matter isn't suffice, I need someone who will take this very serious. In other news I got another message from Brad Edwards who passed on another request from VF, offering to pay me for my pic with P.A. I know they are putting together a piece on P.A and I would like to find out exactly what that entitles about myself. I hope you are enjoying the festivity of the weekend and look forward to your next email.

Before you make a final decision on Sandra, I would ask her for titles and publishers of other books she has ghosted and titles of any films. That's a legit request since she wants 30pc of everything. Let's see what experience she has.

Hi Shazza,

Good points, all of them. I am looking at both sides to the picture. On the upside it will give exposure to build up publicity for the case and the story but like you said, It must be carefully written and not give any notions about the upcoming book and or any new info. When i was doing some research into VF yesterday, it does concern me what they could want to write about me considering that B.Clinton walked into VF and threatened them not to write sex-trafficking articles about his good friend J.E. Should I be asking what is this story their writing pertaining to? I wouldn't want to give the public a bad image or anything like that. I don't know, it's all such a gamble. I just thank goodness for having a friend like you on the inside who knows how to deal with the viciousness of todays world!! I will let Brad know what you have recommended. Thanks Again!!!!

I would let VF buy your picture via Brad. The big gamble would be to let him also give them a statement saying your interviews with us were accurately reported and you have no more to say at this time about how you were "sex trafficked to PA and other men including two of the world's most respected politicians ([REDACTED] and [REDACTED] as well as women (the scenes with Ghislaine etc) because you are writing a book. The reason this is a gamble is Jeffrey knows some of the most powerful people in publishing and, once alerted, will inevitably try to scare off potential buyers. But the upside is it should help you get a good agent. I would have Brad use the phrase "sex trafficked" as that is a heads up about the book revealing more than we printed.

I am going to ask Brad to inquire what the piece is about firstly and see what it is they want to write about before I sell VF any pic, not sure if it will even be financially viable or good publicity. What do you think a good price to sell this to VF should be? Also I am concluding my Synopsis today and was wondering If I could send it to you to read over before I start sending them out to agents. I know you know what they would be looking for and would be good to have you approve of my writing. I just cant believe that Sandra hasn't gotten back to me at all. It is a shame but it goes to show that her professional approach and seriousness towards the book were not the enthusiasm I was looking for anyways. How was your Memorial Day? I hope you had the day off to relax for once!! Let me know what you are thinking about all this...

This is grabbing. Spot on. The one aspect of this you need to address is how many names to name (of men) and when. I will go through your synopsis carefully over the weekend and then let's chat. One strategy would be to add in some examples with xxxx instead of names.

And thank goodness Personal is OK!

Dear Jarred Weisfeld,

We spoke on the phone going back a couple months ago regarding the story I am writing called, The Billionaires Playbook Club. I am no longer under any contract and would like to ask you to review my synopsis and if you are interested I would love for you to represent me as my literary agent. I have included some of the press that has covered the ongoing case of Jeffrey Epstein, the worlds richest pedophile, and my good friend and journalist Sharon Churcher has a few from her article that she has written to send to you as well. I am very serious about getting my book published and believe this story will cover many genres of interest, not only by those following the lengthy case, but it is also a Woman's story of glitz, glamour, sorrow, compassion, and true love. I hope you enjoy....

Sincerely,
Virginia Roberts

Once again you have really outdone yourself...MANY, MANY, THANKS!!!

I took the kids to the Australian Walkabout Park today and enjoyed the scenic walks and many kangaroos. Rob and I had good chuckle about our adventures at the Reptile Park with you and Mike ...good times!!! Have you heard from Mike? I hope he is well and if you ever speak, tell him I sent a BIG hello.

I really appreciate everything you have helped with, as a friend you have gone beyond the call of duty!!!

I hope we hear back from Jarred soon!!

Hi Jarred

Hopefully you have Virginia's book pitch by now.

She has some amazing names which she can share with you in confidence and I think she also has a human interest story that could appeal to the Oprah/female set as well as the Wall Streeters who follow Epstein – a hedge fund king.

Here are a few of our stories about Virginia, plus some examples of the massive US and other international media pickup. Vanity Fair are doing a piece I believe in their August issue. The FBI have reopened the Epstein case due to Virginia's revelations. I also am attaching a link to a NY Magazine profile of Epstein....written before his world combusted. The FBI believe he was essentially running a private – and mobile -- brothel for some of the world's richest and most influential men.

He got off the first time round after retaining Kenneth Starr (who witchhunted Bill Clinton) and Alan Dershowitz (von Bulow's appeal lawyer, who inspired the movie Reversal of Fortune). The US Justice Dept is investigating corruption allegations against at least one prosecutor involved in the case.

Best regards,

Sharon

EXHIBIT C

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF FLORIDA

Case No. 08-80736-Civ-Marra/Johnson

JANE DOE #1 and JANE DOE #2

v.

UNITED STATES
_____ /

JANE DOE #3 AND JANE DOE #4'S MOTION PURSUANT TO RULE 21 FOR JOINDER IN ACTION

COME NOW Jane Doe #3 and Jane Doe #4 (also referred to as “the new victims”), by and through undersigned counsel, to file this motion pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 21 to join this action, on the condition that they not re-litigate any issues already litigated by Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2 (also referred to as “the current victims”). The new victims have suffered the same violations of their rights under the Crime Victims’ Rights Act (CVRA) as the current victims. Accordingly, they desire to join in this action to vindicate their rights as well. Because the new victims will not re-litigate any issues previously litigated by the current victims (and because they are represented by the same legal counsel as the current victims), the Government will not be prejudiced if the Court grants the motion. The Court may “at any time” add new parties to the action, Fed. R. Civ. P. 21. Accordingly, the Court should grant the motion.¹

¹ As minor victims of sexual offenses, Jane Doe #3 and Jane Doe #4 desire to proceed by way of pseudonym for the same reasons that Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2 proceeded in this

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

As the Court is aware, more than six years ago, Jane Doe #1 filed the present action against the Government, alleging a violation of her rights under the CVRA, 18 U.S.C. § 3771. DE1. She alleged that Jeffrey Epstein had sexually abused her and that the United States had entered into a secret non-prosecution agreement (NPA) regarding those crimes in violation of her rights. At the first court hearing on the case, the Court allowed Jane Doe #2 to also join the action. Both Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2 specifically argued that the government had failed to protect their CVRA rights (inter alia) to confer, to reasonable notice, and to be treated with fairness. In response, the Government argued that the CVRA rights did not apply to Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2 because no federal charges had ever been filed against Jeffrey Epstein.

The Court has firmly rejected the United States' position. In a detailed ruling, the Court concluded that the CVRA extended rights to Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2 even though federal charges were never filed. DE 189. The Court explained that because the NPA barred prosecution of crimes committed against them by Epstein, they had "standing" to assert violations of the CVRA rights. Id. The Court deferred ruling on whether the two victims would be entitled to relief, pending development of a fuller evidentiary record. Id.

Two other victims, who are in many respects similarly situated to the current victims, now wish to join this action. The new victims joining at this stage will not cause any delay and their joinder in this case is the most expeditious manner in which to pursue their rights. Because the background regarding their abuse is relevant to the Court's assessment of whether to allow them to join, their circumstances are recounted here briefly.

fashion. Counsel for the new victims have made their true identities known to the Government.

Jane Doe #3's Circumstances

As with Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2, Jane Doe #3 was repeatedly sexually abused by Epstein. The Government then concealed from Jane Doe #3 the existence of its NPA from Jane Doe #3, in violation of her rights under the CVRA. If allowed to join this action, Jane Doe #3 would prove the following:

In 1999, Jane Doe #3 was approached by Ghislaine Maxwell, one of the main women whom Epstein used to procure under-aged girls for sexual activities and a primary co-conspirator in his sexual abuse and sex trafficking scheme. In fact, it became known to the government that Maxwell herself regularly participated in Epstein's sexual exploitation of minors, including Jane Doe #3. Maxwell persuaded Jane Doe #3 (who was then fifteen years old) to come to Epstein's mansion in a fashion very similar to the manner in which Epstein and his other co-conspirators coerced dozens of other children (including Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2). When Jane Doe #3 began giving Epstein a "massage," Epstein and Maxwell turned it into a sexual encounter, as they had done with many other victims. Epstein then became enamored with Jane Doe #3, and with the assistance of Maxwell converted her into what is commonly referred to as a "sex slave." Epstein kept Jane Doe #3 as his sex slave from about 1999 through 2002, when she managed to escape to a foreign country and hide out from Epstein and his co-conspirators for years. From 1999 through 2002, Epstein frequently sexually abused Jane Doe #3, not only in West Palm Beach, but also in New York, New Mexico, the U.S. Virgin Islands, in international airspace on his Epstein's private planes, and elsewhere.

Epstein also sexually trafficked the then-minor Jane Doe, making her available for sex to politically-connected and financially-powerful people. Epstein's purposes in "lending" Jane Doe (along with other young girls) to such powerful people were to ingratiate himself with them for business, personal, political, and financial gain, as well as to obtain potential blackmail information.

One such powerful individual that Epstein forced then-minor Jane Doe #3 to have sexual relations with was former Harvard Law Professor Alan Dershowitz, a close friend of Epstein's and well-known criminal defense attorney. Epstein required Jane Doe #3 to have sexual relations with Dershowitz on numerous occasions while she was a minor, not only in Florida but also on private planes, in New York, New Mexico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. In addition to being a participant in the abuse of Jane Doe #3 and other minors, Dershowitz was an eye-witness to the sexual abuse of many other minors by Epstein and several of Epstein's co-conspirators. Dershowitz would later play a significant role in negotiating the NPA on Epstein's behalf. Indeed, Dershowitz helped negotiate an agreement that provided immunity from federal prosecution in the Southern District of Florida not only to Epstein, but also to "any potential co-conspirators of Epstein." NPA at 5. Thus, Dershowitz helped negotiate an agreement with a provision that provided protection for himself against criminal prosecution in Florida for sexually abusing Jane Doe #3. Because this broad immunity would have been controversial if disclosed, Dershowitz (along with other members of Epstein's defense team) and the Government tried to keep the immunity provision secret from all of Epstein's victims and the general public, even though such secrecy violated the Crime Victims' Rights Act.

Ghislaine Maxwell was another person in Epstein's inner circle and a co-conspirator in Epstein's sexual abuse. She was someone who consequently also appreciated the immunity granted by the NPA for the crimes she committed in Florida. In addition to participating in the sexual abuse of Jane Doe #3 and others, Maxwell also took numerous sexually explicit pictures of underage girls involved in sexual activities, including Jane Doe #3. She shared these photographs (which constituted child pornography under applicable federal laws) with Epstein. The Government is apparently aware of, and in certain instances possesses some of these photographs.

Perhaps even more important to her role in Epstein's sexual abuse ring, Maxwell had direct connections to other powerful individuals with whom she could connect Epstein. For instance, one such powerful individual Epstein forced Jane Doe #3 to have sexual relations with was a member of the British Royal Family, Prince Andrew (a/k/a Duke of York). Jane Doe #3 was forced to have sexual relations with this Prince when she was a minor in three separate geographical locations: in London (at Ghislaine Maxwell's apartment), in New York, and on Epstein's private island in the U.S. Virgin Islands (in an orgy with numerous other under-aged girls). Epstein instructed Jane Doe #3 that she was to give the Prince whatever he demanded and required Jane Doe #3 to report back to him on the details of the sexual abuse. Maxwell facilitated Prince Andrew's acts of sexual abuse by acting as a "madame" for Epstein, thereby assisting in internationally trafficking Jane Doe #3 (and numerous other young girls) for sexual purposes.

Another person in Epstein's inner circle of friends (who becomes apparent with almost no investigative effort) is Jean Luc Brunel. Epstein sexually trafficked Jane Doe #3 to Jean Luc Brunel many times. Brunel was another of Epstein's closest friends and a regular traveling companion, who had many contacts with young girls throughout the world. Brunel has been a model scout for various modeling agencies for many years and apparently was able to get U.S. passports for young girls to “work” as models. He would bring young girls (ranging to ages as young as twelve) to the United States for sexual purposes and farm them out to his friends, especially Epstein. Brunel would offer the girls “modeling” jobs. Many of the girls came from poor countries or impoverished backgrounds, and he lured them in with a promise of making good money. Epstein forced Jane Doe #3 to observe him, Brunel and Maxwell engage in illegal sexual acts with dozens of underage girls. Epstein also forced Jane Doe #3 to have sex with Brunel on numerous occasions, at places including Epstein’s mansion in West Palm Beach, Little St. James Island in the U.S. Virgin Islands (many including orgies that were comprised of other underage girls), New York City, New Mexico, Paris, the south of France, and California.

Epstein also trafficked Jane Doe #3 for sexual purposes to many other powerful men, including numerous prominent American politicians, powerful business executives, foreign presidents, a well-known Prime Minister, and other world leaders. Epstein required Jane Doe #3 to describe the events that she had with these men so that he could potentially blackmail them.

The Government was well aware of Jane Doe #3 when it was negotiating the NPA, as it listed her as a victim in the attachment to the NPA. Moreover, even a rudimentary investigation of Jane Doe #3’s relationship to Epstein would have revealed the fact that she had been trafficked throughout the United States and internationally for sexual purposes. Nonetheless, the Government secretly negotiated a non-prosecution agreement with Epstein precluding any Federal prosecution in the Southern District of Florida of Epstein and his co-conspirators. As with Jane Doe #1, and Jane Doe #2, the Government concealed the non-prosecution agreement from Jane Doe #3 – all in violation of her rights under the CVRA – to avoid Jane Doe #3 from raising powerful objections to the NPA that would have shed tremendous public light on Epstein and other powerful individuals and that would likely have been prevented it from being concluded in the secretive manner in which it was.

Jane Doe #4's Circumstances

If permitted to join this action, Jane Doe #4 would allege, and could prove at trial, that she has CVRA claims similar to those advanced by Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2, based on the following:

As with the other Jane Does, Jane Doe #4 was repeatedly sexually abused by Epstein. In or around the summer of 2002, Jane Doe #4, an economically poor and vulnerable sixteen-year-old child, was told by another one of Epstein's underage minor sex abuse victims, that she could make $300 cash by giving an old man a massage on Palm Beach. An acquaintance of Jane Doe #4 (also a minor sexual abuse victim of Epstein) telephoned Epstein and scheduled Jane Doe #4 to go to Epstein's house to give him a massage. During that call, Epstein himself got on the phone (a means of interstate communication) with Jane Doe #4, asking her personally to come to his mansion in Palm Beach.

Jane Doe #4 then went to Epstein's mansion and was escorted upstairs to Epstein's large bathroom by one of Epstein's assistants. Shortly thereafter Jeffrey Epstein emerged and lay face down on the table and told Jane Doe #4 to start massaging him. Epstein asked Jane Doe #3 her age and she told him she had recently turned sixteen. Epstein subsequently committed illegal sexual acts against Jane Doe #4 on many occasions.

Epstein used a means of interstate communication (i.e., a cell phone) to arrange for these sexual encounters. Epstein also frequently travelled in interstate commerce (i.e., on his personal jet) for purposes of illegally sexually abusing Jane Doe #4.

January. In the meantime, however, counsel for the victims believe that it is no longer appropriate to delay filing this motion and accordingly file it at this time. Because the Government is apparently opposing this motion, Jane Doe #3 and Jane Doe #4 have described the circumstances surrounding their claims so that the Court has appropriate information to rule on the motion.

CONCLUSION

Jane Doe #3 and Jane Doe #4 should be allowed to join this action, pursuant to Rule 21 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Their joinder should be conditioned on the requirement that they not re-litigate any issues previously litigated by Jane Doe #1 and Jane Doe #2. A proposed order to that effect is attached to this pleading.

Hello Laura – We are working on the calendar and I have it almost complete but I was awaiting confirmation on a date from Mr. Rizzo's counsel so I didn't want to send it out prematurely and that was delaying me.

We were serving subpoenas on dates that we thought are grouped within the locations/date ranges we discussed during the meet and confer and since we have been having an extraordinarily difficult time serving witnesses who appear to be attempting to evade service we need to keep that process moving.

We do intend to work with you on dates as we discussed. Attached is the proposed calendar with the caveat that dates may shift if witnesses make change requests but we are doing our best to group locations together where possible.

Again – this is not final as I noted I believe you had some dates you were gone but were checking with Jeff to determine his availability.

Finally, we are writing to confer whether you will stipulate that we may exceed the 10 deposition limit to complete discovery in this case or whether we need to file a motion with the Court on that issue.

Thank you,
Sigrid

Sigrid and Brad -

We had a conferral last week in which you promised to provide for conferral purposes a proposed schedule for depositions we both had requested in various locations. Rather than provide any such schedule, you have instead sent us notices for approximately 7 depositions in NY and Florida, one for an individual who you did not mention deposing and who does not appear among the extensive list of witnesses in your Rule 26 disclosures.

If you do not intend to abide by the representations you made in our conferral, then please advise and we will once again be forced to seek intervention of the Court. See Local Rule 26.4.

D. Computation of Damages:

- I. Physical, psychological and psychiatric injuries and resulting medical expenses – in an amount of approximately $ 102,200 present value.
 - a. Computation Analysis:
 - i. Giuffre has had to receive treatment for the psychological harm as a result of Maxwell's conduct towards Giuffre.

- ii. The average annual expenditures for mental health services for adults 18-64 in the United States is $1,751.
- iii. Giuffre needs continuing care as a result of the harm she has suffered. Ms. Giuffre was born August 9, 1983 and was 31.4 years old at the beginning of 2015 when the alleged harm occurred. The average remaining life expectancy for a 31 year old female is 51.1 years.
- iv. Based on a remaining life expectancy of 51.1 years, annual healthcare cost growth of 3.3% and a discount rate of 2.7%, the present value of expected treatment costs is $102,200 as of 1/1/2015.

b. Supporting Evidence:

- i. Ms. Giuffre is in the process of collecting records from her physicians
- ii. Ms. Giuffre's testimony
- iii. Ms. Giuffre is in the process of retaining an expert to calculate damages, and will provide further information through expert disclosure.

- 2. Past, present and future pain and suffering, mental anguish, humiliation, embarrassment, loss of self-esteem, loss of standing in the community, loss of dignity and invasion of privacy in her public and private life not less than $30,000,000.00.

a. Computation Analysis

- i. Under New York law, defamation per se as alleged in this case presumes damages and special damages do not need to be plead and proven. See Celle v. Filipino Reporter Enterprises Inc., 209 F.3d 163, 179 (2nd Cir. 2000) (Second Circuit holding that "[i]f a statement is defamatory per se, injury is assumed. In such a case 'even where the plaintiff can show no actual damages at all, a plaintiff who has otherwise shown defamation may recover at least nominal damages' and the Second Circuit also confirmed an award of punitive damages). Ms. Giuffre has been severely damaged by the defamation of the defendant, by calling her claims of sexual abuse "obvious lies". The defamation caused Ms. Giuffre to re-live the sexual abuse she previously endured. Ms. Giuffre has suffered and continues to suffer from the pain, mental anguish, humiliation, embarrassment, loss of self-esteem, loss of standing in the community, loss of dignity and invasion of privacy in her public and private life. The computation of this amount is in the province of the jury but Ms. Giuffre contends, including but not limited to, awards in other similar matters, that the amount is not less than $30,000,000.00. Ms. Giuffre is in the process of retaining an expert, and will provide further information through expert disclosure.

b. Supporting Evidence

- i. Ms. Giuffre's testimony
- ii. Witness testimony
- iii. Awards in similar matters
- iv. Ms. Giuffre is in the process of retaining an expert, and will provide further information through expert disclosure.

3. Estimated lost income of $180,000 annually. Present value of $3,461,000 to $5,407,000.

a. Computation Analysis

- i. Ms. Giuffre's estimated compensation capacity is $180,000 annually. Ms. Giuffre was born August 9, 1983 and was 31.4 years old at the beginning of 2015 when the alleged injury occurred. Her expected remaining work life based on mortality and probability of continued work was 20.2 years. Based on these factors, a 2% annual growth rate and a 2.4% discount rate, the present value of lost compensation is $3,461,000 as of 1/1/2015.
- ii. Alternatively, if Ms. Giuffre is assumed to work until a normal retirement age of 65, or 33.6 years from her age at the beginning of 2015, and based on an annual growth rate of 2.0% and a discount rate of 2.7%, the present value of lost compensation is $5,407,000 as of 1/1/2015.

b. Supporting Evidence

- i. Materials regarding compensation and work life expectancy
 - 1) 2010 Life Table for Females, National Vital Statistics Report, November 6, 2014, U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, Centers for Disease Control & Prevention, National Center for Health Statistics.

- 2) "Calculation of Work life Expectancy Using the Life, Participation, Employment Method," Vocational Econometrics, Inc.
 - 3) Consumer Price Index for Urban Wage Earners and Clerical Workers, United States Department of Labor, Bureau of Labor Statistics.
 - 4) Federal Reserve Statistical Release H.15, 1/5/2015.
- ii. Ms. Giuffre's testimony
 - iii. Ms. Giuffre is in the process of retaining a damages expert and will provide further information through expert disclosures.
4. Punitive Damages - to be based upon all relevant factors, including the egregious nature of Defendant, Ghislaine Maxwell's conduct and the need for a large award to punish and deter conduct in view of the vast wealth of Defendant Maxwell, in an amount not less than $50,000,000.00.
 - a. This calculation is in the province of the jury.

Laura,

I am writing to follow up on my June 13, 2016, letter and my June 14, 2016 email (attached), where I requested that you provide me with your proofs of service for the subpoenas you issued in this case. I requested that you provide them to me yesterday, but you have not done so. You made the same request of us and we provided our proofs of service to you earlier this week.

We are in the process of making travel arrangements for the depositions you noticed next week and scheduling around other matters and want to confirm that those witnesses have all been served with subpoenas and are attending the depositions set forth below:

Rebecca Boylan – Wednesday, June 22nd 9:00 a.m. – Fort Lauderdale 401 E. Las Olas at Gray Robinson's office – suite 1000.

Michael Austrich – Thursday June 23rd 9:00 a.m. - Ocala Florida – Owens & Associates – 108 N. Magnolia Ave
Tony Figueroa – Friday June 24th – 9:00 a.m. - 1 Florida Park Drive, U.S. , Suite 214, Palm Coast Florida

Accordingly, kindly provide me – today – your proofs of service for all of the subpoenas you have issued in this case.

Thank you,

Meredith

Re: Giuffre v. Maxwell
Case no. 15-cv-07433-RWS – Regarding Certificates of Service

Dear Laura,

I have lawfully served the witnesses in this case, and have undertaken great effort to serve Ms. Marcinkova and Ms. Kellen. An affidavit from the process server engaged in that effort documenting such efforts was served upon you and filed with this Court. I'm familiar with Rule 45, and there is no requirement that certificates of service be served upon opposing counsel. Notice is all that is required under the Rules. You, yourself, have not served such certificates of service in this case. I completely reject your arbitrary statement that "[f]ailure to provide them . . . will be understood as an acknowledgement that you have not, in fact, undertaken the good faith efforts." We have said we did. I acknowledge no such thing, and such a statement is nonsense.

In recognition of your request, I am in the process of gathering the certificates of service. I will serve them on you, merely as a courtesy, as I collect them. Please likewise provide all certificates of services for the witnesses you have noticed.

While we are on the topic of absences of responses, you did not respond to my June 8, 2016, letter requesting a meet and confer call. Therefore, I write again to schedule a meet-and-confer call regarding your grossly deficient production and improper objections in response to Plaintiff's Second Request for Production. I am available for a meet and confer call on this matter any time tomorrow and Wednesday, June 15, 2016, from 10:00 AM EST to 4:00 PM EST. Please advise, by tomorrow, what time such a call works for your schedule.

Thanks,

Meredith Schultz

INTRODUCTION

As more and more witnesses come forward testifying about Defendant's involvement in the sexual abuse of young girls, Defendant's discovery arguments have become more removed from the merits of this case and increasingly strident in their tone. The latest example of this genre is the instant motion in which the Defendant boldly proclaims that Ms. Giuffre is "playing a game of catch and release" by deliberately "withholding information" regarding her medical care. Yet the basis for these strong charges turns out to be nothing more than the fact that, when asked to produce a listing of medical care providers that Ms. Giuffre has seen in the last seventeen years – during a period of time when she lived in Australia, then Florida, then Colorado, finally returning to Australia – she was unable to recall all of the providers. Ms. Giuffre and her attorneys have worked diligently to provide this listing to Defendant and, as new information has become available, or as Ms. Giuffre has been able to recall another provider, the information has been disclosed. Indeed, Ms. Giuffre signed every medical records release that Defendant requested. There has been no deliberate "withholding" of information, much less withholding of information that would warrant the extreme sanction of precluding Ms. Giuffre from presenting her claims to a jury.

Moreover, this baseless motion for sanctions comes on the heels of disturbing testimony corroborating what lies at the core of this case – Defendant was involved in facilitating the sexual abuse of young girls with Jeffrey Epstein. One witness, Rinaldo Rizzo, was in tears as he recounted Defendant bringing a 15-year-old girl to his employer's home who, in utmost distress, told him that Defendant stole the young girl's passport and tried to make her have sex with

Epstein, and then threatened her.¹ [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Another witness, Joanna Sjoberg, testified that Defendant recruited her from her school campus to have sex with Epstein with lies about being her personal assistant.³

Two other witnesses, one an underage victim ([REDACTED]) and the other, the police detective who ultimately ended up investigating Epstein (Detective Joseph Recarey, Retired), gave testimony about how Epstein used other women to recruit minors to have sex with him.⁴ Most recently, a witness testified that Defendant would call him and ask him to bring over young girls that she would provide to Epstein. See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 9, ROUGH Deposition Transcript of Tony Figueroa at 162:8-19. It is against this backdrop that Defendant has filed a motion seeking sanctions. The motion is a transparent effort to deflect attention from the merits of Ms. Giuffre's claim by inventing "willful" discovery violations and should be rejected in its entirety.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

I. MEDICAL PROVIDER IDENTITIES

As the Court is aware, Defendant has requested that Ms. Giuffre provide the names and medical records of every medical provider she has ever had, for any type of treatment, since 1999. This would be no easy task for anyone, and Ms. Giuffre has had many medical providers in multiple locations. So she and her legal counsel have worked diligently to track them down through a search that has spanned nearly two decades and two continents.

¹ See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 1, Excerpts from the June 10, 2016 Deposition of Rinaldo Rizzo.

Ms. Giuffre made her initial disclosures on this subject in an answer to an interrogatory that she served on April 29, 2016. Ms. Giuffre listed 15 health care providers that she could recall at the time. Four days later, on May 3, 2016, Defendant deposed Ms. Giuffre. During the deposition, Ms. Giuffre's memory was jogged and she was able to recall two additional providers: Judith Lightfoot and Dr. Christopher Donahue.⁵

Defendant, however, seeks to magnify the innocent recollection of two additional providers at Ms. Giuffre's deposition by misleadingly claiming that "[i]t is only through deposition testimony that Ms. Maxwell became aware of at least five - if not more - treating health care physicians." (Mtn. at 1). This claim, too, is inaccurate. Beyond Ms. Lightfoot and Dr. Donahue, Defendant apparently adds to the list of "withheld" doctors by referring to treating physicians who cared for Ms. Giuffre on a one-off basis in the Emergency Room. It is unsurprising that a patient would have trouble remembering an emergency room physician's name. But the real point here is that, in any event, the information was disclosed through documents produced, so there is absolutely no "failure to disclose" as Defendant wrongfully alleges. See Centura Health Records (GIUFFRE005498-005569).

Defendant then states that, in her deposition, "Ms. Giuffre claims she was not treated by any other physicians," and then states that other records revealed "three additional health care professionals who treated Plaintiff, including Dr. Scott Robert Geiger, Dr. Joseph Heaney,⁶ and Donna Oliver P.A.” (Mtn. at 4, emphasis original). [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Defendant is trying to make it seem as if Ms. Giuffre deliberately hid the names of treating physicians in the Emergency Room. As stated above, Ms. Giuffre produced these records so she is clearly not hiding anything. Not learning, not knowing, or not remembering off the top of one’s head the names of Emergency Room staff encountered during a medical emergency is not only unsurprising and understandable, but is also not a discovery violation.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Here, Defendant attempts to make something out of nothing. This is particularly true as Ms. Giuffre made these records available to Defendant. As evidenced by the details recounted in Defendant’s brief, Ms. Giuffre produced these Emergency Room records to Defendant, and therefore, she is wholly compliant in her discovery obligations.⁷

Additionally, Defendant's motion lists 15 providers⁸ Ms. Giuffre gave to Defendants in her interrogatories (Mtn. at 3), but then states that "Plaintiff failed therein to identify any treatment providers prior to the alleged defamation, despite the Court's order concerning 1999-2015." (Mtn. at 4). This statement, too, is wildly incorrect. Of the list of 15 providers, the overwhelming majority of them are providers "prior to the alleged defamation."⁹ For example, Ms. Giuffre produced records from N.Y. Presbyterian Hospital. (GIUFFRE003258-3290). Not only do the dates on the records (e.g., July 9, 2001) demonstrate they are prior to the defamation, but Defendant has independent knowledge that this provider pre-dates Defendant's defamation. Indeed, Defendant is the one who brought her to that hospital, while she was a minor. Therefore, Defendant's statement in her brief that "Plaintiff failed therein to identify any treatment providers prior to the alleged defamation, despite the Court's order concerning 1999-2015" (Mtn. at 4) is inaccurate.

Defendant continues with another misleading statement: "As of today's date . . . and 10 days before the end of fact discovery in this case, Ms. Maxwell has learned of at least five additional doctors" (Mtn. at 5), and then, again, names Ms. Lightfoot, Dr. Geiger, Dr. Heaney, Donna Oliver P.A., and Dr. Streeter. Defendant did not learn of these providers 10 days prior to the close of discovery, but much earlier, as the previous page of Defendant's brief recounts.

⁸ (1) Dr. Steven Olson; (2) Dr. Chris Donahue; (3) Dr. John Harris; (4) Dr. Majaliyana; (5) Dr. Wah Wah; (6) Dr. Sellathuri; (7) Royal Oaks Medical Center; (8) Dr. Carol Hayek; (9) NY Presbyterian Hospital; (10) Campbelltown Hospital; (11) SydneyWest Hospital; (12) Westmead Hospital; (13) Dr. Karen Kutikoff; (14) Wellington Imaging Associates; (15) Growing Together.

⁹ Providers from that list that treated Ms. Giuffre prior to Defendant's defamation include: (1) Dr. John Harris; (2) Dr. Majaliyana; (3) Dr. Majaliyana; (4) Dr. Wah Wah; (5) Dr. Sellathuri; (6) Royal Oaks Medical Center; (7) Dr. Carol Hayek; (8) NY Presbyterian Hospital; (9) Sydney West Hospital; (10) Westmead Hospital; (12) Wellington Imaging Associates; (13) Growing Together.

Defendant's next statement is equally misleading "documents relating to these doctors were not provided until after their identities became known through deposition or other independent investigation by Ms. Maxwell." (Mtn. at 5). Their identities became known to Defendant because Ms. Giuffre disclosed the name of Ms. Lightfoot in her deposition, and because Ms. Giuffre herself produced emergency room records to Defendant – documents bearing the names of the other providers. Accordingly, these five additional names were provided to Defendant by Ms. Giuffre herself, through (1) her deposition testimony; and (2) her document production.

Defendant is now asking this Court to enter extraordinary sanctions because those names were not provided in response to an interrogatory, but, instead, were provided through Ms. Giuffre's testimony and Ms. Giuffre's document production. This is an improper request. It is unsurprising that Defendant cannot cite to a single case in which any type of sanctions were awarded under even remotely similar circumstances. Indeed, the purpose of the various aspects of discovery provided by Rule 26(a)(5), Fed. R. Civ. P., is to provide more fulsome information. C.f. In re Dana Corp., 574 F.3d 129, 150 (2d Cir. 2009) ("the various discovery methods are more complementary than fungible"). Here, Ms. Giuffre provided her medical information through interrogatory response, through testimony, and through document production. Ms. Giuffre has met her obligation under both this Court's Order and Rule 26. There has been no failure to disclose: Ms. Giuffre provided the names and testified about her treatment. Accordingly, this motion should be denied in its entirety.

II. MEDICAL RECORDS

Defendant states that Plaintiff has failed to produce any records from (a) Dr. Donahue, (b) Dr. Hayek, (c) Dr. Kutikoff, (d) Wellington Imaging Assocs., (e) Growing Together, (f) post 2011 records from Ms. Lightfoot, and (g) the remaining documents for treatment by Dr. Olson. (Mtn. at 5). This is also incorrect. There has been no “failure,” as discussed, in turn, below. Moreover, if records from any providers have not been produced, it is not Ms. Giuffre’s “failure,” but rather, the failure of the providers, particularly as Ms. Giuffre has executed releases for her records from all these providers. Ms. Giuffre and her counsel have been diligent in compiling nearly two decades of medical records from various states and countries. The chart below provides an overview the efforts undertaken by Ms. Giuffre and the production to Defendant as a result.

Accordingly, as the Court can see with reference to the Bates labels in the above chart, Ms. Giuffre has been compliant in producing her medical records. Indeed, she has signed releases for all records requested by Defendant, and has produced all records released by the providers. In addition to signing all releases for medical providers requested by Defendant, the work associated with compiling the records and following up with providers (as shown by the above chart) clearly demonstrates Ms. Giuffre's good faith and persistence in her deliberate and thorough pursuit of providing Defendant with her medical records. That is reason alone to deny Defendant's unsupported request for sanctions.

A. Dr. Donahue

Plaintiff dutifully signed a release for medical records and provided it to Dr. Donahue on April 5, 2016, and sent a copy to the Defendant so counsel was on notice of the efforts being taken to secure medical records. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibit 6, Dr. Donahue letter and Release Form. Ms. Giuffre's counsel has received records from Dr. Donahue since the Defendant filed the instant motion, and immediately provided those records to Defendant. See chart above, GIUFFRE00006631-006635.

B. Dr. Hayek

Dr. Hayek treated Ms. Giuffre over seven years ago. Ms. Giuffre signed a release form for Dr. Hayek's records, sent the release form on March 8, 2016, and provided a copy of the form to Defendant. Having not received any records, the undersigned sent a follow-up letter to Dr. Hayek on April 28, 2016, to request the records. Upon information and belief, Dr. Hayek does not keep patient's medical records for longer than seven years, and, therefore, no longer has any records pertaining to Ms. Giuffre. Ms. Giuffre and her counsel have made inquiries to Dr.

Hayek's office via telephone and email, but, to date, have not received any response. Again, Ms. Giuffre has no input on Dr. Hayek's document retention policies, and therefore, the lack of production of records from Dr. Hayek cannot be attributed to Ms. Giuffre.

C. Dr. Kutikoff, Wellington Imaging Associates ("Wellington Imaging") , and Growing Together

Plaintiff provided Defendant's counsel executed medical release forms for Dr. Kutikoff, Wellington Imaging, and Growing Together on April 29, 2016. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibit 7. Accordingly, Ms. Giuffre has no direct knowledge as to what, if anything, these three providers produced to Defendant's counsel. Ms. Giuffre has done everything in her power to make them available to Defendant, a fact that Defendant cannot dispute. Again, there has been no "failure" by Ms. Giuffre here, as Ms. Giuffre has signed and sent the necessary release forms for the records to be sent directly to Defendant.¹⁰

D. Ms. Lightfoot

Defendant admits that Ms. Giuffre produced Ms. Lightfoot's records in footnote 4 of her brief on page 11, yet on page 16, Defendant wrongfully states Plaintiff has not produced Dr. Lightfoot's records. Despite the self-contradictory briefing, Ms. Lightfoot has produced records. See chart above, Giuffre005431-005438, Medical Release Form with documents. As with the other providers, Ms. Giuffre has executed and sent medical records release forms to Ms. Lightfoot, and has thus met her discovery obligations. To follow up on Defendant's wrongful claims that Ms. Giuffre has somehow "withheld" more current records (despite executing a release for all records); Ms. Giuffre followed up with Ms. Lightfoot, who provided to Ms.

¹⁰ Upon information and belief, Ms. Lightfoot is not a medical doctor, but an Australian "Consulting Psychologist."

Giuffre's counsel correspondence stating that she has produced all of Ms. Giuffre's records (see chart above, Giuffre006636), thereby indicating that she does not keep more current records.

E. Dr. Olson

Defendant claims that Ms. Giuffre failed to produce "the remaining documents for treatment by Dr. Olson," but this is a wild inaccuracy. (And, Ms. Giuffre would refer the Court to a short excerpt from Dr. Olson's deposition in which Dr. Olson explains in his own words his production. See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 10, Dr. Olson Deposition Excerpt.) First, Ms. Giuffre signed a release for all records that Dr. Olson had. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibit 6, March 8, 2016, Release for Dr. Olson records. Dr. Olson produced records Bates labeled GIUFFRE005342-005346 and GIUFFRE005492-005496. Dr. Olson then testified in his deposition that he kept a record on his laptop that was not a part of the medical records produced by his hospital. Id. During the deposition, he printed that record and gave it to Defendant's counsel. Id. Now, Defendant's counsel is claiming that this set of facts constitutes a discovery violation that warrants sanctions. There is no failure to produce here. Ms. Giuffre executed a medical release that provided for all of Ms. Giuffre's medical records with regard to Dr. Olson, and records were produced. It was Dr. Olson who failed to include his "laptop records" among the records that were produced.

Ms. Giuffre knew nothing of the "laptop records" until Dr. Olson's deposition, and Dr. Olson provided them at that time, a fact Defendant admits in a footnote in her Motion to Reopen Ms. Giuffre's Deposition. In that brief, Defendant complains that they were not "produced" until after Ms. Giuffre was deposed. That is a distortion. Defendant already had such documents from Dr. Olson himself. Ms. Giuffre included those documents that both sides received in the deposition as part of her next production, so that they would bear a Bates label for tracking purposes. It was a formality since both sides already had the record. Defendant states: “Despite requests, legible copies have not been provided.” Defendant uses the passive voice here, presumably to avoid making clear the fact that the requests for legible copies would need to be made to Dr. Olson, who controls the records, not to Ms. Giuffre, who long ago authorized the release of all records. The existence of a record that a witness failed to produce prior to a deposition is not a discovery violation from Ms. Giuffre.

III. MS. GIUFFRE HAS PROVIDED DISCOVERY IN ACCORDANCE WITH HER DISCOVERY OBLIGATIONS

The fact is that Ms. Giuffre has executed a release form for each and every medical care provides that Defendant asked for. Defendant cannot contradict this statement. Ms. Giuffre produced medical records she had in her possession (such as New York Presbyterian records), early in discovery. From that point, other medical records were sought and obtained, with Ms. Giuffre facilitating their production from the providers by executing and sending release forms and paying all applicable fees for their release. Moreover, counsel for Ms. Giuffre has kept Defendant fully apprised of such efforts, even giving Defendant copies of all releases that have been issued, and providing updates on Ms. Giuffre’s continued efforts to obtain medical records beyond signing releases. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibits 5 and 6.

Executing and sending medical release forms to all of the medical providers satisfies Ms. Giuffre’s discovery obligations with regard to her medical records, and Defendant cannot cite to a case that states otherwise. See, e.g., Candelaria v. Erickson, 2006 WL 1636817, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. 2006) (requiring the execution of updated medical release forms to satisfy discovery obligations). The fact that Defendant has presented this weak tea to the Court - concerning the actions of third-parties Ms. Giuffre does not control - shows just how baseless the motion is.

IV. DEFENDANT CAN SHOW NO PREJUDICE

Defendant claims to be prejudiced because a small fraction of the medical providers were revealed at Ms. Giuffre's deposition, four days after her interrogatory response. This argument is moot. Ms. Giuffre has agreed to reopen her deposition for Defendant's questions regarding those medical providers. Second, Defendant intimates, but does not actually claim, that she wants to depose Ms. Lightfoot, and states that there is not sufficient time: "arranging for and taking the deposition of Ms. Lightfoot . . . is nearly impossible," suggesting to the Court that there is some prejudice to Defendant there. (Mtn. at 11). However, Defendant's behavior (and a close reading of Defendant's brief) suggests that Defendant doesn't actually want to depose Ms. Lightfoot; instead, she just wants to appear to the Court as prejudiced by not taking her deposition. First, Defendant never noticed her deposition despite knowing her identity for nearly two months - since May 3, 2016. Second, Defendant is careful not to claim in her brief that she actually wants to depose Ms. Lightfoot, all the while suggesting that she has suffered some prejudice with respect to not taking Ms. Lightfoot's deposition. Defendant's lack of actual desire to take her deposition stems from the 2011 records Ms. Lightfoot produced - records predating Defendant's defamation by years. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] This is the reason Defendant is careful not to claim in her brief that she actually wanted to depose Ms. Lightfoot, and this is the reason why Defendant never noticed her for deposition. [REDACTED]

Defendant's claims concerning deposing Dr. Donahue are similarly specious. First, despite knowing about Dr. Donahue since at least April 29, 2016 (a fact she admits in her brief "Dr. Donahue may have been named" (Mtn. at 16)): Defendant has never issued a Notice of Deposition for Dr. Donahue. Defendant cannot claim any prejudice with respect to Dr. Donahue.

Additionally, Defendant acts in bad faith when she claims that medical records from Dr. Donahue were "purposefully hidden by Plaintiff" (Mtn. at 11) when Defendant knows that Ms. Giuffre executed and sent a medical release for Dr. Donahue on April 5, 2016, for all of his records. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibit 6, Dr. Donahue Medical Release. As stated above, this argument is moot because the records concerning Dr. Donahue (and other providers at his practice) have been produced to Defendant.

Finally, though Ms. Giuffre does not control how quickly providers respond to her releases (though her counsel has spent considerable time following-up with providers, urging their speedy release, and paying all applicable fees), Ms. Giuffre has agreed to reopen her deposition for questions concerning provider records that were produced subsequent to her deposition. Therefore, Ms. Giuffre has eliminated any prejudice Defendant could claim to suffer with respect to taking Ms. Giuffre's deposition. See Giuffre006631-006635.

A factor relevant to the appropriateness of sanctions under Rule 37 for discovery violations is the "prejudice suffered by the opposing party." Design Strategy, Inc. v. Davis, 469 F.3d 284, 296 (2d Cir. 2006). Here, Defendant cannot claim any prejudice resulting from her empty claims of "discovery violations." Accordingly, sanctions are inappropriate.

V. MS. GIUFFRE HAS BEEN FULLY COMPLIANT IN DISCOVERY

It is the Defendant in this case that has failed to comply with discovery at every turn. Defendant has refused to produce any documents whatsoever without this Court entering an Order directing her to do so. The only reason Plaintiff has documents from Defendant at all is because of this Court's denial of Defendant's stay requests and the Court's rulings on Ms. Giuffre's Motion to Compel for Improper Claim of Privilege (wherein Defendant was ordered to turn over documents that did not even involve communications with counsel) and her Motion to Compel for Improper Objections. Even then, Defendant's counsel refused to even take the routine step of looking at Defendant's email and other electronic documents to find responsive documents, but produced, instead, only what Defendant wanted to produce. Ms. Giuffre had to bring a Motion for Forensic Examination and the Court had to order that Defendant's counsel actually produce documents from Defendant's electronic documents, something that has not yet been done to date. Indeed, Defendant did not make her initial disclosure until February 24, 2016 several months after the deadline for these disclosures. Additionally, while Ms. Giuffre started her efforts to take the Defendant's deposition in February, 2016, Defendant did not actually sit for her deposition until after being directed to do so by the Court, on April 22, 2016.

Furthermore, during the deposition, Defendant refused to answer a myriad of questions, and therefore, this Court recently ordered Defendant to sit for her deposition again. See June 20, 2016, Order resolving eight discovery motions entered under seal and granting Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Defendant to Answer Deposition Questions (D.E. 143).

Ms. Giuffre has had to litigate, multiple times, for Defendant to make any document production, and Ms. Giuffre has had to litigate, also multiple times, for Defendant to be deposed. See Plaintiff's Response in Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Stay Discovery (DE 20); Plaintiff's February 26, 2016, Letter Motion to Compel Defendant to Sit for Her Deposition;

Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Documents Subject to Improper Claim of Privilege (DE 33); Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Documents Subject to Improper Objections (DE 35); Plaintiff's Response in Opposition to Defendant's Motion for a Protective Order Regarding Defendant's Deposition (DE 70); Plaintiff's Motion for Forensic Examination (DE 96); Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Defendant to Answer Deposition Questions (DE 143). Ms. Giuffre has had to expend considerable time and resources simply to have Defendant meet her basic discovery obligations in this case.

Now, having completely stonewalled on discovery, making every produced document and even her own deposition the result of extensive and unnecessary litigation, taking positions that are contrary to the Federal Rules and wholly contrary to prevailing case law, Defendant claims that Ms. Giuffre has been "non-compliant since the outset of discovery." (Mtn. at 11). This statement is completely inaccurate.

Defendant makes a number of unsubstantiated claims regarding law enforcement materials, photographs, and email accounts. Most of these issues have been resolved pursuant to this Court's orders. See June 20, 2016, Order entered under seal denying Defendant's motion to compel law enforcement materials; June 23, 2016, Minute Entry. Ms. Giuffre merely points out that Defendant not only failed to review, search, or produce Defendant's email, from any of her multiple accounts, but also wholly failed to disclose her terramarproject.org email account or her ellmax.com email account.

Regarding photographs, counsel for Ms. Giuffre has gone to considerable expense to recover boxes that Ms. Giuffre thought may contain photographs, including paying approximately $600.00 for shipping of the boxes to ensure production of any recent information. Accordingly, Defendant articulates no legitimate complaint in this section of her brief.

LEGAL ARGUMENT

I. DEFENDANT CANNOT SHOW NON-COMPLIANCE, AND HAS PUT FORTH NO COLORABLE LEGAL ARGUMENT FOR SANCTIONS

Sanctions are not appropriate in this case because Defendant cannot show non-compliance. Through the normal course of discovery, Ms. Giuffre produced her medical providers to Defendant, as Defendant admits in her moving brief. Defendant's complaint boils down to the fact that Ms. Giuffre remembered at deposition two providers (Ms. Lightfoot and Dr. Donahue) that she did not recall when compiling her long list of providers in response to Defendant's interrogatory four days prior. That does not constitute non-compliance. That is not sanctionable behavior. And, Defendant cannot cite any case in which a court found differently. Additionally, though Defendant attempts to ascribe blame to Ms. Giuffre for any medical records that have not been sent by providers (or medical records that may not exist), the uncontested fact is that Ms. Giuffre has executed releases for all of the providers Defendant requested. Again, Defendant can point to no case in which sanctions were awarded over medical records where the party signed all applicable releases. Accordingly, Defendant's motion should be denied.¹¹

Even Defendant's own cases cited in her brief are inapposite and do not suggest that sanctions are appropriate in this case. For example, in Davidson v. Dean, the plaintiff "refused to consent to the release of mental health records" for periods for which he was seeking damages and for which the Court ordered him to provide releases. 204 F.R.D. 251, 254 (S.D.N.Y. 2001). By contrast, Ms. Giuffre has executed each and every release for medical records requested by Defendant. In In re Payne, Rule 37 sanctions were not even at issue: an attorney was reprimanded for “default[ing] on scheduling orders in fourteen cases, resulting in their dismissal . . . fili[ing] stipulations to withdraw a number of appeals only after his briefing deadlines had passed,” etc. 707 F.3d 195, 198-99 (2d Cir. 2013). Similarly, in Gurvey v. Cowan, Liebowitz & Lathman, P.C., 2014 WL 715612, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. 2014), sanctions were awarded because, inter alia, “my . . . Order explicitly limited discovery to plaintiff’s malpractice and breach-of-fiduciary duty claims . . . However . . . plaintiff has sought discovery of extraordinary breadth that is far beyond the scope of the two claims . . . [and] disregarded my Order . . . by failing to explain in writing how each of her discovery requests to CLL is relevant to the remaining claims.” Accordingly, as stated above, Defendant has not put forth any colorable legal argument for sanctions under Rule 37.

II. THERE WAS NO INFORMATION “WITHHELD,” AND THEREFORE, NO PREJUDICE

Defendant cannot be taken seriously when she claims that “Plaintiff is obviously trying to hide” her treatment related to domestic violence, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given that fact, Defendant’s incendiary claim defies logic. All these things that Defendant claims were deliberately “withheld” or “hidden” are things that Ms. Giuffre provided to Defendant in the normal course of discovery, as described at length above. Defendant cannot claim any prejudice regarding the manner in which she received this information, and, indeed, does not.¹²

Accordingly, sanctions are wholly inappropriate.

III. MS. GIUFFRE HAS FULFILLED HER REQUIREMENTS REGARDING HER RULE 26 DISCLOSURES^{13 14}

Regarding Ms. Giuffre's computation of damages, Ms. Giuffre has pled defamation per se under New York law, where damages are presumed. Robertson v. Dowbenko, 443 F. App'x 659, 661 (2d Cir. 2011). Plaintiff provided amounts, damage calculations and supporting evidence required under Rule 26. Plaintiff is retaining experts to support her Rule 26 Disclosures, and expert reports and disclosures are not due at this time. Defendant takes issues with Ms. Giuffre's computation of damages in her Rule 26 disclosures but fails to cite to a single case that requires more from her, let alone more from a Plaintiff claiming defamation per se. Indeed, the case law supports that Plaintiff has fully complied with her Rule 26 obligations. See Naylor v. Rotech Healthcare, Inc., 679 F. Supp. 2d 505, 510 (D. Vt. 2009).

In good faith, Ms. Giuffre has produced a multitude of documents and information regarding her damages. Defendant does not cite to a single case that even suggests she is required to do more. What Defendant purports to lack is expert discovery and an expert report on computation of damages. Rule 26(a)(1), governs "initial disclosures," disclosures to be made at the beginning of litigation, prior to the completion of expert work. It does not entitle a party to expert discovery at this stage in the case.

¹⁴ Defendant repeatedly attempts to conflate the required disclosures under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a) and the disclosures ordered by this Court on April 21, 2016, in an apparent effort to 'backdate' those required disclosures.

Ms. Giuffre has pleaded and will prove defamation per se, where damages are presumed. Robertson v. Dowbenko, 443 F. App'x at 661 (“As the district court correctly determined, Robertson was presumptively entitled to damages because he alleged defamation per se.”). Under New York law, defamation per se, as alleged in this case, presumes damages, and special damages do not need to be pled and proven. See Celle v. Filipino Reporter Enters. Inc., 209 F.3d 163, 179 (2d Cir.2000) (Second Circuit holding that “[i]f a statement is defamatory per se, injury is assumed. In such a case ‘even where the plaintiff can show no actual damages at all, a plaintiff who has otherwise shown defamation may recover at least nominal damages,’” and confirming an award of punitive damages) (Emphasis added).

Additionally, Ms. Giuffre has claimed punitive damages for the defamation per se. “[C]ourts have generally recognized that ... punitive damages are typically not amenable to the type of disclosures contemplated by Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(iii), and have held that the failure to disclosure a number or calculation for such damages was substantially justified.” See Murray v. Miron, 2015 WL 4041340 (D. Conn., July 1, 2015). See also Scheel v. Harris, No. CIV.A. 3:11-17-DCR, 2012 WL 3879279, at *7 (E.D. Ky. Sept. 6, 2012) (finding that a failure to provide a precise number or calculation for their punitive damages claim is substantially justified pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(c)(1)).

Accordingly, Ms. Giuffre’s disclosures comply with Rule 26 for the computation of damages. See Naylor v. Rotech Healthcare, Inc., 679 F. Supp. 2d at 510 (“The Court is skeptical of the need for so much additional discovery, since the only open issue on the defamation claim seems to be damages. Miles’s email itself provides evidence of the statement and publication to a third party. Damages will depend on [plaintiff] Naylor's testimony and perhaps evidence from a few other sources, such as Naylor's family and friends, or Streeter [one of defendant's clients].") Ms. Giuffre has provided the calculations evidencing how she arrived at her damage figures and has provided a myriad of documents upon which she also will rely in proving damages. This includes supporting documents showing average medical expenses computed by her average life expectancy. "[N]on-economic damages based on pain and suffering ... are generally not amenable to the type of disclosures contemplated by Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(iii)." Scheel v. Harris, No. CIV.A. 3:11-17-DCR, 2012 WL 3879279, at *7 (E.D. Ky. Sept. 6, 2012) (holding that plaintiff's failure to disclose a number or calculation for such damages was substantially justified).

IV. THIS COURT SHOULD NOT STRIKE MS. GIUFFRE'S CLAIMS FOR MEDICAL AND EMOTIONAL DISTRESS DAMAGES

Defendant cites four cases in support of her request for this Court to strike her claims for medical and emotional distress damages, and each one of them militates against any such relief being awarded in this case. In the first, Nittolo v. Brand, sanctions were awarded in a personal injury action because, inter alia, the plaintiff went to his physician and took away his medical records before defendant had a chance to use the court-ordered release to access them, and the Court found the plaintiff lied under oath about taking away the records. 96 F.R.D. 672, 673 (S.D.N.Y.1983). By contrast, Ms. Giuffre has signed every medical release form requested by Defendant and provided all medical records that they yielded.

Defendant's second case is equally inapposite. In Skywark v. Isaacson, Court found that the plaintiff "began his pattern of lying about at least three matters of extreme significance to his claim for damages;" lied to his experts and lied under oath; and "never provided defendants with the promised [medical release] authorizations." 1999 WL 1489038 at *3, *5, *11 (S.D.N.Y. Oct.

14, 1999). The facts could not be more dissimilar to the case at hand, where Ms. Giuffre has provided truthful testimony regarding her medical history and has executed all medical releases.

Defendant's third case continues in the same pattern. In In re Consol. RNC Cases, "all Plaintiffs either expressly refused to provide mental health treatment records or simply failed to provide such records during the course of discovery." 2009 WL 130178, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 8, 2009). Defendant's fourth case is similarly inapposite by Defendant's own description, turning on failure to provide medical releases. (Mtn. at 19).

Importantly, Defendant represents to the Court that she seeks the "sanction of striking the claim or precluding evidence only on the damages that relate to the withheld documents and information." (Mtn. at 19). This is confusing for two reasons. First, Ms. Giuffre has provided information about the providers that she has knowledge of and has provided releases for their medical records, so the sanction she seeks could not apply to any of the providers in Defendant's brief. Second, there are no "withheld documents." Ms. Giuffre has not withheld any medical records, and, indeed, has authorized the release of all records sought by Defendant. Accordingly, there are no "withheld records" upon which sanctions could be applied. And, again, there has been no violation of this Court's Order.

CONCLUSION

Since filing the instant motion for sanctions, two other witnesses - witnesses subpoenaed by Defendant herself in order to mount her defense - have given testimony to support Ms. Giuffre. Most recently, Defendant's witness, Tony Figueroa, testified he witnessed Defendant escort young girls he brought over to Epstein's home to Epstein for sex acts, and testified that Defendant called him on the phone, asking him to bring girls over to Epstein's house.¹⁵

Q And how long would you and one of these other girls sit there and have this small talk with Ms. Maxwell?

A No more than 10 or 15 minutes.

Q What were you waiting for?

A Pretty much her to take them up stairs then I would leave. I would wait for them to be like we're ready. And I would be all right. See you later and I would leave.

Q You were waiting for who to take who up stairs?

A I had seen Ms. Maxwell take a girl up there well not up there visibly but I watched her leave had room with one.

Q Up stairs?

12 A Well, I didn't see the stairs. Like in the kitchen there's not like you have to go all around and all that shit.

See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 9, ROUGH Figueroa Tr. at 156:22-157:14.

Q Let me fix this. Gill when Gillian Maxwell would call you during the time that you were living with Virginia she would ask you what specifically?

A Just if I had found any ear girls just to bring the Jeffrey.

Q Okay.

A Pretty much everytime a conversation with any of them it was either asking Virginia where she was ask the asking her to get girls or asking me get girls.

See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 9, ROUGH Figueroa Tr. at 162:8-19.

Accordingly, at this stage in discovery, it is not just the flight logs showing Defendant flying with Epstein and Ms. Giuffre over twenty times when she was a minor; it is not just the message pads from law enforcement's trash pulls that show Defendant arranging to have an underage girl come over to Epstein's house for "training;" it is not just the police report; it is not just the photographs of Defendant and other men with Ms. Giuffre when she was a minor.

Now, there is actual, live testimonial evidence that Defendant was a procurer of young girls for sex with Jeffrey Epstein, with whom she shared a home and a life, thus validating Ms. Giuffre's claims. Therefore, this baseless motion for sanctions is more a reflection of the abundant testimonial evidence condemning Defendant than any type of imagined discovery violation on behalf of Ms. Giuffre.

Ms. Giuffre respectfully requests that it be denied in its entirety.

C O N F I D E N T I A L

Deposition of JOHANNA SJOBERG, pursuant to notice, taken by Plaintiff, at the offices of Boies Schiller & Flexner, 401
Las Olas Boulevard, Fort Lauderdale, Florida,
before Kelli Ann Willis, a Registered
Professional Reporter, Certified Realtime
Reporter and Notary Public within and for the State of Florida.

1 Jeffrey's home when you arrived?

2 A. Yes. When I first walked in the door, it
3 was just myself, and Ghislaine headed for the 4 staircase and said -- told me to come up to the 5 living room.

6 Q. And what happened at that point, when you
7 came up to the living room?

8 A. I came up and saw Virginia, Jeffrey,
9 Prince Andrew, Ghislaine in the room.

10 Q. And did you meet Prince Andrew at that 11 time?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. And what happened next?

14 A. At one point, Ghislaine told me to come
15 upstairs, and we went into a closet and pulled out
16 the puppet, the caricature of Prince Andrew, and 17 brought it down. And there was a little tag on the 18 puppet that said "Prince Andrew" on it, and that's 19 when I knew who he was.

20 Q. And did -- what did the puppet look like?

21 A. It looked like him. And she brought it
22 down and presented it to him; and that was a great
23 joke, because apparently it was a production from a 24 show on BBC. And they decided to take a picture
25 with it, in which Virginia and Andrew sat on a

1 couch. They put the puppet on Virginia's lap, and I
2 sat on Andrew's lap, and they put the puppet's hand
3 on Virginia's breast, and Andrew put his hand on my 4 breast, and they took a photo.

5 Q. Do you remember who took the photo?

6 A. I don't recall.

7 Q. Did you ever see the photo after it was 8 taken?

9 A. I did not.

10 Q. And Ms. Maxwell was present during the -- 11 was Ms. Maxwell present during that?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. What happened next?

14 A. The next thing I remember is just being 15 shown to which room I was going to be staying in.

16 Q. When you exited the room that you were in 17 where the picture was taken, do you recall who 18 remained in that room?

19 A. I don't.

20 Q. Do you recall seeing Virginia exit that 21 room?

22 A. I don't.

23 Q. During this trip to New York, did you have 24 to perform any work when you were at the New York
25 house?

1 always covered himself with a towel.

2 Q. I believe I asked this, but I just want to
3 clarify to make sure that I did: Did Maxwell ever
4 ask you to bring other girls over to -- for Jeffrey?

5 A. Yes.

6 Q. Yes?

7 A. Yes.

8 Q. And what did you -- did you do anything in 9 response to that?

10 A. I did bring one girl named [REDACTED] --
11 no. [REDACTED] -- it was some girl named [REDACTED]
12 that I had worked with at a restaurant. And I
13 recall Ghislaine giving me money to bring her over;
14 however, they never called her to come.

15 Q. And then I believe you mentioned that one
16 of your physical fitness instructors, you brought a
17 physical fitness instructor; was that correct?

18 A. Correct.

19 Q. And what did she do?

20 A. She gave him a -- like a training session, 21 twice.

22 Q. Twice.

23 Did anything sexual in nature happen
24 during the session?

25 A. At one point he lifted up her shirt and

1 exposed her bra, and she grabbed it and pulled it
2 down.

3 Q. Anything else?

4 A. That was the conversation that he had told 5 her that he had taken this girl's virginity, the 6 girl by the pool.

7 Q. Okay. Did Maxwell ever say to you that it
8 takes the pressure off of her to have other girls
9 around?

10 A. She implied that, yes.

11 Q. In what way?

12 A. Sexually.

13 Q. And earlier Laura asked you, I believe, if 14 Maxwell ever asked you to perform any sexual acts,
15 and I believe your testimony was no, but then you
16 also previously stated that during the camera
17 incident that Maxwell had talked to you about not 18 finishing the job.

19 Did you understand "not finishing the job"
20 meaning bringing Jeffrey to orgasm?

21 MS. MENNINGER: Objection, leading, form.

22 BY MS. McCAWLEY:

23 Q. I'm sorry, Johanna, let me correct that
24 question.

25 What did you understand Maxwell to mean

1 when she said you hadn't finished the job, with 2 respect to the camera?

3 MS. MENNINGER: Objection, leading, form.

4 THE WITNESS: She implied that I had not
5 brought him to orgasm.

6 BY MS. McCAWLEY:

7 Q. So is it fair to say that Maxwell expected
8 you to perform sexual acts when you were massaging
9 Jeffrey?

10 MS. MENNINGER: Objection, leading, form,
11 foundation.

12 THE WITNESS: I can answer?

13 Yes, I took that conversation to mean that 14 is what was expected of me.

15 BY MS. McCAWLEY:

16 Q. And then you mentioned, I believe, when 17 you were testifying earlier that Jeffrey told you a 18 story about sex on the plane. What was that about?

19 MS. MENNINGER: Objection, hearsay.

20 THE WITNESS: He told me one time Emmy was 21 sleeping on the plane, and they were getting 22 ready to land. And he went and woke her up,
23 and she thought that meant he wanted a blow
24 job, so she started to unzip his pants, and he 25 said, No, no, no, you just have to be awake for

1 A. No.

2 Q. Was it in the context of anything?

3 A. About the camera that she had bought for 4 me.

5 Q. What did she say in relationship to the 6 camera that she bought for you and taking
7 photographs of you?

8 A. Just that Jeffrey would like to have some 9 photos of me, and she asked me to take photos of 10 myself.

11 Q. What did you say?

12 A. I don't remember saying no, but I never 13 ended up following through. I think I tried once.

14 Q. This was the pre-selfie era, correct?

15 A. Exactly.

16 Q. I want to go back to this: You testified
17 to two things just now with Sigrid that you said
18 were implied to you.

19 A. Okay.

20 Q. The first one was it would take pressure
21 off of Maxwell to have more girls around?

22 A. Right.

23 Q. What exactly did Maxwell say to you that 24 led you to believe that was her implication?

25 A. She said she doesn't have the time or

1 desire to please him as much as he needs, and that's
2 why there were other girls around.

3 Q. And did she refer specifically to any 4 other girls?

5 A. No.

6 Q. Did she talk about underaged girls?

7 A. No.

8 Q. Was she talking about massage therapists?

9 A. Not specifically.

10 Q. Okay. There were other girls in the house
11 that were not massage therapists, correct?

12 A. Yes.

13 Q. Nadia is another person that was around,
14 correct?

15 A. Yes.

16 Q. There were other people he traveled with?

17 A. Uh-huh.

18 MS. McCAWLEY: Objection.

19 BY MS. MENNINGER:

20 Q. Correct?

21 A. Correct.

22 Q. Other girls?

23 A. Yes.

24 Q. Adults?

25 A. Yes.

C O N F I D E N T I A L

Deposition of [REDACTED], pursuant to notice, taken by Plaintiff, at the offices of Podhurst Orseck, 25 West
Flagler Street, Suite 800, Miami, Florida,
before Kelli Ann Willis, a Registered
Professional Reporter, Certified Realtime
Reporter and Notary Public within and
for the State of Florida.

1 [REDACTED]
2 know the extent of their relationship. But she
3 would schedule his appointments and handle clerical
4 things for him as far as I can see.

5 Q. All right.

6 And when you first went to his house,
7 where did -- where were you taken within the house?

8 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
9 foundation.

10 THE WITNESS: Kitchen, up to the room, up
11 to his master suite.

12 BY MR. EDWARDS:

13 Q. And which stairwell did you go up to his 14 suite?

15 A. I do not remember.

16 Q. Was it the stairs off by the kitchen?

17 A. I do not recall.

18 Q. And when you went into his bedroom, were 19 you under the belief that it was going to be you
20 providing some sort of a massage?

21 A. It certainly didn't involve any sexual 22 activity. That's what I was under the assumption.
23 I don't recall exactly how I was propositioned to 24 get there. I just was there, and all of a sudden
25 something horrible happened to me.

2 Q. Did you, at 16 years old or 17 years old,
3 have any massage training or experience?

4 A. No.

5 Q. Did [REDACTED] have any massage
6 experience?

7 A. I do not -- I can't speak to her
8 experience. I do not know. She was not really a 9 friend of mine. Barely an acquaintance. We maybe
10 spoke three times in our entire going to school
11 together and everything.

12 Q. Did you ever learn what her incentive was 13 to bring you to Jeffrey Epstein's house?

14 A. Later I found out that they would get 15 kickbacks for bringing people over.

16 Q. Do you remember seeing Jeffrey Epstein
17 give her money that day?

18 A. I don't recall, no.

19 Q. If you said that in your statement, that 20 you remember [REDACTED] getting money for bringing you
21 here that day, would that be a true statement?

22 A. Yes, absolutely. Everything in there is 23 the truth. I do not remember from years ago at this 24 point.

2 into?

3 A. I worked very, very hard to not recall
4 anything specific about my sexual encounters with 5 this person as one of his victims. I cannot answer
6 your question. Things -- it wasn't supposed to be 7 sexual, but it was. That's as specific as I can 8 get.

9 Q. Fair to say that when Jeffrey Epstein or 10 his assistants used the term "massage," someone is 11 going to come give a massage, that that's always a
12 sexual encounter?

13 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
14 foundation.

15 THE WITNESS: "Always" is a strong word to 16 use. I'm not making that assumption, but 17 oftentimes that's exactly what it meant.

18 BY MR. EDWARDS:

19 Q. When Jeffrey Epstein was paying high
20 school girls for these alleged massages, he was 21 paying to turn it into a sexual encounter, fair?

22 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
23 foundation.

24 THE WITNESS: I would say yes, that is the 25 motivation. I'm not a mind-reader. I don't

2 know what he was thinking. It's fair to 3 assume.

4 BY MR. EDWARDS:

5 Q. All right.

6 Did you know how [REDACTED] met
7 Jeffrey Epstein?

8 A. No.

9 Q. Do you know someone named Hayley Robson?

10 A. No.

11 Q. Did you know Tony Figueroa?

12 A. No. It sounds like a familiar name, but I
13 do not know him.

14 Q. Did you know Ashley Davis?

15 A. I may have gone to high school with an 16 Ashley Davis, but that seems like a very common
17 name.

18 Q. Were you asked by Jeffrey Epstein to bring 19 other girls to him?

20 A. Yes.

21 Q. And for what purpose?

22 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
23 foundation.

24 BY MR. EDWARDS:

25 Q. What is his stated purpose?

2 A. I was never present when he interacted
3 with those women. I don't know exactly what 4 happened.

5 Q. Did you bring other girls to him?

6 A. Yes. I brought friends over.

7 Q. And were they also of similar age to you?

8 A. Yes. They were my peers.

9 Q. High school girls?

10 A. Correct.

11 Q. Did any of them have massage experience?

12 A. I do not know.

13 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form.

14 BY MR. EDWARDS:

15 Q. Were you going out to look for a massage
16 therapist, a professional massage therapist to bring 17 to him?

18 A. No.

THE WITNESS: Yes, that's fair. I mean, I have to think. Sometimes I would go over and I would just swim and I would get paid, or I would take a nap and I'd get paid, or I would just hang out and I'd get paid. So that should be in my statement as well.

It wasn't my assumption that they were coming over to do anything. I did not know, once the door was closed or once they went to another area of the home. I often just went over and did my own thing while they were doing whatever they were doing. It was none of my business.

Q. When you would say you would just hang out at the pool, who would you be with?

A. I don't remember anyone. None of those girls were any friends. We were all there just through that mutual connection.

Q. I just have a list of girls, and I want you to tell me whether you know who they are or you don't.

Do you know Felicia Esposito?

7 THE WITNESS: I don't exactly remember. I
8 don't remember if I was asked in the kitchen.
9 I don't remember if -- I don't remember.

10 BY MR. EDWARDS:

11 Q. Massage was part of the game, though?

12 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

14 THE WITNESS: I don't remember. I'm 15 sorry.

16 BY MR. EDWARDS:

17 Q. But even during this deposition today, we 18 have described at times you giving him a massage?

19 A. Yes. You're asking about my first 20 encounter, though.

21 Q. Sorry, I'm just trying to sum up the whole
22 thing.

23 A. Okay.

24 Q. Was massage part of the lure to get you
25 specifically to his house?

2 A. Yes.

3 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

5 BY MR. EDWARDS:

6 Q. And at the time, you are 15, 16 or 17

7 years old?

8 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

9 foundation.

10 THE WITNESS: Yes.

11 BY MR. EDWARDS:

12 Q. No massage experience?

13 A. No.

14 Q. You were told to bring other girls to his

15 house?

16 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

17 foundation.

18 THE WITNESS: After a while, yes.

19 BY MR. EDWARDS:

20 Q. These massages were turned sexual by

21 Jeffrey, as opposed to by anyone else?

22 A. Jeffrey took my clothes off without my

23 consent the first time I met him.

24 Q. The massages were scheduled by people

25 working for Jeffrey?

2 A. I don't recall.

3 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

4 foundation.

5 BY MR. EDWARDS:

6 Q. Jeffrey Epstein, during these massages,
7 would use sex toys or have sex toys used?

8 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

9 foundation.

10 THE WITNESS: Well, at that point, it's no
11 longer a massage. Something else is going on.
12 But, yes, he would take out adult toys and 13 different things.

14 BY MR. EDWARDS:

15 Q. While you were a teenager, Jeffrey Epstein
16 asked you to live with him?

17 A. Yes. He wanted me to be emancipated.

18 Q. Jeffrey Epstein encouraged girl-on-girl
19 sex?

20 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

21 foundation.

22 THE WITNESS: Yes.

23 BY MR. EDWARDS:

24 Q. And after you cooperated with the police,
25 you were intimidated by people working for Jeffrey

2 Epstein?

3 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

5 THE WITNESS: Yes.

6 MR. EDWARDS: All right. I don't have

16 I just want to -- as I understand it, and 17 I'm not trying to get into any of your treatment
18 over the last, let's say, 10 years, because I don't 19 know how long it's been, but as I understand what 20 you and your lawyer have said here today, you have 21 been involved in some number of years of therapy, in 22 which the purpose -- part of the purpose of the

C O N F I D E N T I A L

Deposition of JOSEPH RECAREY, pursuant to notice, taken by Plaintiff, at the offices of Boies Schiller & Flexner, 401
Las Olas Boulevard, Fort Lauderdale, Florida,
before Kelli Ann Willis, a Registered
Professional Reporter, Certified Realtime
Reporter and Notary Public within and
for the State of Florida.

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 Ghislane Maxwell?

3 A. I wanted to speak with everyone related to 4 this home, including Ms. Maxwell. My contact was 5 through Gus, Attorney Gus Fronstin, at the time, who 6 initially had told me that he would make everyone
7 available for an interview. And subsequent 8 conversations later, no one was available for 9 interview and everybody had an attorney, and I was 10 not going to be able to speak with them.

11 Q. Okay. During your investigation, what did
12 you learn in terms of Ghislane Maxwell's
13 involvement, if any?

14 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
15 foundation.

16 THE WITNESS: Ms. Maxwell, during her
17 research, was found to be Epstein's long-time
18 friend. During the interviews, Ms. Maxwell was 19 involved in seeking girls to perform massages
20 and work at Epstein's home.

21 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
22 foundation.

23 BY MR. EDWARDS:

24 Q. Did you interview -- how many girls did
25 you interview that were sought to give or that

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 actually gave massages at Epstein's home?

3 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

4 foundation.

5 BY MR. EDWARDS:

6 Q. Approximately.

7 MR. PAGLIUCA: Same objection.

8 THE WITNESS: I would say approximately

9 30; 30, 33.

10 BY MR. EDWARDS:

11 Q. And of the 30, 33 or so girls, how many

12 had massage experience?

13 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

14 foundation.

15 THE WITNESS: I believe two of them may 16 have been -- two of them.

17 BY MR. EDWARDS:

18 Q. Okay. And as we go through this report,
19 you may remember the names?

20 A. Correct. Let me correct myself. I
21 believe only one had.

22 Q. And was that -- was that one of similar 23 age to the other girls?

24 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

25 foundation.

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 THE WITNESS: No.

3 BY MR. EDWARDS:

4 Q. Okay. The one with massage experience was 5 older?

6 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
7 foundation.

8 THE WITNESS: Correct.

9 BY MR. EDWARDS:

10 Q. The remainder of the 30 girls that went to 11 this house for the purposes of massage or recruited
12 for massage, is it my understanding that they had no
13 massage experience?

14 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
15 foundation.

16 THE WITNESS: That's correct.

17 BY MR. EDWARDS:

18 Q. And were the majority of those girls that 19 you interviewed over or under the age of 18?

20 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
21 foundation.

22 THE WITNESS: The majority were under.

23 BY MR. EDWARDS:

24 Q. And how was it that Mr. Epstein gained
25 access to that number of underaged girls?

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
3 foundation.

4 THE WITNESS: Each of the victims that 5 went to the home were asked to bring their 6 friends to the home. Some complied and some 7 didn't.

8 BY MR. EDWARDS:

9 Q. Okay. So the victim would come to the 10 home and could give a massage and get paid for it;
11 is that right?

12 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
13 foundation.

14 THE WITNESS: Correct.

15 BY MR. EDWARDS:

16 Q. And at the end of that massage, if that 17 victim brought other friends, she would get paid for 18 the recruitment of those friends?

19 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
20 foundation.

21 THE WITNESS: Correct.

22 BY MR. EDWARDS:

23 Q. Additionally, did your investigation
24 reveal that the assistants of Jeffrey Epstein would 25 call and set up for these girls to come over to the

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 house for the massages?

3 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
4 foundation.

5 THE WITNESS: Correct.

6 BY MR. EDWARDS:

7 Q. And, as well, certain people that were
8 friends or girlfriends or assistants of Jeffrey
9 Epstein would recruit girls under the pretense of 10 giving a massage?

11 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
12 foundation.

13 THE WITNESS: Correct.

14 BY MR. EDWARDS:

15 Q. Is that what your investigation revealed
16 in terms of the system of getting these girls over
17 to the house?

18 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
19 foundation.

20 THE WITNESS: Yes.

21 BY MR. EDWARDS:

22 Q. Okay. Talking about the massages, when -- 23 when these -- the various girls that you interviewed
24 described the massages, was there a pattern of what 25 occurred during these massages?

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
3 foundation.

4 THE WITNESS: Yes, there was.

5 BY MR. EDWARDS:

6 Q. Okay. Describe for us what the pattern
7 was that was told to you by the 30 or so girls that 8 you interviewed?

9 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
10 foundation.

11 THE WITNESS: Initially, when the -- when 12 the victims would come into the home and were 13 brought upstairs to provide the massage,
14 Epstein would lay on his massage table, where 15 they would start to rub his back and the back
16 of his legs.

17 Epstein would either attempt to fondle the 18 girls or touch the girls inappropriately, and 19 at which point he would masturbate. And when 20 he was done, he would get up and go wash off
21 while the girls would get dressed and go back
22 downstairs and get paid.

23 BY MR. EDWARDS:

24 Q. Okay. So did you determine that "massage"
25 was actually a code word for something else?

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
3 foundation.

4 THE WITNESS: When they went to perform a
5 massage, it was for sexual gratification.

6 BY MR. EDWARDS:

7 Q. And when the assistants would call and ask
8 these girls to work, did you learn what the term
9 "work" meant with respect to these girls coming to 10 the house?

11 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
12 foundation.

13 THE WITNESS: "Work" meant to come and 14 provide Epstein a massage.

15 BY MR. EDWARDS:

16 Q. And massage -- how often would these 17 massages, based upon your investigation, turn into 18 something sexual?

19 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
20 foundation.

21 THE WITNESS: During the investigation, it
22 was determined that he would have multiple 23 massages during the day. He would have some in 24 the morning and some in the afternoon,
25 sometimes into the evening. So he would

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 BY MR. EDWARDS:

3 Q. All right.

4 And so when you went to speak with the 5 victims, what did these victims say about their 6 experience with Jeffrey Epstein?

7 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
8 foundation.

9 THE WITNESS: Once they were recruited,
10 they were brought to the home. They were to 11 provide a massage.

12 Some of the victims did not want to be 13 touched; some of the victims did not want to 14 partake in that. So it was -- I believe for -- 15 for a couple of them it was only a one-shot
16 deal, but others continued to come.

17 BY MR. EDWARDS:

18 Q. Okay. And as you interviewed some of 19 those victims, did you learn that some of those 20 victims also brought additional girls?

21 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
22 foundation.

23 THE WITNESS: That's correct.

24 BY MR. EDWARDS:

25 Q. So as you were investigating this case, as

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 part of your investigation, you're learning
3 information from these victims and then going to 4 talk to the next person down the line, if you will?

5 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
6 foundation.

7 THE WITNESS: Correct.

8 BY MR. EDWARDS:

9 Q. And what is the purpose of that?

10 A. To identify further victims and acquire 11 additional information.

12 Q. And in doing that, were you able to 13 corroborate the accuracy of what the first victim
14 told you?

15 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
16 foundation.

17 THE WITNESS: Correct.

18 BY MR. EDWARDS:

19 Q. Okay. And did you learn of Sarah Kellen's
20 involvement with respect to the various girls?

21 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
22 foundation.

23 THE WITNESS: Yes.

24 BY MR. EDWARDS:

25 Q. What was her role?

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
3 foundation.

4 THE WITNESS: That is correct.

5 BY MR. EDWARDS:

6 Q. And did you turn all of your files over to 7 either the State Attorney's Office or the FBI?

8 A. That is correct.

9 Q. And through the State Attorney's Office,
10 was the information contained within the probable
11 cause affidavit and the incident reports a publicly
12 available document?

13 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
14 foundation.

15 THE WITNESS: Yes.

16 BY MR. EDWARDS:

17 Q. And around the time of your 18 investigation -- around the time you ended your 19 investigation and thereafter, were various newspaper
20 articles written about the substance of some of your 21 investigation?

22 A. Yes.

23 Q. Did it become well known to the public
24 that Jeffrey Epstein had recruited high school girls
25 to his house for the purpose of some sexually

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 involved massage?

3 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

4 foundation.

5 THE WITNESS: That is correct.

6 BY MR. EDWARDS:

7 Q. And, in fact, haven't you read many of 8 these newspaper articles?

9 A. That is correct.

10 Q. That was not a hidden secret from the 11 public beginning in 2006, right?

12 A. No.

13 Q. And from your overall investigation, kind
14 of just a big picture, what was the criminal
15 activity, as specific as you can, that you learned
16 that Jeffrey Epstein and others were involved in?

17 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
18 foundation.

19 THE WITNESS: It was sexual battery and 20 lewd and lascivious conduct for under the age
21 of 16.

22 BY MR. EDWARDS:

23 Q. And what was the specific system of 24 engaging in this type of activity?

25 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 foundation.

3 THE WITNESS: As to --

4 BY MR. EDWARDS:

5 Q. From the recruitment to the: How did you
6 get them, what did you do, how did you keep it
7 going?

8 A. Once the --

9 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
10 foundation. Sorry.

11 THE WITNESS: No, no.

12 As it became known to us that the victim
13 was recruited, brought to the home, provided 14 the massage, was paid, whether there was 15 inappropriate touching, whether there was 16 sexual activity, whether there was actually 17 intercourse, all of that was documented and was 18 asked whether they brought anyone to the home,
19 whether they had any formal training in massage
20 therapy, and once -- once additional victims
21 were identified, we continued the same -- the 22 same method of investigation.

23 BY MR. EDWARDS:

24 Q. Okay. And one of the earliest victims, in 25 terms of the chronology of this pyramid of girls,

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 for lack a better word -- you understand what I mean
3 by that, right?

4 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
5 foundation.

6 THE WITNESS: Yes.

7 BY MR. EDWARDS:

8 Q. That there's -- there's -- one of the 9 earliest victims that you interviewed was Haley
10 Robson; is that right?

11 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
12 foundation.

13 THE WITNESS: It was actually SG, I think
14 was the first one that was interviewed, and 15 then HR was the one I interviewed.

16 BY MR. EDWARDS:

17 Q. Okay. My question was bad.

18 I know that the first person interviewed
19 that kind of kicked off the investigation was SG,
20 but -- and just to create a picture of what we have 21 here, this is, and tell me if I characterized it
22 wrong, a scheme that Jeffrey Epstein engaged in by 23 using assistants to recruit girls, right?

24 A. Correct.

25 Q. Under the --

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
3 foundation.

4 BY MR. EDWARDS:

5 Q. Under the pretense of giving a massage?

6 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
7 foundation.

8 THE WITNESS: Correct. Either a message
9 and/or become a model for Victoria's Secrets
10 and/or connections.

11 BY MR. EDWARDS:

12 Q. And when he was able to get these girls to 13 his home, he would then offer them money to also 14 become recruiters for him?

15 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
16 foundation.

17 THE WITNESS: Correct.

18 BY MR. EDWARDS:

19 Q. And that created this -- if you've mapped
20 it out, kind of a spider web or a pyramid of girls
21 bringing girls to Jeffrey Epstein's house?

22 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
23 foundation.

24 BY MR. EDWARDS:

25 Q. Right?

1 JOSEPH RECAREY - CONFIDENTIAL

2 A. Correct.

3 Q. All right.

4 So when I say one of the first, I mean on 5 the top of the pyramid one of the earliest people
6 that you interviewed that brought girls to Jeffrey
7 Epstein's house was HR?

8 A. Correct.

9 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
10 foundation.

11 BY MR. EDWARDS:

12 Q. And I think that you testified that Molly
13 and Tony drove HR to Jeffrey Epstein's house the 14 first time, right?

15 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
16 foundation.

17 THE WITNESS: Correct.

18 BY MR. EDWARDS:

19 Q. Did you ever trace all the way up to the 20 highest level to determine who was it that started
21 this particular chain of Palm Beach girls coming
22 over to Jeffrey Epstein's home?

23 MR. PAGLIUCA: Object to form and
24 foundation.

25 THE WITNESS: I did not. Basically, when

1 Q All right. Do you know how you came to be
2 the doctor for Virginia Giuffre?

3 A No. I -- she would have filled out a new
4 patient packet and showed up for a new patient
5 appointment for a particular reason. I reviewed it.

8 Q Do you know where that new patient packet
9 is now?

10 A It's going to be scanned in the computer.
11 If you don't have it, I brought my computer. I can 12 probably scan it and print it out or just print it
13 out.

14 Q Is that among the documents that you have 15 next to you?

16 A The new patient packet isn't here, but I
17 have it -- I should have it on my computer. I could 18 probably log in and print it, to be honest. It
19 wouldn't be that hard. I assumed that the hospital
20 is taking care of all the documentation that was 21 requested. So I didn't actually bring it.

22 Q I understand.

23 A I actually have it, happen to have it with 24 me.

25 Q All right. Why don't we -- we can

Agren Blando Court Reporting & Video, Inc.

1 probably do that when we take a break in just a few
2 minutes, and I can tell you how to get on the 3 Internet and we'll see if that works.

4 A Um-hum.

5 Q Do you know how many times that you saw
6 Virginia Giuffre?

7 A Once.

8 Q Do you know whether she was referred to 9 you by another doctor?

10 A No.

11 Q Do you mean no, you don't know or --

12 A I have no idea. I have no idea. I don't 13 know why she would have been referred. Most the time
14 people are referring out.

15 Q Right.

16 A They don't refer back to a general
17 practitioner.

18 Q No one ever refers anyone to you?

19 A It generally goes the other direction.
20 Well, other patients might refer people to me, and 21 that happens, but --

22 Q Okay. Do you know if you treat
23 Ms. Giuffre's children in your practice?

24 A Not that I'm aware of.

25 Q Do you know a woman by the name of Lynn

Agren Blando Court Reporting & Video, Inc.

1 Miller?

2 A I know several Millers.

3 Q Who works at Saint Thomas More Hospital?

4 A I think so, yeah. That sounds familiar,
5 yeah.

6 Q Do you know her professionally?

7 A Not really.

8 Q Okay.

9 A I mean, her name sounds familiar.

10 Q Do you know of any connection between Lynn
11 Miller and Virginia Giuffre?

12 A None. I have met Virginia once. I only 13 saw her once, a year ago. That's the extent of my --

14 Q Have you ever read any media reports about
15 Ms. Giuffre?

16 A No. No, I haven't. I don't know anything
17 about it.

18 Q Okay. Do you know how long --

19 A She -- I believe she mentioned that it was 20 some kind of -- mentioned something about being a
21 famous sexual abuse something.

22 Q You haven't read any of the reports?

23 A I have no idea.

24 Q Okay. I'm just trying to establish your 25 sources information.

Agren Blando Court Reporting & Video, Inc.

1 A Yeah.

2 Q So if you had information about
3 Ms. Giuffre, other than your visit --

4 A Yeah.

5 Q -- do you know another source?

6 A No.

7 Q From family members?

8 A No.

9 Q From community members, anything?

10 A Nothing.

11 Q Do you know how long your visit with her
12 lasted?

13 A It -- sometimes I document time spent, but 14 not always. I mean, it's not important. They're 15 half-hour visits typically. It would have been a 16 half hour or less, I would expect.

17 Q All right. Before looking at your
18 records, is there anything about Ms. Giuffre that you
19 recall just from the top of your head?

20 I understand you see many, many patients
21 and this was a year ago. So you tell me.

22 A Nothing. I saw her once. And when I went 23 back and read the note, I went, Oh, yeah, I remember
24 someone mentioning about being in a sexual abuse
25 trial or something, some kind of sexual abuse thing.

1 Q That's the only unusual part that stuck
2 out?

3 A Yeah, and I don't really remember anything
4 about her at all, actually, I don't.

5 Q Do you know what she looks like?

6 A No, I don't remember. It was one time a
7 year ago. I don't remember.

8 Q I understand. Okay. If it's okay with 9 you, I would like to take a break and see if we can 10 pull up the other records because I don't want to go 11 through my questions and then go back and look at 12 those records. I'd rather do it one time.

13 A Okay.

14 Q Is that all right?

15 A Yeah, I'm fine with that.

16 MS. MENNINGER: All right. Let's go off
17 the record.

18 (Recess taken from 9:41 a.m. to 19 10:07 a.m.)

20 (Exhibit 4 marked.)

21 Q (BY MS. MENNINGER) So we're back on the 22 record. All right.

23 I'm going to give you a document marked as 24 Exhibit 4. And I'm going to make a small record
25 about what just took place off the record, which is

Agren Blando Court Reporting & Video, Inc.

1 that you, as I understand it, and tell me if I'm 2 wrong, have access to medical records from your
3 office on your laptop, correct?

4 A Yes.

5 Q Okay. And you were able to get on your
6 laptop and print out records related to Ms. Giuffre
7 that you had on that laptop, correct?

8 A Yes.

9 Q And we printed that out and made copies
10 for everyone here, and that's what you see in front
11 of you as Exhibit 4, correct?

12 A Yes.

13 Q We made those printouts on a portable
14 printer. So they're not the best quality, correct?

15 A Correct.

16 Q And some portions are not printing out as 17 well?

18 A Yes.

19 Q And you, I think, would be okay with 20 sending us a more complete set later?

21 A Yes.

22 Q All right. I'm going to take just a
23 minute to review it.

24 Can you tell us what the records that you
25 just printed out in Exhibit 4 represent?

Agren Blando Court Reporting & Video, Inc.

1 A Generally it's demographics information
2 and then a list of medications, a list of surgeries,
3 a list of family medical history, and then a list of 4 physical complaints that there's some -- it's called
5 review of systems, things someone has been feeling
6 and self-reported in the last two weeks.

7 Q Okay. So is this typically -- is this 8 patient information document typically in the 9 patient's handwriting?

10 A Yes.

11 Q And I presume you don't know Ms. Giuffre's
12 handwriting?

13 A No.

14 Q But it's a practice to ask the patient to 15 fill these forms out?

16 A Yes, and then have it there before their 17 appointment.

18 Q All right. So if I see the date reflected 19 on the top of the first page as May 21st, 2015 --

20 A Um-hum.

21 Q -- do you believe that to be the date that 22 you actually saw Ms. Giuffre?

23 A Probably, yes.

24 Q Okay.

25 A Sometimes people will bring it in early,

1 but yeah.

2 Q Okay. Why don't we go ahead and mark
3 Exhibit 5, which will be helpful as we're going
4 through this.

5 (Exhibit 5 marked.)

6 Q (BY MS. MENNINGER) And I'm going to ask
7 you to keep 4 and 5 kind of close by, and we'll talk
8 about them.

9 Do you recognize Exhibit 5?

10 A Yes. That's the visit note.

11 Q And the visit note of Ms. Giuffre's visit
12 with you?

13 A Yes.

14 Q In your office?

15 A Yes.

16 Q And after looking at Exhibit 5, can you
17 tell what date it is that you actually saw
18 Ms. Giuffre?

19 A 5/21/2015.

20 Q Okay. Is that also the same date as the 21 patient intake form --

22 A Yes.

23 Q -- in Exhibit 4?

24 A Yes.

25 Q All right. Do you recall whether you

INTRODUCTION

As more and more witnesses come forward testifying about Defendant's involvement in the sexual abuse of young girls, Defendant's discovery arguments have become more removed from the merits of this case and increasingly strident in their tone. The latest example of this genre is the instant motion in which the Defendant boldly proclaims that Ms. Giuffre is "playing a game of catch and release" by deliberately "withholding information" regarding her medical care. Yet the basis for these strong charges turns out to be nothing more than the fact that, when asked to produce a listing of medical care providers that Ms. Giuffre has seen in the last seventeen years – during a period of time when she lived in Australia, then Florida, then Colorado, finally returning to Australia – she was unable to recall all of the providers. Ms. Giuffre and her attorneys have worked diligently to provide this listing to Defendant and, as new information has become available, or as Ms. Giuffre has been able to recall another provider, the information has been disclosed. Indeed, Ms. Giuffre signed every medical records release that Defendant requested. There has been no deliberate "withholding" of information, much less withholding of information that would warrant the extreme sanction of precluding Ms. Giuffre from presenting her claims to a jury.

Moreover, this baseless motion for sanctions comes on the heels of disturbing testimony corroborating what lies at the core of this case – Defendant was involved in facilitating the sexual abuse of young girls with Jeffrey Epstein. One witness, Rinaldo Rizzo, was in tears as he recounted Defendant bringing a 15-year-old girl to his employer's home who, in utmost distress, told him that Defendant stole the young girl's passport and tried to make her have sex with

Epstein, and then threatened her.² Mr. Rizzo also testified that he watched Maxwell direct a room full of underage girls to kiss, dance, and touch one another in a sexual way for Defendant and Epstein to watch.³ Another witness, Joanna Sjoberg, testified that Defendant recruited her from her school campus to have sex with Epstein with lies about being her personal assistant.⁴ Two other witnesses, one an underage victim (██████████) and the other, the police detective who ultimately ended up investigating Epstein (Detective Joseph Recarey, Retired), gave testimony about how Epstein used other women to recruit minors to have sex with him.⁵ Most recently, a witness testified that Defendant would call him and ask him to bring over young girls that she would provide to Epstein. See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 9, ROUGH Deposition Transcript of Tony Figueroa at 162:8-19. It is against this backdrop that Defendant has filed a motion seeking sanctions. The motion is a transparent effort to deflect attention from the merits of Ms. Giuffre's claim by inventing "willful" discovery violations and should be rejected in its entirety.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

I. MEDICAL PROVIDER IDENTITIES

As the Court is aware, Defendant has requested that Ms. Giuffre provide the names and medical records of every medical provider she has ever had, for any type of treatment, since 1999. This would be no easy task for anyone, and Ms. Giuffre has had many medical providers

² See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 1, Excerpts from the June 10, 2016 Deposition of Rinaldo Rizzo.

³ Id.

⁴ See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 2, Excerpts from the May 18, 2016 Deposition of Joanna Sjoberg.

in multiple locations. So she and her legal counsel have worked diligently to track them down through a search that has spanned nearly two decades and two continents.

Ms. Giuffre made her initial disclosures on this subject in an answer to an interrogatory that she served on April 29, 2016. Ms. Giuffre listed 15 health care providers that she could recall at the time. Four days later, on May 3, 2016, Defendant deposed Ms. Giuffre. During the deposition, Ms. Giuffre's memory was jogged and she was able to recall two additional providers: Judith Lightfoot and Dr. Christopher Donahue.⁶

Defendant, however, seeks to magnify the innocent recollection of two additional providers at Ms. Giuffre's deposition by misleadingly claiming that "[i]t is only through deposition testimony that Ms. Maxwell became aware of at least five - if not more - treating health care physicians." (Mtn. at 1). This claim, too, is inaccurate. Beyond Ms. Lightfoot and Dr. Donahue, Defendant apparently adds to the list of "withheld" doctors by referring to treating physicians who cared for Ms. Giuffre on a one-off basis in the Emergency Room. It is unsurprising that a patient would have trouble remembering an emergency room physician's name. But the real point here is that, in any event, the information was disclosed through documents produced, so there is absolutely no "failure to disclose" as Defendant wrongfully alleges. See Centura Health Records (GIUFFRE005498-005569).

Defendant then states that, in her deposition, "Ms. Giuffre claims she was not treated by any other physicians," and then states that other records revealed "three additional health care professionals who treated Plaintiff, including Dr. Scott Robert Geiger, Dr. Joseph Heaney,⁷ and Donna Oliver P.A.” (Mtn. at 4, emphasis original). [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Defendant is trying to make it seem as if Ms. Giuffre deliberately hid the names of treating physicians in the Emergency Room. As stated above, Ms. Giuffre produced these records so she is clearly not hiding anything. Not learning, not knowing, or not remembering off the top of one’s head the names of Emergency Room staff encountered during a medical emergency is not only unsurprising and understandable, but is also not a discovery violation.

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Here, Defendant attempts to make something out of nothing. This is particularly true as Ms. Giuffre made these records available to Defendant. As evidenced by the details recounted in Defendant’s brief, Ms. Giuffre produced these Emergency Room records to Defendant, and therefore, she is wholly compliant in her discovery obligations.⁸

Additionally, Defendant's motion lists 15 providers⁹ Ms. Giuffre gave to Defendants in her interrogatories (Mtn. at 3), but then states that "Plaintiff failed therein to identify any treatment providers prior to the alleged defamation, despite the Court's order concerning 1999-2015." (Mtn. at 4). This statement, too, is wildly incorrect. Of the list of 15 providers, the overwhelming majority of them are providers "prior to the alleged defamation."¹⁰ For example, Ms. Giuffre produced records from N.Y. Presbyterian Hospital. (GIUFFRE003258-3290). Not only do the dates on the records (e.g., July 9, 2001) demonstrate they are prior to the defamation, but Defendant has independent knowledge that this provider pre-dates Defendant's defamation. Indeed, Defendant is the one who brought her to that hospital, while she was a minor. Therefore, Defendant's statement in her brief that "Plaintiff failed therein to identify any treatment providers prior to the alleged defamation, despite the Court's order concerning 1999-2015" (Mtn. at 4) is inaccurate.

Defendant continues with another misleading statement: "As of today's date . . . and 10 days before the end of fact discovery in this case, Ms. Maxwell has learned of at least five additional doctors" (Mtn. at 5), and then, again, names Ms. Lightfoot, Dr. Geiger, Dr. Heaney, Donna Oliver P.A., and Dr. Streeter. Defendant did not learn of these providers 10 days prior to the close of discovery, but much earlier, as the previous page of Defendant's brief recounts.

⁹ (1) Dr. Steven Olson; (2) Dr. Chris Donahue; (3) Dr. John Harris; (4) Dr. Majaliyana; (5) Dr. Wah Wah; (6) Dr. Sellathuri; (7) Royal Oaks Medical Center; (8) Dr. Carol Hayek; (9) NY Presbyterian Hospital; (10) Campbelltown Hospital; (11) SydneyWest Hospital; (12) Westmead Hospital; (13) Dr. Karen Kutikoff; (14) Wellington Imaging Associates; (15) Growing Together.

¹⁰ Providers from that list that treated Ms. Giuffre prior to Defendant's defamation include: (1) Dr. John Harris; (2) Dr. Majaliyana; (3) Dr. Majaliyana; (4) Dr. Wah Wah; (5) Dr. Sellathuri; (6) Royal Oaks Medical Center; (7) Dr. Carol Hayek; (8) NY Presbyterian Hospital; (9) Sydney West Hospital; (10) Westmead Hospital; (12) Wellington Imaging Associates; (13) Growing Together.

Defendant's next statement is equally misleading "documents relating to these doctors were not provided until after their identities became known through deposition or other independent investigation by Ms. Maxwell." (Mtn. at 5). Their identities became known to Defendant because Ms. Giuffre disclosed the name of Ms. Lightfoot in her deposition, and because Ms. Giuffre herself produced emergency room records to Defendant – documents bearing the names of the other providers. Accordingly, these five additional names were provided to Defendant by Ms. Giuffre herself, through (1) her deposition testimony; and (2) her document production.

Defendant is now asking this Court to enter extraordinary sanctions because those names were not provided in response to an interrogatory, but, instead, were provided through Ms. Giuffre's testimony and Ms. Giuffre's document production. This is an improper request. It is unsurprising that Defendant cannot cite to a single case in which any type of sanctions were awarded under even remotely similar circumstances. Indeed, the purpose of the various aspects of discovery provided by Rule 26(a)(5), Fed. R. Civ. P., is to provide more fulsome information. C.f. In re Dana Corp., 574 F.3d 129, 150 (2d Cir. 2009) ("the various discovery methods are more complementary than fungible"). Here, Ms. Giuffre provided her medical information through interrogatory response, through testimony, and through document production. Ms. Giuffre has met her obligation under both this Court's Order and Rule 26. There has been no failure to disclose: Ms. Giuffre provided the names and testified about her treatment. Accordingly, this motion should be denied in its entirety.

II. MEDICAL RECORDS

Defendant states that Plaintiff has failed to produce any records from (a) Dr. Donahue, (b) Dr. Hayek, (c) Dr. Kutikoff, (d) Wellington Imaging Assocs., (e) Growing Together, (f) post

2011 records from Ms. Lightfoot, and (g) the remaining documents for treatment by Dr. Olson. (Mtn. at 5). This is also incorrect. There has been no “failure,” as discussed, in turn, below. Moreover, if records from any providers have not been produced, it is not Ms. Giuffre’s “failure,” but rather, the failure of the providers, particularly as Ms. Giuffre has executed releases for her records from all these providers. Ms. Giuffre and her counsel have been diligent in compiling nearly two decades of medical records from various states and countries. The chart below provides an overview the efforts undertaken by Ms. Giuffre and the production to Defendant as a result.

Accordingly, as the Court can see with reference to the Bates labels in the above chart, Ms. Giuffre has been compliant in producing her medical records. Indeed, she has signed releases for all records requested by Defendant, and has produced all records released by the providers. In addition to signing all releases for medical providers requested by Defendant, the work associated with compiling the records and following up with providers (as shown by the above chart) clearly demonstrates Ms. Giuffre's good faith and persistence in her deliberate and thorough pursuit of providing Defendant with her medical records. That is reason alone to deny Defendant's unsupported request for sanctions.

A. Dr. Donahue

Plaintiff dutifully signed a release for medical records and provided it to Dr. Donahue on April 5, 2016, and sent a copy to the Defendant so counsel was on notice of the efforts being taken to secure medical records. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibit 6, Dr. Donahue letter and Release Form. Ms. Giuffre's counsel has received records from Dr. Donahue since the Defendant filed the instant motion, and immediately provided those records to Defendant. See chart above, GIUFFRE00006631-006635.

B. Dr. Hayek

Dr. Hayek treated Ms. Giuffre over seven years ago. Ms. Giuffre signed a release form for Dr. Hayek's records, sent the release form on March 8, 2016, and provided a copy of the form to Defendant. Having not received any records, the undersigned sent a follow-up letter to

Dr. Hayek on April 28, 2016, to request the records. Upon information and belief, Dr. Hayek does not keep patient's medical records for longer than seven years, and, therefore, no longer has any records pertaining to Ms. Giuffre. Ms. Giuffre and her counsel have made inquiries to Dr. Hayek's office via telephone and email, but, to date, have not received any response. Again, Ms. Giuffre has no input on Dr. Hayek's document retention policies, and therefore, the lack of production of records from Dr. Hayek cannot be attributed to Ms. Giuffre.

C. Dr. Kutikoff, Wellington Imaging Associates ("Wellington Imaging"), and Growing Together

Plaintiff provided Defendant's counsel executed medical release forms for Dr. Kutikoff, Wellington Imaging, and Growing Together on April 29, 2016. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibit 7. Accordingly, Ms. Giuffre has no direct knowledge as to what, if anything, these three providers produced to Defendant's counsel. Ms. Giuffre has done everything in her power to make them available to Defendant, a fact that Defendant cannot dispute. Again, there has been no "failure" by Ms. Giuffre here, as Ms. Giuffre has signed and sent the necessary release forms for the records to be sent directly to Defendant.¹¹

D. Ms. Lightfoot

Defendant admits that Ms. Giuffre produced Ms. Lightfoot's records in footnote 4 of her brief on page 11, yet on page 16, Defendant wrongfully states Plaintiff has not produced Dr. Lightfoot's records. Despite the self-contradictory briefing, Ms. Lightfoot has produced records. See chart above, Giuffre005431-005438, Medical Release Form with documents. As with the other providers, Ms. Giuffre has executed and sent medical records release forms to Ms. Lightfoot, and has thus met her discovery obligations. To follow up on Defendant's wrongful claims that Ms. Giuffre has somehow “withheld” more current records (despite executing a release for all records); Ms. Giuffre followed up with Ms. Lightfoot, who provided to Ms. Giuffre’s counsel correspondence stating that she has produced all of Ms. Giuffre’s records (see chart above, Giuffre006636), thereby indicating that she does not keep more current records.

¹¹ Upon information and belief, Ms. Lightfoot is not a medical doctor, but an Australian "Consulting Psychologist."

E. Dr. Olson

Defendant claims that Ms. Giuffre failed to produce “the remaining documents for treatment by Dr. Olson,” but this is a wild inaccuracy. (And, Ms. Giuffre would refer the Court to a short excerpt from Dr. Olson’s deposition in which Dr. Olson explains in his own words his production. See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 10, Dr. Olson Deposition Excerpt.) First, Ms. Giuffre signed a release for all records that Dr. Olson had. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibit 6, March 8, 2016, Release for Dr. Olson records. Dr. Olson produced records Bates labeled GIUFFRE005342-005346 and GIUFFRE005492-005496. Dr. Olson then testified in his deposition that he kept a record on his laptop that was not a part of the medical records produced by his hospital. Id. During the deposition, he printed that record and gave it to Defendant’s counsel. Id. Now, Defendant’s counsel is claiming that this set of facts constitutes a discovery violation that warrants sanctions. There is no failure to produce here. Ms. Giuffre executed a medical release that provided for all of Ms. Giuffre’s medical records with regard to Dr. Olson, and records were produced. It was Dr. Olson who failed to include his “laptop records” among the records that were produced.

Ms. Giuffre knew nothing of the “laptop records” until Dr. Olson’s deposition, and Dr. Olson provided them at that time, a fact Defendant admits in a footnote in her Motion to Reopen Ms. Giuffre’s Deposition. In that brief, Defendant complains that they were not “produced” until after Ms. Giuffre was deposed. That is a distortion. Defendant already had such documents from

Dr. Olson himself. Ms. Giuffre included those documents that both sides received in the deposition as part of her next production, so that they would bear a Bates label for tracking purposes. It was a formality since both sides already had the record. Defendant states: “Despite requests, legible copies have not been provided.” Defendant uses the passive voice here, presumably to avoid making clear the fact that the requests for legible copies would need to be made to Dr. Olson, who controls the records, not to Ms. Giuffre, who long ago authorized the release of all records. The existence of a record that a witness failed to produce prior to a deposition is not a discovery violation from Ms. Giuffre.

III. MS. GIUFFRE HAS PROVIDED DISCOVERY IN ACCORDANCE WITH HER DISCOVERY OBLIGATIONS

The fact is that Ms. Giuffre has executed a release form for each and every medical care provides that Defendant asked for. Defendant cannot contradict this statement. Ms. Giuffre produced medical records she had in her possession (such as New York Presbyterian records), early in discovery. From that point, other medical records were sought and obtained, with Ms. Giuffre facilitating their production from the providers by executing and sending release forms and paying all applicable fees for their release. Moreover, counsel for Ms. Giuffre has kept Defendant fully apprised of such efforts, even giving Defendant copies of all releases that have been issued, and providing updates on Ms. Giuffre’s continued efforts to obtain medical records beyond signing releases. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibits 5 and 6.

Executing and sending medical release forms to all of the medical providers satisfies Ms. Giuffre’s discovery obligations with regard to her medical records, and Defendant cannot cite to a case that states otherwise. See, e.g., Candelaria v. Erickson, 2006 WL 1636817, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. 2006) (requiring the execution of updated medical release forms to satisfy discovery obligations). The fact that Defendant has presented this weak tea to the Court - concerning the actions of third-parties Ms. Giuffre does not control - shows just how baseless the motion is.

IV. DEFENDANT CAN SHOW NO PREJUDICE

Defendant claims to be prejudiced because a small fraction of the medical providers were revealed at Ms. Giuffre's deposition, four days after her interrogatory response. This argument is moot. Ms. Giuffre has agreed to reopen her deposition for Defendant's questions regarding those medical providers. Second, Defendant intimates, but does not actually claim, that she wants to depose Ms. Lightfoot, and states that there is not sufficient time: "arranging for and taking the deposition of Ms. Lightfoot . . . is nearly impossible," suggesting to the Court that there is some prejudice to Defendant there. (Mtn. at 11). However, Defendant's behavior (and a close reading of Defendant's brief) suggests that Defendant doesn't actually want to depose Ms. Lightfoot; instead, she just wants to appear to the Court as prejudiced by not taking her deposition. First, Defendant never noticed her deposition despite knowing her identity for nearly two months - since May 3, 2016. Second, Defendant is careful not to claim in her brief that she actually wants to depose Ms. Lightfoot, all the while suggesting that she has suffered some prejudice with respect to not taking Ms. Lightfoot's deposition. Defendant's lack of actual desire to take her deposition stems from the 2011 records Ms. Lightfoot produced - records predating Defendant's defamation by years. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Defendant's claims concerning deposing Dr. Donahue are similarly specious. First, despite knowing about Dr. Donahue since at least April 29, 2016 (a fact she admits in her brief "Dr. Donahue may have been named" (Mtn. at 16)): Defendant has never issued a Notice of Deposition for Dr. Donahue. Defendant cannot claim any prejudice with respect to Dr. Donahue.

Additionally, Defendant acts in bad faith when she claims that medical records from Dr. Donahue were "purposefully hidden by Plaintiff" (Mtn. at 11) when Defendant knows that Ms. Giuffre executed and sent a medical release for Dr. Donahue on April 5, 2016, for all of his records. See McCawley Decl. at Composite Exhibit 6, Dr. Donahue Medical Release. As stated above, this argument is moot because the records concerning Dr. Donahue (and other providers at his practice) have been produced to Defendant.

Finally, though Ms. Giuffre does not control how quickly providers respond to her releases (though her counsel has spent considerable time following-up with providers, urging their speedy release, and paying all applicable fees), Ms. Giuffre has agreed to reopen her deposition for questions concerning provider records that were produced subsequent to her deposition. Therefore, Ms. Giuffre has eliminated any prejudice Defendant could claim to suffer with respect to taking Ms. Giuffre's deposition. See Giuffre006631-006635.

A factor relevant to the appropriateness of sanctions under Rule 37 for discovery violations is the "prejudice suffered by the opposing party." Design Strategy, Inc. v. Davis, 469

F.3d 284, 296 (2d Cir. 2006). Here, Defendant cannot claim any prejudice resulting from her empty claims of “discovery violations.” Accordingly, sanctions are inappropriate.

V. MS. GIUFFRE HAS BEEN FULLY COMPLIANT IN DISCOVERY

It is the Defendant in this case that has failed to comply with discovery at every turn. Defendant has refused to produce any documents whatsoever without this Court entering an Order directing her to do so. The only reason Plaintiff has documents from Defendant at all is because of this Court’s denial of Defendant’s stay requests and the Court’s rulings on Ms. Giuffre’s Motion to Compel for Improper Claim of Privilege (wherein Defendant was ordered to turn over documents that did not even involve communications with counsel) and her Motion to Compel for Improper Objections. Even then, Defendant’s counsel refused to even take the routine step of looking at Defendant’s email and other electronic documents to find responsive documents, but produced, instead, only what Defendant wanted to produce. Ms. Giuffre had to bring a Motion for Forensic Examination and the Court had to order that Defendant’s counsel actually produce documents from Defendant’s electronic documents, something that has not yet been done to date. Indeed, Defendant did not make her initial disclosure until February 24, 2016 several months after the deadline for these disclosures. Additionally, while Ms. Giuffre started her efforts to take the Defendant’s deposition in February, 2016, Defendant did not actually sit for her deposition until after being directed to do so by the Court, on April 22, 2016.

Furthermore, during the deposition, Defendant refused to answer a myriad of questions, and therefore, this Court recently ordered Defendant to sit for her deposition again. See June 20, 2016, Order resolving eight discovery motions entered under seal and granting Plaintiff’s Motion to Compel Defendant to Answer Deposition Questions (D.E. 143).

Ms. Giuffre has had to litigate, multiple times, for Defendant to make any document production, and Ms. Giuffre has had to litigate, also multiple times, for Defendant to be deposed. See Plaintiff's Response in Opposition to Defendant's Motion to Stay Discovery (DE 20); Plaintiff's February 26, 2016, Letter Motion to Compel Defendant to Sit for Her Deposition; Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Documents Subject to Improper Claim of Privilege (DE 33); Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Documents Subject to Improper Objections (DE 35); Plaintiff's Response in Opposition to Defendant's Motion for a Protective Order Regarding Defendant's Deposition (DE 70); Plaintiff's Motion for Forensic Examination (DE 96); Plaintiff's Motion to Compel Defendant to Answer Deposition Questions (DE 143). Ms. Giuffre has had to expend considerable time and resources simply to have Defendant meet her basic discovery obligations in this case.

Now, having completely stonewalled on discovery, making every produced document and even her own deposition the result of extensive and unnecessary litigation, taking positions that are contrary to the Federal Rules and wholly contrary to prevailing case law, Defendant claims that Ms. Giuffre has been "non-compliant since the outset of discovery." (Mtn. at 11). This statement is completely inaccurate.

Defendant makes a number of unsubstantiated claims regarding law enforcement materials, photographs, and email accounts. Most of these issues have been resolved pursuant to this Court's orders. See June 20, 2016, Order entered under seal denying Defendant's motion to compel law enforcement materials; June 23, 2016, Minute Entry. Ms. Giuffre merely points out that Defendant not only failed to review, search, or produce Defendant's email, from any of her multiple accounts, but also wholly failed to disclose her terramarproject.org email account or her ellmax.com email account.

Regarding photographs, counsel for Ms. Giuffre has gone to considerable expense to recover boxes that Ms. Giuffre thought may contain photographs, including paying approximately $600.00 for shipping of the boxes to ensure production of any recent information. Accordingly, Defendant articulates no legitimate complaint in this section of her brief.

LEGAL ARGUMENT

I. DEFENDANT CANNOT SHOW NON-COMPLIANCE, AND HAS PUT FORTH NO COLORABLE LEGAL ARGUMENT FOR SANCTIONS

Sanctions are not appropriate in this case because Defendant cannot show non-compliance. Through the normal course of discovery, Ms. Giuffre produced her medical providers to Defendant, as Defendant admits in her moving brief. Defendant's complaint boils down to the fact that Ms. Giuffre remembered at deposition two providers (Ms. Lightfoot and Dr. Donahue) that she did not recall when compiling her long list of providers in response to Defendant's interrogatory four days prior. That does not constitute non-compliance. That is not sanctionable behavior. And, Defendant cannot cite any case in which a court found differently. Additionally, though Defendant attempts to ascribe blame to Ms. Giuffre for any medical records that have not been sent by providers (or medical records that may not exist), the uncontested fact is that Ms. Giuffre has executed releases for all of the providers Defendant requested. Again, Defendant can point to no case in which sanctions were awarded over medical records where the party signed all applicable releases. Accordingly, Defendant's motion should be denied.¹²

¹² What does constitute sanctionable behavior is testimonial obduracy that includes "denying memory of the events under inquiry," a tactic Defendant took in response to a multitude of questions at her deposition, as more fully briefed in Ms. Giuffre's Motion to Compel Defendant to Answer Deposition Questions (DE 143), granted by this Court on June 20, 2016. See In re Weiss, 703 F.2d 653, 663 (S.D.N.Y. 1983) (holding that "the witness's . . . disclaimers of knowledge or memory, has also been dealt with as contemptuous conduct, warranting sanctions that were coercive, punitive, or both. It has long been the practice of courts viewing such testimony as false and intentionally evasive, and as a sham or subterfuge that purposely avoids

Even Defendant's own cases cited in her brief are inapposite and do not suggest that sanctions are appropriate in this case. For example, in Davidson v. Dean, the plaintiff "refused to consent to the release of mental health records" for periods for which he was seeking damages and for which the Court ordered him to provide releases. 204 F.R.D. 251, 254 (S.D.N.Y. 2001). By contrast, Ms. Giuffre has executed each and every release for medical records requested by Defendant. In In re Payne, Rule 37 sanctions were not even at issue: an attorney was reprimanded for "default[ing] on scheduling orders in fourteen cases, resulting in their dismissal . . . fili[ing] stipulations to withdraw a number of appeals only after his briefing deadlines had passed," etc. 707 F.3d 195, 198-99 (2d Cir. 2013). Similarly, in Gurvey v. Cowan, Liebowitz & Lathman, P.C., 2014 WL 715612, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. 2014), sanctions were awarded because, inter alia, "my . . . Order explicitly limited discovery to plaintiff's malpractice and breach-of-fiduciary duty claims . . . However . . . plaintiff has sought discovery of extraordinary breadth that is far beyond the scope of the two claims . . . [and] disregarded my Order . . . by failing to explain in writing how each of her discovery requests to CLL is relevant to the remaining claims." Accordingly, as stated above, Defendant has not put forth any colorable legal argument for sanctions under Rule 37.

II. THERE WAS NO INFORMATION "WITHHELD," AND THEREFORE, NO PREJUDICE

Defendant cannot be taken seriously when she claims that "Plaintiff is obviously trying to hide" her treatment related to domestic violence, [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] Given that fact, Defendant's incendiary claim defies logic. All these things that Defendant claims were giving responsive answers, to ignore the form of the response and treat the witness as having refused to answer." [REDACTED] deliberately “withheld” or “hidden” are things that Ms. Giuffre provided to Defendant in the normal course of discovery, as described at length above. Defendant cannot claim any prejudice regarding the manner in which she received this information, and, indeed, does not.¹³

Accordingly, sanctions are wholly inappropriate.

III. MS. GIUFFRE HAS FULFILLED HER REQUIREMENTS REGARDING HER RULE 26 DISCLOSURES¹⁴¹⁵

Regarding Ms. Giuffre’s computation of damages, Ms. Giuffre has pled defamation per se under New York law, where damages are presumed. Robertson v. Dowbenko, 443 F. App’x 659, 661 (2d Cir. 2011). Plaintiff provided amounts, damage calculations and supporting evidence required under Rule 26. Plaintiff is retaining experts to support her Rule 26 Disclosures, and expert reports and disclosures are not due at this time. Defendant takes issues with Ms. Giuffre’s computation of damages in her Rule 26 disclosures but fails to cite to a single case that requires more from her, let alone more from a Plaintiff claiming defamation per se. Indeed, the case law supports that Plaintiff has fully complied with her Rule 26 obligations. See Naylor v. Rotech Healthcare, Inc., 679 F. Supp. 2d 505, 510 (D. Vt. 2009).

In good faith, Ms. Giuffre has produced a multitude of documents and information regarding her damages. Defendant does not cite to a single case that even suggests she is required to do more. What Defendant purports to lack is expert discovery and an expert report on computation of damages. Rule 26(a)(1), governs “initial disclosures,” disclosures to be made at the beginning of litigation, prior to the completion of expert work. It does not entitle a party to expert discovery at this stage in the case.

Ms. Giuffre has pleaded and will prove defamation per se, where damages are presumed. Robertson v. Dowbenko, 443 F. App'x at 661 (“As the district court correctly determined, Robertson was presumptively entitled to damages because he alleged defamation per se.”). Under New York law, defamation per se, as alleged in this case, presumes damages, and special damages do not need to be pled and proven. See Celle v. Filipino Reporter Enters. Inc., 209 F.3d 163, 179 (2d Cir.2000) (Second Circuit holding that “[i]f a statement is defamatory per se, injury is assumed. In such a case ‘even where the plaintiff can show no actual damages at all, a plaintiff who has otherwise shown defamation may recover at least nominal damages,’” and confirming an award of punitive damages) (Emphasis added).

Additionally, Ms. Giuffre has claimed punitive damages for the defamation per se. “[C]ourts have generally recognized that ... punitive damages are typically not amenable to the type of disclosures contemplated by Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(iii), and have held that the failure to disclose a number or calculation for such damages was substantially justified.” See Murray v. Miron, 2015 WL 4041340 (D. Conn., July 1, 2015). See also Scheel v. Harris, No. CIV.A. 3:11-17-DCR, 2012 WL 3879279, at *7 (E.D. Ky. Sept. 6, 2012) (finding that a failure to provide a precise number or calculation for their punitive damages claim is substantially justified pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 37(c)(1)).

Accordingly, Ms. Giuffre’s disclosures comply with Rule 26 for the computation of damages. See Naylor v. Rotech Healthcare, Inc., 679 F. Supp. 2d at 510 (“The Court is skeptical of the need for so much additional discovery, since the only open issue on the defamation claim seems to be damages. Miles's email itself provides evidence of the statement and publication to a third party. Damages will depend on [plaintiff] Naylor's testimony and perhaps evidence from a few other sources, such as Naylor's family and friends, or Streeter [one of defendant's clients].") Ms. Giuffre has provided the calculations evidencing how she arrived at her damage figures and has provided a myriad of documents upon which she also will rely in proving damages. This includes supporting documents showing average medical expenses computed by her average life expectancy. "[N]on-economic damages based on pain and suffering ... are generally not amenable to the type of disclosures contemplated by Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(iii)." Scheel v. Harris, No. CIV.A. 3:11-17-DCR, 2012 WL 3879279, at *7 (E.D. Ky. Sept. 6, 2012) (holding that plaintiff's failure to disclose a number or calculation for such damages was substantially justified).

IV. THIS COURT SHOULD NOT STRIKE MS. GIUFFRE'S CLAIMS FOR MEDICAL AND EMOTIONAL DISTRESS DAMAGES

Defendant cites four cases in support of her request for this Court to strike her claims for medical and emotional distress damages, and each one of them militates against any such relief being awarded in this case. In the first, Nittolo v. Brand, sanctions were awarded in a personal injury action because, inter alia, the plaintiff went to his physician and took away his medical records before defendant had a chance to use the court-ordered release to access them, and the Court found the plaintiff lied under oath about taking away the records. 96 F.R.D. 672, 673 (S.D.N.Y.1983). By contrast, Ms. Giuffre has signed every medical release form requested by Defendant and provided all medical records that they yielded.

Defendant's second case is equally inapposite. In Skywark v. Isaacson, Court found that the plaintiff "began his pattern of lying about at least three matters of extreme significance to his claim for damages;" lied to his experts and lied under oath; and "never provided defendants with the promised [medical release] authorizations.” 1999 WL 1489038 at *3, *5, *11 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 14, 1999). The facts could not be more dissimilar to the case at hand, where Ms. Giuffre has provided truthful testimony regarding her medical history and has executed all medical releases.

Defendant’s third case continues in the same pattern. In In re Consol. RNC Cases, “all Plaintiffs either expressly refused to provide mental health treatment records or simply failed to provide such records during the course of discovery.” 2009 WL 130178, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 8, 2009). Defendant’s fourth case is similarly inapposite by Defendant’s own description, turning on failure to provide medical releases. (Mtn. at 19).

Importantly, Defendant represents to the Court that she seeks the “sanction of striking the claim or precluding evidence only on the damages that relate to the withheld documents and information.” (Mtn. at 19). This is confusing for two reasons. First, Ms. Giuffre has provided information about the providers that she has knowledge of and has provided releases for their medical records, so the sanction she seeks could not apply to any of the providers in Defendant’s brief. Second, there are no “withheld documents.” Ms. Giuffre has not withheld any medical records, and, indeed, has authorized the release of all records sought by Defendant. Accordingly, there are no “withheld records” upon which sanctions could be applied. And, again, there has been no violation of this Court’s Order.

CONCLUSION

Since filing the instant motion for sanctions, two other witnesses - witnesses subpoenaed by Defendant herself in order to mount her defense - have given testimony to support Ms. Giuffre. Most recently, Defendant’s witness, Tony Figueroa, testified he witnessed Defendant escort young girls he brought over to Epstein's home to Epstein for sex acts, and testified that Defendant called him on the phone, asking him to bring girls over to Epstein's house.¹⁶

Q And how long would you and one of these other girls sit there and have this small talk with Ms. Maxwell?

A No more than 10 or 15 minutes.

Q What were you waiting for?

A Pretty much her to take them up stairs then I would leave. I would wait for them to be like we're ready. And I would be all right. See you later and I would leave.

Q You were waiting for who to take who up stairs?

A I had seen Ms. Maxwell take a girl up there well not up there visibly but I watched her leave had room with one.

Q Up stairs?

12 A Well, I didn't see the stairs. Like in the kitchen there's not like you have to go all around and all that shit.

See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 9, ROUGH Figueroa Tr. at 156:22-157:14.

Q Let me fix this. Gill when Gillian Maxwell would call you during the time that you were living with Virginia she would ask you what specifically?

A Just if I had found any ear girls just to bring the Jeffrey.

Q Okay.

A Pretty much everytime a conversation with any of them it was either asking Virginia where she was ask the asking her to get girls or asking me get girls.

See McCawley Decl. at Exhibit 9, ROUGH Figueroa Tr. at 162:8-19.

Accordingly, at this stage in discovery, it is not just the flight logs showing Defendant flying with Epstein and Ms. Giuffre over twenty times when she was a minor; it is not just the message pads from law enforcement's trash pulls that show Defendant arranging to have an underage girl come over to Epstein's house for "training;" it is not just the police report; it is not just the photographs of Defendant and other men with Ms. Giuffre when she was a minor.

Now, there is actual, live testimonial evidence that Defendant was a procurer of young girls for sex with Jeffrey Epstein, with whom she shared a home and a life, thus validating Ms. Giuffre's claims. Therefore, this baseless motion for sanctions is more a reflection of the abundant testimonial evidence condemning Defendant than any type of imagined discovery violation on behalf of Ms. Giuffre.

Ms. Giuffre respectfully requests that it be denied in its entirety.

Defendant Ghislaine Maxwell submits this Reply to Plaintiff's Opposition ("Response") to Motion to Reopen Deposition of Plaintiff ("Motion"), and as grounds therefore states as follows:

INTRODUCTION¹

Plaintiff concedes the reopening of her deposition based on (a) the late production of records concerning Plaintiff's medical and mental health treatment, (b) her unjustifiable refusal to answer questions related to statements the media "got wrong," (c) material edits to her deposition testimony through her errata sheet. Plaintiff did not address her newly disclosed employment records and thus it should be deemed admitted. Apparently, she still contests questions regarding other items not disclosed until after her deposition, including (a) iCloud and Hotmail emails, (b) school records from Forest Hills High School, Wellington High School and Survivors Charter school, and (c) witnesses newly identified in her Third and Fourth Revised Rule 26 disclosures. There is no legally principled reason to exclude these topics during Plaintiff's reopened deposition and Ms. Maxwell should be permitted to examine Plaintiff based on this information produced after her deposition although requested before.

The other limitations proposed by Plaintiff are not appropriate. Due to the quantity of documents and the number of topics, two hours will be insufficient to appropriately inquire. Moreover, Plaintiff's deposition should be in person; she chose to move to Australia from Colorado during the pendency of this case and has been in the US for weeks attending witness depositions and other litigation matters by her own choosing. Deposition by videoconference will be extremely cumbersome to accomplish given the hundreds of pages of documents to be covered and which were necessitated by Plaintiff's late disclosures and refusal to answer questions at her first deposition.

ARGUMENT

I. PLAINTIFF'S PRODUCTION OF KEY DOCUMENTS AFTER HER DEPOSITION NECESSITATES ADDITIONAL EXAMINATION

A. Plaintiff failed to identify her health care providers and produce their records prior to her deposition, despite this Court's order

Plaintiff concedes that numerous medical records were not produced until after her May 3rd deposition, to wit:

■ Plaintiff Doe [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

■ Plaintiff Doe [REDACTED]
[REDACTED]

■ Plaintiff Doe [REDACTED]

Furthermore, there remain numerous doctors from the relevant time frame for whom no records have been provided. In addition to all of the treatment providers from 1999-2002, no records have been provided by Plaintiff for:

A horizontal bar chart titled 'U.S. should take action to reduce greenhouse gas emissions'. The y-axis lists age groups: 18-29, 30-49, 50-64, 65+, and 'All adults'. The x-axis shows percentages from 0 to 100. For each age group, there are two bars: a dark gray bar for 'Total' and a light gray bar for 'Men'. The data is as follows:

| Age Group | Total (%) | Men (%) |
|------------|-----------|---------|
| 18-29 | 88 | 85 |
| 30-49 | 82 | 78 |
| 50-64 | 75 | 72 |
| 65+ | 68 | 65 |
| All adults | 78 | 75 |

Menninger Decl., Ex. O.

Plaintiff, while not opposing the reopening of the deposition for documents produced after that date, writes to refute supposed “baseless suggestions of impropriety.” Yet, her Response contains additional impropriety. Plaintiff repeatedly asserts that she has produced and disclosed documents but her chart and her arguments neglect to mention that those documents were only sought and produced after the deposition, indeed up to and including the very same day she filed her Response on June 28. Her claim that she could not “remember” Dr. Donohue or Judith Lightfoot until her deposition is hard to believe given she had consulted with them in the days and weeks just before her Interrogatory Responses. Id.; Ex. D at 334-35. Further, all of the 2015-2016 medical records from Colorado were only produced because the defense, not ² Defendant's Interrogatories sought the identities and locations of Plaintiff's health care providers, the dates of treatment, the nature of the treatment, medical expenses to date, and releases for each. Inexplicably, despite this Court's Order to answer the interrogatory, Plaintiff still has not provided the dates of treatment, the nature of treatment or any information concerning expenses for any of her providers.

Plaintiff, sent a subpoena to Dr. Olson and his hospital for records and then learned that Plaintiff had been seen by other doctors there and secured a release which the defense sent to Plaintiff. As detailed more fulsomely in the Reply in Support of Sanctions filed contemporaneously, the late disclosures were not due to Ms. Giuffre and her attorneys going to “great lengths” to track down records; they have only responded to requests for doctor’s records when the defense has brought to their attention missing doctors and records. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]

Given Plaintiff’s agreement to submit to questioning based on the late-disclosed records, it is hardly worth the Court or counsel’s time to again correct the record as to each of Plaintiff’s misstatements. In lieu, Ms. Maxwell hereby incorporates by reference her Reply in Support of Motion for Sanctions which addresses many of Plaintiff’s misstatements concerning production of her health care providers’ identities and their records.

B. Plaintiff failed to produce emails from her iCloud and Hotmail accounts

Plaintiff objects to further questioning regarding emails from her iCloud and Hotmail accounts and submits that Ms. Maxwell’s claims regarding these missing emails “are simply false” because she “produced every relevant document from her iCloud account.” Resp. at 8. Plaintiff ignores the most important fact: she produced them after the deposition and only after Ms. Maxwell issued a subpoena to the email providers. The emails were produced on June 10, more than one month after Plaintiff’s deposition. See Menninger Decl., Ex. K.

Similarly, following Ms. Maxwell’s subpoena to Hotmail, that company has now confirmed that Plaintiff has an active account with them and that the account has been used by Plaintiff since the beginning of this case. Plaintiff concededly did not search that account for responsive documents but has represented to this Court that she will sign the release provided by Microsoft, obtain the records and search the account. Thus, any responsive emails from that account likewise will not have been available at the time of Plaintiff's deposition.

Plaintiff does not argue the responsive emails are not relevant, nor can she. Thus, Ms. Maxwell should be entitled to reopen Plaintiff's deposition to inquire regarding those emails as well as any that are produced from the Hotmail account.

C. Plaintiff failed to address issue of her employment records

In her Response, Plaintiff did not address Ms. Maxwell's request to reopen Plaintiff's deposition regarding late-disclosed employment records. Accordingly, the issue should be deemed admitted and inquiry into Plaintiff's employment based on the new records permitted.

D. Newly obtained education records and other witness testimony contradict Plaintiff's deposition

Plaintiff testified at her deposition that she began working at Mar-a-Lago during a break from her GED classes, that she believed it was a summer job, and that while she cannot pinpoint the exact date, it was to the best of her recollection in or about June 2000 when she was still 16 years old. Menninger Decl., Ex. D at 57. This Court ordered Plaintiff to produce her education records and, mere days before her deposition, Plaintiff signed releases for some of the institutions she attended in Florida. Defendant obtained records pursuant to those releases after the deposition (despite having sought them by discovery request in February). The transcripts from Royal Palm Beach and Forest Hills High School directly contradict Plaintiff's story. In fact, they are highly relevant because they show that Plaintiff was in school during the summer of 2000, finishing on August 15, 2000, when she was 17 years old. Appropriate areas of inquiry at a reopened deposition of Plaintiff would be matching her story up to the records and demonstrating that she did not start working at Mar-a-Lago until she was 17 years old --- despite her well-publicized claims that she was a “sex slave” for Jeffrey Epstein from the age of 15 years old beginning in 1998.

Furthermore, testimony from other witnesses in this case, including Plaintiff’s former boyfriend Tony Figueroa, materially contradict Plaintiff’s claims. Mr. Figueroa testified on June 24 that he and Plaintiff were enrolled in an all-day high school and that they attended school together every day and that Plaintiff was not working for Epstein. Menninger Decl., Ex. P. Based on these newly discovered records, Mr. Figueroa confirmed that time period as October 2001 – March 2002, directly contradicting Plaintiff’s deposition testimony that she was a “sex slave” for 4 years from 1998-2002 and that she was with Epstein constantly during that four year period.

Based on the newly discovered education records and other witness testimony concerning those records, Ms. Maxwell should be entitled to question Plaintiff at her continued deposition about those records. Ms. Maxwell lacked those records at the time of Plaintiff’s deposition because Plaintiff refused to produce her education records, Ms. Maxwell had to file a Motion to Compel and obtain a Court Order before Plaintiff would sign a release for the records. Therefore, there is no basis for Plaintiff to object to a continued deposition regarding the newly obtained records and witness testimony.

E. Plaintiff identified new witnesses in her Rule 26 disclosures after her deposition

Plaintiff does not address the fact that she added 28 new witnesses to her Rule 26 disclosures after her deposition.³ The new witnesses added by Ms. Maxwell to her Rule 26 list are almost entirely ones that were taken off Plaintiff's list. Presumably, they have information relevant to this case and Ms. Maxwell is entitled to question Plaintiff on these disclosures to determine what, if any, relevant information these newly disclosed witnesses might have.

³ The only mention Plaintiff makes is asking the Court to deny Ms. Maxwell’s motion to strike the new witnesses. Ms. Maxwell stated that her motion to strike would be by separate motion (Mot. at 10), thus there is no motion to strike.

II. PLAINTIFF'S COUNSEL INSTRUCTED PLAINTIFF NOT TO ANSWER RELEVANT, NON-PRIVILEGED QUESTIONS IN HER FIRST DEPOSITION

Plaintiff's counsel glosses over their instruction to Plaintiff not to answer questions at her deposition regarding non-privileged issues.

During her deposition, the following exchange occurred:

Q: You did not read the articles published by Sharon Churcher about your stories to Sharon Churcher?

A: I have read some articles about what Sharon Churcher wrote. And a lot of the stuff that she writes she takes things from my own mouth and changes them into her own words as journalists do. And I never came back to her and told her to correct anything. What was done was done. There was nothing else I can do.

Q: So even if she printed something that were untrue you didn't ask her to correct it, correct?

A: There was things that she printed that really pissed me off, but there was nothing I could do about it. It's already out there.

Q: She printed things that were untrue, correct?

A: I wouldn't say that they were untrue. I would just say that she printed them as journalists take your words and turn them into something else.

Q: She got it wrong?

A: In some ways, yes.

Q: Did she print things in her articles that you did not say to her?

MR. EDWARDS: I object and ask that the witness be given the opportunity to see the document so that she can review it and answer that question accurately. Otherwise she's unable to answer the question. I'm not going to allow her to answer.

Q: Did Sharon Churcher print things that you did not say?

MR. EDWARDS: I'm going to instruct my client not to answer unless you give her what it is that you're talking about that was printed. And she will tell you the answer, the accurate answer to your question. Just without the document to refresh her recollection and see it, she's not going to answer the question.

Q: Did Sharon Churcher print things that you did not say?

MR. EDWARDS: Same objection. Same instruction not to answer.

Q: Did Sharon Churcher print things that you felt were inaccurate?

MR. EDWARDS: Same objection. Same instruction. If she sees the document, she's going to answer every one of these questions.

Q: Did any other reporter print statements that you believe are inaccurate?

MR. EDWARDS: Same objection. Same instruction.

Q: Did any reporter print statements about Ghislaine Maxwell that were inaccurate?

MR. EDWARDS: Same objection. Same instruction.

Menninger Decl., Ex. D at 220-23.

At no time did Plaintiff say she “could not remember” what Churcher “got wrong.” Mr. Edwards refused to allow her to answer the question unless her recollection was “refreshed,” even though she never said she lacked a recollection. This is a patently improper instruction not to answer, as well as improper suggestion to his client that she needed to have a “refreshed” memory by looking at articles from Ms. Churcher. The instruction not to answer was improper and Plaintiff should be required to answer all questions regarding inaccuracies in the media reports of this case. Indeed, it is hard to conceive of an area more directly relevant to this single-count defamation case in which Ms. Maxwell has said that Plaintiff’s statements to the press were lies, and now even Plaintiff is saying that the press “got it wrong”.

Plaintiff’s counsel similarly would not allow Plaintiff to answer questions regarding her communications with law enforcement, specifically regarding Ms. Maxwell. Ms. Maxwell respectfully disagrees that this area should be off limits. Efforts by a Plaintiff to have another party charged with a crime, including any statement made during the course of those efforts, are clearly relevant, reflect bias and motive, and may be used for impeachment. There is no privilege which attaches to a civil litigant’s prior statements to law enforcement and to the extent any such statements exist, Ms. Maxwell should be permitted to inquire regarding the statements and the circumstances of surrounding their issuance, during Plaintiff's reopened deposition.

Ms. Maxwell disagrees with Plaintiff's contention regarding the identity of her expert but agrees not to inquire into that topic during the reopened deposition in light of the upcoming expert disclosure deadlines.

In light of the clearly improper instructions not to answer non-privileged relevant questions, Plaintiff's deposition must be reopened.

III. PLAINTIFF CONCEDES THAT HER ERRATA SHEET IS PROPERLY THE SUBJECT FOR RE-OPENED DEPOSITION

Because Plaintiff concedes, as she must, that changes to her deposition testimony as reflected on her errata sheet are proper areas of inquiry, Ms. Maxwell perceives no need for additional argument regarding the materiality of Plaintiff's changes although they were not based on "misspellings and the like" as Plaintiff avers.

IV. RESTRICTIONS TO TWO HOURS AND VIA VIDEOTAPE UNJUSTIFIED

Ms. Maxwell has identified a significant number of areas of inquiry for reopened deposition and two hours is insufficient to accomplish that goal. Ms. Maxwell seeks leave to reopen Plaintiff's deposition regarding belatedly disclosed records from:

■ [REDACTED]

- Email records from iCloud and Hotmail regarding interactions with the FBI
- School records regarding the time period of 1999-2002
- 18 newly listed witnesses
- Any published news stories that Plaintiff concedes were inaccurate
- Plaintiff's interactions with law enforcement regarding Ms. Maxwell.

All of these are properly the subject of additional inquiry at a deposition and to address them will require more than two hours. While Ms. Maxwell does not believe that seven hours will be necessary, she did not use all of the first seven hours based on Plaintiff's refusal to answer relevant non-privileged questions and believes that she will be able to finish her examination on these topics within a reasonable period of time, most likely between 4-5 hours.

Further, such deposition should be done live and in person, not via videotape from Australia. Video conference depositions are exceedingly difficult and cumbersome when handling the number of records at issue here – medical records, school records, employment records and emails, as well as press statements, errata sheets and the like. Counsel will not have the ability to hand over documents to the witness as needed.

Plaintiff argues that her childcare needs require her to be in Australia. Notably, Plaintiff has spent several weeks in the U.S. attending in person the depositions of her former fiancé and boyfriend in Florida (and calling them in advance of their testimony) and, upon information and belief, attending to other litigation and personal matters. Plaintiff lived in Colorado at the time she filed this litigation and made a decision to return to Australia after doing so. She and her counsel failed to disclose relevant doctors and medical records, emails, employment and school records in advance of her deposition, and she was instructed not to answer relevant, non-privileged questions. She chose to change her deposition testimony after the fact.

WHEREFORE, Ms. Maxwell respectfully requests a reopened deposition of Plaintiff to include the topics of:

1. Any documents disclosed after May 3 regarding:
 - a. Plaintiff's medical and mental care
 - b. Plaintiff's employment
 - c. Plaintiff's education
 - d. Plaintiff's emails from her iCloud and Hotmail accounts

2. Any question she was instructed not to answer regarding:
 - a. Inaccurate statements attributed to her in the press;
 - b. Her communications with law enforcement about Ms. Maxwell;
3. Any changes to her deposition testimony as reflected on her errata sheet.

Ms. Maxwell asks the Court to deny Plaintiff's request that the reopened deposition be limited to two hours or occur via remote means. Finally, Ms. Maxwell requests costs incurred in bringing this Motion based on counsel's improper instructions not to answer relevant and non-privileged questions.

1 BY MS. MENNINGER:

2 Q And where did you go after Royal Palm
3 Beach?

4 A I believe it was South Area. I'm pretty
5 sure it was South Area.

6 Q Did you go to another school after that?

7 A Yeah. I went to Gold Coast after that.

8 Q Is that also in Royal Palm Beach?

9 A No. That's -- South Area was in Lake
10 Worth. Gold Coast is in West Palm. They were both 11 alternative schools.

12 Q Did you ever go to a Survivors Charter
13 School?

14 A Yes. I went there, too.

15 Q When did you go there?

16 A I'm not exactly sure of the date. But it
17 was somewhere after either -- I'm pretty sure it
18 was -- maybe -- I can't remember if it was Gold
19 Coast first or Survivor. But one of the -- I'm 20 trying to remember. I honestly don't remember which 21 one came first.

22 Q That's all right.

23 Can you describe for me Survivors Charter
24 School? What is it like, or was it like?

25 A I mean, like I said, it was an alternative

1 school. It was just pretty much a bunch of bad
2 kids, you know, who have gotten kicked out. And it
3 was pretty much like a last chance kind of school,
4 you know what I mean?

5 Q Does it look like a school?

6 A Kind of. I mean, it had, like, a
7 cafeteria, and then it had a whole bunch of, like,
8 portables and stuff around there. And it was 9 under -- it was, like, right near the Lake Worth. I
10 remember there was, like, a bridge that went over 11 the interstate right by it. But, I mean, it was 12 just a little, you know, little crappy school.

13 Q Was it during the day or at night?

14 A It was during the day.

15 Q So regular school hours?

16 A Yeah. Well, it was actually a little bit
17 shorter hours. I can't remember exactly. But I
18 know it was not like the full days. Because, I
19 mean, at the alternative schools, it's obviously not 20 up to regular high school standards. I mean, they 21 just do pretty much stuff to get people to get out
22 of school, you know, so...

23 Q Get the credits that you need?

24 A Yeah. So that way they can finish high
25 school and not drop out and whatnot, so...

1 Q You actually go there in the morning,
2 though, and take classes?

3 A Yeah.

4 Q And get checked in at attendance?

5 A Yeah.

6 Q And then you may leave a little earlier
7 than a regular school day?

8 A Uh-huh (affirmative).

9 Q All right. It's not a online program?

10 A No, it was not online.

11 Q When you were at Survivors Charter School,
12 did you ever see Ms. Roberts there?

13 A Was it Survivors? I don't remember if it
14 was Survivors. Or was it -- because I'm pretty sure
15 we were both -- was it -- I know we both went to one
16 of the schools. I'm pretty sure it was Survivors,
17 maybe.

18 Q Did you see her there?

19 A Now, when we went to the school, like, we 20 were together afterwards. But I don't remember 21 exactly which one it was. I know it was one of 22 those alternative schools that we went to, though.

23 Q Okay. Did you -- was Wellington an 24 alternative school?

25 A No. Wellington is a -- is a real high

1 school, like a regular high school.

2 Q Do you know if Wellington has an adult
3 program?

4 A They might. I mean, I really don't know.
5 I'm not sure.

6 Q Did you ever take night classes there?

7 A No.

8 Q So you believe when you reunited with 9 Ms. Roberts in or around 2001, she had also gone to 10 one of those alternative schools?

11 A When I reunited with her, no. We ended
12 up, like, trying to go finish school.

13 Q Tell me about that.

14 A I mean, we just ended up going to one of 15 those alternative schools and didn't even finish
16 that.

17 Q So you two had both left school, but went 18 back together --

19 A Yeah.

20 Q -- to one of the alternative schools?

21 A Yeah.

22 Q And that may have been Survivors Charter
23 School?

24 A Yeah. I'm pretty sure it probably was.
25 I'm pretty sure.

1 Q You both wanted to get your GEDs?

2 A Yeah.

3 Q Get better jobs?

4 A Uh-huh (affirmative).

5 Q Things like -- that was the plan?

6 A Yeah.

7 Q But it did not work out?

8 A Yeah.

9 Q Do you know how long the two of you went
10 to Survivors Charter School?

11 A I honestly don't remember.

12 Q Okay. You do have a recollection of going 13 with her, though?

14 A Yeah.

15 Q Seeing her there?

16 A Uh-huh (affirmative).

17 Q I'm trying to get a little bit of a time
18 frame on the time that you reunited with 19 Ms. Roberts. I know you said you lived -- you
20 remember being in an apartment with her in September
21 of 2000 -- 9/11/2001; right?

22 A Yeah.

23 Q Do you think you had been together with 24 her for a while at that point?

25 A It was probably, I'd say, like a month or

1 BY MS. MENNINGER:

2 Q Mr. Figueroa, you mentioned that you and
3 Ms. Roberts attempted to go to back to school while 4 you were together --

5 A Yes.

6 Q -- to get your GED?

7 A Yeah. Yes.

8 Q And you believe that you went to the 9 Survivors Charter School?

10 A Yes.

11 MS. MENNINGER: Okay. I'm going to mark
12 Defendant's Exhibit 6.

13 (Defendant's Exhibit 6 was marked for 14 identification.)

15 BY MS. MENNINGER:

16 Q This is a school record for Ms. Roberts
17 that lists the names of various schools. And --

18 A So it was Survivors, obviously. That's 19 the only one on that list that isn't -- or that's 20 there that's on mine, as well.

21 Q Okay.

22 A Other than the other ones, but...

23 Q All right. So you recognize Survivors
24 Charter School on Ms. Roberts' school records?

25 A Yeah. That's what I'm saying. Since that

1 is the one on here, that's -- that's completely
2 clear. I could not remember if it was that one or 3 Gold Coast.

4 Q Okay. There is an entry date for 5 Ms. Roberts at Survivors Charter School of 6 10/12/2001, and a withdrawal on 3/7 of '02. Do you
7 see that?

8 A I mean, it's this; right? I mean, that's 9 the top.

10 Q The entry date of 10/12/01, withdrawal
11 3/7/02 at Survivors?

12 A Okay. I did not know what those 13 numbers -- I did not realize that that was a date.

14 Q I understand. And I know you did not make 15 this record.

16 So I'm just wanting to know if that's
17 consistent with your recollection, that you guys
18 went to school in the fall of 2001 until the --

19 A Yeah, that sounds about right.

20 Q -- March of 2002. It sounds right?

21 A Yeah.

22 Q And you both went to school together?

23 A Uh-huh (affirmative).

24 Q In the mornings?

25 A Yeah.

1 Q And got out of school at some earlier time
2 than a regular school day?

3 A Yeah.

4 Q Do you recall Ms. Roberts going to Royal
5 Palm Beach High? Again, this is in the 2001 time
6 frame.

7 A I -- I don't recall. I really don't.

8 Q Do you recall her, during the time you
9 were with her, taking any night classes at 10 Wellington High School?

11 A I don't recall.

12 Q Is it possible?

13 A It's a possibility.

14 MR. EDWARDS: Object to the form.

15 BY MS. MENNINGER:

16 Q Do you know whether Wellington has a night
17 school program?

18 A Like I said before, I don't know. They 19 could.

20 Q You went there in ninth grade?

21 A Yeah. It was during the day, though. I
22 have no clue about night school.

23 Q Got it.

24 But you do have a memory about Survivors
25 Charter School?

1 (In open court)

2 THE COURT: I will hear from the movant.

3 MS. MENNINGER: Thank you, your Honor, Laura Menninger
4 on behalf of the defendant Maxwell. We are the movant for the 5 purposes of today's hearing. I filed both a motion to dismiss
6 the complaint, which is based on one claim of defamation, as 7 well as a motion to stay discovery during the pendency of our 8 motion to dismiss the complaint.

9 At the heart of this case, your Honor, defamation is 10 about words, specifically false and defamatory words, about the 11 plaintiff published to another by the defendant with a certain 12 level of culpability and resulting injury. Depending on the 13 context of the words, the content of the statement, the 14 relationship of the speaker and the listener, depending on the 15 time, place and manner of the statement, the Court may find the 16 words to be actionable or not, privileged or not, defamatory in 17 meaning or not.

18 The central problem with this particular complaint,
19 your Honor, is that all of the key elements of defamation are 20 conspicuously absent. Cutting through the hyperbole and the 21 rhetoric contained in the complaint, one is still left
22 wondering what words are actually at issue. Is it the three 23 sentence fragments contained in paragraph 30 against Ghislaine
24 Maxwell are untrue, shown to be untrue, claimed or obvious
25 lies, or does it include some additional or extra false

G1ETGIUA

1 statements that are referenced but never explained in 2 paragraphs 31 and 34? In what context were any of these 3 sentence fragments published? What, if anything, were they in 4 response to?

5 Your Honor has found in previous cases, such as 6 Hawkins v. City of New York, that the failure to identify the 7 individuals to whom the statement allegedly was made and the 8 content of that statement is fatally defective to an attempt to 9 state a libel or slander cause of action.

10 In this case, in this complaint, plaintiff has barely
11 even attributed a few sentence fragments to my client,
12 Ms. Maxwell. She stripped them of any context. She hasn't 13 provided the entire statement in which those sentence fragments
14 were contained, nor the articles in which any of those 15 sentences might have appeared. She has not pled facts, which,
16 as this Court knows, post-Twombly, must be included, not just 17 legal conclusions. She has not pled facts demonstrating actual 18 malice, nor any special damages or facts that would support
19 defamation per se. Because of the many pleading failures, your 20 Honor, I do not believe this complaint should stand.

21 The Second Circuit made quite clear that your Honor
22 has an important gatekeeping function in a defamation case.
23 The Court must ascertain whether the statement, when judged in 24 context, has a defamatory meaning, and also whether it is 25 privileged.

GIETGIUA

1 As your Honor also found in Cruz v. Marchetto, you
2 cannot rely, as the plaintiff tries to do here, on the less
3 stringent pleading requirements that predated Twombly and 4 Iqbal, and furthermore, that the plaintiff must plead facts
5 which support either defamation per se or special damages.

6 Here, your Honor, while there are statement fragments
7 contained in the complaint at paragraph 31, there's not even a
8 complete sentence attributed to my client, Ms. Maxwell. That,
9 your Honor, has been found on numerous occasions to be 10 insufficient to state a cause of action for defamation.

11 Furthermore, the complaint does not state to whom any 12 such statements were made. There is a general allegation that 13 the statements were made, quote, to the media and public, but 14 no media is identified, no publications are identified. While 15 the complaint states at one point that it was published and 16 disseminated around the world, not a single publication is 17 mentioned or attached to the complaint.

18 And furthermore, the complaint fails to state where in 19 fact the statements were made. Although it does state the 20 statements were made in the Southern District of New York, it 21 attributes those sentence fragments to a press agent who is 22 admittedly located in London.

23 Finally, your Honor, there is a lot of confusion
24 contained in the paperwork with regard to the standard of 25 malice that must be pled. Again your Honor has found, and

G1ETGIUA

1 numerous other Southern District Courts have found likewise,
2 that malice in this context is malice in the sense of spite or 3 ill will. Looking to the complaint, your Honor, there's not a
4 single conclusory or factually-supported allegation that would
5 give rise to a finding of malice. And that, your Honor,
6 likewise is fatal to the complaint.

7 Finally, in terms of pleading deficiencies, plaintiff
8 in this case has tried to allege defamation per se by claiming 9 her profession is as a professional victim. In other words,
10 ten days before she claims my client made statements about her,
11 plaintiff founded a nonprofit through her organization, through 12 her attorneys in Florida, called Victims Refuse Silence, and 13 thereby states that any attempt to impugn anything she says is 14 defamation per se.

15 There is no support in the case law for a profession
16 of being a victim, your Honor. And likewise, there's no
17 factual support to suggest, and the cases require, that the 18 statements attributed to my client, Ms. Maxwell, have anything
19 to do with her nonprofit organization, nor that my client was 20 even aware of an organization founded a mere ten days earlier
21 and which doesn't appear to have any actual business conduct
22 related to it.

23 So your Honor, I think for all those reasons, the 24 complaint is insufficiently pled and should be dismissed.

25 Our papers go on a little bit further, your Honor, to

GIETGIUA

1 also argue that to the extent any of these sentence fragments
2 can be pieced together, the statements, at most, are a general
3 denial. In other words, plaintiff admits in the complaint that 4 she started a media campaign against my client, she issued some 5 very salacious allegations against my client in the British 6 press and in some pleadings that she filed in Florida. And 7 after having done that, my client, she says, issued a statement
8 that the allegations are quote, unquote, untrue.

9 Repeatedly, cases both in New York State and federal 10 courts have found general denials are not actionable, that 11 individuals have a right, when they have been accused of 12 misdeeds in the press, to respond, so long as they don't abuse
13 that privilege. And by abuse of privilege, that means 14 including numerous defamatory extraneous statements about the 15 person to whom they are responding and/or excessively
16 publicizing their response.

17 In this case, your Honor, the statement the 18 allegations are untrue is about as plain vanilla as one can 19 find. There's no better way to issue a general denial than to 20 just say that the allegations are untrue, without more.
21 There's not a single reference to plaintiff herself.

22 Although, in opposition, plaintiff claims to have been 23 called a liar, complains that she was called dishonest, she 24 doesn't actually point to any statement which contains those 25 words, nor any statement which actually refers to her as a

G1ETGIUA

1 person, simply to the allegations which her client had issued,
2 and frankly, allegations which had been circulated in the 3 press.

4 So saying the allegations are untrue is tantamount to 5 a general denial, and that is one additional reason, your 6 Honor, that I think the complaint should be dismissed.

7 Thank you.

8 MS. McCAWLEY: Good morning, your Honor. May I
9 approach with a bench book?

10 THE COURT: Sure.

11 MS. McCAWLEY: Thank you.

12 THE COURT: I think in duplicate. Do you have another
13 copy?

14 MS. McCAWLEY: Sure, of course.

15 Good morning, your Honor, my name is Sigrid McCawley,
16 I'm with the law firm of Boies, Schiller & Flexner representing 17 the plaintiff in the case, Virginia Giuffre.

18 With all due respect to my colleague, I think she read
19 a different complaint than the one submitted in this case. She 20 left out significant factual details from the complaint that 21 plead actual defamation.

22 This is an old story. A woman comes forth and finally 23 gets the courage to tell about the sexual abuse she endured,
24 and her abusers come public and call her a liar and say her 25 claims are, quote, obvious lies. That quote is in our

G1ETGIUA

1 complaint.

2 Your Honor, this is an actionable defamation case.
3 Fortunately for women who have been abused in this manner, the 4 law of defamation stands by their side. It does not allow 5 someone to publically proclaim they're a liar and issue
6 character assaults on them without ramifications.

7 After those statements were made, we filed this
8 defamation lawsuit. Virginia Giuffre was only 15 years old
9 when she was recruited by Maxwell to be sexually abused by both 10 Maxwell and Jeffrey Epstein, who is a convicted pedophile and 11 billionaire. She was harmed for many years before she finally 12 found her way to Thailand and escaped clear to Australia where 13 she hid out for ten years before the FBI interviewed her and 14 she made her statement public.

15 Your Honor, this is a very serious case of abuse. My 16 client never sued Ms. Maxwell until she came out and called her 17 a liar publically for claiming her allegations of sexual abuse
18 were false. That's actionable defamation. We have seen that 19 in cases recently, and I will walk you through those.

20 Now while this story may sound hard to believe, it
21 happened, and there were over 30 female childhood victims in 22 Florida alone that came forward and gave statements to law
23 enforcement about this same type of abuse.

24 Unfortunately, due to Epstein's vast wealth and power,
25 he was able to get off with a very light sentence. And his

GIETGIUA

1 co-conspirators were also part of that plea agreement, that
2 non-prosecution agreement, and were not prosecuted. That
3 agreement is being challenged by two other victims in Florida
4 in a case in front of Judge Marra case called the Crime
5 Victims' Rights Act case.

6 I want to mention that while my colleague didn't
7 mention it in her opening, she does mention it in her papers, I
8 contend that the order she referenced in her papers by Judge
9 Marra, which we included a copy of for you, has been 10 misrepresented. That order did allow my client -- on page 6 it
11 says, quote, Jane Doe 3 is free to assert factual allegations
12 through proper evidentiary proof should she identify a basis
13 for believing such details are pertinent to the matter.

14 So while the paper suggested she was deemed to have 15 impossible allegations or that those allegations were untrue,
16 that's absolutely not what the court said in Florida, so I want
17 to correct that for the record before we begin.

18 What we have here is a defamation case. As the Court
19 well knows, defamation -- this is a libel per se case where the 20 words were published in writing. And as you know, libel per se
21 is when a word tends to expose another to public hatred, shame,
22 contempt or ridicule. I see no other allegation that could be 23 worse than calling a sex abuse victim a liar. To lie about 24 sexual abuse has to be one of the most scornful things
25 available, and that is subject to defamation.

GIETGIUA

1 Now in the papers -- and I will just touch on this
2 briefly because my colleague did not touch on it significantly
3 here and I don't want to waste the Court's time, but she
4 alleged a number of privileges that she believes Ms. Maxwell
5 should be able to hide behind in order to preserve these 6 defamatory statements.

7 I impart on your Honor that a determination as to 8 whether any of those privileges apply would be premature at 9 this stage. That's your case, which is Block v. First Blood, 10 691 F.Supp. 685. In that case you dealt with one of the 11 privileges she is asserting here, the prelitigation privilege,
12 and you found that it would be premature, even at the summary
13 judgment stage, to be analyzing whether or not that was 14 applicable.

15 So what we have here is qualified privileges being 16 asserted as to defamatory statements. The two qualified 17 privileges she asserts are the self-defense privilege and the 18 prelitigation privilege. So in other words, if the defamatory
19 statements survive, she says, nevertheless the privileges
20 preclude the case from going forward.

21 The self-defense privilege has been addressed by the 22 highest court of New York just as recent as this year, and 23 that's in the case of Davis v. Boenheim. And that was case
24 where the Syracuse basketball coach was accused by two victims
25 that were childhood victims who later as adults came forward

G1ETGIUA

1 and set forth their allegations against him. One of his
2 colleagues came forth and called those victims liars publicly,
3 same thing that happened in this case. And the court there
4 said that the case cannot be dismissed, it has to proceed
5 forward, and they are entitled to prove those allegations were 6 false, that the victims were not liars, and indeed they were 7 subject to the abuse they were subject to.

8 Another case that is recent which I supplemented with 9 your Honor is the Cosby case. It's recent out of 10 Massachusetts, and very similarly there -- in fact, the 11 statements weren't even as strong as Ms. Maxwell's statements
12 here. In our complaint, Ms. Maxwell calls our client's 13 allegations of sexual abuse, quote, obvious lies, issued by 14 press release nationally and internationally to the media. And 15 we do cite to the media that it is sent to. That's in 16 paragraph 30, 36 and 37, international media, national media
17 and the New York Daily Post, who interviewed Ms. Maxwell on a 18 New York street. So that is alleged in detail in our 19 complaint.

20 But in Cosby the court said, quote, suggestions that a
21 plaintiff intentionally lied about being sexually assaulted 22 could expose that plaintiff to scorn and ridicule, and 23 therefore, Bill Cosby's statements could be found to have a
24 defamatory meaning, and the court allowed the case to proceed
25 past the motion to dismiss stage.

GLEETGIUA

1 We also have the McNamee v. Clemens case which you may 2 be familiar with. It's another New York case involving Roger
3 Clemens where he had been alleged to have engaged in steroid
4 use. His trainer stated that publicly. He came forward and 5 called his trainer a liar publicly, and the court found that 6 that statement that he is a liar was actionable defamation that
7 survived the motion to dismiss, because publicly proclaiming
8 someone a liar is actionable defamation. It is not mere 9 denial, it is actionable defamation.

10 So those are the cases I would like to direct the 11 Court's attention to. Again, on page 10 of our opposition we 12 have a litany of cases that deal with the issue of calling
13 someone a liar and that being actionable defamation.

14 She also asserts the prelitigation privilege, and that 15 is a privilege addressed in your Block v. First Blood case.
16 That privilege is intended to protect communications between 17 parties, typically attorneys, in advance of litigation in order
18 for them to narrow the scope of the litigation or to negotiate
19 a resolution in advance of litigation. That prelitigation
20 privilege does not cover public statements by Ms. Maxwell's 21 hired press agent that are given to the national and 22 international media for the purposes of defaming my client,
23 calling her allegations of sexual abuse untruths and calling
24 them, quote, obvious lies. So that prelitigation privilege
25 does not apply.

GIETGIUA

1 The Khalil case, which is cited in the defendant's
2 brief, actually has a great passage in there that describes if
3 the allegation is made for an improper purpose, in other words,
4 if it is made for a wrongful purpose or to harass or seek to 5 press or intimidate the victim, then it is not something that 6 the defendant can avail themselves to as a privilege.

7 Now, just briefly, the opposition also stated that our 8 complaint is deficient in other manners; for example, that we 9 haven't properly alleged the to whom, as I referenced. You can 10 look at paragraphs 30, 36 and 37 to see that. That is a
11 technical pleading deficiency that she is raising there. We do
12 meet the standards of Twombly. We have pled detailed facts
13 that our client was sexually abused as a minor child. We pled
14 other facts about that abuse. And Ms. Maxwell intentionally 15 and maliciously came out and called her a liar in order to 16 protect her own self.

17 So that is what we have put in our complaint. The 18 Hawkins case that she references and the Cruz case that she 19 references are vastly different. In Cruz there wasn't even an 20 allegation of defamation, and the court was reading into the 21 complaint whether or not there could have been defamation.
22 Here we stated specifically who made the statement, when she 23 made the statement, where she made the statement, why she made 24 the statement. That is all we need to do. It's more than 25 sufficient to plead a case of defamation in this instance.

GIETGIUA

1 With respect to the allegations that we haven't pled
2 properly libel per se, I want to be clear we pled that in two
3 ways. And the case law is a case cited in the defendant's
4 brief, and it's Jewell, and it does a very good job of parsing
5 out the difference between slander and libel, and there is a
6 difference in the case law, as your Honor knows.

7 In the instance of libel, the written words, Cardozo
8 has said, it stings, it stings longer, so therefore, in 9 pleading libel per se, you don't have to plead special damages
10 in the way that you do for slander.

11 The Matherson case, which is out of New York, also 12 articulates that. The difference, it says, quote, on the other 13 hand, a plaintiff suing on libel need not plead or prove 14 special damages if the defamatory statement tends to expose the 15 plaintiff to public contempt, ridicule, aversion, or disgrace.
16 And that is exactly what we have pled in this case, that the 17 statements that our client lied about the sexual abuse she 18 endured as a minor were statements that exposed her to that 19 public contempt and ridicule.

20 She has also pled libel per se with respect to her
21 profession. While my colleague may make light of the fact that 22 she is involved in helping victims that -- people who are 23 victims of sexual trafficking, that is what she has dedicated 24 her life to doing. And to come out and publicly proclaim her a 25 liar about sexual abuse harms the nonprofit and harms the work

G1ETGIUA

1 she has been doing. She has been harmed personally by saying
2 her claims are, quote, obvious lies, and she has been hurt
3 professionally in that manner, and we allege both things in our
4 complaint.

5 Your Honor, Virginia has been beaten down many times
6 in her life, but the law of defamation stands at her side. I
7 pray upon you that you will consider the complaint and not 8 dismiss it, because her claims should be able to be proven in 9 this Court. Thank you.

10 THE COURT: Thank you very much.

11 Anything further?

12 MS. MENNINGER: If I may, your Honor.

13 Again, plaintiff comes before you claiming she has 14 been called a liar. There is no statement attributed to my 15 client, in the complaint or elsewhere, in which my client has 16 called plaintiff a liar. There are three sentence fragments
17 contained in the complaint, the allegations against Ms. Maxwell
18 are untrue, and that her claims are obvious lies.

19 Your Honor, it is a meaningful distinction. I can 20 explain a little bit of the background here. Plaintiff came 21 forward and gave an interview in the press in 2011 claiming 22 that my client was somehow involved with Mr. Epstein's sexual 23 abuse of her. She gave an exclusive interview to a British 24 newspaper in which she made that allegation, plaintiff did, and 25 was paid for it.

G1ETGIUA

1 My client issued a general denial in 2011 saying that
2 the allegations were untrue. At that time, plaintiff said
3 that, although she had been in contact with the likes of Prince
4 Andrew in London and Bill Clinton and other famous people,
5 there was no suggestion that those people had engaged in any 6 kind of improper sexual contact with her.

7 Fast forward a few years. Some other women who 8 claimed they were victims of Mr. Epstein's abuse filed a
9 lawsuit in Florida and they asked the court to undo a plea
10 agreement that had been entered into by the U.S. attorney's
11 office down in Florida or that the U.S. attorney's office
12 somehow worked with the state authorities in crafting, and 13 those two other women, not plaintiff, litigated for I think
14 seven years now whether or not they should have been informed 15 earlier about whatever plea agreement was going to go on with 16 Mr. Epstein.

17 Well, December 30 of 2015, plaintiff filed a motion to 18 join that Victims' Rights Act litigation, and in her motion to 19 join the Victims' Rights Act litigation she filed a 20 declaration, in which, as I understand it thirdhand based on 21 the judge down there's order, she claimed to have been involved
22 in sexual relations with Prince Andrew, with world leaders, a
23 former prime minister of some country or other, Mr. Alan 24 Dershowitz. She made a number of spurious allegations, and one
25 of them involved my client, Ms. Maxwell.

G1ETGIUA

1 Well, within minutes of filing that motion to join
2 that action, lo and behold, her story hits the British press.
3 Whether or not that was at her lawyer's instigation, I don't 4 know, but they have been courting the press in a number of 5 ways, so I wouldn't be surprised.

6 The press comes calling and asked my client and 7 Mr. Dershowitz and Prince Andrew and everyone else whether any 8 of the allegations contained in this legal pleading are true.
9 Buckingham Palace issued a statement flatly denying the claims
10 made by plaintiff here. Mr. Dershowitz came out even stronger
11 and not only flatly denied it but did in fact call her a liar
12 and said, among other things, if she lied about me, she 13 probably lied about all these other world leaders that she 14 claims she was involved with at the age of 17 and 18, and that 15 the story dates back to '99 when she claims these activities
16 occurred. And so he came out and actually called her a liar.

17 Buckingham Palace said her claims were absolutely
18 untrue. At the end of one article, in which the two comments
19 about plaintiff were contained, is a statement attributed to my 20 client, Ms. Maxwell, and her statement reads, the claims
21 against Ghislaine Maxwell are untrue. She has now made 22 additional statements about world leaders, and those claims are 23 obvious lies. So that part about obvious lies come after the 24 part about claims against world leaders and famous politicians
25 and the like.

GIETGIUA

1 Well, I tried to go to the Florida action to find
2 where these allegations were that apparently plaintiff believes
3 my client's statement was in relation to. And guess what?
4 Judge Marra down in the Southern District of Florida has 5 stricken the declaration from public access. He has stricken 6 the actual paragraphs making all of these allegations, and has 7 restricted from public access the documents that contained the 8 allegations. And he issued an order, and I attached that 9 order, because I believe the Court can consider it taking 10 judicial notice, to my declaration here on the motion to 11 dismiss.

12 In the order, just so we're all clear, I'm not 13 misrepresenting what happened, as I was just accused doing,
14 Judge Marra held, after describing what he called lurid
15 allegations, he found they were impertinent and immaterial to 16 the motion to join the Victims' Rights Act filed by plaintiff.
17 He said that they concerned non-parties, including my client,
18 who was not there and able to defend herself within the 19 litigation, and he denied her request to join that action
20 finding that she waited a long time. While she may be a 21 witness to things that are concerned down there, she does not 22 need to join the action in order to assert rights that the 23 other plaintiffs down there are already asserting.

24 Then he goes on in the order to remind her counsel of 25 their Rule 11 obligations to only include pertinent materials.

G1ETGIUA

1 And he was not denying they would ever be able to, but seems to
2 seriously question whether or not admissible non-cumulative
3 evidence of the things that were claimed would ever be heard in 4 his court.

5 So I don't actually have a copy of whatever it is that 6 was claimed down there because it's not publicly available, and 7 it certainly was not mentioned in the complaint, wasn't 8 attached to the complaint, it's just somewhere out there that 9 the press has picked up on and published.

10 In the meantime, Mr. Dershowitz is now involved in 11 ongoing battles with plaintiff's lawyers down in Florida. They 12 cross claimed one another for defamation. And she's been 13 participating in that litigation as a non-party as well,
14 although it concerns her attorneys and the same exact
15 allegations.

16 So while others have called her a liar, notably 17 Mr. Dershowitz, and others have denied claims that plaintiff
18 has made, including Buckingham Palace, and while Judge Marra
19 down there has found her claims impertinent and immaterial to 20 the allegations going on in Florida, Ms. Maxwell has not 21 actually ever called her a liar.

22 And your Honor, all of these cases that plaintiff
23 cites to, Davis v. Boenheim, McNamee v. Clemens, all of those 24 cases had complaints which had attached to them the actual 25 statements at issue.

G1ETGIUA

1 I think in the McNamee v. Clemens case there were some 2 27 exhibits attached to the amended complaint where Mr. Clemens
3 had been on 60 Minutes and given statements to reporters and 4 gone on at length calling the plaintiff in that case,
5 Mr. McNamee, a liar, calling him a liar 25 ways to Sunday,
6 talking about his financial motives, his potential financial 7 gain, et cetera.

8 Likewise, in the Davis v. Boeheim case, Mr. Boeheim
9 gave a press conference in which he called the accusers liars.
10 He questioned their financial incentives following the Sandusky
11 case to be coming forward then, and he went on at length about 12 all of the reasons why they might be coming forward now with 13 their, quote, unquote lies.

14 In each of those cases, McNamee v. Clemens and Davis
15 v. Boeheim, the New York Court of Appeals, as well as the 16 Federal Court in the Eastern District of New York, made clear
17 that the one thing that is not actionable is a general denial.
18 And then they talk about why Mr. Boeheim's comments and 19 Mr. Clemens' comments went well beyond what anyone might 20 consider a general denial. And fortunately, those cases
21 actually had records which included the statements, included
22 the articles in which the statements were made, so the Court
23 could engage in the sort of analysis that it must, that is, to 24 decide whether, in context, the statement has a defamatory
25 meaning.

GIETGIUA

1 So I think even now, saying that my client called her
2 client a liar is just not supported by a single fact in the 3 complaint. While the complaint makes conclusory statements
4 like it was a campaign questioning her dishonesty and all of 5 that, when you get right down to the actual statements, which 6 this Court has held on numerous occasions must actually be 7 spelled out in a defamation case, the only statements are,
8 quote, sentence fragments like allegations against Ghislaine
9 Maxwell are untrue.

10 And by the way, looking at those news articles, one
11 might see that they actually are talking about allegations that 12 have lodged in the British press. They don't refer to 13 Ms. Roberts, as she was then known, they don't refer to 14 anything about her, they don't call her a liar, they don't 15 question her financial motives, although I'm sure she has some.
16 So if you look at the cases Davis v. Boenheim, McNamee v.
17 Clemens, you will see Ms. Maxwell's statements, even to the 18 extent they're alleged, fall well within the general denial
19 privilege.

20 I think it's inaccurate to quote, with regard to the 21 prelitigation privilege, the statements attributed to 22 Ms. Maxwell that reserved her right to seek redress from the 23 British press for the repetition of what she said were untrue
24 allegations. And that is something that, under British law,
25 one must assert or waive. So if you don't, under British law,

G1ETGIUA

1 put the press on notice that you are challenging the veracity
2 of statements that the British press is publishing, then you
3 will have been deemed to have waived your right to do so in the 4 future.

5 We cited Khalil v. Front, which is a New York Court of 6 Appeals case from last year. It was actually affirming the 7 dismissal of a case on a motion to dismiss. So while plaintiff
8 claims that privileges like this can't be decided at the motion
9 to dismiss stage, the New York Court of Appeals directly found
10 otherwise. And there they said that if a statement is made in 11 anticipation of litigation, whether or not -- I think they used 12 the word "contemplated" litigation, whether or not the 13 litigation actually occurred is not material, but if they are 14 made in anticipation of potential litigation then they are 15 entitled to the prelitigation privilege.

16 So not only do I believe that the statements
17 themselves are non-defamatory general denials, but insofar as 18 they were issued to put the British press on notice, that 19 repetition of them may give rise to litigation. They also 20 should be afford the prelitigation privilege that the New York
21 Court of Appeals has recognized. Thank you.

22 THE COURT: Thank you very much. I will reserve
23 decision.

DEFENDANT'S RESPONSE TO PLAINTIFF'S FIRST SET OF INTERROGATORIES

Laura A. Menninger
Jeffrey S. Pagliuca
HADDON, MORGAN, AND FOREMAN, P.C.
East 10th Avenue
Denver, CO 80203
303.831.7364

Defendant, Ghislaine Maxwell, by and through her undersigned counsel, hereby responds to Plaintiff's First Set of Interrogatories (the "Interrogatories").

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT AND GENERAL OBJECTIONS

1. This response is made to the best of Ms. Maxwell's present knowledge, information and belief. Ms. Maxwell, through her attorneys of record, have not completed the investigation of the facts relating to this case, have not completed discovery in this action, and have not completed preparation for trial. Ms. Maxwell's responses to Plaintiff's Interrogatories are based on information currently known to her and are given without waiving Ms. Maxwell's right to use evidence of any subsequently discovered or identified facts, documents or communications. Ms. Maxwell reserves the right to supplement these Interrogatories in accordance with Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(e).

2. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatories to the extent they attempt to impose any requirement or discovery obligation greater than or different from those under the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, the local rules of this Court or any Orders of the Court.

3. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatories to the extent they seek information protected by the attorney/client privilege, the work-product doctrine, Rule 408 of the Federal Rules of Evidence, any common interest privilege, joint defense agreement or any other applicable privilege.

4. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatories to the extent they seek information outside of Ms. Maxwell's possession, custody or control.

5. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatories to the extent they seek information which is not relevant to the subject matter of the litigation and /or is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

6. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatories to the extent they are overly broad, unduly burdensome and/or propounded for the improper purpose of annoying, embarrassing, or harassing Ms. Maxwell.

7. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatories to the extent they are vague and ambiguous, or imprecise.

8. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatories to the extent they seek information that is confidential and implicates Ms. Maxwell's privacy interests.

9. Ms. Maxwell incorporates by reference every general objection set forth above into each specific response set forth below. A specific response may repeat a general objection for emphasis or for some other reason. The failure to include any general objection in any specific response does not waive any general objection to that request.

10. The Interrogatories seek information that is confidential and implicates Ms. Maxwell's privacy interests. To the extent such information is relevant and discoverable in this action, M s. Maxwell will produce such materials subject to an appropriate protective order pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(c) limiting their dissemination to the attorneys and their employees.

OBJECTIONS TO DEFINITIONS

1. Ms. Maxwell objects to Definition No. 1 regarding "Agent" because it is an incorrect statement of the law.

2. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Definition of "communication" to the extent it expands upon the meaning ascribed to that term by Local Rule 26.3(c).

3. Ms. Maxwell objects to Definition No. 3 regarding "Defendant." The Definition is overly broad and unduly burdensome to the extent it attempts to extend the scope of the Interrogatories to information in the possession, custody or control of individuals other than Ms. Maxwell or her counsel.

4. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Definition No. 4 regarding "Document" to the extent it expands upon the meaning ascribed to that term by Local Rule 26.3(c).

5. Ms. Maxwell objects to Definition No. 5 regarding "Employee." Ms. Maxwell is an individual, sued in an individual capacity, and therefore there is no "past or present officer, director, agent or servant" of hers. Additionally, "attorneys" and "paralegals" are not "employees" of Ms. Maxwell given that she herself is not an attorney and therefore cannot "employ" attorneys.

6. Ms. Maxwell objects to Definition No. 7 of "Jeffrey Epstein" to include not only entities but also any employee, agent, attorney, consultant or representative of him, to include any entities owned or controlled by him. Questions related to an individual named Jeffrey Epstein have been construed to mean only that individual and not any other individual who is affiliated in some capacity with entities owned or controlled by him.

7. Ms. Maxwell objects to Definition No. 8 regarding "Massage" to include "any person touching another person," as the touching of another person may or may not include what is commonly understood to mean massage, it may be for a harmful, offensive or accidental reasons, or for any other purposes, or may be a touching incidental to being in close proximity with another. Similarly, a definition of "massage" to include "using any object...to touch another person" can mean a wide variety of activities and for various purposes that exceed the relevancy of this defamation action.

8. Ms. Maxwell objects to Definition No. 9 regarding "Person" to the extent it expands upon the meaning ascribed to that term by Local Rule 26.3(c).

9. Ms. Maxwell objects to Definition No. 11 regarding "You" or "Your." The Definition is overly broad and unduly burdensome to the extent it attempts to extend the scope of the Interrogatories to information in the possession, custody or control of individuals other than Ms. Maxwell or her counsel.

OBJECTIONS TO INSTRUCTIONS

1. Ms. Maxwell objects to Instruction No. 1, in particular the definition of the “Relevant Period” to include July 1999 to the present, on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for the production of documents that are irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. The Complaint at paragraph 9 purports to describe events pertaining to Plaintiff and Defendant occurring in the years 1999 – 2002. The Complaint also references statements attributed to Ms. Maxwell occurring in January 2015. Defining the “Relevant Period” as “July 1999 to the present” is vastly overbroad, irrelevant and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence, and as to certain of the Interrogatories, is intended for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell and it implicates her privacy rights. Thus, Ms. Maxwell interprets the Relevant Period to be limited to 1999-2002 and December 30, 2014 - January 31, 2015 and objects to the Interrogatories, except as specifically noted. Without waiver of this Objection, Ms. Maxwell notes the Court Order in this case which permits discovery regarding events between 2002 and the present which relate to the topics of the sexual trafficking of females and will respond to the Interrogatories for the period 2002 to the present on that topic.

2. Ms. Maxwell objects to Instruction Nos. 2-21 to the extent they impose obligations beyond those imposed by Fed. R. Civ. P. 33(b) and Local Rule 33.3. In particular, the majority of the Instructions pertain to Requests for Production of Documents and are therefore inapplicable to Interrogatories.

3. Ms. Maxwell objects to these Interrogatories to the extent they exceed those types of interrogatories permitted by Local Rule 33.3. In particular, the majority of these Interrogatories do not seek the names of witnesses with knowledge of information relevant to the subject matter of this action nor the existence, custodian and location or general description of relevant documents. Moreover, these Interrogatories are not a more practical method of obtaining the information sought than a deposition or a request for production of documents.

4. Finally, the contention interrogatories are premature, as other discovery in this case has not concluded. Local Rule 33.3(c).

5. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Definition of “Identify” to the extent it expands upon the meaning ascribed to that term by Local Rule 26.3(c).

RESPONSES TO INTERROGATORIES

1. Identify all persons and entities authorized by you or authorized your agent(s) to make statements on your behalf in January of 2015.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous, specifically by not defining what types or topics of “statements” are referred to. As drafted, this Interrogatory calls for information clearly outside the relevancy of this lawsuit because it implicates her assistant making work calls for her, scheduling appointments for her and her representatives making “statements” in all manner of business capacities. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for information protected by the attorney/client, attorney work product and joint defense privileges. Without waiver of the foregoing objections, she responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell has no recollection of any non-privileged communication by which she specifically authorized any agent or entity to “make statements on her behalf in January of 2015” nor does she possess any documents beyond those already produced by which any such authorization may be ascertained.

2. Identify any action that you took after Ross Gow issued the January 2015 statement regarding Ms. Giuffre to the public to retract or remediate the statement, clarify the statement, or otherwise cause a different message to enter the public domain.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous, specifically by not defining what types or topics of “statements” are referred to. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for information protected by the attorney/client, attorney work product and joint defense privileges. Without waiver of the foregoing objections, she responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell does not recall any actions that she took to retract, remediate or clarify a communication Mr. Gow made to the British press in January 2015 regarding Plaintiff’s allegations nor upon the exercise of a reasonable inquiry has she located any actions that she took in that regard.

3. Name every blog, television station, newspaper, or other media or public outlet that you are aware covered the January 2015 statement issued, either by quoting from the statement or by referring to or referencing the statement.

ANSWER

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as improper pursuant to Local Rule 33.3(a) and (b). The Interrogatory does not seek the names of any witnesses nor the custodian or location of any documents. Moreover, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney work product and attorney client communications. The information sought is equally available to both parties within the public domain. Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell is personally unaware of any particular coverage by any media regarding Mr. Gow's communication to the British press. Any such articles or coverage of which she is aware have previously been produced in this action and are equally available to both parties in the public domain.

4. Identify all legal actions you, or someone acting on your behalf, have initiated, since January 1, 2015, identifying the jurisdiction, the date of initiation of the action, and the subject matter of the action.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous, specifically by failing to define "legal action." Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to the extent the Interrogatory calls for attorney-client communications or attorney work product. Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell has not filed any complaint in a court since January 1, 2015.

5. Identify all payments made or things of value transferred to you by Jeffrey Epstein, directly or indirectly or through any entity or person affiliated with or controlled by Epstein, from 1992 through the present, and if loans, detailing the amount of the loans, the terms of the loans, the interest rate of the loans, and any payments made by you or on your behalf to repay such loans.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Ms. Maxwell's personal financial information is not at issue in this matter and information relating thereto is irrelevant. This Interrogatory also violates Local Rule 33.3(a) – (c) in that it does not seek the name of witnesses or the custodian and location of documents. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

From the time period of January 1, 2015 through the present, Ms. Maxwell has had no payments made or things of value transferred to her, including loans, by Jeffrey Epstein or any entity or person affiliated with or controlled by him.

6. Identify all loans issued to you by Jeffrey Epstein, directly or indirectly or through any entity or person affiliated with or controlled by Epstein, from 1992 through the present, detailing the amount of the loans, the terms of the loans, the interest rate of the loans, and any payments made by you or on your behalf to repay such loans.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Ms. Maxwell's personal financial information is not at issue in this matter and information relating thereto is irrelevant. This Interrogatory also violates Local Rule 33.3(a) – (c) in that it does not seek the name of witnesses or the custodian and location of documents. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

From the time period of January 1, 2015 through the present, Ms. Maxwell has had no loans issued to her by Jeffrey Epstein, either directly, indirectly or by any entity or person affiliated with or controlled by him.

7. Identify any other employment you have held since 1999, how you were compensated, and how much you were compensated, broken down by job title, employer, and year.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Ms. Maxwell's personal financial information is not at issue in this matter and information relating thereto is irrelevant. This Interrogatory also violates Local Rule 33.3(a) – (c) in that it does not seek the name of witnesses or the custodian and location of documents. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

From January 1, 2015 to the present, Ms. Maxwell has not been employed as that term is commonly understood to mean a salaried position.

8. Identify all persons who gave a massage to Jeffrey Epstein with whom you had any involvement, either in meeting the person who gave a massage, finding the person who gave the massage, making a referral to the person who gave the massage, conversing with the person who gave the massage, staffing the person who gave the massage, or otherwise facilitating that person giving a massage to Jeffrey Epstein.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous given the definition of “massage” to include any person touching another person. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

As she testified at her deposition, Ms. Maxwell on occasion met with adult, professional women and men who were employed at high-end spas or resorts and asked whether they made home visits for the purposes of massages. She does not recall the names of those persons who ended up making professional, adult home visit massages that occurred between the years 2000 and 2002. Other deposition testimony in this case has included that of Johanna Sjoborg who stated that she had met with Ms. Maxwell and later had trained for and become a masseuse and provided professional massages to Mr. Epstein.

9. Identify all efforts undertaken by you to ascertain the age and professional qualifications of any individual in your answer to Interrogatory number 9.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous given the definition of “massage” to include any person touching another person. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

As she testified at her deposition, Ms. Maxwell has contacted a number of professional masseuses from spas in various locations, including New York, Palm Beach, and the U.S. Virgin Islands, to provide professional, adult massages to be given to Jeffrey Epstein. Ms. Maxwell relied on and expected those various high-end registered and licensed spas to hire professional accredited massage therapists and to check the credentials, including the age and professional qualifications, of their employees.

10. Have you ever recruited, found, hired, approached, introduced, procured, or otherwise obtained, for the purposes of Jeffrey Epstein employing, any female who was not at the time a certified or licensed massage therapist for the purpose of having that female perform a massage on Jeffrey Epstein. If yes, please identify the name of each such female, the last known address and phone number, and a description of the circumstances surrounding that female meeting with your (sic) or Jeffrey Epstein.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous given the definition of “massage” to include any person touching another person. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Not to her knowledge.

11. Have you ever recruited, found, hired, introduced, approached, or encouraged any female, and told that female to meet with, or show themselves to, Jeffrey Epstein because he was associated in some way with Victoria’s Secret. For each such female, please list her name, address, telephone number, as well as a description of the circumstances surrounding that female’s encounter with your or Jeffrey Epstein.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Not to her knowledge.

12. Identify your basis for your contention that Plaintiff's claims are barred by the United Kingdom's Defamation Act of 2013.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney-client communications and attorney work product. This Interrogatory is premature and violates Local Rule 33.3(c) because discovery is ongoing in this case, not complete, and it is more than thirty days from the conclusion of discovery. See, e.g., Shannon v. New York City Transit Auth., No. 00 CIV. 5079 (RWS), 2001 WL 286727, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 22, 2001) (Sweet, J).

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

The January 2, 2015, communication by Ross Gow to members of the British media did not, nor was it likely to, cause serious harm to the reputation of Plaintiff. The imputation conveyed by the communication is substantially true. Substantial portions of the communication conveyed honest opinion. The communication was privileged as a matter of public interest. The communication is barred by the single publication rule because Mr. Gow previously issued a communication that was substantially the same as the January 2, 2015 communication, issued by materially the same manner of publication, and Plaintiff and her counsel did not deny or timely take action with respect to the previous communication.

13. Identify the basis, including all underlying facts, for your contention that Plaintiff's claims are barred because the statements made by Ms. Maxwell or her agent were protected by the self-defense privilege.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney-client communications and attorney work product. This Interrogatory is premature and violates Local Rule 33.3(c) because discovery is ongoing in this case, not complete, and it is more than thirty days from the conclusion of discovery. See, e.g., Shannon v. New York City Transit Auth., No. 00 CIV. 5079 (RWS), 2001 WL 286727, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 22, 2001) (Sweet, J).

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

The self-defense privilege as it applies to Mr. Gow's January 2, 2015 communication to members of the British press are spelled out in detail in the Memorandum of Law In Support of Defendant's Motion to Dismiss at page 8-13.

14. Identify the basis, including all underlying facts, for your contention that Plaintiff is a public figure and unable to prove Ms. Maxwell exhibited actual malice.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney-client communications and attorney work product. This Interrogatory is premature and violates Local Rule 33.3(c) because discovery is ongoing in this case, not complete, and it is more than thirty days from the conclusion of discovery. See, e.g., Shannon v. New York City Transit Auth., No. 00 CIV. 5079 (RWS), 2001 WL 286727, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 22, 2001) (Sweet, J).

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Plaintiff sought public attention to her fabricated story concerning Ms. Maxwell and others. To wit, Plaintiff was paid more than $100,000 for her false story to the Daily Mail as well as the sale of a photograph purporting to be of herself and Prince Andrew. Plaintiff then further sought public attention to her story through (a) an interview with Bradley Edwards and Jack Scarola, (b) through contact with various literary agents, ghost-writers and news outlets, and (c) through a carefully orchestrated scheme to publish her false claims in a public pleading in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of Florida, as well as media interviews and other contacts including ABC News, Sharon Churcher, and her purported work on behalf of Victims Refuse Silence.

With regard to Maxwell's absence of actual malice, any statements attributed to her regarding Ms. Roberts were limited in scope, directly targeted to Plaintiff's mis-statements of fact without any further comment regarding the many character and truthfulness shortcomings of Plaintiff, and were directed to the media outlets who continued to publish Plaintiff's lies. Ms. Maxwell decided against making any further statements regarding Plaintiff and her many lies in order to minimize public attention to Plaintiff's false claims, despite the many opportunities to provide additional truthful comment and color, as demonstrated by her email communications provided in discovery.

15. Identify the basis, including all underlying facts, for your contention that Plaintiff's claims are barred because the statements made by Ms. Maxwell or her agent constituted "fair comment."

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney-client communications and attorney work product. This Interrogatory is premature and violates Local Rule 33.3(c) because discovery is ongoing in this case, not complete, and it is more than thirty days from the conclusion of discovery. See, e.g., Shannon v. New York City Transit Auth., No. 00 CIV. 5079 (RWS), 2001 WL 286727, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 22, 2001) (Sweet, J).

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell retains her First Amendment privilege to express her opinion, to criticize others including Plaintiff, and to comment on matters of public interest, including Plaintiff's allegations of being a sex slave or being sexually trafficked. Mr. Gow's communication to members of the British media constituted expressions of opinion regarding Plaintiff and her public claims.

16. Identify the basis, including all underlying facts, for your contention that Ms. Maxwell or her agent did not cause or contribute to any damages suffered by Plaintiff?

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney-client communications and attorney work product. This Interrogatory is premature and violates Local Rule 33.3(c) because discovery is ongoing in this case, not complete, and it is more than thirty days from the conclusion of discovery. See, e.g., Shannon v. New York City Transit Auth., No. 00 CIV. 5079 (RWS), 2001 WL 286727, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 22, 2001) (Sweet, J).

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Mr. Gow's communication to the British media in January 2015 did not cause or contribute to any damages Plaintiff suffered because, inter alia, Plaintiff was widely reputed prior to any such communication to be a liar, a person who falsifies claims of sexual assault, and a sexually permissive woman, because Plaintiff already had substantial mental and medical conditions that pre-existed any statement issued, and because Plaintiff's damages, if any, were occasioned by her own wide-spread dissemination of her own false and defamatory statements. Without the steps that Plaintiff took to publish her fabricated and falsified history, she would not have suffered any reputational harm.

17. Identify the basis, including all underlying facts, for your contention that Plaintiff failed to take reasonable, necessary, appropriate and feasible steps to mitigate her alleged damages.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney-client communications and attorney work product. This Interrogatory is premature and violates Local Rule 33.3(c) because discovery is ongoing in this case, not complete, and it is more than thirty days from the conclusion of discovery. *See, e.g., Shannon v. Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Plaintiff was advised by her own physician in Australia to engage in psychotherapy but has refused to do so. Plaintiff was advised to cease taking valium but has refused to do so. Plaintiff was advised by a court to stay away from her abusive husband but has refused to do so. Further, Plaintiff had the opportunity to truthfully tell her actual history on a number of occasions, including during her interviews with ABC, with other media outlets, with book authors and journalists, but chose not to tell her true story, instead telling falsehoods and fabricated and mistaken events, dates and participants.

18. Identify the basis, including all underlying facts, for your contention that Plaintiff's damages are the proximate result of intervening causes, pre-existing medical and mental conditions of Plaintiff, and/or causes that occurred without knowledge or participation of Ms. Maxwell and for which Ms. Maxwell is not responsible.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney-client communications and attorney work product. This Interrogatory is premature and violates Local Rule 33.3(c) because discovery is ongoing in this case, not complete, and it is more than thirty days from the conclusion of discovery. See, e.g., Shannon v. New York City Transit Auth., No. 00 CIV. 5079 (RWS), 2001 WL 286727, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 22, 2001) (Sweet, J).

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Plaintiff's records disclose that she (allegedly) had been sexually assaulted as a child by a family friend, that she had been held as a sexual slave in captivity as a young teenager, that she had been sexually assaulted by teens when she was 14 in the back of a house, that she had been sexually assaulted as a 14 year old by two young men in the “Woodsies,” that she had suffered at a since-closed drug rehabilitation facility at the hands of “guards,” that she suffered from “anxiety,” depression and suicidal ideation from at least 1998 before meeting Ms. Maxwell, that she has experienced marital discord, that she suffered from parental and familial alienation, that she has been beaten, choked and strangled by her husband on more than one occasion, that she has suffered from pre-existing and post-existing drug addictions, alcohol abuse and prescription medication addiction and abuse, that she has suffered many of the ill-effects of an impoverished childhood, and that she suffers from certain limitations of mental faculty.

19. Identify the basis, including all underlying facts, for your contention that Plaintiff’s damages were the result of her own conduct or the conduct of others and were not proximately caused by any action of Ms. Maxwell.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for attorney-client communications and attorney work product. This Interrogatory is premature and violates Local Rule 33.3(c) because discovery is ongoing in this case, not complete, and it is more than thirty days from the conclusion of discovery. See, e.g., Shannon v. New York City Transit Auth., No. 00 CIV. 5079 (RWS), 2001 WL 286727, at *3 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 22, 2001) (Sweet, J).

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Plaintiff’s records disclose that she (allegedly) had been sexually assaulted as a child by a family friend, that she had been held as a sexual slave in captivity as a young teenager, that she had been sexually assaulted by teens when she was 14 in the back of a house, that she had been sexually assaulted as a 14 year old by two young men in the “Woodsies,” that she had suffered at a since-closed drug rehabilitation facility at the hands of “guards,” that she suffered from “anxiety,” depression and suicidal ideation from at least 1998 before meeting Ms. Maxwell, that she has experienced marital discord, that she suffered from parental and familial alienation, that she has been beaten, choked and strangled by her husband on more than one occasion, that she has suffered from pre-existing and post-existing drug addictions, alcohol abuse and prescription medication addiction and abuse, that she has suffered many of the ill-effects of an impoverished childhood, and that she suffers from certain limitations of mental faculty.

Plaintiff was advised by her own physician in Australia to engage in psychotherapy but has refused to do so. Plaintiff was advised to cease taking valium but has refused to do so. Plaintiff was advised by a court to stay away from her abusive husband but has refused to do so. Further, Plaintiff had the opportunity to truthfully tell her actual history on a number of occasions, including during her interviews with ABC, with other media outlets, with book authors and journalists, but chose not to tell her true story, instead telling falsehoods and fabricated and mistaken events, dates and participants.

20. Identify all reasons why you failed to appear for a deposition scheduled in about 2009 to 2010 in a sexual assault civil suit filed against Jeffrey Epstein.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell did not fail to appear for a scheduled deposition in 2009 or 2010. At the only scheduled deposition date, December 9, 2009, Mr. Edwards failed to appear and failed to communicate with Ms. Maxwell's counsel following the November 9, 2009 involuntary bankruptcy of his law firm occasioned by the arrest (and subsequent imprisonment) of his law partner. Thereafter, including during 2010, the parties never agreed to a particular deposition date.

21. Identify all communications you have had with Jeffrey Epstein since January 1, 2015, and the substance of those communications.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. The Court has limited discovery of communications between 2002 to the present with Mr. Epstein to those related to the sexual trafficking of women. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell already produced any written communications with Mr. Epstein that were responsive to the Interrogatory for the same, as limited by the Court to (a) all communications from January 2015 and (b) all documents related to sex trafficking.

22. Identify all flights you have taken on aircraft on which Ms. Giuffre was also a passenger.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

As she testified during her deposition, Ms. Maxwell has no recollection of ever having been on a flight on which Ms. Giuffre was a passenger. Ms. Maxwell does not possess any other records which might refresh her recollection with respect to any such flights.

23. Identify all occasions on which you either observed Ms. Giuffre massaging Jeffrey Epstein or understood that she was massaging Jeffrey Epstein.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous given the definition of “massage” to include any person touching another person. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell, as she has already testified, has no specific recollection of ever seeing Plaintiff massage Mr. Epstein or having any understanding that Plaintiff was massaging Mr. Epstein on any specific occasion, nor does she possess any records which would permit her to identify any such occasion.

24. Identify all persons or other sources of information who have told you or that suggested that Epstein had sexual interactions with persons under the age of 18.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to the Interrogatory as vague and ambiguous given the absence of definition of “sexual interactions.” Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it calls for information protected by the attorney/client, attorney work product and joint defense privileges. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

Ms. Maxwell knows of no person who has communicated to her directly any information concerning sexual interactions between Mr. Epstein and a person under the age of 18.

25. Identify all girls under the age of 18 with whom you have interacted at one of Epstein’s properties, including his Palm Beach mansion or his New York City mansion.

ANSWER:

Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is overly broad and unduly burdensome and calls for information that is irrelevant to this action and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory on the grounds that it is propounded for the improper purpose of annoying or harassing Ms. Maxwell. Further, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory as a violation of Local Rule 33.3(a) – (b) as it seeks neither the names of witnesses nor the locations of documents and is more appropriately discovered through the deposition of Ms. Maxwell, during which time she already answered questions on this topic. Finally, Ms. Maxwell objects to this Interrogatory to the extent it seeks information from a time period not relevant to this action.

Without waiver of the foregoing, Ms. Maxwell responds as follows:

As described during her deposition, the only females with whom Ms. Maxwell interacted at any of Epstein’s properties knowing that they were under the age of 18 were either members of her own extended family or the minor children of her or Mr. Epstein’s friends, and any such interactions did not involve anything sexual or inappropriate by herself or anyone else to Ms. Maxwell’s knowledge. Based on their own privacy rights, Ms. Maxwell is not identifying these family members or children of her or Mr. Epstein’s friends.
